

Chapter 698

"Do you want to try some bullets? For free?" Black Rose was really annoyed. What kind of joke was that? Was she going to make it real with him?

Were there no other men in the world?

Even if there were none, she would definitely not be together with Chuck!

"Okay, as long as you have the heart to do so," Chuck smiled and pulled her into the hotel.

"Let go!" Black Rose frowned.

"Don't worry. What I said to you before has always been true. I said that I'm not interested in you. Don't you believe me?" Chuck asked sincerely.

"Fine, then let go of me! Who allowed you to touch my hand? We don't really have to do so even if we're pretending to be a couple!" Black Rose said coldly.

"Then, should I hug your waist?"

"If you dare to, I will shoot you!" Black Rose glared at him murderously.

Chuck was helpless. He didn't dare to tease her anymore. After all, he wasn't here to have fun, but to assassinate a person.

"Alright. Maybe come closer a bit, I trust that it's fine with you?" Chuck shrugged.

"Hmph!"

She still kept her distance.

Chuck could only forcefully pull Black Rose closer. She struggled, but she also knew that it was not the time to reject him. Hence, she had no choice but to move closer.

The two of them successfully booked a room and took the elevator.

When Chuck was on the way, he had already thought of a plan. When he got into the room, if there were no other innocent people around, he would just throw in a bomb.

Everyone in there would die.

As soon as he spoke about the idea, Black Rose immediately rejected it, "This is assassination? Why don't you call Karen and send a missile over? Wouldn't it be better to blow up the entire hotel?"

"So?" Chuck felt that she was right.

"You can't do such a harmful thing. Be it a killer or an assassin, one must never harm those who are innocent. Don't go too far," Black Rose was serious.

"Got it," Chuck replied. He had been taught a lesson, which made total sense.

No wonder Black Rose could be the top female killer.

In addition to her great strength and abundant experience, she also kept to her principles. This was an important reason why she could succeed.

Soon, the two of them headed to the top floor.

Chuck was alert to see many men in black carrying guns with them. Looking at their cold eyes, he knew that they were all fighting experts.

They were the powerful experts of the Yeager family deployed to ensure the family descendants would not suffer any accidents while having fun.

The guy, who could probably be considered a match for Loomis, should be having fun in the room.

Looking at it, it seemed like he was having a party.

It was definitely a party with lots of wine and women around.

Chuck knew very well how crazy rich people could have fun. He was rich too, so he could imagine how luxurious their lifestyle was.

In fact, it was too simple for Chuck, who was already quite affluent, to hold such a party. He could even have a house party full of beautiful women, but Karen would nag him to death and scold him if she ever found out about it.

Of course, he wouldn't dare to! He wasn't in the mood to have it either. After all, Chuck was satisfied. He had few beautiful ladies already, including Queenie, Quinn, Zelda, and Sophia...

There was no need for any more.

"How do we get in? We should have an invitation card, right?" Chuck asked.

"Definitely. You wait here. I'll go downstairs to steal several invitation cards," With that, Black Rose went downstairs.

She was a master in that, so Chuck just needed to wait.

It took her just a little while before she came back with two invitation cards. She must have knocked out two guests.

"Did you leave those things in the car? If you want to go in, you need to conduct a body scan," Black Rose said coldly.

Chuck knew that, so he had already put away Sophia's dagger. He only had a few bombs in his hand. However, these bombs could avoid detection, so it would be fine.

"Uh-huh."

"Let's move."

When they reached the entrance, the bouncer raised his hand coldly and said, "Casual wear for men, bikinis for women."

Chuck was dumbfounded. Wasn't there a lot of women inside the room? What a sight!

He glanced at Black Rose.

Black Rose's expression was very livid, "I won't wear it. I can't enter even if I have an invitation card? Ask your boss to come out here!"

Chuck had to give it to her. Once she flared her temper, she looked like an extremely classy and rich woman!

The bouncers looked at each other and felt a little confused.

"Do you think I'll let you see my bare body? Let me in, now!" Black Rose continued.

Her aura was completely unleashed!

For a typical ordinary woman, she would be obedient and change into bikinis. However, how would someone like Black Rose be obedient?

It was impossible!

The bouncers were speechless. They discussed amongst themselves for a while and decided to scan Black Rose. There was nothing on her. Then, they also scanned Chuck to find that there was nothing wrong with him either.

Chuck heaved a sigh of relief. It was for sure that the bomb couldn't be detected.

"You may go in," The bouncer said coldly.

Both of them went in.

It was truly a paradise for men. Chuck was dazzled, but he didn't really feel anything. Compared to Willa and Yvette, the women here were just ordinary women.

There was a huge gap between them.

Black Rose looked at Chuck's eyes which looked pure and clear. She was stunned. He actually wasn't looking around?!

It was quite unexpected. She thought that Chuck would stand still and be attracted to what was going on when he went in, but he didn't.

"Where is that man?" Chuck frowned.

"We need to find him."

"Let's split up and look for him," Chuck felt that it was too crowded here. When would they be able to find the target? They needed to act fast.

"No, you must stay with me," Black Rose refused.

Regardless of whether she could successfully kill the target, her first task was to ensure Chuck's safety!

Other matters, compared to Chuck's safety, were not worth her concern.

"Okay, I won't be separated from you," Chuck was so moved that he wanted to burst into tears.

"Oh, shut up! Start looking!" Black Rose was furious.

At that moment, a handsome guy walked over and talked to Black Rose, "Hey, gorgeous..."

Black Rose was icy cold. Chuck did not want to cause any trouble, so he pulled her away immediately and said, "You're late, she's mine!"

Black Rose could hear some curious whispers around her. She was furious. Chuck said that she was his? Hah, she was just his bodyguard!

The more Black Rose struggled, the tighter Chuck's grasp was. Soon, she decided to give up. His grasp on her hand was too firm that she couldn't break free.

Once she had that thought in mind, she didn't feel that angry anymore.

"Are you blind, gorgeous?" The handsome guy frowned and looked at Chuck in disgust. Then, he snorted and went to search for other women.

"Aren't you going to let me go now?" Black Rose scoffed.

Chuck shrugged. They quickly searched around the place. Just then, Chuck found that there were many women standing at the door of a particular room. They were all beauties, with curvaceous figures and long, slender legs.

The door was opened constantly and numerous beautiful women would come out, holding large wads of cash in their hands. It was as if they had met with a millionaire!

Chuck and Black Rose looked at each other.

"I think that's the room," Chuck said.

"I think so too," Black Rose was thinking about how to get in since there had to be a lot of beautiful women inside.

Assassination would not be convenient.

They still had to think about it. After all, the guy was a Yeager family member and the bodyguards were not that simple to deal with.

Black Rose had her own way of assassination. If she didn't have Chuck by her side, she would probably dress sexily to enable her to enter easily. After all, she was a real beauty!

However, Chuck was here. She didn't want him to see anything. After giving it some thought, Chuck decided it would be better to get closer to the target first.

"I'll go take a look. You stay here. I'm afraid that if you go in, you'll be taken advantage of," Chuck said seriously.

"I'll be eternally grateful if you don't take advantage of me first," Black Rose glared at him angrily.

Chuck was speechless. Just then, someone spoke, "Hey, it's a pretty great night. Mr. Edward wants to find the most beautiful woman here. Who is it?"

Hearing this, Chuck turned his head to look at Black Rose. She was the most beautiful woman there!

Chapter 699

Black Rose did not wear a bikini, but she had a naturally cold temperament. With just simple attire, she easily outshined the others and was the most beautiful woman in the hall.

Now that there was no match for her, she was the focal point of attention!

All other women were particularly confident. They all shouted, "Me!"

"I'm the most beautiful!"

"Me! Mr. Edward, please choose me. I am the most beautiful woman here, and I have the most perfect figure!" A tall beautiful woman shrieked.

They scowled at each other, assuming that they were the prettiest women there. However, none of them knew that Black Rose, who was dressed casually, had outclassed all of them.

Chuck looked around. Under the party's neon lights, Black Rose was really perfect!

It was beyond doubt that Black Rose was the most beautiful woman that Chuck had ever seen in this country.

She had blonde hair, big blue eyes, and a perfect figure.

She was different from Sophia and Alexandrina. Sophia was sassy. She was at her prime and went to lengths to take care and preserve her beauty.

However, Alexandrina was different. She had a perfect figure and a pair of charming eyes.

In other words, she was enchanting.

It could also be said that Black Rose was cool, Sophia was sassy and Alexandrina was charming. Each of them was attractive in their own way!

The women went crazy. They didn't know who Mr. Edward was, but they knew that he was rich. That was enough motivation for them.

How much money could one get once entering the room?

"Me! Pick me!"

All the girls were recommending themselves!

"Black Rose, you seem to be the most beautiful woman here," Chuck lowered his volume.

Black Rose frowned, "Shut up. Are you asking me to go in?"

She had a strange feeling for some reason and felt extremely annoyed. Was she walking into a lion's den?

In a sense, she wasn't really entering a lion's den. After entering, Black Rose could have the opportunity to kill the target. However, Chuck seemingly wanted to nudge her into entering the room. Wasn't he afraid that she would be taken advantage of in there?

Wait, why did she suddenly have such thoughts?

She was there to protect Chuck. It was her employer's order, so she should go in, shouldn't she?

It was supposed to be.

But why? Why did it feel so uncomfortable to hear those words from him?

Black Rose didn't understand herself.

"No, I mean you're the most beautiful here," Chuck shook his head. He definitely did not mean to let her go in alone.

After all, Chuck had gotten used to being with Black Rose because she had protected him for so long. Since he didn't hate her, he would never thrust her into danger alone!

"Then, you're saying that you don't want me to go in?" Black Rose snorted, and her voice was a bit softer.

"No, absolutely not. Trust me!" Chuck's expression was serious.

Chuck's sincerity made Black Rose astonished. She looked into his eyes and found that he wasn't joking.

Oh fine, she would trust him this once.

"Alright," Black Rose nodded and ignored Chuck.

Many beautiful women recommended themselves, but the person who spoke shook his head and announced, "Neither of you is the prettiest. The one who is the most beautiful here is her!"

The spotlight shifted and focused on a woman. She looked normal, a stark contrast to other women who were wearing bikinis.

It was Black Rose!

However, once she was revealed, many women were instinctively annoyed. They grumbled about why they weren't chosen, but Black Rose.

In an instant, the room became noisy. It was filled with various complaints!

However...

When the women saw the perfect Black Rose, they immediately shut up and fell silent.

What courage did they have to complain about it?

"Wow, who is this girl? She's really beautiful. Look at her eyes, they're so big!"

"That's right. Her figure is perfect. How can she be so pretty?"

"She's really amazing. I feel so ashamed of myself!"

The women were self-aware and stunned by Black Rose's beauty, so they were all willing to shut up and admit defeat.

After all, it was true. Black Rose was really much more beautiful than them.

"It's her. She's the most beautiful person!" Under the lights, Black Rose seemed like a goddess. No one disagreed with the decision.

Chuck was startled. He knew that Black Rose was the prettiest one. It had to be her. But why so suddenly?

He felt that it was strange.

"Mr. Edward is inviting you in. Miss, are you willing to come with me?" The man holding the microphone shouted.

"Be careful!" Chuck whispered cautiously, "Take this."

Chuck gave her a bomb. Black Rose nodded and said, "I know."

"I actually want to go in with you. Alternatively, we can just break down the door together," Chuck suggested firmly.

"Do you really mean it?" Black Rose asked.

"Of course I do," Chuck replied. He wanted to go in together with her, but he did not expect this Mr. Edward to suddenly disrupt his plans.

It really took him by surprise.

"No, I'll go in by myself."

Taking another glance at Chuck, Black Rose shook her head and smiled, "It's okay, I can do it," She smiled, a smile that was rarely seen on her face.

"Wow! The most beautiful woman is willing to join us! Hooray!" The man shouted in joy.

Everyone cheered. Many people were particularly envious and in admiration of Black Rose's luck. However, no one objected to the decision!

Black Rose was worthy of the title!

Under the gaze of the audience, Black Rose was brought into Mr. Edward's private room.

"Wow, I'm so envious!"

"She will definitely get a lot of money just by going into the private room once!"

"I wish I can be the one, but I'm not as pretty as she is."

The women let out a sigh of pity. Meanwhile, Chuck was on his guard. Something seemed wrong!

Black Rose entered the private room.

Soon, she saw a handsome man, who looked similar to Loomis. He must be a member of the Yeager family!

In other words, it was the person Loomis wanted to kill!

"You're really the most beautiful girl in the entire room. The rest of you can leave!" Edward smiled and was particularly satisfied with Black Rose.

The other women in the private room stared at Black Rose in dissatisfaction and went out.

There were only two bodyguards left in the room.

Edward Yeager poured a glass of wine and handed it to Black Rose lazily, "Beauty with wine..."

Black Rose looked at the door and noticed it was locked. She was expressionless as she asked, "Do you know who I am?"

"Haha!" Edward laughed, "You're the best killer in the world, Black Rose. How can I not know?"

Yes, the hidden family had a lot of information on various topics, especially the top talents in their respective fields. They also had an entire list of killers prepared. Furthermore, Black Rose was such a beautiful killer and was quite popular.

"You're pretty confident."

"This is my place. Of course, I am confident. Tell me, who asked you to come over?" Edward took a sip of wine.

Black Rose was silent. She shook her head and said nothing.

"Well, you're a pretty good killer. You don't betray your employer, but even if you don't say who it is, I can already guess. Did Loomis send you over?" Edward was smart.

After all, if he wasn't smart, how could he become Loomis' competitor?

"Are you still stubborn? I've heard that you're very strong, Black Rose. However, I am not sure how many moves you can take from me. I'll give you two choices. First, accompany me obediently and I'll let you go. Second... Hah, you'll be caught by my men and you will eventually be mine. Well, which one do you choose?" Edward smiled and asked. He seemed like a gentleman if one ignored his words.

Black Rose had indeed caught his attention and interest.
