

Chapter 881

'I dream of you telling me in my ear that you'll forever take care of me...'

How Lily desperately wished she could just rush in, throw herself into Darryl's arms, hugged him tightly, and cry!

However, she stopped as soon as she took a step as though her body froze.

'No, I can't meet Hubby...'

'My face has become such that even I hate myself when I look into the mirror. How can I let him see me?'

'I'm afraid that Hubby can't recognize me... I am so ugly now and no longer worthy of Hubby...'

Lily felt a sense of tightness in her chest thinking of that. She was heartbroken.

"Hubby.... can you hear me? I miss you so much. I miss being in your arms and talking to you. I really want to...but I can't meet you with this face..." Lily muttered to herself as sweet memories of the past flooded her mind while tears could not stop rolling down her cheeks.

"Seeing you are fine and doing well, I'm just so happy..." Lily's voice became softer and softer. She almost lost grip of herself and looked like she could faint at any time.

Even so, Lily had her eyes locked on Darryl who was in the mall, and was unwilling to even miss a single micro expression.

She was so afraid.

Afraid that was nothing but just a dream.

She wanted to take a good look at Darryl even if it was just a dream and even if she could only watch from a distance!

Meanwhile, Lanvin was observing Darryl closely. She finally heaved a long sigh and frowned. "Hey Ugly, there are too many people here and I've no chance to do it. We'll have to secretly follow him and look for a chance."

Lanvin continued without looking back at Lily. "Do you see the man in front of the car? He's Darryl—our target this time. You should take a good look at him and we'll start tracking him down later. Do you hear me, Ugly?"

Lily was unresponsive.

Lanvin frowned and turned her head around—only to see Lily in great despair which made her furious. "Are you there? Are you deaf or mute? Can't you hear me?"

Lily still did not respond as she merely stared blankly at Darryl—completely oblivious of what was happening around her.

Lanvin was pique before pointed at Lily and cursed, "You good for nothing! Just get out of here if you're gonna be absent-minded like this. People like you are unqualified to be part of the Spiritual Invisible Sect. Such an eyesore! How could the Sect Master take you in as her final disciple..."

So hideous!

That comment struck a chord in Lily's heart. She failed to contain her emotions and yelled at Lanvin, "Stop talking!"

She could not go forward and meet with the love of her life just because she had become so ugly!

'What?'

'Did she just yelled at me?'

Lanvin was stunned as her tide of anger instantly rose!

"Slap!"

The next moment, Lanvin raised her hand and slapped Lily's face!

The sound was loud and crisp from Lanvin exhausted her strength to deliver the slap!

"You think you're good now? How dare you talk back at me! Get out and f*ck off now!" Lanvin glared at Lily and coldly said.

Lily covered her face without saying anything nor leaving the scene.

How could she leave after learning that her senior sister's target was Darryl? 'I can't let anything happen to Hubby...'

"Are you not leaving? Okay, I'll give you another chance," Lanvin angrily hissed, "you must listen to me from now on and must not go against me. Otherwise, you should disappear from my eyes and don't let me see you again. Do you hear me?"

"I... I know..." Lily answered softly while covering her face.

Lily looked in Darryl's direction again upon saying that.

'Hubby, I'm sorry that I can't meet you. I'm so ugly now and have no dignity to see you...

'However, I'll always silently follow you and be your little guardian.

'I won't hurt my senior sister as I owed Spiritual Invisible Sect for saving my life, but I won't let my senior sister hurt you either.

'Hubby, you used to protect me. Now... Let me protect you.'

Chapter 882

However, Darryl did not notice Lily at all.

Darryl gave Larry a hard slap which sent him more than ten meters away—almost killing Larry!

Everyone around blankly looked at Darryl and was at a loss for words!

'This... This guy. How dare he hit Larry...'

Larry was the owner of the shopping mall—a respectable man in Mid City! Even if Darryl was rich, he could not be that arrogant!

"You! How dare you hit me? You must have a death wish!"

Larry struggled to get up and glared fiercely at Darryl with his eyes inflamed in anger and full of resentment.

Darryl looked at him coldly. "This is payback for slapping my sister. Besides, this mall is now mine and you're not welcomed. Get lost."

Larry gritted his teeth and pointed at Darryl upon hearing his comments. "You! I don't want your billion bucks! I won't sell you this mall! I'll also make sure you can't get out of here on your feet!"

Dozens of security guards came from around the mall and surrounded Darryl after Larry said that!

Darryl cracked a slight smile. "Didn't you just say that you'll sell the mall for one billion bucks?"

"I won't sell it regardless of how much money you're paying!" Larry roared and yelled at the surrounding security guards, "Kill him! I'll take responsibility for the aftermath!"

At the sounds of his commands, those security guards charged forward.

At that instance, a man and woman walked out from the office not far away.

"What happened?"

"Larry, what's the situation? We are in the office waiting for you to come back and continue the discussion. Why did you take so long?"

The man who donned a black suit displayed an intimidating aura!

He was the Black Tiger Real Estate President, Felix Blakely!

However, everyone's eyes were focused on the woman.

The woman was wearing a burgundy long dress in high heels. She had a fit and firm figure with an extremely charming look. Her beauty was not inferior to those popular celebrities!

She was the President of the Windon Real Estate, Jade!

That was right! The mall was indeed Larry's but the building was a rental!

Felix and Jade were the ones who built the mall.

Over the past year or so, Windon Real Estate flourished under Jade's management! Just last fall, Felix and Jade jointly bought the piece of land and built the building before leasing it to Larry.

In return, Felix and Jade did not ask Larry to pay for rent but asked for an 80 percent stake in the mall instead.

Hence, Felix and Jade were the actual majority stakeholders behind the mall.

The three were in the office and discussing the mall's future development plan before Larry went out halfway through their discussion.

Both Felix and Jade were waiting for Larry in the office but when Larry did not return after a long time, they curiously rushed out to check.

Jade was even more beautiful and charming than before while also having an aloof female president temperament.

Hiss!

Many men at the scene were stunned by Jade's beauty and strong aura.

As a woman, her energy field was no weaker than Felix.

"Mister Blakely and Miss Jade, it's nothing," said Larry with a smile, "it's just a small matter which I'll be solving soon."

Larry was respectful to Felix and Jade since the building was theirs after all.

"A small matter?" Jade frowned and was in a daze after looking at the cash-filled floor and the palm print on Larry's face.

Chapter 883

What happened?

So much cash! There must be at least a few hundred million, right?

Larry forced an awkward smile and said, "Mister Blakely and Miss Jade, this kid brought a billion bucks in cash to buy our mall and also hit me. He must be tired of living. I'm about to teach him a lesson..."

Larry pointed to Darryl who was not far away while explaining.

'What?

'One billion bucks in cash to buy a mall?'

Felix and Jade were both stupefied and they looked toward the direction of Darryl at the same time.

Felix almost passed out after taking a look as he exchanged glances with Jade and both became extremely excited!

It had been a year. During that year, Jade made many calls to Darryl but never went through. Jade felt her legs go jellied upon seeing Darryl standing before her eyes and was about to tear up.

"You want to teach him a lesson?"

Felix looked at Larry with a cold face while suppressing his anger.

Larry nodded repeatedly and sneered. "He's simply tired of leaving for daring to come and cause trouble at our mall..."

"F*cking idiot!"

Before he could finish speaking, Felix drove a kick into Larry's stomach and roared, "You must be f*cking blind!"

"Whoosh!"

Felix unleashed his full strength in that kick which caused Larry to feel a sharp pain and suddenly sat on the ground.

Everyone was completely startled as no one knew why Felix suddenly reacted in such a manner!

"Mister Blakely!" Larry was completely dumbfounded and stared at Felix blankly. "He's the one who started the mess, so why did you beat me up?"

"Slap!"

Felix's face was ashen as he slapped Larry again before bellowing, "Beat you up? It isn't too much even if I kill you now!"

"Mister Blakely, why..." Larry gritted his teeth. "We have worked together for so long. Why are you hitting me just because of someone like him..."

"I'll tell you why." Jade started walking over on her high heels from the other side. She condescendingly looked at Larry before pointing at Darryl and asked, "Do you know who he is?"

"Miss Jade, I don't know him..." Larry whispered.

"You don't know? Let me tell you then," said Jade coldly while ensuring every one of her words loud and clear. "This person is Darryl. The Darryl who led Elysium Gate Sect to defend Donghai City! The entire World Universe continent would be finished without him! This continent would have been destroyed without him! Do you think you can have a good life now if not for him? Do you think you can still invest and run this business!"

Hum!

It was suddenly silent!

The entire mall became quiet as everyone looked at Darryl!

'He...is Darryl?'

'The Elysium Gate Sect Master, Darryl!'

Although a year had passed since the Wishing Star Tower battle, everyone knew of Darryl's contributions!

After Jade finished speaking, her heels brought her straight before Darryl.

Jade could no longer conceal her excitement when she arrived in front of Darryl as she respectfully said, "D-daddy, you are back..."

Jade's voice was very soft as she bit her lip and continued, "D-daddy... I didn't fail your expectations... Windon Real Estate has expanded from Donghai City to several other urban areas..."

Darryl looked at her with a smile and nodded his approval. "Well, you did a good job. I did choose the right person after all."

"Daddy, let's go to the office?" Jade whispered as Darryl had disappeared for over a year and she had many questions for Darryl. The shopping mall lobby was not a convenient place to talk after all.

Chapter 884

Darryl nodded. Jade led her into the office on the second floor.

"Larry!" As soon as Darryl left, Felix roared and kicked Larry's head. "F*ck you! Larry, I'll tell you this—there won't be any more collaborations between us! Considering you still have twenty percent of stake in this mall, go take your dividends and get out!"

"Mister Blakely..."

Larry shuddered and sat on the ground, completely stupefied.

'It's over. My good life is over since I've offended Felix.'

"F*ck off!"

Felix was so angry that he slapped Larry again who did not dare to protest and immediately fled.

Felix spat upon watching Larry's back before going after Darryl.

In the office on the second floor.

Darryl sat on the office chair while Jewel stood by his side to serve him.

Felix and Jade stood respectfully in front of Darryl.

Jade made a cup of tea and pushed it over before softly saying, "Daddy... Our Windon Real Estate Company is now on the right track with business growing bigger and bigger. However, recently the housing prices went down. What should we do in the future to continue making money? What if...we switch from the real estate business to another industry..."

"Well, it's okay to change." Darryl nodded.

There was no need to remain in one industry when doing business. It was of course only logical to do whichever industry which brought more profit. Darryl asked, "What venture do you think we can enter to make more money?"

"I... I can't think of one..." Jade whispered, "Daddy, what industry do you think has a promising future..."

Jade expectantly looked at Darryl while saying that.

It was commendable that she was able to make Windon Real Estate a great success within a short period of slightly more than a year.

She was a woman who had limited market knowledge after all and needed guidance from Daryl on the company's future development.

Felix was also looking at Darryl with great humility and waiting for his answer.

Felix had absolute faith in Darryl with regards to business and investment.

A good example was Felix himself. Felix would not have changed from a gangster to an admirable real estate magnate had Darryl not invested in him.

Darryl pondered for a while and smiled. "It's important to have a long-term approach in making an investment which focuses on performance over the long haul. Now that there are no barriers between the nine continents and people can travel freely, why don't you go explore other continents? For example, the Great East Continent's technological development is still at its infancy stage with great investment potential in the communications and entertainment sectors."

Whoa!

Felix and Jade's eyes widened after hearing that.

He was right.

In terms of science and technology development, several continents were far behind than the World Universe. How could they not think of that?

"Brother Darryl is really amazing. Your idea is on point indeed!" Felix exclaimed and grinned with excitement. He was eager to get on with the investment plan.

Jade was also shaking from extreme excitement before admirably said, "D-Daddy, you're great! I'll certainly live up to your expectations!"

"By the way, has Brother Darryl eaten yet? I'll book the restaurant before calling up Samson and the others to join us tonight. Let's get drunk!" Felix grinned and took out his cellphone to make a call.

Darryl quickly waved his hand and motioned him not to make the call as he was about to depart toward the Incandescent Sect and avenge Lilybud. He did not have the mood to drink and have fun at that moment.

Darryl's heart was aching when he thought of Lily. He looked out the window as tears started welling up in his eyes.

Meanwhile, in the New World Continent.

The Westrington Army and New World Army stood facing each other a mile away outside Atula City.

In the past few days, both armies had fought more than a dozen times! Each battle always ended up in a draw!

Donoghue together with his Sky Breaking Axe was unrivalled in the Westrington army!

However, the New World Army was generally stronger than the Westrington Army.

Under such circumstances, it would be difficult for the Westrington Army to win the war with Donoghue alone.

For a time, both sides were in a deadlock.

In the Westrington Army's military camp.

Donoghue took the commander-in-chief seat with his gloomy expression while holding a bottle of wine in his hand. He was taking sips from the bottle from time to time.

In front of him, a dozen generals stood there with their heads bowed down in silence.

The entire military camp's atmosphere was indescribably depressing.

Donoghue was very angry as he thought that with the help of Sky Breaking Axe, he could lead the Westrington Army to victory.

Unexpectedly, the progress of his army was blocked by the New World Royals after their triumph in Atula City.

Chapter 885

The overall combat strength of the Westrington Army was much weaker than the New World Army after all. It was indeed very difficult to break the deadlock solely relying on himself.

The war had reached a stalemate for a few days which dampened Westrington Army's morale.

Suddenly, a general in black armor quickly walked in.

He was Donoghue's most capable subordinate, Josh Yard!

Josh cautiously asked, "Prime Minister, are we attacking today?"

Donoghue angrily answered, "What do you think? We haven't got the upper hand for days so what's the point of fighting? Just call for a truce and rest!"

Josh looked embarrassed and suggested in a low voice, "Prime Minister, I have an idea to solve this awkward situation and ensure the Westrington army won't lose our reputation."

He could tell that Donoghue no longer wanted to fight and thought of retreating.

However, it was too shameful to retreat, and that caused Donoghue to be so upset.

"Speak up!" Donoghue took a sip of wine and coldly said.

Josh took a deep breath and slowly said, "From my observation of the New World Army these days, I notice their soldiers are also physically and mentally exhausted. They obviously also don't want to continue fighting. We are also thinking of the same. Since both sides don't want to fight but refuse to admit defeat to avoid embarrassment, why don't we send envoys to make peace with the New World Continent?"

Josh cracked a faint smile as he spoke, "We can get into a political marriage with the New World Royals. According to my knowledge, the New World Emperor has several daughters, and each of them is gorgeous. Why don't Mister Prime Minister marry one of the princesses and forge familial ties between both continents? Once that happens, retreating the army will be a matter of course."

Haha...

Donoghue was overjoyed after hearing that, excitedly patted his thigh, and said, "Okay, it's a good idea! Just do as you've said and immediately send an envoy!"

"Yes!"

In the New World City!

At Full Energy Hall.

The Westrington Army sent an envoy for a marriage proposal and news soon reached the palace.

The New World Emperor immediately called a hundred civil and military officials to discuss the matter when he learned of such news.

The New World Emperor was sitting on his Dragon Throne with a straight face and plainly said, "Fellow Officials, what do you think about this marriage proposal?"

There was a faint sense of helplessness in his eyes when the Emperor said that.

The New World Emperor was honestly thinking of ceasing the fight with the Westrington Continent. He was thinking of secretly retreating in his heart! However, the other continent proposed to marry one of his princesses which was something rather unacceptable.

The Emperor adored every one of his princesses dearly! He was not willing to marry any of them off to the Westrington Continent!

Although Donoghue who possessed the Sky Breaking Axe was extremely talented, the Emperor still would not want to marry his daughter to him!

The Board of Rites High Official came forward and respectfully said, "Your Majesty, it's reasonable for the Westrington Army to propose marriage as both continents could then form an alliance and won't infringe on each other in the future. This will in turn reduce our powerful enemies by one."

"You've made it clear and succinct."

After which, the Ministry of War High Official stepped forward and retorted in displeasure, "Princess Yvette is the only one who has reached the age of marriage among all of His Majesty's princesses, not to mention that Princess Yvette is His Majesty's most beloved daughter. How could she be married away to Donoghue? Do you think His Majesty won't be upset?"

The Board of Rites High Official looked embarrassed before looking at the New World Emperor and shamefully covered his face. "Your Majesty, I don't mean anything by that."

Princess Yvette was indeed the majesty's most loved daughter.

Marrying Princess Yvette to the Westrington Continent would be a difficult decision for His Majesty as he might be tormented from the feelings of dearly missing his favorite daughter in addition to having troubles sleeping and eating...

The New World Emperor irritably waved his hand and motioned them to stop talking.

The Country Secretary came out, bowed, and slowly said, "Your Majesty, don't worry. There's actually an easier way out."

"Oh?"

The New World Emperor raised his brows and looked at the Country Secretary appearing to be slightly less irritated. "What do you suggest?"

The Country Secretary respectfully smiled and explained, "Your Majesty, the Westrington Continent may have proposed for marriage, but in fact making up a reason to retreat. Therefore, we don't need to marry a real princess. We only need to find a beautiful lady and grant her the princess title before marrying her off."

After a short pause, the Country Secretary continued, "I remember Princess Yvette has a maid named Yvonne who was once a captive. She's beautiful, talented, and has a good temperament. Your Majesty can grant her a princess title and send her to Westrington Continent."

Whoa!

Suddenly, there was an uproar in the hall with the civil and military officials praising such a brilliant idea!

"The Country Secretary is quick-witted."

"Yeah, this idea is wonderful."

The New World Emperor smiled and nodded approvingly. "Indeed, it's an excellent idea. Let's just do as you've said."

The New World Emperor immediately looked around the hall and commanded, "Send my order to appoint Yvonne Young as Princess Yvonne. Three days later, she will be sent to Westrington Continent and get married to the Westrington's Prime Minister, Donoghue."

"Yes, Your Majesty!"

All civil and military officials responded in unison.

Chapter 886

After the morning audience adjourned, two eunuchs took the imperial decree and headed to Princess Yvette's residence.

The imperial decree had only a few words—"Yvonne Young shall be conferred as Princess Yvonne and marry Donoghue, the Prime Minister of Westrington Continent."

On the other side!

At the Carter's Mansion in the World Universe Continent!

The severely injured Zoran was no longer in a life-threatening situation with his condition stabilized.

The trio—Darryl and his brotherly mates were sitting together in the hall.

"Darryl, let's not waste any more time since godfather is better now and depart to the New World Continent," suggested Chester.

Dax eagerly responded, "Yes, we three brothers will annihilate the Incandescent Sect and avenge Lily! Let's wipe them out!"

"Let's go!"

Darryl clenched his fists, gritted his teeth, and nodded. The pain he felt was as though a knife pierced through his heart whenever he thought of Lily's tragic death.

The three brothers got up and they were prepared to head out.

Suddenly, a maid from the Carter family walked in, bowed respectfully, and softly said, "Master, there's a Fuyao Palace disciple outside the door saying she has something important and has to meet you."

'Fuyao Palace?'

Darryl was stunned and waved his hand. "Bring her in."

"Yes!"

The maid turned and went out before bringing in a young woman after a while.

The young woman was wearing a long white dress with floral patterns embroidered on her dress. It was the symbol of Fuyao Palace.

When she arrived before Darryl, the female disciple respectfully spoke to Darryl, "Sect Master, my palace master has ordered me to come and meet you. Here's a letter from my palace master. Please have a look."

She then handed a letter over to Darryl.

"What's wrong with the Little Fairy?" Darryl asked as he took the letter.

The female disciple politely said, "Palace Master says that you'll know when you open the letter."

The female disciple stepped aside upon saying that.

Dax leaned over and whispered, "Darryl, is this a love letter from the Little Fairy?"

A year ago, Fuyao Palace came to support Donghai City during the Wishing Star Tower battle.

The seven fairies' beauty had left a lasting impression in Dax's mind.

The seven fairies were gorgeous in their ways like goddesses from heaven!

Even Jewel and Debra were curiously peeking at the letter.

"F*ck, don't talk nonsense! Love letter your head..." Darryl was embarrassed, quickly opened the letter and saw the beautiful handwriting on it. There was a faint scent coming from the paper which only had three rows of words.

"Darryl, I'm Irene. I haven't seen you for a long time, how are you? A year has passed since we battled alongside to defend Donghai City against the New World Army. It felt like that was just yesterday..."

"Darryl, I... I want to beg you for a favor. Six months ago, I stumbled upon the 'Circulation Revitalization Scripture' and began practicing the secret technique. It backfired on me as Yin Energy attacked me... My eldest sister said that only someone with the Pure Energy power could help me disperse the bad energy."

"So, can you come to Fuyao Palace... I'll wait for you in the Fuyao Palace's secret chamber."

Darryl let out a long sigh after reading the lines.

He wanted to head toward the Incandescent Sect for revenge, but something happened to Little Fairy. Although his revenge plan was important, Lily was gone and he could avenge her at any time. He could not turn a blind eye to Little Fairy's pleas, especially when her life was at stake.

Besides, Fuyao Palace contributed to defending Donghai City.

After the Wishing Star Tower battle, Little Fairy had sent him two scripture columns.

Darryl had quite a good impression of her so he had to help her since she was in trouble.

He had to go to Fuyao Palace first.

Chester who was beside him said to Darryl after reading the letter, "Darryl, maybe you should save Little Fairy first since her life is at stake now. We can delay our revenge plan for a day or two."

Chapter 887

Although he was not close with the Seven Fairies, Chester admired those seven sisters when he recalled the scene of them fighting bravely against Sloan.

Phew!

Darryl took a deep breath and nodded after listening to Chester. "Okay, I'll then go to Fuyao Palace first. It'll take me a day at most. Brother Chester and Dax must first gather the Flower Mountain and Eternal Life Palace Sect disciples. We'll annihilate the Incandescent Sect when I return from Fuyao Palace!"

Darryl then looked at Debra with a complex expression on his face. "Debra, you and Jewel stay here first. Help me take care of my godfather for a day."

"Mister... Take care," said Jewel reluctantly.

She had been with Darryl for more than a year since and had never been separated.

Darryl smiled and rubbed Jewel's head. "Don't worry, I'm going to save people, not to fight. Everything will be alright."

Darryl turned and walked out of the hall.

...

On the other side.

In Fuyao Palace's Main Flower Hall.

Leroy sat there while several maids knelt before him with each of them holding a tray filled with wine and fruit.

In Fuyao Palace, men had a low status.

However, everything changed after Leroy took control.

Several beautiful female disciples were taking care of Leroy beside him with some massaging his feet, his back, and his shoulders. Leroy had become the 'Emperor'.

Haha...

He was having a good life.

Leroy squinted his eyes on a face filled with the ecstasy of pleasures. He was the one who sent Darryl a letter to lure him over as Leroy could not wait to get rid of Darryl!

"Sect Master!"

A maid walked over, stopped in front of Leroy, and respectfully said, "Sect Master, the night has come and it's time to choose who you would spend the night with."

The maid presented a nice tray upon saying that which lay within were seven jade slips with the Seven Fairies' names—including both Cindy's and Irene's names.

The jade slips were faced down in a deranged order for Leroy to pick.

"Haha... Yes, yes... I'll flip the slip!" Leroy happily sat up with a lecherous smile on his face.

Leroy was the one who came up with the idea of flipping jade slips.

Leroy came up with a terrible idea after gaining full control over the Seven Fairies. He would then sleep with whoever he picked from flipping the jade slip.

The Seven Fairies were just nice for a week and he could get a different girl every day.

'Haha!

'I am so blessed!'

That day was the first day he flipped the jade slips.

Leroy laughed and quickly turned over a jade slip.

There were two words written on the jade slip!

It was the Second Fairy, Chloe Kane!

"The Second Palace Master. Okay, okay. Take her to my room, haha." Leroy laughed and down a glass of wine.

A few minutes later, Leroy could not wait to enter his bedroom. As soon as he walked in, he saw Second Fairy Chloe sitting on the bed with her acupoints sealed, hence she was unable to move.

"Oh, Beauty Chloe. Haha, I'm here." Leroy gave her the ups and downs before calling out to her salaciously.

Gulp!

Leroy eagerly swallowed his saliva.

Chapter 888

"Get out of here!"

Chloe was startled and angry upon seeing Leroy coming closer with a wicked smile. After the Seven Fairies drank Leroy's wine, they were no longer able to use their internal energy. Not only did Chloe have her acupoints sealed, but also lost control of her internal energy such that her voice lacked the feeling of a deterrent when she spoke.

"Get out?"

Leroy slowly approached and looked at her with a smile. "Second Fairy, did you make a mistake? This is my bedroom and I'm now the Fuyao Palace Sect Master. Why should I get out? I flipped over your jade slip earlier today, so why should I get out?"

As he spoke, Leroy's smile grew wider. "I specially made those jade slips for your seven sisters. Whoever I pick for the night will be getting my sweet love. You should be very honored to be chosen on the first day. Haha!"

'What?

'Flipping jade slips!'

Chloe's body was shaking profusely upon hearing this. "Leroy, you shameless scum and villain who's no different from a beast. You won't end well."

The Seven Fairies who were dignified palace masters were about to be humiliated by Leroy.

It was better to just die instead of living with shame!

However, she could not even commit suicide with her acupoints sealed!

Leroy smiled menacingly as his eyes scanned every inch of Chloe. He then charged forward without any warning.

...

After some time, Leroy put on his clothes happily in an indescribably jovial mood.

Chloe was curled up in a corner of the bed with her face full of tears and resentment-filled eyes!

"Haha. Don't dry, Beauty." Leroy walked over with a smile and lifted Chloe's chin.

"Go away, go away..." Chloe gritted her teeth with her resentment-filled eyes. "Leroy, I'll cut you up in pieces a thousand times sooner or later!"

Slap!

Leroy was momentarily stunned as he slapped Chloe's face violently. Chloe groaned as her delicate face had five bright red fingerprints on it from that moment on.

"You are no longer a palace master. Why do you still act all high up?" Leroy scolded coldly.

'This woman is really ignorant!'

"Sect Master!"

A timid voice came from outside the door.

A female disciple opened the door and lowered her head as she stood there with a panicked expression.

Leroy wore an angry look as he turned around and stared at the female disciple. "Who told you to come in? Do you want to die?"

He looked scary when he said that.

Thump!

The female disciple trembled, hurriedly knelt on the ground, and said, "Please forgive me, Sect Master... Darryl is here."

She did not want to push the door and enter the room either, but she had been calling several times from the outside and Leroy did not hear her.

Leroy had given an order that he must be immediately informed of Darryl's arrival. That was why she opened the door and entered his room.

'Darryl!

'He's here?'

A gleam flashed in Leroy's eyes as he asked, "Where's he now?"

The female disciple answered, "According to your plan, he has been led into the secret chamber."

"Good! Well done!"

A smile spread on Leroy's face as he tilted his head and smiled at Chloe. "Beauty, I'll come back soon so wait for me."

Leroy then strode out of the room.

'What?'

'He... He managed to get Darryl here?'

Chloe laid there motionless as her heart secretly trembled from being overwhelmed with the feelings of shock.
