

Chapter 71

William Lu!

It was William Lu!

That useless son-in-law of Qena City, William!

How dared he?

How dared he kill thirty men of Harry?

This was outrageous! What a truculent scofflaw!

Harry was so furious that his whole body was shaking!

Shouldn't William be trembling with fear to come here to accept his death sentence?

How did it turn out this way? The entire mountain had become William's slaughterhouse!

Each phone call represented a life!

Each report told the death of a man!

Where did he get his help?

D*rn it!

Thinking of this, Harry took out the phone right away and ordered, "Hurry up! Send more men to my house! Make sure all of them are armed."

He began to request for reinforcements.

On the foot of the mountain, Tigger gazed at the expressionless William who was covered in fresh blood while reporting the numbers to Harry whenever he killed a man.

Tigger was a little shocked.

It was true that he had finished off so many people's lives in his lifetime.

However, he had never seen such a frightful massacre!

Well, the massacre itself wasn't a big deal.

It was his expressionless face that frightened the others!

He even reported the number of people he had killed to his enemy!

This was no longer a massacre!

He was trying to kill his enemy emotionally.

He hadn't reached the peak of the mountain yet!

But, his enemy who was on the mountain was already petrified!

This guy was so arrogant and haughty!

Tigger was a man who was addicted to killing. Now that he saw a young man who was more ruthless than him, he couldn't help but admire him secretly deep in his heart.

It seemed like Hugo sent him to this kid for some other reasons. Hugo was not trying to repay a favor to this kid.

This kid was destined to sit on the crown and rule the world. He had the authority to instruct others. Since the beginning of the massacre, Xena had been vomiting not far away.

As a kind-hearted and compassionate girl, she had never seen so much blood before.

Besides, this blood was that of a human being!

It came from a human life!

The blood trailed down the road like a stream of river. Dead bodies were strewn across the land!

It was essentially a painting of a purgatory on earth!

The one in the middle of the picture was an emotionless warrior!

Xena's impression of William had changed completely!

She began to feel afraid of him.

She had been with him for ten years. However, he was always a gentleman with a tender temperament.

But, at this moment, he had taken off the white cloak of an angel. He was slaughtering humans with the machete in his hand.

She was afraid that William would lose his last touch of humanity in this killing spree. Would he end up in an irreparable state?

However, her fear dissipated when she was lost in the middle of her own thoughts.

After William killed a person, he looked up at Xena suddenly.

His eyes were full of tenderness and guilt.

His eyes were telling her that he did not want her to witness any of these...

He was a murderer who sympathized with her and who condemned himself for dragging her into this matter.

This strong contrast in terms of personality was something Xena could not overlook. She was filled with astonishment while being surrounded by William's aura.

She opened her eyes to look at William again. But, the man in front of her was no longer a monster.

He was an enraged hero who wanted to avenge his wife.

Xena's eyes were brimming with tears.

All of a sudden, she found that everything William did was reasonable.

He didn't want to do any of these, but he had no choice!

He must be under an intense amount of pressure.

Otherwise, she would not find that contradicting emotions in his eyes. No ordinary man would look that way...

At this moment, Harry received a call again.
His hands were shaking.

There were only two words that came from the other side of the phone.

"I'm coming."

Harry was scared out of his wits!

"Shut the door! Shut all the doors! Lock the door of the courtyard as well!" Harry had almost given up all his hope while William was reporting the number of people he had killed. He had run out of ways on how to win this battle.

There was only one thought in his mind!

He must survive!

He must continue to live in spite of this imminent danger.

The door was locked in an instant.

All the people present were quivering!

All of them were petrified.

Steven was also one of them. He was so frightened that he wet his pants.

Was the man who was coming towards them William?

Where did he get his courage to kill so many people?

He was digging his own grave!

However, he had to believe that because Harry, who had always acted like a mighty king, was terrified too!

William had gone mad!

He had become a demon for the sake of a woman!

At this time, they heard a deafening 'boom' sound from the iron gate of the courtyard.

It was a sound made when a metal collided with the iron gate!

He was here!

Everyone's heart stopped beating whenever they heard the sound of the clashing metal!

Their hearts trembled at every thunderous noise they heard!

It was as if this was not the sound of a collision.

It was the summon of death from the netherworld!

They felt that the gates of h*ll had opened up to welcome them!

Through the crack, they could see a sea of blood where the whitish bones piled up like a mountain and floated on top of it.

Their hair started to stand on its end.

With a loud boom, the iron gate broke off.

The iron gate of the courtyard was knocked open!

Everyone was so horrified that they didn't even dare to look at what happened outside!

After a while, all of a sudden, all of them screamed in unison!

"Bang!" It was the last gate between William and them.

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

There were three consecutive bangs!

After that, it paused for a moment before another loud bang was heard!

The shape of the door was deforming at a rate that could be picked up by the naked eye!

He was coming in!

"Bang!"

The wooden door was broken apart!

The evening rays rambled their way across the room.

It was like a painting.

So picturesque and breathtaking!

Suddenly, a dead body was flung into the room!

"Bang, bang, bang!"

The corpse plopped onto the ground right in front of Harry.

A tumult of shouting and screaming filled the room.

Harry's heart was covered with a layer of frost.

That man had yet to arrive!

But the corpse had come.

It was a gift from him to Harry.

Well, thanks but no thanks!

A silhouette had appeared with the sunset as his background.

His face was lit up by the golden-red sunlight but it couldn't cover up the thick bloodlust in his eyes!

They were scarlet-red!

He had killed so many men!

William finally showed up!

Everyone stared blankly at William. No one dared to make a sound.

Behind William was a troop of men.

All of them were ready to dash in to spark another bloodbath.

The machetes in their hands were prepared to annihilate this place.

When Harry saw William, a cold chill ran down his spine before he roared fiercely, "It's you, William! Do you know who I am? Do you know where this place is?"

William's eyes were icy-cold. His desire to slaughter Harry began to grow again.

"You're already a dead person. I'll send you on a journey to the afterlife!"

"How dare you? And to those of you standing behind William, I am Harry Lin of Qena City! I don't know how you guys are hired by this kid. You've killed so many people today! Can't you guys think about the consequences of provoking me?" Harry hissed angrily.

At this time, a man came forward, exuding an aura as strong as that of a lion, his eyes glistening with a tint of fierceness.

However, his rank was obviously slightly lower than William's.

He was Tigger!

Only ruthlessness could be seen in Tigger's eyes at the moment. He chortled arrogantly. "I, Tigger, don't give a f*uck about who you are!"

It was Tigger!

Harry's men, as well as Harry himself, were dumbstruck.

Everyone in Qena City knew who Tigger was.

He was one of the famous men in Qena City. But, he was here at this moment!

Wait a minute!

Tigger was Hugo's right-hand man. If he showed up here, then Hugo...

Thinking of this, Harry yelled again, "Brother Tiger, Old Master Li and I are good friends. A few days ago, we just set up a company together..."

Tigger interjected coldly, "I, Tigger, don't take commands from Old Master Li today!"

That was all he had to say!

Harry's heart skipped a beat. He was unwilling to give up!

"Then how could you be hired by this kid..."

"Hired? Hmph! Listen up!" Tigger said with a vehement voice before he glimpsed at William respectfully.

"I, Tigger, have never been hired by anyone in my whole life!"

"I only follow commands from the king!"

William was the only king on this day whom Tigger acknowledged!

After hearing this, Harry's last bit of hope shattered into a thousand pieces.

He peeked at William with horror. He wanted to negotiate with William about what happened a while ago.

However, it only took a glance from William.

The sound of the machetes reverberated in the air.

Another massacre had begun!

Chapter 72

The mourning sound was an endless one.

Blood was spilt everywhere; corpses could be seen across the room.

Tigger's men were like wolves and tigers.

They were so ruthless with the machetes in their hands.

They were extremely cruel and fierce as they murdered their enemies!

The room soon turned into a slaughterhouse!

The Lin family had turned into the gate leading to h*ll!

There would be no living humans left soon except the ghosts that lingered here!

Blood flooded the entire room. It looked as though it was at least a meter deep!

Steven, who was at a side, was petrified till he peed his pants.

These people were committing murder in broad daylight!

This was lunatic!

Was this man in front of him the useless son-in-law of his family who was always obedient and was pushed around by the Bais?

"Don't kill me, please! I'm on the boat as you. I'm William's cousin!" Steven shrieked as he saw a hitman rushing towards him.

The man paused for a while and gazed at William.

However, William's expression remained indifferent. The emotions in his eyes did not flicker at all.

Just as Steven was about to beg William for help, he let out a groan all of a sudden.

The man knocked Steven out with the blunt end of his machete!

Harry, on the other hand, was so frightened that his jelly legs were shaking.

He had been in the business world for many years and had seen all sorts of tricks.

However, what happened in front of him at this moment was not a trick!

It was a bloody massacre!

What else was more terrifying than seeing people getting killed one after another in front of his very eyes!

At this moment, his mind had gone completely blank.

He could not even think of escaping from or resisting them.

Soon, only Harry was left alive in the room. He was surrounded by five other men.

Harry forced himself to look at William.

He knew that the reason he was alive at this moment was not that he was lucky.

It was because the time for his death had yet to arrive!

William asked coldly, "Where is Felicity?"

When Harry heard William mentioning Felicity, a thought flashed across his mind.

Were the deaths of dozens of people on this day related to a woman?

At the thought of this, he was consumed with great remorse!

If that was the case...

He was practically hurting himself as though he hit his own toes with a rock he lifted.

At this time, a woman dashed in from the outside.

She tramped towards William and yelled at Harry, "Don't hurt my husband! He has done nothing wrong! Come at me instead!" Her trembling voice had an obstinate determination.

Everyone was shocked.

It was Felicity.

Felicity had been locked up in a room previously.

A while ago, when the banging sound rang out from the outside, all the guards who watched over her left in an instant.

Only then she found an opportunity to escape.

She wanted to run directly to the foot of the mountain.

But she could not overlook the unexplainable uneasiness in her heart.

She had a feeling that the colliding sound of the metals she heard a while ago was brought by William.

She had 100% faith in William's love for her; she believed that William would come to save her at all costs.

Therefore, even if Felicity knew that she was going to die, at that moment, she ran into the room without hesitation.

As soon as she came in, she saw William standing in front of Harry.

She reflexively believed that the men who were wielding machetes in their hands were Harry's subordinates.

Right after she shouted out that line, everyone present quieted down instantly.

There was an unspeakable awkwardness at that moment.

William was over the moon to see Felicity.

However, he immediately realized that there was something strange about Felicity's face.

He caressed her face and exclaimed surprisingly, "Felicity, your face..."

At this time, Felicity glared at Harry and stated, "When they kidnapped me here, they put some makeup on me to make my face look disfigured. They did this to lure you here..."

At the thought of this, a light bulb went on in William's head.

That was right.

Everyone in Qena City was in the opinion that Felicity was being backed by a mysterious rich man.

Needless to say, Harry would not dare to do anything harmful on Felicity.

When William saw the photo a while ago, he was too anxious and didn't get to think about it too much.

The muscles on William's face finally relaxed when she saw that Felicity's face was fine. However, his intention to kill Harry did not disappear because of that.

At this time, Felicity glowered at Harry again. "Harry Lin, I won't let you hurt William! William, run now."

The awkwardness continued to expand in the room.

At this time, another woman whispered,

"Felicity, look around you carefully."

It was Xena.

When Xena saw that Felicity was fine, she was relieved as well.

However, Xena was still troubled by an inexplicable feeling in her.

The two of them had to go through so much to stay together as a couple.

It seemed that the obstacles in their lives would never stop haunting them.

Despite that, they never abandoned each other. They thrived with each other's presence.

Felicity was dumbstruck. She looked at Harry and his flickering gaze as if he was trying to avoid making eye contact with her. Harry's whole body was quivering uncontrollably as if he was left outside in the winter.

The arrogance in his eyes was no longer seen.

The people around him looked pale, even their teeth were clattering.

"This..." Felicity was confused.

"William brought these men to come to save you," Xena mouthed.

Felicity looked around again carefully, and let out a scream in fear instantaneously!

There was blood all over the place.

There were dead bodies lying everywhere. There were so many corpses!

She had never seen such a gory scene in her life. Her whole face turned pallid in no time.

Could it be that all of this...

She couldn't help but look at William.

William's eyes were as cold as ice, sparkling with bloodlust.

All of a sudden, her entire body was being filled with warmth that surged from the bottom of her heart.

For no reason, what William said to her previously started to echo in her mind.

"If you are condemned and criticized, then I am willing to be called the most heinous man!"

Could he be considered as a heinous man if he did all this?

He was covered in blood. He did this for her...

Thinking of this, her eyes turned moist. She hugged William tightly and tried her best to comfort him. "Alright, alright. I'm fine now. Don't be angry. Don't be angry anymore, okay?"

All the people present were astonished.

What was happening at this moment?

William had killed so many people a while ago as if they were merely an ant in his eyes.

However, he looked like a man who was being wronged by everyone in this universe at this moment, getting comforted by a woman.

Those who were killed and beaten up by him must feel aggrieved.

Harry was going crazy.

William who beat and killed Harry's people ended up looking like the person who was mistreated!

There was so much hatred in Harry's heart!

He shouldn't. He shouldn't do that!

He knew that William loved his wife, but he didn't know that William's love for Felicity was so much. He was indeed an uxorious man!

If Harry was given another chance, he would not dare to threaten William with Felicity again.

However, was there another chance for him...

William fiddled Felicity's hair and replied gently, "Go back with Xena first. I'll come to you after I tie up all the loose ends here."

Obviously, Felicity did not want to leave.

But seeing the insistence in William's eyes, she nodded obediently. "Then, you must stay safe. Don't get hurt, okay? Don't get bullied by them anymore."

The people at the scene were speechless again.

No words could describe this pair of couples.

The man was crazy for his wife whereas the woman was overprotective over her husband.

What a perfect match!

Felicity reminded him to be safe repeatedly before she left the Lin family with Xena.

At this time, Tigger scowled at a man and shouted instantaneously, "How dare you try to escape? Catch him!"

It turned out that Harry, under the protection of several subordinates, had sneaked to the back of the house while the others were not paying attention.

But at this time, William's lips curled into a playful smirk.

He parted his lips slightly.

"Three..."

"Two..."

"One!"

As soon as he finished the word 'one'...

Harry's face froze.

With a plop, he fell to the ground!

Chapter 73

Everyone was stunned.

What was wrong with Harry?

Harry, on the other hand, was so scared that his hair stood on its end.

He felt that he had lost his control over his own body.

It was as though there was a massive weight that was loaded onto him and made him paralyzed.

At this time, Tigger's eyes sparkled.

He saw seven silver needles on Harry's body.

The needle tips were dyed red, gleaming with a strange tinge of energy.

He gazed at William in disbelief.

Was this his doing?

It must be.

Otherwise, how could he be so confident? He was even counting down to this!

However, when did he do it?

No one among them noticed it at all!

This kid was indeed skillful after all!

William mooched towards Harry.

His every step was like a heavy hammer hitting onto Harry's heart!

He was getting closer and closer!

Harry was on the verge of losing his mind.

He was going to die!

He was going to die on this very day!

He didn't want to die!

He roared at William, "Don't kill me! Let me go! I have called my men to come here a while ago! If you dare to kill me, no one will be able to leave this mountain alive today! I swear!"

William's mouth curved into a smile. "Your men are on their way, you say? Were they in two buses..."

Harry was dumbfounded. "Ho- ho- how do you know..."

"Then you should be able to meet them on your way to h*ll," William uttered and turned on his cell phone.

There was a photo on it.

Two buses were about to drive off a cliff.

Harry's face turned livid when he saw the photo!

"How dare you? You're so cruel! Do you really have to do it so cruelly? The only thing I did is to kidnap your wife. Why are you—"

"Of course, I have to! I will not hesitate to kill anyone who touches a strand of hair of hers, let alone you who kidnap her!" William's face turned cold instantly, his voice revealing a strong desire to murder Harry!

Tigger's eyes widened his eyes in awe while being enveloped by William's domineering aura before he gave an order to wipe out everyone there!

The men behind Tigger raised their machetes in the air!

"Kill!"

"Kill!"

"Kill!"

The sound of these three shouts reverberated in the room. The air froze right away with William's merciless and ruthless gaze.

At this time, a man came in and shouted instantaneously, "Wha-what on earth is going on?"

When everyone turned around, they saw an elderly man entering the house, staggering.

When Harry saw him, he shouted in delight, "Elder He, help me! Please help me!"

The person who came was Henry!

When Henry was on his way to the Lin family, he could see water stains along the way, starting from the middle of the mountain.

Well, it did not rain a while ago.

He had been working as a doctor for many years, hence he was able to pick up the faint stench of blood that filled every particle in the air.

He thought that an accident had happened a while ago, therefore he came over here immediately.

As soon as he entered the house, he could not help but panic and tremble. The entire building was covered with blood. Everyone's eyes were sparkling with a tint of bloodlust.

Who on earth did this?

Henry did not manage to recognize William as William was facing Henry with his back. When Henry heard Harry's plead of help, he dashed over instantly.

"Help me, I can't move," Harry shrieked.

Henry looked at Harry and found that Harry had seven needles on his body.

When Henry was about to pull the needles out, he felt as if he had fallen into an ice cellar.

These seven needles!

They were the Needles of Ruby Flower!

The acupoints they fell on!

It was the Seventh Absolute Kill!

The person who had used this acupuncture technique...

Henry turned around and met a pair of cold and bloodshot eyes!

It was William!

It was Junior Divine Doctor Lu!

Henry was so petrified that he lost all his strength in his body before he fell to his knees directly. "Ju-ju-junior Divine Doctor Lu."

His heart couldn't stop trembling.

The aftermath of the monstrous slaughter he witnessed a while ago was conducted by a divine doctor!

William was a doctor who killed people!

He was a healer and a murderer; he was both a god and a devil!

Hearing Henry address William as a junior divine doctor, Harry was stunned. "Elder He, this man..."

"He is the highly-skilled doctor I told you about. You guys must be honored to be visited by this junior divine doctor today. But, I'm afraid that the Lin family is going to be demolished completely today!" Henry looked at Harry and shook his head.

Hearing this, Harry's face changed instantly!

He was stricken by remorse. He regretted his action so much.

If he knew that William was a divine doctor since the beginning, then he would not...

Henry was a little suspicious when he was talking to Harry.

In the previous phone call he had with William, William clearly rejected his request, but later he agreed to it without hesitation.

William could have ignored him, but why did William agree...

While he was thinking about it, Harry questioned, "Who on earth is he? Even you do not dare to save me!"

Henry shrank his body and replied instinctively, "Speak no more! Keep these questions to yourself! If you want to survive, hand over all your family's fortune to him! Maybe Junior Divine Doctor Lu will spare your life. I really can't help you. He is..."

Speaking of this, Henry opened his eyes wide all of a sudden!

He finally understood the reason William agreed to come.

William was not here for Harry.

But Henry!

This man came from the Lu family of North Lake City!

Among everyone present, perhaps only Henry knew William's identity.

He accidentally told Harry about William's identity as a divine doctor. William must be angry with him at this moment!

Henry thought, "He purposely agrees to my request and shows me this massacre. He must be doing this so I can see it for myself!"

William wanted Henry to know how vengeful he could be.

It was only a demonstration to Henry so he would zip his mouth up for the rest of his life.

He should never mention it to anyone else!

Oh, the Lu Family of North Lake City!

Thinking of this, Henry's entire body trembled violently. He knelt down respectfully. "Junior Divine Doctor Lu, I am here to serve you. I will be your slave for the rest of my life!"

William nodded indifferently. "Then clean up this mess."

Henry nodded and agreed to William's request right away.

At this time, Tigger gave an order, and one of his men handed an envelope of documents to him.

As soon as Henry saw it, he immediately knew what to do.

He turned to Harry and demanded, "Sign these."

Now that Harry's life was dependent on others, he would not dare to refuse it.

These documents were about agreements on the transfer of assets. Harry was going to transfer all his assets in the banks to an account stated.

William could not help but admire Hugo a little bit when he saw what was happening at this moment.

Hugo must have known that William would destroy the entire Lin family, therefore he had prepared these documents beforehand.

After signing these documents, William glanced at it and handed the envelope back to Tigger. "Among all of these, I only need a company. Give the rest of the fixed assets to Hugo. From the 200 million yuan of cash, leave me 50 million yuan. You guys who come and help can have the rest."

Tigger's heart skipped a beat!

How generous!

This boy didn't care about the wealth of the Lin family at all. He almost gave away all the money!

He was a man who would take his revenge even for the smallest issues. However, he would never forget those who took care of him.

This man deserved to be an emperor!

After Henry completed his task, he pulled out the Needles of Ruby Flower and handed them to William respectfully. "Junior Divine Doctor Lu, do you have any other commands?"

William took the silver needles then he turned around and headed out of the house.

Tigger and the others followed William and left the house too.

All of them marched their way out of the house like a mighty troop of army.

Watching them leave, Harry could finally let out a sigh of relief.

He gave up all of his wealth in exchange for his life!

However, this kid...

Harry thought, "How dare he do this to me!"

He swore to tear William into thousands of pieces on the day he made a comeback.

Just as Harry was lost in his thoughts, a ruthless voice rang out from the outside of the door.

"Do not leave anyone—"

The man continued, "Alive!"

Chapter 74

"Do not leave anyone alive!"

William was referring to Fernando!

As well as Harry!

Hearing this, Henry's eyes were filled with bloodlust in an instant!

A few minutes ago...

Felicity and Xena went down the mountain together. Xena frowned while looking at the mountain roads they passed by a while ago. It was as if they had been washed by a heavy downpour.

Felicity couldn't help but ask, "Xena, can you tell me what happened just now?"

Looking at Felicity who was so naive and innocent, Xena could only smile bitterly.

To tell Felicity what happened a while ago?

What should Xena tell Felicity?

Should Xena tell Felicity that William had just taken away countless human lives? William was practically a satan reincarnated from the h*ll.

Or should Xena tell Felicity that William loved her so much so that he was willing to kill anyone and everyone who dared lay a finger on her?

Xena decided to bury everything that happened on this very day deep in her heart.

At the very least, she didn't want Felicity to be petrified after learning what happened.

William was also on the way down the mountain. When he found out that the mountain roads had been washed clean thoroughly, he knew right away that it was Hugo who cleared up the mess for him.

"Go back and thank Old Master Li for me. I'll visit him personally someday," William said.

Tigger felt that the young man in front of him at this moment was just another ordinary person. He could no longer see any bloodlust in William's eyes.

William looked just like a graceful gentleman.

Tigger was in awe for a moment because of William.

According to what Henry said a while ago, William had another identity. He was a divine doctor...

A divine doctor that killed people.

This kid seemed to be telling something to the world.

He could save lives.

Yet he could also end lives if he was forced to.

William patted Tigger on the shoulder and left.

On the way, he took out the seven Needles of Ruby Flower.

He had been feeling that something was not quite right when Henry handed them to him a while ago.

Now that he was not occupied with other matters, he took them out for a closer look and compared them one by one.

He was thunderstruck.

The seven Needles of Ruby Flower that were stained with blood had a darker shade of red.

They were sparkling with a peculiar, scarlet-red beam!

These seven needles were emitting an energy that could only be found in blood!

William felt odd.

Were these Needles of Ruby Flower left behind by his grandfather meant to be used to kill other people?

Was the red dye on the needle tips stained with blood? Was that the reason it could not be washed away?

What was the secret behind the Needles of Ruby Flower?

He did not have a clue, for the time being, hence he decided not to mind it and head back home.

Tigger rushed to Hugo's house in no time.

When Hugo saw Tigger, he asked right away, "What do you think of William?"

Tigger stared at Hugo and pondered for a moment before he continued, "He is ruthless and he never hesitates when he kills. He deserves to be worshipped as a hero!"

Then, he took out those documents and handed them to Hugo before he conveyed William's message.

Hugo looked at those documents and fell into deep thoughts.

Tigger couldn't help but utter, "Old Master Li, to be honest, I'm going to make him my master if I do not have you as my boss now. Do you have a way to make him yield to you?"

Hugo was dumbstruck for a moment before he put on a bitter smile.

To make William yield to him?

"I'll tell you the truth then. I'm afraid that it would take me my entire life not to be influenced by this kid. I'd have to try my best to keep my head up, to act as arrogantly as possible, so that I'd not yield to him instinctively. This kid has true talents! He is intelligent and resourceful, and his martial arts skills could help him rule the world! Anyone who does not have enough perseverance would surrender to him easily."

Tigger had been living his life as a fighter but he was taken aback by Hugo's remark. He didn't expect Hugo would think so highly of William.

"Nevermind, you won't understand what I said. You can leave first. By the way, remind everyone not to bring this matter up again! Anyone who fails to observe this instruction will pay with their blood!" Hugo commanded.

Tigger nodded and left.

That night, Felicity couldn't sleep, her body still trembling.

She looked at the man beside her countless times. She wanted to say something but on second thought, she decided to keep her lips sealed.

William sighed and took the initiative to hold her in his embrace. "If you are afraid, sleep in my arms then."

His words calmed Felicity down.

She didn't seem to be scared anymore...

The next day, a piece of news became the hottest topic in Qena City!

The Lin family had moved out of Qena City. They had disappeared without living a trace!

When the Bai family learned this news, they were infuriated!

Steven only regained consciousness at midnight. When he saw he was the only one left in Lins' mansion, he was puzzled.

But when he tried to recall what had happened, he realized that all his memories of the previous day had been wiped off.

He mumbled with his trembling voice, "Grandma, the 20 million yuan that we sent to the Lin family, can we retrieve it?"

Yasmine's blood was quickened by her fury upon hearing this. "I didn't expect that the Lin family would lie to us!"

In order to please Harry, Yasmine had transferred 20 million yuan to them in advance before Harry even delivered them the materials.

At this moment, they could not even get a single cent back from the Lins since the Lins were nowhere to be found in Qena City. All their money had gone down the drain.

"Report this to the police!" Yasmine roared.

However, the Lin family had completely vanished from the world. There was nothing that could be done even if the Bais made a police report.

Early in the morning, William received a phone call from Melissa.

He rushed to the Genuine Care Medical Centre in an instant. Melissa almost pinned him down on the table as soon as she saw him.

"Last night, we received 50 million yuan in our company's account. Do you care to explain to me what's going on?"

Hearing this, William pushed her up. "I thought that something went wrong. Why make such a big fuss? I was strolling around the city yesterday and somehow, I made some money."

Melissa and Lydia were stupefied right away.

Such a difference.

How could there be such a big difference between William and them?

Melissa had worked so hard to manage the Genuine Care Medical Centre. She put in so much and she only earned 5 million yuan after a year.

This kid went out for a stroll and earned 50 million yuan...

Looking at William, who acted as if nothing had happened, Melissa felt like she could devour him in one bite.

"By the way, early in the morning, a man named Henry He came over. He claimed that he's going to work for you. That person seems to be very famous," Melissa added.

William replied indifferently, "Oh, I saw him on the way when I was strolling yesterday and requested him to help me to manage the clinic."

Melissa and Lydia were speechless.

Where did he take a stroll at? They would totally take the same route! They would see if they would be as lucky as William.

"Well, since I'm here, update me on how the clinic is doing recently," William requested casually.

"You finally remember that you are the boss, you ungrateful brat!" Melissa grumbled before she began to report on her work.

Since Flavia agreed to become an ambassador for the Genuine Care Medical Center, as soon as the Cherry Blossom was launched, it was sold out right away. A large number of people were waiting for their next launch.

Lydia's another beauty product was about to be released to the market.

William took the product from Lydia and pondered for a while before he made some minor modifications on the ingredients. He then threw it back to Lydia. "Next, we'll focus on this new product. Although its effect is not as good as that of Cherry Blossom, it'll be more affordable. We can mass-produce it."

Lydia felt as if she had obtained a treasure when William gave her the modified prescription list of the new product. She found herself a corner and squatted down while trying to figure out William's rationale of changing the herbs.

Melissa thought for a moment and stated, "If we want to mass-produce it, then the whole industrial chain will have to follow suit. We will have a problem."

William's mouth curved into a smile. "Only a professional can do a professional task, thus..."

"We'll find a company huge enough to take up all the manufacturing processes!" Melissa answered instantly. She was indeed extremely smart.

William nodded. "Let's try to find one in Qena City first."

The next day, another earth-shattering news spread across Qena City!

Recently, the Genuine Care Medical Centre had been doing very well because of its new product, Cherry Blossom.

At this moment, they were looking for a company to collaborate to produce their products exclusively!

"We'll hold a family meeting right now!" Yasmine's eyes were bloodshot.
