

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 286

At that moment, Sophia's whole body trembled. He actually knows Michael? Does that mean the Phantom Wolf knows everything about Michael, but the latter doesn't know a thing about him.

"Don't be surprised. I was the one who killed his sister and brother-in-law. If I wanted to, I can simply take his life whenever I want. The Fletchers? Hehe, I love killing anyone who is part of the Fletcher Family!"

The moment she heard Michael's name, she used all her strength to struggle but accidentally bumped her shoulder on the wall. Suddenly, a heart-wrenching pain rose.

Both her hands that held onto Phantom Wolf's arm dropped weakly.

She was reminded of the rows of new tombs in The Fletcher Family's ancestral grave. Since Phantom Wolf has dared to say something like this, maybe there will be a new tomb appearing there any time. Don't hurt him...

When Phantom Wolf noticed that Sophia had given up on resisting him, he slowly released her mouth. Then, she felt a sweet scene coming out of her mouth, so she forcefully swallowed it.

Meanwhile, he was violently grabbing her neck with one hand. She did not dare to move or speak because she knew that the man in front of her could break her neck with only a slight force.

Her eyes widened as she looked at the man who had killed countless people. He wore a mask that covered his facial features—and even his eyes couldn't be seen, so she was unable to determine his true identity from his appearance.

Then, he slowly approached her and touched her charming red lips, as if he wanted to be intimate with her. He reached out into her collar with his other hand, unbuttoning the school uniform that she wore and exposing the shirt she had inside.

He placed her on the washstand in the toilet. One of his hands had grabbed her neck while the other snuck under her skirt...

Sophia sobbed when she felt a warm lip gliding across her neck and collarbone. She was forced to lift her head so that the tears, which would have streamed down her cheeks, would spill into her hair.

She was reluctant to be owned by Phantom Wolf!

Therefore, she fumbled around with her hands and found a glass vase with a daffodil in it before fiercely pushing it to the floor with a smash.

The vase broke and made a huge sound. A curious voice was heard outside the restroom in less than a second. "Is there anyone inside? What happened?"

Sophia concurrently felt that the strength around her neck had suddenly gone. In the blink of an eye, Phantom Wolf had also disappeared. When she turned to look, the window of the toilet was left open for some time. He is very quick.

After that, her whole body seemed to lose its soul as she collapsed on the floor...

Michael had been busy for the whole day and it was already 11PM by the time he returned home.

Tonight, there was still a dim light in the master bedroom. It looks like Sophia hasn't slept yet.

The moment he returned home, he first went to Nathan's room to have a look—his son was playing a game alone without knowing that he was already back.

Michael knocked on the door, saying, "Darling, it's late. Go to bed early. You still have school tomorrow."

Nathan had faced him with the back of his head and replied, "The two of you went out for lunch today without bringing me along. I'm not happy with it, so don't talk with me tonight."

"You little brat!" While Michael closed the door, he spoke. "I'll give you some time to save the game. I'll switch off the Internet at 11PM."

When he returned to the master bedroom, Sophia seemed to be already asleep. After switching on the night light, he saw that the blanket on the bed had a small bump.

He then quietly walked into the restroom to wash himself before getting into bed. On the bed, he leaned closely against his wife.

Surprisingly, when he touched her gentle waist, he realized that she was naked. Eh, she is sleeping naked!

After that, Sophia's snake-like body suddenly squirmed into his arms. Under the dim night-light, he could see her blurry face poking out of the blanket and her black eyes were filled with moisture.

"Chica..."

Even though she had only revealed a tiny face, it was still seductive in his eyes. He stared at her blankly, feeling that there was something different to her compared to her past self.

His Adam's apple rolled while he looked at the woman in his arms. Then, he asked seriously, "Are you ready for this?"

Sophia remained silent as she reached out to switch off the lights. The room suddenly fell into darkness and her gentle body became entangled with his while her warm cherry lips actively pressed against his.

He could feel that she was actually ready, so he quickly hugged her while gently removing the thin blanket that blocked them.

She thought that it would be horrifying, but she hadn't expected the feeling of being together with the man she loved the most was romantic and unrestrained. Initially, it hurt a little, but when it gradually improved, she really wanted to pause her life on that wonderful moment forever.

I only want to be with him... forever and ever.

Bayside City was exceptionally quiet tonight—from time to time, neon lights would fall on the windows and spill into the room. She was snuggling in Michael's arms as both her body and mind were satisfied.

I've finally slept with my idol.

They had been married for almost two years. Two years ago, Joe had embarrassingly sent her to Michael, so she couldn't understand why the latter chose her.

Maybe it is fate. I'm now finally Michael's woman and will give my all to him. If I'm forced to leave him one day, I won't regret it...

Michael was satisfied with what happened tonight. When he realized that the consummation was successful, he thought whether he should hold a banquet the next day.

It might have been a result of the deep communication between body and soul, but Sophia became more open in front of him and no longer as restrained as before.

She rolled over and placed a pillow in him, asking, “Hubby, if Miss Weber misses you one day, will you—”

“I will never.” He furrowed his brows as he felt absolutely disgusted to hear such a question in a wonderful atmosphere.

He didn’t directly answer her; instead, he asked her the same question. “If Mr. Harper is willing to give everything up for you one day, will you go with him?”

“I won’t!” She also felt disgusted and firmly rejected the idea.

After responding, she finally realized that her tone was the same as his when he answered her question. Does that mean in Michael’s eyes, his ex-girlfriend, Irene, is of the same status as my ex-boyfriend, Richard?”

There was a little joy in Sophia’s heart.

However, when Michael suddenly grabbed Sophia’s shoulder, he happened to touch the wolf tattoo on her body, causing her whole body to tighten and tremble when it felt the pain.

He immediately noticed her small reaction. When they were together earlier, he felt that there was something wrong about her. Initially, he thought that it was due to her nerves, seeing that it was her first time as a woman, but what he felt was obviously different from the other parts of her skin.

Therefore, his fingers tentatively touched that part of her skin again. As he touched it, she did not seem to have any reactions, but he still felt her body trembling, as if she was holding back on something.

Then, he stood up and switched on the lights, making the room suddenly bright again.

By the time the lights were already switched on, she was already hiding in the blanket with only her head uncovered.

When Michael removed Sophia's blanket, she immediately retreated while tightly holding onto the blanket.

The more she avoided him, the more he felt that something was wrong, so he immediately reached out to remove the blanket. "What is it? Come, let me see."

She silently lowered her head, but her once red face had suddenly turned pale.

After that, he reached out to remove the blanket, exposing her snowy-white shoulder and a wolf tattoo. Maybe it was probably because he was too rough on her earlier as the skin on her shoulder was now red and swollen as he grabbed it.

He felt as though he was struck by a bolt from the blue! Phantom Wolf finally came!