

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 491

Since their chat was private, the others couldn't see their messages. All they could see was both of them standing still in the game.

Meanwhile in the Messenger group, Imported Young Man asked, 'What are they doing? Why are they standing still?'

Stupid Dog: 'They're probably having it out in private. Let them be.'

Stupid Dog: 'What the h*ll? Why is my name Stupid Dog while Linus is named as Imported Young Man? Sophia, you'd better f*cking change my alias right now! And change it to something nice!'

Sean: '...'

In the game, Sophia read the text sent by Natasha. It was the same trick as usual, acting weak while sowing discord. Natasha claimed she was trying to clear the misunderstanding, but she seemed to be hinting at something else. Placing her fingers on the keyboard, Sophia started to type out a response.

After a while, Natasha received Sophia's reply. 'You are?'

Natasha wasn't convinced that Sophia had forgotten about her and believed that she was just pretending. Smugly, Natasha replied, 'I'm Taylor's sister. I'm the one who took care of him when he was shooting at the film studio.' Let your jealousy and resentment pour in!

During that period of time, Natasha spent almost every single day with Michael but she had never once met Eddie! She waited for Sophia to erupt in anger but it was only after quite some time that she received an unperturbed reply.

‘Oh—you’re the traveling tramp that Taylor flirted with. I’m sorry, but Taylor has flirted with too many women and I just can’t remember who you are.’

Natasha stared at the two-word phrase ‘traveling tramp’. She knew each of the words but when it was combined as a phrase, she didn’t know what it meant so she asked, ‘Mrs. Murray, what is a traveling tramp?’

Sophia replied patiently, ‘It’s a name for girls who are so cheap that they pay a man to have her. Other people travel a thousand miles to send their affection but this kind of girl travels a thousand miles to offer her body. That’s how the name traveling tramp came about.’

Traveling... tramp? Staring at these simple words, Natasha, who was brought up in a protected environment and was nurtured with an elite education since young, was completely stunned. She followed Taylor all the way from Bayside to the film studio just to move him with her passionate love, but all she received from this person was vulgar words that tarnished her pure and persistent love for him. Burning in anger, Natasha furiously typed out a reply. ‘Mrs. Murray, you’ve misunderstood me; I’m not that kind of woman. I’m Taylor’s sister, Natasha, whom he cares for dearly like a sister!’

Scary Phoenix: ‘Since both of you have already slept together, stop pretending to be his sister and admit that you’re a traveling tramp. I don’t mind anyway.’ As expected, Sophia was cursing her in an unconventional way because she had flown into a rage.

Understanding dawned upon Natasha and she quickly replied, ‘Mrs. Murray, I know that you’re extremely angry now and I’m truly sorry toward you and Taylor. What happened that night is all my fault, so please don’t blame him.’

However, Scary Phoenix replied, 'Men will be men and they will inevitably cheat. Taylor already has a dozen illegitimate children outside so what's the big deal since you only had one night stand with him by accident?'

A dozen... illegitimate children? Natasha stared at that sentence in disbelief.
Michael has a dozen illegitimate children?

Suddenly, Sophia added, 'Every year, Taylor sleeps with countless 17 or 18-year-old girls like you, who willingly offer their bodies for free! Some of them even travel across the globe to offer their bodies, much less you, who only traveled miles.'

Looking at the paragraph of nasty words, Natasha's face turned pale and her fingers on the keyboard started to tremble. It turned out that in Michael's eyes, she was a b*tch who traveled miles just to offer her body to him? She was just a toy to him? No! How is that possible? She was the precious young lady of the Mitchell Family and she believed that she had an extraordinary place in Taylor's heart! How could Taylor be that kind of person?

But looking at the few words from Sophia that seared her eyes, her breathing became unsteady. Calming herself down, she typed, 'You must be joking, Mrs. Murray. How can Taylor be that kind of person?' However, her hand couldn't help but tremble.

Sophia lazily typed out a reply, 'Plenty of women long for Taylor. Do you know the young lady of the Mitchell Family? I can't even bear to look at how she shamelessly sells herself to Taylor for free. She not only travels miles to offer her body, she even pays for it! Taylor paid a huge amount of money in my name but that dumb*ss spends her money just to provoke me. How hilarious! Fortunately, I'm magnanimous and I won't even question Taylor when he sleeps with the traveling tramps. I just need to focus on taking care of my husband and son. With the Fletcher Family as his backing, there isn't any woman that Taylor can't get. He has countless sisters and you're just one of them, so don't worry about it.'

After typing that, Sophia smiled maliciously. As a naïve girl who grew up under the protection of power, it was time for Natasha to experience some storms so she could learn that the world wasn't always what she wished.

After that, Natasha stopped replying and even her game character didn't move an inch. Sophia finally went back to the game and played with her friends. After a round, everyone bid goodbye and left the game.

Meanwhile in the Mitchell Residence, Natasha was utterly flustered. This was the first time she felt her world was tilted sideways. She tried to convince herself to not believe what Eddie said, but a part of her seemed to whisper that Eddie might be right and men would always be men.

Putting others aside, even the Mitchell Family wasn't stranger to those nasty things. Those elders might look righteous in front of everyone but behind the curtains, they would do simply anything. Even Alex wasn't an exception. Although he married a woman from a distinguished family, who was Natasha's mother, Natasha knew that Alex cheated with a young model and even had an illegitimate daughter. Men were indeed disgusting!

At night, a loud shout suddenly rang out at the Mitchell Residence's entrance.

"Natasha, I'm your grandmother! Are you home? Is anyone home? Open the door!"

It was Old Madam Murray. Unfortunately, no one answered the door, even if she shouted herself hoarse. Old Madam Murray couldn't figure out why the Mitchell Family changed their mind all of a sudden. After all, she was Taylor's grandmother!

The Mitchell Family promised to find a doctor for James but they suddenly stopped paying the fees today. At the same time, Larry's company was found to be evading tax so he was arrested for investigation. To top it all off, Olivia might even be sentenced to death since she trafficked and abused drugs. Even James couldn't escape from the punishment because he was the one who taught Olivia to take drugs in the past. Besides, the news about him acting tyrannically in the film crew and being charged with a murder lawsuit was exposed.

Not only was the company sealed for investigation, the Murrays were arrested too. Even the Mitchell Family changed their minds. Within a day, it seemed like the whole world had changed. While the desperate Old Madam Murray shouted curses and made a scene at the Mitchell Residence entrance, Sarah, who lived next to the Mitchells, called Sophia.

Soon, Michael sent someone to escort Old Madam Murray to the airport. "Where is Taylor? Where did that b*stard go? Tell him to come here and face me!" Even when Old Madam Murray was seized, she didn't stop cursing.

Not only James' injury wasn't treated, he was also sentenced to death. Meanwhile, Larry had evaded tax and without any help from their connections to bail him out, he probably had to spend a few years in prison. The Murray Family was ruined. Completely ruined! And this was all Taylor's fault! He was the culprit!
