

Chapter 395

The man nodded quickly: "Okay."

Even if she doesn't say it, the man knows that she is tired, so he can go home if he wants to.

However, when they returned home, it was not the hot soup and hot water at home that Suzi expected. They arrived home at 2:30 in the afternoon. It should have been the time when Mrs. Li was cleaning at home.

But today, Sister Li is absent.

Only after calling and asking did I know that Li's wife was playing with the only little princess Shen in the amusement park at this moment.

After receiving a call from Arron, Li's sister-in-law was frightened: "Four Lord...I, I really don't know that you will be back at noon today. Look at you... you didn't tell me when you went out, that ... Assistant Yan said, you and your wife will definitely not come back for dinner at noon. Then you called me and called me to play with the little princess. Assistant Yan said that when the little princess wants to go to the bathroom, she must There is a woman with her."

"I see, you stay with the only one." Arron said briefly.

After he finished speaking, he called Christopher again. At the other end, Christopher was holding Lilly with his hand, and let her slide down the spiral slide from the sky. Seeing Arron's phone call, Christopher was immediately pleased and inviting credit. The tone was answered: "Four Lord, how is it? You should praise me today, right?"

Am I thoughtful or not attentive? I know you will definitely be out all day today, you and madam, not only for training, but also by the way..."

Before Christopher was finished, he was intercepted by Arron: "Find a cook as soon as possible, so that Li's wife will have a replacement shift."

"Yes, Fourth Master! I will definitely help you move, that Fourth Master...salary...how much do you plan to pay?" Christopher asked.

"The salary comes from you. Give it as much as you want." Arron said coldly.

Christopher: "..."

Arron's telephone line has been closed.

"You cook." Arron turned around and said to Suzi. Suzi: "What?"

"You cook!" the man said again.

Suzi: "... He asked her to cook?"

She can't do Li's craftsmanship. At most, she will be able to cook the noodles next. Because when she was a child, she often ate the noodles. When she grew up in the school dormitory, she could only use electric cups. Beat an egg, cut some mushroom froth and so on, just barely use it as a marinated noodle.

Later in the past few years in Quxian County, Sanford used to cook many times, and her cooking skills were barely edible.

But he, doesn't his mouth be tricky?

Suzi: "Do you eat the food I cook?"

The man glanced at her irritably: "Didn't you eat it six years ago? I don't eat the food my woman cooks for me. Whose meal should I eat?"

Suzi's face flushed with shame, she turned and ran into the kitchen.

There are all kinds of dishes in the refrigerator, but she doesn't know how to cook a lot. She doesn't know how to cook chicken soup, cumin lamb, and steamed hairy crabs.

But there is a bream in the bucket that she often ate when she was in Quxian.

She fished it out, slaughtered it with great effort, and then made a bream in retrospect of the taste and color of the fish she had eaten before. I fried potato shreds, fried broccoli, and made ham and egg soup.

Barely served three dishes and one soup.

"You made this fish?" Arron asked Suzi incredulously.

Suzi nodded: "Yeah." She felt that it was okay to look good.

The man picked up his chopsticks and took a bite, and was stunned.

Chapter 396

Suzi was a little worried: "What, what's wrong?"

The man did not answer Suzi, but gave her a meaningful look, and then brought all the fish to him, without giving Suzi a chopstick.

Suzi: "..."

Really admire him!

She only knew that he was cold, ruthless, cruel, domineering, and venomous.

She found out again today that he actually robbed a woman for something to eat!

She made this fish, how did she do it!

A plate of fish, just watched her eat it up, and in the end there was a bit of bone residue and juice.

Besides, is this fish so spicy?

She unexpectedly discovered that he had eaten a fish, and he was sweating, and he had eaten a bream. After two bowls of rice, the man said to her as if he was full and drunk: "I'll take a bath, and bring me home clothes later."

Suzi: "Um..."

She was the one who shouted that she was hungry. As a result, she hadn't eaten a few bites of food yet.

Watching him enter the bathroom, she greedily dipped her chopsticks with the only remaining fish juice in the saucer and put it in her mouth. She was stunned immediately.

Is this a fish?

This is simply a big salt particle.

If you don't say that it's salty, it's still so spicy.

No wonder he sweated after eating a fish, poured water and dried two bowls of rice. Together with her own fish, it should be as salty and salty, as spicy as it is.

And he ate it all by himself.

Suzi's heart suddenly warmed up.

After a hurried meal, Suzi packed up his dishes, went to his bedroom and picked up a jewel-blue men's housewear. When he came to the bathroom door, he realized that he was still taking a shower. Suzi raised his hand and wanted to knock on the door. She didn't have the embarrassment to knock, and when she heard the sound of water flowing inside, she simply waited outside.

"Come in!" the man said suddenly.

Suzi: "Huh?"

"How do I dress if you don't come in?" the man asked.

Suzi opened the door and went in. The water mist in the bathroom was so big that she couldn't see clearly, and she didn't dare to look at it. She accidentally ran into a solid body covered with water drops. When she raised her head, Suzi looked at it. The man was also looking at her.

Suzi suddenly lowered his head, his face burning and red.

She found that she blushed really easily. In the past six years, she had blushed no more than three times. Now it's better. She blushed four or five times a day today.

The man sneered: "Have you never seen it!"

Woman: "...The clothes are for you, I...I'm out."

"Don't treat me?" the man asked.

Suzi: "Thank you...teach me how to drive, thank you...help me eat that plate of fish..."

The man's voice became colder: "Can you show some sincerity?"

Suzi: "You...how do you want me to thank you?"

"Help me dress!" the man said.
