

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3827

At this time, Jian, who was about to leave for China, suddenly received a call.

The call was from his youngest granddaughter and his most beloved grandchild, Fei Kexin.

Fei Kexin is just 22 years old this year. He is more than 70 years old from Jian. He is the jewel of Jian's youngest son and daughter.

And Jian's eldest grandson is now over fifty.

Even his greatest great-grandson was even a few years older than Fei Kexin.

It is precisely because of Fei Kexin's young age and seniority that she can be said to have both sides in Fei's family.

In the eyes of Mr. Fei and his children and grandchildren, Fei Kexin is the youngest jewel in the palm of his grandchildren.

Not only grandpa loved her, but her uncles and aunts loved her, but her cousins also loved her.

In the eyes of the later generations of the Fei family, Fei Kexin is the youngest elder in the entire Fei family. Those younger generations must treat her respectfully even if they are older than her or the same age as her.

In Fei's family, Fei Kexin has always received the best elite education. When she was fifteen years old, she began to study at university. Under the guidance of her family, she began to use companies with a market value of over 100 million yuan as a hands-on practice. But his acting style is calm and old, which is by no means comparable to ordinary people of his age.

Fei Kexin was commissioned by Jian a few days ago to lead a team to Eastcliff, looking for clues to Huichun Pill.

However, because he had judged the wrong direction at the beginning, Fei Kexin ran east and west in Eastcliff for several days, but he never found anything.

After hearing that Ji Qingtang was going to auction Huichun Dan in public, she immediately contacted the Moore Group and even increased the offer from US$1 billion to US$5 billion, but the Moore Group did not relax.

So, she immediately called Grandpa and asked with concern: "Grandpa, are you leaving now?"

Jian couldn't hide his excitement and said, "I'm on my way to the airport, and I will be there soon, Ke Xin, how is your situation there?"

Fei Kexin replied: "I am on the way from Eastcliff to Aurous Hill, and the plane has half an hour to land."

As she said that, she sighed and said: "Grandpa, in my opinion, you still don't come to China for the time being."

"Why?" Jian frowned and asked, "Is there anything going on in Huaxia?"

Fei Kexin said truthfully: "I have already contacted the Moore Group and raised the quotation to 5 billion US dollars in communication. I hope they can pass this price to the consignor of Huichundan. If he wants, he can at any time. It was sold at this price, but the Moore Group refused."
