

Chapter 1334

Sebastian was speechless.

His face immediately turned incredibly cold.

The voice he heard was very unknown and very greasy.

It was different from Marcus's warmth, different from Zayn's kindness, and different from Nigel's casual and easygoing manner.

The voice was incredibly different from Holden's arrogant but gentle and melancholic voice.

Sebastian had never heard the voice on the phone before, and it was an incredibly foreign voice.

Hearing such disgusting words on the phone, Sebastian remained calm.

He did not speak, and looked at Sabrina who was wolfing her food down.

"What is it, dear? Who called? Why is your expression so stern? It can't be?" Sabrina ate her ribs as she smiled and walked toward Sebastian. After that, she naturally took the phone from Sebastian's hand.

"Hello? Who is it? Why are you calling me

"Hello? Who is it? Why are you calling me so late at night?" Sabrina grumbled.

"Sab, don't you know who I am?" From the phone, an incredibly greasy voice entered Sabrina's ear.

"Ugh..." Sabrina suddenly felt like dry heaving.

She spit out the meat in her mouth. Sabrina then asked seriously, "Who are you?! I don't know you!"

On the other end, that voice said pitifully, "Oh, I understand. It must be inconvenient for you. I'll hang up then."

The call ended.

Sabrina was speechless.

She looked over at Sebastian.

"Sebastian... That... I..." She did not even know how to explain the situation.

The little bundle sitting next to Sebastian looked at Sabrina suspiciously. "Mom! Are you hiding something from Dad? If you dare to go behind Dad's back and do naughty things outside..."

The little girl left her words hanging.

Sabrina laughed in her frustration. "What are you going to do?"

"Then I will beat up that man who stole my mother from my father, and I'll toss him into the lake to feed the fishes!"

Sabrina did not know what to say.

She noticed that, after less than a year with her father, Aino had shifted from being very attached to her mother to being very attached to her father.

However, Sabrina never did anything that she would feel guilty for.

If she really did hide things from Sebastian, and played around outside, she might just be beaten up by her own daughter.

Yes!

Sabrina muttered, slightly guilty, "I know."

After that, she walked back into the dining room to eat, as if nothing had happened.

However, her heart did not settle down.

He missed her.

He even called her Sab.

Who was that man?

It was a complete stranger.

She had definitely never heard that voice

It was a complete stranger.

She had definitely never heard that voice before.

Even though she was very hungry, the meal she ate felt tasteless.

After thinking about it in detail, someone was definitely trying to trap her.

That caused Sabrina to remember what happened when she was having lunch with Yvonne and Ruth. Yvonne suddenly received a call from her cousin, Kingston.

Furthermore, Kingston immediately told Yvonne, "Have Madam answer the phone."

Yvonne was taken aback.

However, she obediently handed the phone over to Sabrina.

Sabrina could not help but ask, "Who called? It's your phone, but it's for me?"
