Chapter 1730

Sabrina and Aino were stunned when they heard Zayn say that.

“Zayn?” Sabrina looked at Zayn in disbelief. Was this change not too drastic?

Aino looked at her uncle in surprise and happiness. She was stunned for a long time. After that, she smiled. “Uncle Zayn, is this...true?”

“Of course, it’s true! Now, Aunt Hana is my wife. My legally wedded wife,” Zayn said.

“Uncle Zayn, did you marry Aunt Hana... for my sake?” Aino asked. The transition for Aino to change the way she addressed Hana was very smooth. In fact, Aino had addressed Hana as Aunt Hana in her heart many times. She felt Hana would be her Uncle Zayn’s wife the moment she laid eyes on her.

Zayn nodded. “Mm-hmm! Yes! For Aino’s sake, I have married her! You little child, you’ve won!”

Hana also smiled. She was very considerate. “Aino, look how much your Aino chuckled. She was extremely happy.

Sabrina, on the other hand, was not as easy to fool as Aino. She still looked at Zayn with a puzzled expression. "Zayn, what's...going on? I..." She then looked at Hana. "Madam Sharpe, I'm sorry. I...I don't have any issues with you. On the contrary, I quite like you. However, marriage is a serious matter and both of you are not children anymore. This can't be a joke, especially when he is my brother..."

"I understand," said Zayn. He looked at his sister very gently. He understood all of his sister's concerns. "Sabrina, I am exhausted. My heart is exhausted. Perhaps I have already started having this kind of exhaustion seven years ago. Back then, I have been wasting my time away with Nigel every day, and I have also...toyed with quite a number of women. Later on, I met you one day, and I witnessed how you struggled in high society, yet you can still come out of it while remaining pure and untainted. I witnessed with my own eyes how you and with your help, and only then did my heart get a little better.

He continued. "When I looked back, I realized that I truly could not be in love with those girls who were like flowers. To me, Tessa is an incomparably noble flower. I could no longer get used to the behavior of keeping her for myself. Do you understand, Sabrina?"

Zayn looked at Sabrina with a happy expression. Sabrina had already understood him when he finished saying that. He was her brother, so of course, she understood him best.

"Zayn, have you finally found your happiness?"

"Yes, I have finally found someone I can lean on."

"Congratulations, my brother." Sabrina looked at Zayn with relief. After that, she looked at Hana and she took a step forward to hug Hana. "Hana, you're finally my sister-in-law."

Hana looked at Sabrina gently. "Thank you for all the care you have given to Zayn for so many years."

"Come in quickly." Sabrina took Hana by the hand. After she brought Hana to the living room, Sabrina went into her living room, Sabrina went into her bedroom. The pair of onyx earrings that Sabrina wanted to give Tessa was in her bedroom. Sabrina felt that it was more than appropriate to take it out and give it to Hana then. Sabrina personally helped Hana to put them on. The earrings immediately brought out a kind of generous and composed temperament in the forty-year-old woman. However, Hana took off the onyx earrings and handed them to Sabrina. "I...these earrings are too valuable, so I can't accept them. I...I still have a bit of savings. I had originally planned on giving that bit of savings to...my daughter, but now, I...will keep it for myself. I have enough to spend, so I don't need it."

Sabrina put the onyx earrings into the box and handed them to Hana. "This is the wedding gift from me to you and my brother. You must accept it. I know that you're an independent woman. You're great. Everything will be fine in the future. Please accept this gift of mine, Hana."

Only then did Hana take the gift from Sabrina. "Thank you, Missus Ford."

Sabrina. "Thank you, Missus Ford."

"Call me Sabrina. Just Sabrina would do," Sabrina said.

"Sabrina."

"That's right, Hana! When are you going to have your wedding?" asked Sabrina.

Hana suddenly blushed. Wedding? She was very much looking forward to it. In the forty years of her life, she had already given birth to a daughter and her daughter was already of age to be dating, but she had never had a wedding, never worn a wedding dress, and never had others giving her their blessings.

However, she was already a forty-year-old woman, so why was she being pretentious? What was the point of having a wedding? She had already given birth to a child before. She smiled calmly and said, "No, there's no need for a wedding, Sabrina. No need."

Sabrina smiled. "How could there be no wedding? Hana, I...have also never had a wedding. I had always wanted to have one as a replacement. However, everything happened one after another, and before I could take a breather, I was pregnant again. After I have given birth the second time, I want to have a grand Zayn shrugged. "Well..." He had not figured it out yet. There were still many people that he still had not informed, his parents included. This matter was something that needed to be properly discussed.

"Let me take care of this matter," said a voice behind them.

Sabrina turned around and saw that Sebastian had returned. He was not surprised at all that Zayn and Hana had suddenly gotten married. To be honest, he even felt that they were very compatible from the bottom of his heart, extremely compatible. So, what if the woman was slightly older? What if the woman had already had a child? It was fine as long as she has a good character.

Both of them had been through many hardships, so both their hearts being together could keep each other warm, support each other, and accompany each other until they got old. What was wrong

Support each other, and accompany each other until they got old. What was wrong with that? It was great! They deserved to receive the blessings of others!

Therefore, Sebastian decided to hold a grand wedding for them. Although both of them had been through a lot, having a wedding was a first for both Hana and Zayn. The wedding was set to be on a weekend half a month later.

At that time, Sabrina was already six and half months pregnant while Jane was more than eight months pregnant. It had a rather heartwarming feeling to see both the women with their big pregnant bellies were busy helping and directing at the wedding site. On the other hand, the two careless young ladies, Ruth and Yvonne, were in charge of dressing up Hana.

Hana had had it hard her whole life, so she usually did not even bear to buy slightly better makeup for herself. In the past few days, Yvonne and Ruth had been taking Hana to quite a few beauty spas.

On that morning in the early spring, the weather was still fluctuating between warm and cold, but it also had a warm warm and cold, but it also had a warm feeling in the air. Zayn and Hana's wedding was held in the most luxurious estate in South City. The wedding was very grand. There was a seemingly endless number of guests coming and going one after another. The bride walked out after the guests had repeatedly cheered for her.

Zayn, who had not seen the bride for three days, was stunned the moment he saw her.

Chapter 1732

The woman standing in front of Zayn was dignified and elegant and she was so beautiful that all eyes were on her. She had a mature charm, but she did not seem like a forty-year-old woman. To be more precise, the woman standing in front of Zayn had lost the shyness and coyness she had when was in her twenties, but she still had the vigor and calmness of a young person.

Hana had a kind of temperament that was faintly sad with a sense of determination. The designer had matched her temperament and designed a simple yet luxurious floor length dress. It had a long train and it was pure white. It truly had brought out the bride's sophisticated look and her ability to pull off that dress. The wedding dress itself generally had very few embellishments, which was what allowed the bride to give others a kind of minimalistic and very pure feeling. However, the uppermost part of the dress, which was right in front of the chest, was embellished with small white and blue diamonds. All of the diamonds were real and authentic. This ●monds were real and authentic. This wedding dress, which was one of a kind in the world, was a brainchild of Sabrina and her friend in the designing field after they had discussed it over together, and it was personally designed by her friend. Although Sabrina could not do many things personally because she was pregnant, Sebastian had been busy running around for this. This was also the reason why Sebastian had left various affairs in the company to his subordinates recently.

Sabrina and Zayn were not biologically related, but Sebastian knew that if it were not for Zayn, Aino and Sabrina may have lost their lives in those years when they were living in exile. Zayn was the life saver to Sabrina and Aino, and was their spiritual support in this life. Although Sebastian did not say it out loud, he treated Zayn as if he was his own brother, just like how he treated Alex. The entire wedding was arranged by Sebastian. Even Sebastian himself had not had the chance to have an outdoor wedding like this at such a vast garden, let alone someone else. How great was this honor for Zayn and Hana?

He suddenly felt inferior.

"Hana, you're so young. You look younger than me. You're so beautiful and elegant. I'm not worthy to be with you. I can't give you children." The wedding had not started, so it was not too late if Hana wanted to back out.

"I don't want children." Hana held Zayn's arm with deep affection. "It's enough for me to have you in this life. Look at me, I once had a child, but that child was the person who hurt me the most in this world. If you had not appeared in my life, I could have already died. After I was slapped by my own child, I lost the courage to live in this world. We can also get back in the future without children. If you want children, I will adopt them with you. If you don't want children, then I will travel the world with you. Is that alright, hubby?"

Zayn raised his hand and held Hana's head, and then he kissed her deeply on her forehead. At that moment, the wedding still had not officially begun. Zayn missed Hana as he had not seen her for the past three days, so he sneaked over to take a glimpse of her. It so happened that a few people from far away

Both Sabrina and Jane were supporting their bulging pregnant bellies and was being emotional about how spectacularly beautiful the scene was for the wedding site. They turned around and saw from a distance that Zayn was hugging Hana and kissing her. Jane could not help but smile and said to Sabrina with great envy, "Sabrina, look at how happy your brother and his wife are. We have gone through so many things in the past eight years, but we still can't have such a wedding."

"That's true. My brother was unfortunate. He first broke his legs and then found out that he was infertile later on. However, he was also very fortunate. He found the woman he loves the most. They love each other very much. They took pity on each other, leaned on each other, and also helped treat each other's wounds. How great. Seeing my brother and sister-in-law's wedding, I'll just take it that I am also getting married at this wedding."

"I thought so too. Haha. Just thinking of it as our wedding just makes me happy when I'm watching it as well," said Jane

"I thought so too. Haha. Just thinking of it as our wedding just makes me happy when I'm watching it as well," said Jane.

The two pregnant ladies just stood out at the wedding site. Many guests who were present did not know about Zayn's condition. They did not know that he was infertile, so they were discussing. "Look, what a good omen. Two pregnant ladies, who are going to due soon, are present at this wedding. I feel this is a sign that the bride and the groom will soon have a child."

"That's for sure! Master Zayn is only thirty-two years old this year. He is in prime, so of course, he is going to have a child immediately after getting married."

"We'll have to ask Master Zayn for more blessings later since it's such a joyous event!"

"That's for sure."

"The bride is truly beautiful."

"Who is she? I don't think I've seen her before."

"South City is so big. You can't have known everyone!"

known everyone!"

"I just feel that Master Zayn has changed a lot. He is more low profile and composed now, and was truly different from he was in his twenties."

"Didn't you see who his sister is? The people who had gotten close to his sister, even Nigel, had all become very composed and had a sense of responsibility now."

At that moment, Nigel and Minerva saw Zayn kissing his bride. Nigel, who had gotten used to being calm and composed, could not help but hold Minerva's hand and led her towards Zayn. Minerva was very confused. "Nigel, what are you... doing? They are...enjoying their time alone."

Nigel snickered mischievously. "When everyone's gathering around to have fun at this wedding today, the two of them were enjoying their time alone! Hmph!"

Nigel continued to lead Minerva in Zayn's direction. When they were nearing Zayn, only then did they see Zayn wiping Hana's tears away for her. "Don't be upset, Hana. Let's not think about Tessa i ●set, Hana. Let's not think about Tessa in the future anymore."

"I won't think about her anymore. She is no longer my daughter. She is a grown up now and can take care of herself. I will not worry about her anymore," Hana said.

Nigel had also heard about Hana's matter. At that moment, he said very coldly, "Don't be upset, Hana. Zayn and I had been friends since we were children. In the future, my children will be your children. I will let them call you mom and dad and have them take care of both of you when they're older."

Hana was startled at first. When she saw Nigel, she blushed and then said with a smile, "Thank you, Master Nigel."

"I am no longer Master Nigel since a long time ago. You can call me Nigel. In the past, I...was not a human. I am only slowly behaving more like a human now. In the future, I will need you to spur me on more."

Hana suddenly laughed. She looked at Zayn. "All of your friends are good people."

Zayn. "All of your friends are good people."

"That's for sure!" Zayn gently wrapped his arm around Hana and he sighed. After all, Hana's suffering had finally ended, so all the people she was facing were so friendly to her. Seven years ago, these people did not treat Sabrina like this. He did not want to think about it anymore. Everything was already in the past.

The wedding began on time. Countless guests came forward to give the couple their blessings. The wedding could be described as unprecedentedly grand. When Zayn and Hana were exchanging their rings under the watchful eyes of everyone present, a person quietly came to the entrance.
