Chapter 41: She Was ‘Yin Xiachun’ .

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Yin Dongyu was to be played by Gu Xingze. Lin Fengtian chose the man not only because of his mounting popularity but also because of his somber aura, which was absolutely similar with Yin Dongyu's.

However, this character, Yin Xiachun, was the most difficult to create.

Yin Xiachun was a kind and innocent girl. She was green and youthful and cute and lively.

From a young age, she was well-protected by Yin Dongyu, so she still retained her otherworldly innocence. This disposition was really hard to depict. Even a masterful actress with a lot of experience might be unable to bring about this character's particular trait.

Lin Fengtian was quite depressed. The people on the name list, no matter how outstanding their appearances were, were not the ‘Yin Xiachun’ in his heart.

Just when Lin Fengtian was feeling troubled, his assistant, who was plastered on the car window, suddenly exclaimed, “Director Lin, quickly take a look over there! That girl wearing a snowy-white dress, she looks so much like Yin Xiachun!”

He looked in the direction that his assistant had pointed to. His eyes could not help but quake, followed by his body, and then he excitedly leaned forward.

Under the rays of the morning sun, in the warm wind, a small and charming figure stood quietly by the building entrance. This young lady was so beautiful she seemed to have walked out of a mural. She attracted the attention of those in the van in just a short while.

“Wow...” The assistant was so shocked he reflexively held his breath. He had never seen such a youthful girl before.

The girl looked young, even having a somewhat green feeling.

She wore a long, clean dress with her fair and delicate arms and shoulders visible. She appeared to be pure and enchanting.

She wore such a simple dress yet unexpectedly appeared extremely coquettish. She was so beautiful she seemed ethereal, and people were unknowingly moved by her.

She did not have a sexy figure like other women; in fact, she had a frail frame that was not voluptuous. She was so delicate it seemed water could flow out of her with a pinch.

However, despite this, she was still able to capture the attention of many.

For some reason, although she was wearing a dress, which could not be any more normal, within the bustling crowd at the entrance, she still managed to stand out among better-dressed women.

Lin Fengtian's keen eyes squinted. In this ordinary world, there was still such a beauty? His heart trembled with excitement, and he hurriedly grabbed his binoculars by the side.

The girl stood at the entrance, holding a small handbag in her hand. Her hair, like brocade, softly landed on her shoulders. She emitted a breathtaking radiance under the lights. Beneath her bangs was an absolutely gorgeous face.

She had smooth jade-like skin, an alluring almond-shaped face, and supple red cheeks.

Her peach eyes, which slanted upward at ends, were cast down; they were absolutely charming.

She had a row of thick, long, curly eyelashes that were stretched like a comb with densely packed pins, as if they were top-quality black feather. They seemed to flutter like butterfly wings – they were extremely alluring. Her soft, pinkish lips were like fresh petals, dazzling and cute.

Yun Shishi was pondering on something with her head down and brows slightly knitted. Suddenly, she had this strange feeling that someone was staring at her.

Returning to her senses, she seemed to feel that the eyes looking at her from head to toe were in that distant nanny van as she slowly turned to look in that direction. In that moment, Lin Fengtian's eyes involuntarily darkened, and he was breathless for a split second!

The lady's pair of eyes, with shades of black and white distinct, was moist like the water in a well, showing the reflection of a lone moon; this bottomless well seemed to reflect off the beautiful moonlight, quiet and shimmering, on its surface.

The moment their eyes met, the girl suddenly became flustered. Agitated, she tightly clenched her handbag as she bit her lower lip and started pacing about.

Chapter 42: Refused Entry

The moment their eyes met, the girl suddenly became flustered. Agitated, she tightly clenched her handbag as she bit her lower lip and started pacing about.

However, it was precisely this natural expression of hers which made one think that she was quite cute.

Yin Xiachun!

Lin Fengtian was suddenly overwhelmed with admiration!

This girl was simply Yin Xiachun in the flesh!

Thrilled, Lin Fengtian reached his hand out to grab the name list he had thrown aside and asked excitedly, “Is this girl from the university? Did she apply? Go search for her name! Immediately inform her to come to the audition!”

“Huh?” Lin Fengtian lifted his head and saw his assistant’s confused look.

“We can just get off the car and personally invite that girl to audition; it will be less work that way,” he suggested, feeling helpless. This director, was he way too excited?

Lin Fengtian tapped his head and said, “Oh, yes! Why didn’t I think of that? It will truly be less work that way!”

He immediately got off the car, but when he looked in the girl’s direction, she was already gone.

She disappeared? Wasn’t she standing there moments ago?

Lin Fengtian knitted his brows tightly, and he searched for her in the crowd, but there was no trace of her.

She was gone just like that....

The interview for an artiste assistant was very simple. Filling out a form and handing in a few identity documents, she then officially got the job.

The manager informed her that she could report for work the next day. The paycheck and benefits were rather generous. Although it was a strenuous job, and she would undoubtedly be subjected to persecutions, Yun Shishi was already jumping for joy.

Just as she was about to leave, the manager fixed her with a strange look and asked, “You have an outstanding appearance, so why did you apply to be an artiste assistant? What a pity...”

If this girl were to be refined a little more, she would definitely make a name for herself in the entertainment industry.

Yun Shishi smiled but did not comment.

Before she left, she was given a data sheet. The artiste she was responsible for was a not-to-be-taken-lightly newbie called Han Jingyi.

It was stated that the artiste should not be taken lightly because she had a powerful backer, which let her rise up in status.

It was also rumored that she had clinched quite a substantial role for herself.

Under Li Qin's expectant gaze, Yun Na entered the house with a downcast face. Seeing this, she quickly got up to ask her daughter about the audition, but when she noticed her low spirits, her heart could not help but go cold.

"What happened?" At her daughter's despondent look, she hurriedly probed, "Did you fail the audition? Did the director not choose you?!"

Yun Na felt indignant. "Hmph... With my aptitude, how can I not pass the audition? Even if I am not chosen as the female lead for this movie, other directors will surely take a fancy to me!"

"Then, what's up with the long face?"

Li Qin noticed her mumbling and felt even more agitated. After her repeated probing, Yun Na eventually revealed the truth.

She originally went to the audition with confidence. Clothes, makeup – everything was in proper place. For this audition, she even reread the original novel for a few days and memorized the script thoroughly.

She had even chosen the most tear-jerking scene in the script. Practicing it repeatedly in front of the mirror, she thought that she had the character down pat. However, when she went to the audition brimming with confidence, she was immediately informed at the entrance that she could not participate in the selection without a letter of interview.

However, in the promotional short for the female lead role of ‘The Green Apple’, it was repeatedly mentioned that the audition was opened nationwide. Regardless of identity, as long as one was of age and a legal citizen, anyone could participate in the audition. Why was she refused for the reason of ‘no letter of interview’, then?

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter | so we can fix it as soon as possible.

Why was she prevented from auditioning just because she did not have an interview letter?

The head of the crew told her that this was a last-minute decision made by the director upon seeing the many people who had come to the venue either to audition for the role or to show their support for the superstar Gu Xingze.

Thus, Yun Na, who was already blocked at the door, could only watch those with audition letters enter the site. She was brimming with confidence when she came and would concede defeat if she were rejected during the audition. However, failing without even being given a chance to prove herself, she refused to accept such an outcome!

She was expectedly vexed at this turn of events.

Baffled, Li Qin asked her daughter, “What is this audition letter? Can we get our hands on it? How do we acquire one?”

Yun Na sighed. “I’ve asked around. We need to pull strings.” She paused briefly before continuing, “Although this is an open audition, there are still some hurdles that need to be overcome. The audition letters are invitations either distributed by the production crew or given by influential people in the show business.”

Many entertainment companies had naturally heard of this rare opportunity and went all out to give their second-rated models a chance to audition for the role in hopes of one of them becoming the next successful Gu Jingyi. The benchmarks were high this time.

“Is there really no chance for you to acquire this letter?!”

This was too much of a shock for Li Qin. She had put so much effort and placed a lot of expectation on her daughter, hoping for her to become famous one day. Now, this dream was no more!

A thought suddenly struck Yun Na and her eyes brightened. She thought of someone. “Don’t worry; I have an idea!”

...

Night fell.

Yun Shishi was helping Youyou with his school’s contact book when her hand phone rang.

She picked up the call absentmindedly. The background noises she heard from the other end seemed to suggest that the call was made from a nightclub or a pub.

“Hello? Hello?”

She raised an eyebrow in confusion. There was no answer from the phone. She was about to hang up when a coarse male voice asked, “Are you Yun Na’s sister?”

“Erm... yes.”

The man said, “She is too drunk, and I can’t wake her up! Can you come over and pick her up?”

Yun Na again! Why is she always getting into trouble?!

She really wanted to refuse as she had no desire to clean up her adoptive sister’s mess anymore!

Her adoptive sister did what she liked to her and Youyou on other days, and then she indirectly caused her to lose her job. What more did she want from her? She was drunk, but what did it have to do with her?!

This was when the weather-beaten face of her father flashed through her mind. Yun Shishi could not help but clench her fists and stood motionless for quite some time.

The man on the phone did not hear a reply from her and repeated “Hello” a few times. Yun Shishi gave a long-suffering sigh and asked, “Where?”

“Jia Bai Li!”

Jia Bai Li was a well-known nightclub in the capital; it was famous for its extravagance and expensiveness. Most of its patrons were expectedly rich and influential, but it also had no shortage of local ruffians who would come there to have fun. Simply put, Jia Bai Li was notorious for being chaotic.

Drug abuse, gambling, and shady trading – once it was nighttime, it became a den for illegal businesses and deals.

There was always news of shootouts with heavy casualties involving that place, yet despite it being chaotic and having no social security, Jia Bai

Li, unlike other similar nightclubs, still managed to remain in business due to it having a very strong and influential backer. Even the police did not dare touch it arbitrarily.

As soon as Yun Shishi stepped into this foul place, she choked on the pungent smoke within.

Chapter 44: Foul

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

As soon as Yun Shishi stepped into this foul place, she choked on the pungent smoke within.

As she walked by, she saw men and women having adventures with their bodies. The air was filled with an overwhelming foul smell. The private rooms have groups of people giving in to sensual pleasures.

Under a waiter's lead, she walked into the private room the man on the phone had mentioned to her. She had just stepped foot inside the room and her nose was immediately assailed by a fishy odor mixed with alcohol and smoke. The room was filled entirely with fumes. The sound systems were on full blast. A few hooligans with the trendiest hairstyles were stripped to their waists, drowning themselves in alcohol.

Sweeping her eyes across the room, she immediately caught sight of the tipsy Yun Na lying on one side of the sofa. She was out cold.

Some of the hooligans sensed her arrival and consecutively lifted their heads, whistling lewdly, "Whoa, she really came!"

“Hmm? This chick is quite pretty! Has got a nice body to boot! She looks better than those b*tches, anyway!”

She heard someone chime in, “True! You don’t see that many gals this innocent-looking these days! I wonder how she’s like in bed! I bet she’s splendid!”

Those foul words that were unpleasant to the ear.

Yun Shishi listened to their roguish words and felt her heart slightly tremble. She heard a bang and realized that the waiter behind her had courteously shut the door. She stood there a little awkwardly, unable to move a step.

Honestly speaking, after her previous encounter with those thugs at her last job, she developed a fear of them. Thus, right now, she really wanted to leave, and she moved to do just that.

A man with a sleeve tattoo of a green dragon stood up and stared at her from across the table. He strode toward her and gripped her wrist at once. He said with a wry smile, “Leaving when you’ve just arrived? What about your lil’ sis?”

She hesitantly shifted her gaze between the door and Yun Na and mustered the courage to say, “I’ll – I’ll take her back. We’re leaving....”

“Leaving just like this?” The man smirked and creased his brows. “Don’t go yet! You’ll ruin the fun! Come have a drink with us first!”

The man latched onto her shoulders. He pointed to a few men on the sofa and said, “Come on. Let me introduce you! This is the boss of the street where this bar is at, Li Dongqiang! Beside him is Leopard. That one is Tiger....”

Yun Shishi was unable to remain standing still. She broke free from the man's restraining hold and said, "I'm not here to drink! I'm here to... take Yun Na home!"

Hearing this, the man scoffed, "Not drinking? Okay, then! Do something else with me!"

His greedy eyes glanced at her chest, and then he reached out his hand for her face!

She instinctively ducked his groping hand, shocked by his actions. She knitted her brows and demanded coldly, "What are you trying to do?!"

"What I'm trying to do? I'm trying to do you, of course!" The man tilted his head and replied in a somewhat joking manner.

Behind him, a man, with a knife scar on his face, yelled, "This person... What's her name... Yun Shishi, right?! Don't just stand there like an idiot; come sit over here! Let the waiter pop more bottles of whiskey for you!"

She vehemently shook her head and then hesitantly glanced at Yun Na. "I'm not drinking! I'm... leaving!"

After spouting these words, she turned to leave. The man with good reflexes grabbed her wrist and forcefully dragged her back.

She cried out in fear and started to fiercely struggle, but how could she overpower the man gripping her wrist with her meager strength?

He lewdly eyed her from head to toe and said with disappointment, "Hey, hey, don't be like that, okay? This sister of yours is still young and green, so as her older sister, shouldn't you teach her the rules of this world?"

She knitted her brows. “What do you mean?”

“What do I mean?” The man chuckled. Someone behind him sneered.
“Your sister, who doesn’t know the rules, came to us for some powder without money and stuck with us every day. She owes us 200,000 yuan – no more, no less!”

“What do I mean?” The man chuckled. Someone behind him sneered.
“Your sister, who doesn’t know the rules, came to us for some powder without money and stuck with us every day. She owes us 200,000 yuan – no more, no less!”

200,000 yuan!

Yun Shishi was stunned. She felt her mind buzz as her eyes widened in disbelief.

She thought that Yun Na was just on her rebellious phase and often went outside to only have fun, so she never put much thought into her actions. She assumed that she was simply hanging out with some gangsters and would get herself in the right mind sooner or later.

Never did she expect that she would be wild enough to dare play with drugs! She even owed these people 200,000 yuan!

The sum of 200,000 yuan... Selling off their father's condominium might not even be enough to pay it off!

She stood rooted to the spot, her body as stiff as a stone. The man blabbered on beside her, "Has no money and still dares to play with drugs. What a turnoff! You tell me; how am I supposed to get this money back? Don't tell me we have to go knock on your door to collect it?"

The man called Li Dongqiang, who was high from holding a sexy woman in his arm, removed the cigarette between his lips and stubbed it out with a grin. "Since the younger sis can't pay us back, surely the older sis can pay it for her?"

Her eyes darkened. "I... I don't have that much money."

Let alone 200,000 yuan, she would be unable to pay them even if the amount was 20,000 yuan or 2,000 yuan!

The man stared at her with disappointment. "No money? Qiang, this chick said she's got no money!"

"The sum of 200,000 yuan is not small."

Hearing this, Li Dongqiang gave a salacious smile. "No money? Pay with something else, then!"

The man immediately understood the other's intention. Lowering his head, he lewdly eyed her and he was very satisfied with what he saw.

"With your fine looks, accompanying Qiang for a few days should be enough to pay off your sister's debt! You should feel honored, little missy! Those women outside can't even pique our interest like you do!"

“No!” she firmly refused.

The man was so furious that he laughed. He lightly tapped her cheek and pointed to Li Dongqiang. “You should know your place and learn how to appreciate the pleasurable things in life. Know who this is? He’s the boss of the street where this nightclub is at in the capital, yet you dared to refuse his offer? Are you courting death?!”

He forcefully overwhelmed her and pinned her on to the sofa. Li Dongqiang immediately pulled her over. With one hand, he poured out a glass of whiskey. He proceeded to stain his fingers with white powder and smear the rim of the glass with it before passing it over to her.

Drops of alcohol splattered all over the table.

“Drink this!”

She gazed at the glass of alcohol and almost hyperventilated.

“I... I don’t know how to drink!”

Forget whiskey; she did not even dare to drink beer. Her body had a special constitution: one gulp of any alcoholic beverage would knock her out. If she took so much as a sip of this liquor, she would surely be unable to get out of this room at all.

Li Dongqiang clucked his tongue, his bushy brows furrowing deeply.

“Why? Not willing to give me face?”

“I really can’t drink!” At a loss, she tightly clasped her hands together.

“Follow my order while I’m still being nice to you!”

Li Dongqiang noticed that being nice did not work on her, so he signaled the man beside him with a gaze. Understanding his intention, the lackey moved over and gripped her chin. He then pried her lips apart and poured the alcohol in the glass into her mouth.

Accompanied by the rich smell of alcohol, mouthfuls of whiskey quickly flowed down her throat. This caught her by surprise and she suffocated and choked on the alcohol. The liquor burned as it traveled down her throat, causing her face to turn beet red and her eyes to tear up.

Unknown where she got the strength, she managed to push the man away. The glass shattered into pieces on the floor.

She desperately held her throat with her hips bent over and had a violent coughing fit that caused her to vomit several times. As if a fire was raging from within, she felt a strong burning sensation in her stomach.

Chapter 46: An Ominous Premonition

Unknown where she got the strength, she managed to push the man away. The glass shattered into pieces on the floor.

She desperately held her throat with her hips bent over and had a violent coughing fit that caused her to vomit several times. As if a fire was raging from within, she felt a strong burning sensation in her stomach.

Pure whiskey – it had an absolutely strong kick and a considerable delayed effect.

She only drank half a glass, yet her vision was already swimming. Her head was spinning and her entire world was upside down.

Her head was spinning... so badly that she could barely get her bearings as her consciousness gradually slipped away!

She tried to stand, yet she swayed on her feet. Her entire body turned jelly as her limbs went limp and horribly numb.

She got up but quickly fell on the sofa.

Right after, a boiling sensation surged from her tummy, as if the fire within her body was raging fiercer. Drenched in feverish sweat, she desperately held the edge of the table.

It was no wonder that she got drunk so fast. For the liquor's kick to be this strong, another substance was probably mixed into it.

Li Dongqiang lewdly grinned, revealing his yellowish teeth. "This Love Hunting Powder is truly potent!"

"He he! It's a given! Since I'm the one who got it, why would it not be good?"

The man smiled sinisterly. He then looked over to Yun Shishi, whose face was contorted in pain, and his heart itched badly. "Qiang, when you are done with this chick, can you let us play with her for a few days, too? Tsk, tsk! This woman has a face that can cause a disaster! He he!"

"You're into her?" A grin left Li Dongqiang's lips. "Alright! When I'm done with her, she is all yours!"

The few of them nodded and bowed as they laughed politely. “Thank you, Qiang!”

“Qiang, I’ve already booked a room for you! He he! Presidential suite!”

Lying on the sofa, Yun Na opened her eyes and sat up. Where on her face were signs of intoxication? Her vision was obviously crystal clear.

She took a glance at Yun Shishi, who had lost her consciousness, and her lips curved into a sneer.

“Qiang, are you satisfied with this? How is she? I didn’t lie to you, did I?! Look; she’s worth what I owe you, right?”

Yun Na went over to sit beside him and said coyly, “This sister of mine is downright innocent! Compared to those sly foxes at the counter, her body is totally pure as well! If you throw her into the black market, she can be sold for at least a few hundred thousand yuan per night! Qiang, you’ll earn lots of money!”

“Indeed, she’ll definitely price high. Okay, we are even! You don’t owe me anything now.”

Let alone a few hundred thousand yuan, she is even worth a few million yuan! Li Dongqiang roared inside him as he hugged Yun Shishi. He was clearly very satisfied with her.

“Alright! Pleasure to be doing business with you, Qiang!” Yun Na said. Thinking of something, she lowered her voice. “Qiang, don’t tell anyone about me! Don’t let her find out that I am the one behind this, or my dad will kill me!”

“I get it!” he answered impatiently.

She giggled. “Take it slow! She’s yours for the entire night, so take your time! You see; the audition for the female lead....”

“Don’t worry; I’ll keep my promise! Alright, get out! Don’t disturb my good time!”

Li Dongqiang was fully focused on Yun Shishi’s body now, so why would he bother to give Yun Na his attention? He did not give it much thought and just nodded his head. Some of his men already had the door open for him. He embraced parts of Yun Shishi’s body in his arms and left the room.

All of a sudden, the wind raged outside.

The windows and doors were clattering from the gale.

Youyou woke up from his nightmare. He sat up in his bed at once and looked to his side. His mommy was gone.

“Mommy?”

An ominous premonition rose from his chest.

Chapter 47: The Fragrance of a Charming Lady

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Six-star Crowne Hotel.

Within the presidential suite, what one could see were luxurious fixtures – stylish, elegant, and extravagant to the core.

At a VIP table in the banquet hall, Mu Yazhe expressionlessly looked at the ugly faces of hypocrisy around him as irritability bubbled within him.

Unknowingly, the bottle of wine was half-emptied, and the sky outside the window had turned dark.

He was more annoyed with those around him than tired. He downed the rest of the vodka in his glass and stood up.

When the others saw this, they exchanged glances and stood up as well.

He was the star of tonight's celebration. Mu Yazhe leaving meant that this banquet was over.

As the director and CEO of Disheng Financial Group, he had a lofty status and held the highest authority in the Mu Group.

In the midst of the current global economic crisis and facing the onslaught of this financial turmoil, the lifeline of their small companies was in the Mu Group's hands.

The life and death of their petty enterprises depended on his words.

Therefore, they were full of praises for the future master of Mu Group and served him with care.

One person whispered tentatively, "Master Mu, are you leaving?"

The man then respectfully handed over his coat. Mu Yazhe gave him a glance and swiftly put the coat on. Someone else carefully pushed open the banquet door for him.

He sauntered out of the banquet hall with confident strides. Behind him, a row of men in suits bowed; the scene was akin to a glamorous star being worshipped by fanatics.

Mu Yazhe strode in as the doors to the VIP elevator parted open. He nonchalantly glanced at a spot as the doors were closing, and his eyes constricted with shock.

Li Dongqiang, who was holding an unconscious Yun Shishi in his arms, smugly got off the elevator and subsequently felt a chill run up and down his spine.

He looked around and saw the closing doors of the VIP elevator. At that moment, from the crack of the elevator doors, he vaguely caught a pair of piercing eyes.

He neither took it to heart nor gave it much thought. He heaved and held Yun Shishi in one arm. Using his now free hand, he opened the presidential suite with the door card and walked inside.

Behind him, the doors to the VIP elevator gradually parted open again....

Li Dongqiang swiftly swiped the card and kicked the door open.

As soon as he entered the door without locking it, he hurriedly fumbled off his belt and pulled down his pants.

He lightly tapped Yun Shishi's cheek and leered impatiently. He shut the door with a back kick as his mind got filled with lascivious thoughts of being on top of the world on the big bed later.

Yun Na, that chick, was not lying.

When he heard that she had a stunning older sister before, he would often dismiss it with a scoff.

Women were all the same to him – tools he could use to satisfy his urges.

Looking at her now, she was more outstanding than the description.

She was different from the average women and possessed a unique charm.

He had seen women more beautiful than her, yet her pure and elegant aura outclassed them all.

He threw her on the soft, king-size bed, her wondrous curves slowly sinking into it.

Under the dim wall lamp, on the pristine bed, in black sling dress, her fair and tender skin glowed with more beauty.

Her messy hair seductively spread around her shoulders as her cleavage became slightly visible. The beauty that loomed before his eyes was so tantalizing and captivating!

He became more aroused the longer he looked.

Chapter 48: The Potency of the Love Hunting Powder

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Yun Shishi slightly regained consciousness. She felt her guts overturn as her body curled up with great discomfort. Her small hands fumbled to strip off her clothes.

She wanted to remove all the things covering her body because of that strange heat within her.

Her inhibition and rationality were not functioning properly. She did not know or care where she was and only felt herself drowning in deep furnace. Her lower abdomen was on fire, but her body was inexplicably cool.

One side was icy cold, and another side was menacingly hot. It was like being overlapped in two different worlds of fire and ice!

The agony could make anyone go berserk!

Li Dongqiang watched all this with contemptuous pleasure.

Love Hunting Powder was the most terrifying date rape drug available on the black market. One could not get this good thing without special connections.

With just a sip, not even a chaste woman with a strong will could resist its potency.

The plight of not having a man was hell!

This was even more so for this unworldly lady!

She wriggled on the bed in great torment.

Unknowingly, the action made her appear more alluring.

Li Dongqiang rushed to remove his clothes. With his pants still hanging on his legs, he crawled into the bed with excitement. He could not wait to jump her. “Little beauty, don’t move. I’ll help you! I’ll make you comfortable in a little while. Hey!”

At this moment, the doorbell rang.

He momentarily halted his actions as his expression contorted with unwillingness to do so.

He was suitably aroused now. Nothing could be more frustrating for someone in this state than being disturbed mid-action. Hell-bent on completing the deed, he ignored the folks outside the door.

However, just as he unbuttoned the first clasp of her dress, the doorbell rang again and again and again with mounting impatience.

In the capital, he considered himself as number one in the circle!

Who the hell was trying to spoil his fun right now? What a damn wet blanket!

His eyes flashed with rage. He flipped his head to the side and gave himself a hard spat. After speedily putting on his pants without a top, he went to open the door.

He was swearing when he opened the door. He lifted his head and saw two beefy men in black suits towering over the door, almost occluding the light from the hallway.

His livid face sank as his eyes flashed with a hint of terror!

He might be a seasoned gangster and had seen a lot of this world, yet the two's oppressive aura still managed to intimidate him!

The two emanated a terrifying aura with their murderous eyes and looked like ruthless bloodthirsty killers!

He gulped and carefully sized them up. "You... You... You... What do you guys want? You've got the wrong guy!"

Without a word, the two men reached out their hands and lifted him out of the door. Each one had a hand around his neck and hefted him up like a prisoner.

He was startled and started to curse.

"What are you lot doing?! What do you want with me?! You're ruining my good time!"

"I'm from the East Side! Do you know what that means? You'd better let me go!"

"I bought that woman for 200,000 yuan! Let me go! Let go!"

The bellow slowly faded away.

Chapter 49: It is just like that time we first met.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The bellow slowly faded away.

Yun Shishi heaved herself into a sitting position with great effort. She lifted her heavy head and swept her blurry eyes around. She felt as if the whole world were tumbling down.

She seemed to have lost full control of her body as it became pliant with heat. Seeing no one around her, she could not care less where she was.

This torture had taken away her last strand of rationality. She reached out with quivering hands and painstakingly tore her dress.

This was when a tall figure stepped through the door. The man had a compelling demeanor, and the instant he appeared in the suite, the whole world seemed to condense.

The door closed with a bang , and the room was once more engulfed in darkness.

Inside the spacious suite, her hurried and strangled gasps echoed about.

The labored breathing, accompanied by soft moans, continued to pass through her pale red lips. Everything was full of coyness.

Everything was so unbearable. Her body seemed to have a huge piece missing, and nothing was able to fill that void.

Her arms flailed in the air, as if she were trying to catch hold of something to stuff in her, yet she herself could not tell what her body needed!

It was so hollow and so empty. She felt so hollow and empty inside that she seemed to have fallen into the abyss!

She reached out and held her body tightly, hoping that she could restrain this consuming lust with each strong grasp. However, with every touch, her body merely tickled with thrill and uncontrollable excitement!

Mu Yazhe threaded through the darkness and slowly made his way to her. When he reached the side of the king-size bed, he stood there with bowed head.

Under the retro-light fixture, the white quilt entangled at her waist.

Yun Shishi was unkempt and disheveled at this point. The black shoulder straps of her dress had slid down her delicate shoulders. Her face was strangely blushing, her eyes were constantly blinking, and her hands were weakly tugging at the dress. She appeared to be in great pain.

He motionlessly eyed her until the black of his eyes deepened. He had never imagined that their next meeting would be under such circumstance.

That man before said that he had bought her for 200,000 yuan.

Was the remuneration he had given her six years ago not enough that she would sell her body like this? Or was she this kind of woman to begin with?

She hungered for money and power that she would willingly exchange her body for both!

Was he her first customer? How many men had touched her body since then?

He pursed his lips in distaste. His clear eyes hid a trace of bitterness. With a touch of disgust, he moved to walk away.

Behind him, she somehow found the strength to sit up in the bed. Stretching out her arms desperately, she managed to circle his waist tightly from the back. She would not let go!

“Don’t go... I’m dying... Save me....”

The man stiffened. His back was affixed with her soft and warm body. She greedily placed her small face on his back and lustfully groped around his waist as she whimpered, “Don’t go... Save me; save me, alright... Save me....”

He could no longer step away.

He slowly turned around. She took this opportunity to throw herself into his arms. She encircled his shoulders with her arms and plastered her feeble and delicate body on his.

It was as if, by doing this, the fire within her would be assuaged.

Only then did he realize how scalding hot her delicate body was.

Mu Yazhe was startled and lifted his eyes in surprise. He reached out, grabbed her chin, and pulled her face closer.

Mu Yazhe was startled and lifted his eyes in surprise. He reached out, grabbed her chin, and pulled her face closer.

He lowered his head to scrutinize her and saw that her eyes were a bottomless pit of strain and confusion. He could tell that something was off with her.

While he was lost in his thoughts, Yun Shishi tightly held his shoulders and pushed her crimson face onto his, eagerly reaching for his lips.

He narrowed his eyes and tried to duck, but she smothered his neck and refused to let him do so. Without hesitation, she broke into his lips.

Her kisses were unrestrained, yet they lacked skills. They were callow, clumsy, and slightly desperate.

Compelled by the menacing desire within her, she ravaged his cold, thin lips like a demon.

Her teeth gnawed at his moist lower lip. The tip of her tongue licked his lips indiscriminately. The scorching whiff from her nostrils took his breath away.

Despite her unskillful kisses, his body was unbearably aroused.

She kissed with wild abandon. Her heavy kisses eventually made their way down his larynx, the tip of her tongue leaving a wet trail and her teeth giving a small bite.

He shuddered uncontrollably and glared heatedly.

However, her barren body unknowingly craved for more. The series of movements caused the dress straps to completely slip off her shoulders. The dress slid and fell to her waist as she moved her body even closer to his.

Her exposed flawlessly delicate shoulders were breathtaking and flooded his body with heat.

He looked down at the coltish woman in his arms. She seemed to be unaware of what she was currently doing!

He deemed himself as a man with absolute self-control. He could even resist touching his fiancée, yet this particular woman's provocation was irresistible to him.

“Save me... save... me....”

The drug in her body pushed her to seek for more.

She opened her naked eyes and eagerly reached out her hands to clumsily unbuckle his waist belt.

Driven by her primal instinct, her mind was blank on why she was doing this.

The contours of the man's sexy face were beaded with perspiration. He tried his best to contain the anger in his heart.

His body was actually very aroused by her.

There was no lack of stunning women around him in these ten years, yet he remained unperturbed. No matter how they tried to seduce him, he was not stirred.

What he did not know was that the body had its recollection. Once it had a taste of something good, it would not forget.

He had no idea what this woman possessed that could remind him strongly of what he had once tasted.

Her small trembling hands were running afoul in his arms. She moved crudely and chaotically. Frowning slightly, she tried to follow her instinct but did not seem to know how to proceed.

His throat tightened at this. An electrifying and numbing sensation shot through his loin. This woman was out to get him out of control!

“It’s so unbearable... so unbearable... Help me... Help me quickly....”

She did not know how to continue. She kissed him with quivering lips, asking for his help.

“Save me quickly, yes?! Please save me, alright?! It’s so unbearable....”

She stood up and circled his waist with her pale and beautiful arms.

Her lips, like lily, pressed against his and completely destroyed his last bit of sanity.

He lifted his hand and dug into her hair. Hooping the back of her neck with his palm, he pulled her closer to him.

He bowed and bit her lower lip ferociously. His cold gaze locked onto her face.

“Remember; you asked for this!”

Grabbing her flimsy waist, he held her firmly in place with his powerful arms.
