

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress

Boss Chapter 1790

Chapter 1790 Too Powerful

Nicole's belly grew bigger by the day. Nicole felt uneasy because she had never been a mother and had no experience in this aspect. Thus, she paid extra attention to every change in her body. so In her last trimester of pregnancy, Nicole became a little temperamental.

Even she herself felt that she was being unreasonable. When Nicole was alone with Clayton, she felt annoyed looking at him, but when he was not in sight, she felt angry. cocoa Due to that, Floyd picked Nicole up and took her back to the Stanton Mansion.

Clayton did not say anything, packed his clothes, and stayed with Nicole. Floyd chattered with the butler all day long, but Nicole somehow felt relieved. Clayton also felt relieved. He would only go to the office once every few days.

Most of the time, he would just work from home. The company was left to Kai, so Floyd was mentally prepared to lose money. Floyd had the least expectations for Kai. He only wanted Kai to keep the company afloat without going bankrupt until Grant and Nicole returned.

Surprisingly, once Kai took over, although the company was in disarray, there was still order in the chaos. SA ooo O ooo Everyone had some opinions on Kai's crude and simple handling of matters, but during this time, the company was doing well.

Not only did they not lose money, but their shares also rose a few points. Due to that, those opinions were kept to themselves. Julie took a break. Besides going to the office to visit Kai, she would go to the Stanton Mansion to accompany Nicole.

Noon. O Clayton went out. Julie and Nicole were eating dessert at the dining hall. Kai was sleeping upstairs and was drowsy when he was awakened by a call. He was holding his phone, talking to his assistant, and cursing while walking downstairs.

"Dinner with him?! Is he even sincere? Last time, I drank with him until the early hours of the morning and almost had a stomach ulcer from drinking so much. But he turned around and signed a contract with someone else. Now that the other guy bailed, he dares to come back to me? I'm not the picky one here.

Tell him to get lost!" Kai was so angry that he loosened his collar and coldly snorted. "What? Look at the big picture?! Tell him to get lost! I'm in charge now!" Kai came down and saw Nicole and Julie eating leisurely.

He paused, went over, then wrapped his arms around Julie and kissed her. He then glared at Nicole with resentment. "This mess you made me clean is too much! I'd rather be an actor!" Nicole could not help but smile.

"Third Brother, actors have to listen to the director. You're certainly more powerful now since the entire company has to listen to you. What kind of trouble did you encounter recently?" Although Nicole was not at the office, she had more or less heard the news. An old geezer of a customer took advantage of Nicole and Grant's absence to deliberately try to make things difficult for Kai, who did not know the industry.

At the last step of the contract, the customer ran away and signed a contract with another company. Due to this, Kai was so angry that he cursed the old man for two days. Nicole could not blame Kai for being angry. That old geezer always wanted to take advantage of them in negotiations in the past.

If Nicole and Grant did not see the profit in this, they would have put up with it. Who knew that there would be such a mishap this time? Who could tolerate it? The old geezer thought that Kai was an actor and knew nothing about business.

So, he put on airs and waited for Kai to lower the price. Even if Kai did not lower the price, the old geezer still had another partner waiting for him. However, the old geezer did not expect the other partner to run away.

The old geezer had no other choice. He had worked with Stanton Corporation for so many years, and they had always been generous with their money. The old man was not interested in smaller companies, so he turned around and begged Stanton Corporation.

As a result, he could not get another appointment with Kai again. Kai would rather sleep at home than waste time socializing with the old geezer. As soon as Kai heard Nicole's words, he laughed in exasperation. "Powerful?! I'm like a slave to more than 3,000 people! I work so hard to pay their salaries and get pissed off every day! Have you ever seen a powerful person like me?!"

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss Chapter 1791

Chapter 1791 You Deserve

It Kai's words left Nicole speechless. It did seem to make sense. Julie could not help but let out a light laugh on the side. She looked at Kai. "Yeah. Dominic is so devoted to you, so all you have to do is sit back and count your money."

"Now you know that running a company isn't that simple, huh?" When Julie said that, Kai wanted to retort but did not dare to. He just pouted his lips and sat next to her looking aggrieved. The anger Kai felt just now was almost gone.

Nicole shook her head and looked at Kai. "How could there be anything in this world that could trouble my third brother? Kai, don't die of rage just after a few days in the office..." ) Lo Kai rolled his eyes. If Nicole was not pregnant, Kai would beat her up. "

Do you think I'm a fool?!" He then looked at Julie aggrievedly. "You don't believe in me either?" Julie smiled. Recently, she had been following Nicole's routine at home, so had a rosy face and a great complexion. SOOJA. "Of course, I believe you. Big Brother and Lil N are praising you. You just didn't hear it." Kai gave Nicole an arrogant look. o (That's a fact! I don't need others to praise me." When he said this, he sounded so smug.

Nicole and Julie glanced at each other and the two of them could not help but laugh. Shortly after, Mr. Anderson suddenly ran in with his phone. "Eldest Young Madam is about to give birth! She's in the hospital now..." The three people who were laughing were suddenly stunned. Kai hurriedly gathered his things and tugged on Julie's hand. "Let's hurry over to the hospital!" Julie froze for a moment. She came back to her senses and hurriedly stood up.

Nicole also followed and stood up. "I'm going too!" Mr. Anderson was worried and stopped Nicole. "Miss, you shouldn't go. You're pregnant and it won't be convenient. What if you accidentally bump into something later when no one is paying attention to you?" The butler said while he ran outside. "I'll tell the Chairman! He's fishing in the backyard and didn't take his phone with him. » Nicole did not want to stay and wait for the news.

She insisted on going along. Aida had been living outside with Grant ever since she was pregnant. She did not find the Stanton Mansion inconvenient. It was just that Aida was used to living alone. However, she did come over from time to time.

Floyd was very understanding about this. He also asked Grant to hire someone to take care of Aida and to stay with her more often, preferably without leaving her side. They even called Aida yesterday.

Everything was fine then. However, Aida went into labor today. A moment later, Floyd hurriedly came into the house and saw that everyone was ready to get in the car. He then ran over. "It's too sudden! Isn't there still half a month to go before the due date?" Kai said nonchalantly, "It's okay.

If it's too soon, just get Big Brother to stuff it back in again, so Aida can give birth after two weeks!" Floyd heard this and ruthlessly kicked him without sparing any energy. "You idiot! What nonsense is that?!" Julie looked at Kai with an expression that said, "You deserved that..."

She did not say another word. Kai finally behaved himself. Nicole said, "Dad, let's not waste time. Let's go!" Floyd nodded with a cold face. He suddenly remembered something and looked out the car window at Mr. Anderson, who was there to see them off. "

Bring the things in the study to the hospital later!" Mr. Anderson froze and immediately understood. "Yes, Chairman!" . Hospital Grant booked out the whole floor in advance so that no one would disturb them. Floyd was very anxious and went over with Kai.

Julie attentively stayed behind, matching Nicole's pace so that Nicole would not be left behind. The closer they got to the ward, the louder Aida's cries became. Aida has never cried in front of outsiders. How painful must it be? Nicole tugged on Julie's arm. The closer Nicole got to the ward, the more nervous she became. "No, no, no... I'm scared!"