

A Cue for Love Chapter 622

Chapter 622 Surrounded At The Meeting

Thomas' expression darkened after he quickly scanned through the topic surrounding his name.

It was true that he was getting tired of Yvonne and wanted to take advantage of her use of violence to send her away. However, they were only his inner dark thoughts.

The shameful truth became a hot topic. How could Thomas possibly face anyone anymore?

“It’s nonsense!” In the heat of the moment, he pounded his table and threw the tablet onto the ground. “Who the hell started this?”

Seeing his boss' reaction, Cayden could not stop sweating. “After the topic started trending, I sent some men to find out who was behind it. However, it was too difficult to track down the IP address. Since the discussion started, Dexmed Pharmaceutical's stock price has plunged, and we lost around five hundred million this morning. All the directors are unhappy with the situation. Mr. Colson and Mr. Zane are even coming to the office to demand an explanation from you. They want a solution to counter this issue.”

Realizing that the matter had impacted Dexmed Pharmaceutical's business, Thomas was so angry that he could almost feel steam coming out of his ears.

“You piece of useless shit! Why can't you track down anything?”

“I-I tried my best,” Cayden whimpered.

“Get out of here!”

“Mr. Nichols, Mr. Colson, and Mr. Zane—” Cayden bit his lips and continued, “I think they will be here any minute.”

Thomas was in a foul mood then and did not wish to see anyone. Unfortunately, if he did not show up, Sheldon and Henry might blame Thomas for everything and take the opportunity to kick him out.

“Let them wait.” Gritting his teeth, Thomas muttered, “I will go to them.”

Then, Cayden obediently left.

With a deep frown on his forehead, Thomas took a puff from his cigar and tried to sort out the chaotic mess in his head.

He only sent Yvonne to the mental hospital in the wee hours of the morning. How could anyone have taken a photo of it and posted it on the internet?

Who the hell was it?

Before Thomas could finish his cigar, Henry and Sheldon were already waiting in the meeting room for him.

With no other choice, he put out his cigar and headed over.

As soon as Henry and Sheldon spotted Thomas entering the room, they started to hurl criticisms.

“Heartless-”

“The names they are giving you on Twitter are not only unique but apt too!”

Immediately, Thomas glared at Sheldon and growled, “Mr. Zane, what do you mean by that?”

“You don’t understand what I’m saying?” Sheldon scoffed, “Whatever you did to your wife is what you did to the Bayer family. Unfaithful and heartless are words practically made for you! Mr. Colson could not be more right.”

Sheldon and Thomas were around the same age.

A childhood sweetheart with Jennie, Sheldon was the heir to his father, a director of Dexmed Pharmaceutical.

Back then, he openly tried to chase Jennie. However, she rejected him and chose Thomas instead, even though the latter had nothing.

At first, Sheldon could graciously let go of Jennie as long as she was happy. Yet, after she married The Nichols family, Arnold passed away. In his will, he left the control of Dexmed Pharmaceutical to The Nichols family. It was not long before rumors arose that she had an affair, and Thomas decided to divorce her. He eventually threw her out of the Nichols family.”

Since then, Sheldon resented Thomas.

“Thomas, don’t mind how rude Mr. Zane is acting. However, you must provide us an explanation after such personal affairs had impacted Dexmed Pharmaceutical's stock prices." Henry was different from Sheldon. He did not care who controlled Dexmed Pharmaceutical but was only interested in his profits.

At that moment, Thomas had an ugly expression on his face as he felt anger coursing through his veins.

"Don't worry. The news isn't true, and I will find a way to squash it," Thomas assured. "Additionally, you brought up something from twenty-three years ago. What passed has already passed. Right now, I am the head of Dexmed Pharmaceutical. I don't wish to hear anything about the past!"

A Cue for Love Chapter 623

Chapter 623 No Chance Of Revival

The moment he finished talking, Thomas cast a meaningful glance at Sheldon Zane. It was a cautionary look.

Sheldon felt it, and unlike his usual self, he did not endure in silence. Instead, he retorted, "Words won't suffice. Show us the result! Let's see what concrete measures you can come up with. I hope that the share prices of Dexmed Pharmaceutical will be lower tomorrow."

Henry Colson gave a superficial smile and chimed in, "That's right."

Once Sheldon and Henry had left, Thomas kicked the chair next to him and sent it flying.

An insidious look flashed across Thomas' eyes. "How dare they try to make things difficult for me just because they're members of the board of directors! Bunch of crap! Once this is over, I'll make them pay!"

Cayden, who was standing at the side, could feel the anger coming from Thomas. He did not even dare to make a single sound.

"Cayden, cover this up with either money or other news! I don't care what you do. Just make sure you get this off the trending topics by today!" Thomas glanced at Cayden and continued, "If it isn't accomplished, I'll hold you accountable!"

"Yes, Sir!" Cayden had no other choice but to accept the task.

In the meantime, Natalie was having a video call with Yandel in the study.

Yandel gave her a thumbs-up and praised her, "Boss, you've made an excellent move indeed! Even though I knew we have to go head to head with Dexmed Pharmaceutical, I didn't expect the battle to start in such a manner! I'm sure Thomas will be stunned by your move!"

With a coffee cup in her hand, Natalie said, "I don't want a long battle. A long battle won't do any good for both Dexmed Pharmaceutical and Dream. Even if Dream manages to acquire Dexmed Pharmaceutical by then, it will be useless. Only a swift battle can ensure that Thomas will never be able to make a complete comeback."

After hearing what Natalie said, Yandel's respect for her increased.

In the past, Natalie might have had some issues with the job deployment of Dexmed Pharmaceutical, but her actions did not affect the operations of the company.

Looking at the present situation, everything that had happened by accident back then was proving useful at the current moment.

“Boss, your capability in devising a plot is way too terrifying...”

“Terrifying?” Natalie smiled and said, “I've waited five years for this...”

Looking at Natalie on his screen, Yandel saw the sadness in her eyes and did not know what to say.

Natalie put her cup down and continued, “Looks like it will be a tough battle ahead of us. Thomas will retaliate for sure. But, we mustn't give him the chance to take a breather the moment he falls.”

“You mean...”

“There are people who need your protection, and there are those that you need to keep an eye on. Just do your job and be patient. Things will happen as they should,” said Natalie serenely.

“I understand.”

With that, the video call ended.

Natalie stared at her empty cup, and she did not look too happy.

Thomas was only a puppet. The real mastermind was hiding behind the scenes and watching everything.

Right from the beginning, her target was never just the puppet.

Natalie locked herself up in the study and read books for the entire day. She did not see what was going on on the Internet.

Her eyes were getting tired from her reading when she received a message from Yana.

Dad wants me to send you a message. He wants me to think of a way to get you here for dinner. I have no idea what he is up to! So mysterious! The message was followed by three emojis.

Natalie: I happen to be free tonight. I'll come over then!

Yana: That's wonderful! Looking forward to seeing you!

A Cue for Love Chapter 624

Chapter 624 More Than Just Dinner

That night at the Weiss residence, Yana was full of smiles when Natalie arrived.

With his arm around Yana's shoulders, Hans teased, "You have no idea how excited Yana is. The moment she heard that you are coming tonight, she told the chef to cook your favorite dishes. Both my son and I don't even get this kind of treatment. If this continues, I will fall out of Yana's favor very soon!"

Yana blushed and glared at Hans. “You talk too much! I like Natalie. Do you have a problem with that?”

“Fine, fine.” Hans said indulgently, “You’re the boss.”

“I’m glad you know that.”

Ever since Yana had been cured of her mental issues, she had become more cheerful and smiled more often.

Hans knew that the two ladies had much to talk about, so he excused himself by saying that he needed to help his son with his homework and left.

It was a coincidence that Jason invited Natalie to dinner that night. In reality, Yana was curious about the top-ranking topic on the Internet. It was the scandal of Dexmed Pharmaceutical.

“Were you the one responsible for the top trending story on the Nichols family?”

Natalie nodded calmly. “Yes.”

“This move of yours is too fast and dangerous!” Yana had somehow guessed it, but she was still taken aback when she heard Natalie admitting to it.

Natalie looked up with a glimmer of confidence. “Yana, you have to be quick and vicious if you are plotting against someone. This way, you’ll be able to catch them off-guard.”

Logically speaking, anybody who said such things would annoy others. However, when those words came from Natalie, they had the opposite effect.

This girl is brave and smart at the same time. Even her moves are so swift and decisive. Impressive!

Yana stared at Natalie like an obsessed person. “If I’m a man, you will definitely walk all over me!”

“No way!” Natalie winked at her playfully and said, “If you become a man, Hans will cry till he faints in the washroom!”

“So what if he cries till he faints? It won’t change the fact that I like you!”

“All right then...”

Natalie and Yana went on chatting for a while more.

When Jason and Hannah returned home, they broke into smiles when they saw the two of them chatting away.

“Natalie, you’re here...” Jason looked at her lovingly and continued, “I was afraid that you wouldn’t come if I ask Yana to invite you!”

“Godfather, what’s the special occasion today? Why have you asked me over for dinner?” asked Natalie.

The well-maintained Hannah held Natalie’s hand and said, “Of course it’s something good! That’s why we called you. We’re all having dinner together, but there's also someone joining us tonight.”

“Who is it?”

“Come in,” called out Jason.

A man dressed in a tan overcoat and gold-framed glasses strolled in.

The handsome man exuded an air of intelligence and nobility.

Jason introduced them, “Natalie, this is Matthew Patterson. Both the Weiss family and the Patterson family have been close friends for as long as we can remember. Most importantly, the Patterson family believes in honor and loyalty. We value their friendship very much. As for the younger generation of the Patterson family, Matthew is the most outstanding among them.”

Hannah chimed in as well, “That's right! We like Matthew. Unfortunately, Yana did not marry him, and this has always been a regret for us...”

What?

Natalie realized that Jason and Hannah had something else in mind when they invited her for dinner.

It appeared that they were trying to match-make her!

Natalie cast a glance at Yana who was standing beside her.

Yana quickly shook her head and looked innocent.

A Cue for Love Chapter 625

Chapter 625 A Matchmaking Dinner

“Ms. Nichols, nice to meet you. I’m Matthew,” Matthew introduced himself with a smile. “I believe I have seen you during Mr. Weiss’ birthday celebration. Sadly, we weren’t formally introduced to one another back then. I have finally managed to meet you today.”

Regarding that...

Natalie started to recall Matthew.

A man like Matthew was bound to stand out in the crowd. Natalie recalled seeing him a few times.

Natalie returned the greeting. “Mr. Patterson, nice to meet you too.”

“You’re Mr. and Mrs. Weiss’ goddaughter, and we’re quite close in age too. There’s no need to address each other so formally. I’ll call you Natalie, and you’ll call me Matthew,” said Matthew.

Before Natalie could respond, Jason nodded with a smile. “That’s right! What Matthew says is correct. It’s better to address each other by your names. It’s more affectionate.”

Since Jason said so, Natalie could only agree to it. She looked at Matthew with a smile and said, “Sure.”

At the dining table, Jason and Hannah had intentionally seated Matthew and Natalie next to one another.

Yana was trying to come to Natalie's rescue when her attempt was foiled by Hannah. Her mother glared at her and told her off, "Yana! What do you think you are doing? You're about to become a mother of two. Don't interfere. Let Natalie and Matthew spend some time chatting on their own."

"But--"

"There are no buts!" Hannah placed a chicken drumstick on Yana's plate and said, "Eat up! If it isn't enough, I'll give you more!"

Yana bit into the chicken and gave Hans a kick.

Hans was also about to speak up when Jason put a chicken drumstick on his plate immediately. "Hans, are you envious that Yana has a drumstick and you don't? Don't worry! Let me give you one!"

Oh dear...

Jason and Hannah were going all out to put a stop to Yana's and Hans' antics.

Yana and her husband looked at Natalie. Good luck!

Natalie picked at her food and saw that there was a piece of fish on her plate.

"Eh?"

Matthew smiled gently at her and said, "Why are you only eating pasta? Have more fish."

Since the piece of fish was already on her plate, she could not very well remove it.

Natalie mumbled her acknowledgement and ate the fish.

She did not want the fish to go to waste. However, her acceptance of the fish was perceived by Jason and Hannah as a sign of her fondness for Matthew.

Both Jason and Hannah covered their mouths and giggled. A blissful image of the young couple began to form in their minds.

Soon, the dinner ended.

Yana wanted to get hold of Natalie for a chat.

Instead, Hannah held onto Yana's hand and said, "Yana, don't you have something that you want to ask me about knitting? Come, I'll show you now."

"Mom, I'm not in a hurry--"

"You aren't, but I am!" With that, Hannah dragged Yana away.

Hans was about to say something when Jason cut in. "Hans, last time, you mentioned that you had your eyes on a particular bottle in my wine cabinet, didn't you? Since I'm in such a good mood, let's go there and pick a bottle for you. Shall we?"

"Dad--"

"What is it? You aren't willing to accept my gift?" uttered Jason unhappily.

“No! I’m more than happy to accept your gift!”

Hans was not really after his father-in-law’s wines. He knew Jason was trying to get him away so that Matthew and Natalie could have some time alone.

They were obviously in the Weiss residence, but all of the Weiss family had disappeared in an instant!

This matchmaking session looks so deliberate!

“Are you feeling embarrassed?” asked Matthew in a gentle tone.

Natalie shrugged her shoulders and answered nonchalantly, “I’m all right. As long as I’m not embarrassed, it’s fine.”

A Cue for Love Chapter 626

Chapter 626 Warning To My Rival In Love

When Matthew heard that, he chuckled.

Natalie frowned and questioned him, “What are you laughing about?”

Her blind date pushed his glasses up and looked at her with searing eyes. “Don’t you find yourself interesting? You aren’t the most gorgeous socialites that I’ve met, but you’re certainly the most interesting ones that I’ve ever come across! The rest of the ladies seem to resemble one another as if they have been cut from the same cloth. You, on the other hand, are one-of-a-kind.”

“Then I doubt you’ve met that many women.”

Matthew was momentarily stunned before a smile appeared on his face.

He walked up to Natalie and said, “The last time I saw you at Mr. Weiss’ banquet, you’ve left a deep impression on me. You’re intelligent, brave, calm, and composed. I have to be honest with you. It wasn’t Mr. and Mrs. Weiss who had arranged for our dinner today. I was the one who had asked for their help. I really want to get to know you-”

Before Matthew could finish his sentence, a cold voice rang out.

“Don’t you even think about it!”

That cold, deep voice belonged to none other than Samuel!

Natalie turned around and saw a livid Samuel standing there.

Dressed in a black overcoat, the tall man strode over to Matthew and Natalie.

He kept his frosty eyes on Matthew while his arm went around Natalie’s waist. “Matthew, she’s mine. Don’t even think about it.”

They are friends?

Natalie was shocked.

So, the two men know each other?

Matthew walked up and met Samuel's eyes. "I like her very much. I've liked her since the first time I laid eyes on her. Samuel, let me have her."

Natalie was a little stumped to hear that.

She had initially thought that Matthew had been forced by his elders to come for the matchmaking. Little did she realize that he was serious about her. On top of that, he had gone head-on with Samuel.

"Matthew, I can give anyone up but not her," said Samuel as his grip around her waist tightened.

Matthew refused to give in as well. "I don't care! I just want her!"

Samuel was triggered by what Matthew had said. With a sneer, Samuel said, "Then I want you to see who she belongs to."

The moment he finished talking, Samuel's lips landed on hers.

Natalie widened her eyes in shock. She could not believe that Samuel would go to this extent to stake his claims.

As if he was trying to punish Natalie for not focusing on their kiss, Samuel deliberately kissed her harder.

Matthew's face turned pale. There was no way he could bear to watch any longer, so he turned and left.

Even after Matthew was gone, Samuel did not release his grip. He continued kissing Natalie passionately.

It was only after a long while before Natalie could get away from Samuel.

She glared at him and threw him a question, “Samuel! What the hell do you think you are doing?”

Samuel glanced at her with an air of dominance. “This is the easiest way to tell my rival in love who you belong to. Kindness for your enemies only brings cruelty to yourself. Matthew may look like a gentleman, but he is known for his determination. If I don’t put a stop to it right now, god knows what he may end up doing for you.”

Natalie was dumbfounded. “So, you did that on purpose?”

Samuel wiped his lips with the back of his hand and answered, “Of course not. Thankfully, Hans sent me a message. Otherwise, I wouldn’t have known that Matthew has his eyes on you.”

“I-”

“What should we do?”

Natalie did not quite understand what he meant. “What do you mean?”

Samuel pulled her into his arms and complained, “You’re already wearing such an ugly-looking mask. Why is it that so many men are still falling for you?”