Chapter 271 Only You and Me Today

The cook asked, “Ms. Compton, what do you want to eat today?”

“How about fish hotpot? The fresh and thin slices of fish stewed in the bisque must be yummy!”

The gardener asked, “Ms. Compton, the roses in the greenhouse bloomed again. Shall I pick some to decorate your room?”

“Sure. Remember to select those of light colors. I don’t like bright-colored flowers.”

She wouldn’t feel bored when she talked to them.

Meanwhile, Kingston had already gone downstairs and was neatly dressed. He leaned against the door and gazed at her soulfully.

She was supposed to be the mistress here.

Krista felt someone was behind her and turned around. She couldn’t help to indulge in Kingston’s eyes, which were like a deep ocean.

Her heart trembled. She wondered why a mixed feeling overwhelmed her heart.

She was at a loss and tried to calm herself down.

“You’re up? Get ready for breakfast. I’m a little hungry.”

“Yes, breakfast is ready. Have some before going out.”

She noticed that Kingston wasn't in a suit today. He was wearing a gray sweater and casual pants, which looks so comfortable. He wasn't strict like a cool stone as usual, but a warm and affable boy.

In the past, even when he was in peace, he had never behaved so genially.

It was a rare scene in her life. She couldn't tell whether she was in her dream or not.

However, everything around her showed that it was real.

In the past, he had always been distanced from her, but now...

For a moment, she was stunned and did not say anything.

Seeing her falling silence, Kingston stepped forward and patted her head. Only then did she recover from astonishment and her face flushed.

“Why are you dressed up like this today? It's not your usual style.”

“We will hang out today. It's not suitable to wear formal clothes.”

“Hang out?”

She was baffled and felt strange hearing those words from this busy man.

Why did he have time?

“Pigs can fly today?” She asked in surprise.

“Don't you want to hang out?”

“With me?” She was even more amazed.

“What? You don’t want to come with me?”

“Of course I do. Can I call Aracely and ask her to come over right now?”

“Only you and me today.”

She instantly frowned.

Yesterday they are all together. Why couldn’t they go with Aracely today?

It was inappropriate.

“Now that you don’t want to go out with me, you may stay at home.”

“No, I didn’t mean that. It’s boring to stay at home.”

She accepted immediately.

She was sick of staying here every day.

Moreover, if he didn’t go to work today, both of them can only stay at home with nothing to do. So it would be better to go out.

She was still angry that yesterday he had splashed out five hundred thousand of hers.

“Hurry up. We’ll get going after the meal.”

She rushed to the dining room, eat quickly, and waited for him.

Kingston was still the driver today. Krista wanted to sit at the back, but she did not expect him to drive a two-seat roadster.

She had no choice but to sit next to him.

“Shall we go to the mall today, or somewhere else?” She asked curiously.

For the first time, she felt that freedom was so important. She was glad to come out and breathe fresh air.

Chapter 272 Amusement Park

“You’ll know when we get there.”

Kingston said carelessly.

After driving for more than half an hour, they finally arrived at their destination.

Krista looked at the destination in shock and said, “An amusement park?”

She quickly jumped up happily, and went to buy the tickets.

There was a marshmallow sugar gourd stall at the door, and Krista quickly bought two.

Kingston followed behind her with a smile. He knew that Krista was still a child at heart and liked playing here.

Even though today was a working day, there were still many people in the park.

Kingston suddenly stepped forward to hold her hand. Krista's heart trembled.

“Follow me. Don't get lost. It's not easy to find.”

Kingston's deep, hoarse and attractive voice lingered around her ears.

She felt her heart almost stop for a half of beat.

It seemed that from the depths of her soul, she longed for his tenderness.

It must be an illusion.

As if she had been electrocuted, Krista tried her best to get free, causing Kingston to frown slightly and look at her with unpleasantness.

Krista feared Kingston. Suddenly, she saw a shop selling bracelets. Krista immediately went to buy one and put it on their hands. There was a rope in the middle of it.

Krista pointed at the mother and son in front of them who were in this way too, and said, “Now, we won't miss each other. I can also move freely in a larger range, that's wonderful!”

Krista praised her smartness.

After all, Krista was another man's fiancée. How could Krista be held by Kingston?

She could not do anything that would let Mr. Hamm down.

“That's it.”

Fortunately, Kingston did not think much of the matter. Krista heaved a sigh of relief. Krista was timid, but she wanted to try.

Krista looked at the others who were trying the jumping machine, and each one of them let out heaven-shaking screams. Krista was so scared that her whole body was trembling, but Krista didn't move away.

“Try?”

“I ... I'm scared of heights. The height is so scary...”

“It doesn't matter. I'll accompany you. Now that you are here, you have to try it at once. Otherwise, what's the point?”

“Are you afraid?”

“I'm not afraid.”

Hearing what is said by Kingston, Krista seemed to pick up a bit of gut.

Soon, they were lined up, and the staff pressed seats for them.

As the seat continued to rise, her heart also rose along with it.

In the end, the seat stopped at the highest point.

The seat stopped, and her heart seemed to stop in her throat.

Then, with a bang, the machine suddenly descended.

The wind whistled around her ears and her cheeks felt hurt. The sudden sense of weightlessness made her heart skip a beat.

“Ah!”

Krista couldn't help but scream. She couldn't tell if the voice belonged to someone else or herself.

Krista didn't dare to open her eyes and cried out in fear. –

“Gods at home and abroad... I beg you to bless me!”

“Krista, you ask for a lot of gods.”

Kingston, who sat beside her, was calm and put on a slight smile. He was not feared of the jumping machine.

Subsequently, he held Krista's nervous hands.

His hand was warm and large, and enough to hold her small hand.

Krista felt a stream of warmth that belonged to him.

Scattered fragments suddenly popped up in her mind.

In the darkness, Krista shivered and hid under the table.

Kingston's disdainful voice came from above.

He mocked her that begged him was better than begged so many gods.

It was just like ... now.

Krista was stunned and forgot that she was still in the sky. Krista just stared at Kingston, who was sitting next to her.

However, she just stared at him for a few seconds, because the seat suddenly rose again and descended once more.

Her heart raised firstly and dropped then. Krista quickly sank into fear and closed her eyes, not daring to look down.

However, Krista did not scream anymore after she remembered this memory. Other people might think that she felt at ease was because Kingston sat next to her.

Chapter 273 Aquarium

She didn't realize that he was holding her hand tightly.

When she got off the Turbo Drop, she felt her stomach turn upside down. She held the trash can and vomited non-stop.

Kingston saw how hard she was vomiting and patted her back in distress.

“If I knew this would happen, I wouldn't have brought you here.”

After that, he handed her some water to rinse her mouth. As she rinsed her mouth, she waved her hands.

She let out a shaky breath, with her face pale.

“I want to... I want to go and challenge something I have never tried before. I have been to the amusement park before. Aracely and the others advised me to have a try. I didn't dare to do it. I want to try it today. If I feel despair in the future, I definitely won't jump off the building. I am afraid that I will break into pieces. It's terrible...”

Before she finished her words, Kingston rudely knocked her head. His voice suddenly became incomparably stern.

“Do you dare to let yourself despair?”

She was stunned by his tone.

She was just joking. She was reluctant to die.

However, why was he so angry?

There was a trace of gentle pain hidden in the depths of his eyes that were filled with anger.

She blinked. Was she seeing it wrongly?

“You’d better live well. Do you hear me?”

He shouted coldly, with a commanding tone.

“I see. I just said it casually. Why do you take it seriously?”

“Don’t talk nonsense.”

“Got it. Go play something else.” With the experience from the Turbo Drop, it would be much better to play the Roller Coaster later.

But when she fell from a high place, she would still close her eyes in fear. At this time, that gentle voice would always appear.

“Don’t be afraid. I’m here with you.”

She seemed to have heard it before, but she could not remember when and where she heard it.

Perhaps, it was in her dreams.

They spent the whole morning here, playing with some fun projects, and left with satisfaction.

She vomited once. Therefore, she was hungry. She was eager to have lunch.

She was so happy that she couldn't help but jump up and down as she talked about the interesting thing to him.

She chattered, while he listened quietly to her from the side.

After they had lunch, she blinked her sparkling eyes. Her eyes were filled with curiosity.

In her heart, she was sure that Kingston had already made a plan for the afternoon. She was not in a hurry.

“Do you want to go to the zoo or the aquarium?”

“Aquarium. It is more interesting. I want to see dolphins perform and something else.”

“Alright, let's go to the aquarium.”

When Krista entered the aquarium, her memory was a bit messed up.

She seemed to have been here, but she did not have an impression at all.

She had been living with fear and trepidation in the past. She worked part-time whenever she had free time. How could she have the time to come here?

Other parents brought their children over. Her mother had already passed away, and her father did not care about her at all.

Aracely studied abroad all year round. Her husband was not around.

She had been alone all along.

She went to school alone, went to the library alone, and went to do various part-time works.

“There didn’t seem to be so many people last time.” She suddenly said.

“What?”

- Kingston’s heart trembled.

“Nothing. My brain... It seems to be broken.”

She shook her head repeatedly and felt that she was talking nonsense. She subconsciously knocked her head.

“Is it a beluga?”

She suddenly saw the beluga. She immediately ran over, forgetting what she had just said.

Kingston was in a complicated mood at the moment. She had indeed forgotten a lot. She forgot many times when they got along well. Moreover, most of the memories were painful.

It was better for her to not recall it...

Chapter 274 It Doesn’t Look Good at All

He hoped that she would never remember that she gave birth to a child for Lance.

There is a mermaid performance at three o'clock. Let's go and see.

“Alright.”

They went to the mermaid performance venue. Coincidentally, it was the same male mermaid.

Krista only felt that he looked a little familiar, but the mermaid remembered her.

After all, it was the first time someone had reserved a place for the night just to perform for a girl. He still remembered it deeply.

He continuously greeted Krista, swimming around in front of her, and even made a heart gesture to her.

Krista was pleasantly surprised.

She wanted to immediately take out her phone and take a picture of this scene. Unfortunately, she didn't take her phone!

“When Kingston saw the “giggle and flirt” male mermaid, he narrowed his eyes dangerously and glared at him coldly.

The male mermaid wanted to continue his performance when he suddenly felt strong killing intent.

The same man was still standing behind this girl. His gaze was the same as last time.

He still remembered what happened that night. When this man looked at him coldly, his eyes seemed to say, “If you continue to seduce my woman, I will cut off your legs and make you never seduce others!”

The male mermaid swallowed and swam away dejectedly.

“Kingston, did you see that? He is so good-looking!”

She patted Kingston’s chest excitedly.

“Where is he good-looking?” he asked coldly.

often swim have good figures. That’s true! I want to swim in the future too!”

“His tail is the same as real. Do you think there are mermaids in the world?”

“It doesn’t look good at all. Let’s go somewhere else.”

Kingston could not bear it any longer. He directly pulled her away.

He must make the aquarium fire this mermaid! No. He would make him go out of City D.

He was coquettish and ignorant. Besides, he randomly seduces women.

It was simply presumptuous.

“He, the performance is not over yet!”

But no matter what Krista said, she was already dragged away.

She was regretful. She could not understand it. But when she saw Kingston’s dark face, she did not dare to ask him.

He was surrounded by a terrifying field, which made it hard for her to breathe.

His surrounding temperature seemed to drop to freezing point, freezing her to shiver.

“You... What happened to you?”

She asked cautiously. She didn't understand why he was so angry.

She did not do anything wrong.

“Nothing.”

Kingston said awkwardly. He couldn't tell her that he was jealous of the male mermaid.

“Really? But why are you suddenly unhappy?”

“No, I am not unhappy. Let's continue watching the performance.”

He said in a displeased tone.

How could Krista dare to continue watching the performance? She casually swept her eyes over it a few times.

There was someone who sold aquarium fish. She couldn't help but buy a small glass jar. In addition, she picked a chubby little fish with a golden and red head. She didn't know what fish it was.

Then she bought several more. She planned to bring them back to her room to make her room glow with vitality. Besides, she could kill her time with the aquarium fish.

Kingston paid for them and asked someone to send them back to the villa.

“Where are we going next? To have dinner or to play?”

She continued to blink at him, not knowing if he had calmed down.

“I didn’t arrange anything tonight. I’ll listen to you this time.”

“Is that so?” She rolled her eyes, “The D University is nearby. The food in the school canteen is top-notch. The scenery inside is also good. After all, it is a hundred-year-old school with a profound cultural heritage. How about going for a walk after dinner?”

As soon as she finished her words, she felt that it was not very good.

Chapter 275 Save People

“I’m afraid you won’t be able to get used to it. Let’s just forget it.”

“I’m not picky. I’m not delicate. I can eat it if you can. Let’s go to D University. It’s your alma mater.”

Krista stood at the entrance of the D University again and sighed. She had only studied here for a year before leaving. She still had a deep feeling about it. Unfortunately, life was full of surprises.

If nothing unexpected happened, she would finish studying for four years and then work in this city for a lifetime.

She would find an appropriate man to remarry and live with him at the right time.

Maybe she will have a cute baby. She would be busy with family work.

“What are you thinking about?”

Kingston’s voice pulled back her thoughts. She immediately shook her head to indicate that she was fine.

They had already untied their bracelets and maintained a relatively comfortable distance. It was not too far or too close. It was just a step away.

Just as they were about to enter the door, they heard the terrified voices of the crowd behind them, as well as the piercing sounds of tires running across the ground.

The headlights of the car behind them swayed wildly, making it hard for them to open their eyes.

It turned out that a car was out of control and was rushing to the school gate at this moment.

The surrounding people screamed and dodged. Krista narrowed her eyes. She couldn’t see the direction. She vaguely sensed that the car was approaching her. However, her legs didn’t listen to her orders. She couldn’t move at all.

At this critical moment, she was suddenly thrown down by something, and then she fell into his arms,

“Kingston!”

Her body heavily pressed against Kingston. His brows tightly frowned. Beads of sweat appeared on his forehead.

She sensed something and immediately got up, finding that his right shoulder was pressed against the ground. It seemed that he had hit it.

“Are you alright?”

Before she could ask, Kingston hurriedly asked. He carefully examined her body. When he saw the blood on her palm, his eyes instantly turned cold.

Feeling his gaze, she wiped her hands and said, “I’m fine. Your... Your arm...”

His arm was knocked hard. The weight of them was all pressed on his right arm, with his back.

In the beginning, he was in severe pain. But now he had recovered. His arm was not hurt anywhere.

“I’m fine.”

He helped Krista up.

At this moment, the owner of the car quickly came over to apologize to them. He said that his car suddenly broke. He had no choice but to break into the empty school gate.

The car crashed into the green belt at the side. It was no longer in shape.

It was hard to imagine what would happen if it ran into someone.

She was emotional. Kingston saved her regardless of his safety.

If it was a second late, both of them might not be able to escape. Why would he take such a big risk to save her?

She always felt that Kingston keeping her was revenge.

But now... It was unreasonable.

But what else could there be ?

There was a faint answer in her heart. But she did not dare to think about it at all. She felt that it was impossible from the bottom of her heart

If Kingston loved her, he should have acted four years ago, not now.

She didn't know that his feelings for her were after returning to the country.

He suppressed his feelings and buried them in his heart. He thought that he would never have the chance to be with her. He thought no one would ask him about it. He could deceive himself very well.

It was until she fell into the sea.

The seed in his heart did not wither. Instead, it crazily took root and sprouted. The longer it grew, the crazier he became.

The guilt, longing, regret, and love of four years had grown. He could no longer part with them.

He did not want to deceive himself, did not want to follow the rules, and did not want to suppress his nature.

Chapter 276 I Am an Encumbrance

During the four years, Kingston felt that he always died in the night and revived in the day.

The dead one in the night was Kingston who deeply loved Krista.

The revived one in the daytime was Kingston who had to keep the Irwin Group alive.

Now that Kingston had met Krista again, he felt like he had a new life. Therefore, he had to firmly hold her hand and not separate even if he died.

Just then, the staff of the traffic department came and directly took them away.

With the police involved, they didn't need to care too much.

Krista didn't have the mood to go visiting D University anymore and went back with Kingston.

"I'm fine. It's rare for us to come out and play. I really haven't enjoyed myself yet."

"Come back with me. I want to see your back."

She was anxious and directly took him into the car, driving back on her own.

When they arrived at the villa, Kingston did not want her to look at his back.

"It's just a minor injury. I will just apply some medicinal wine. I'll deal with it myself."

"Since it's on your back, how are you going to deal with it yourself? Do you have eyes behind you?"

Krista said angrily, forcefully removing his sweater.

When she saw that Kingston's right back was bruised and swollen, her eyes instantly turned red.

She didn't expect it to be so serious.

The area on the shoulder blade on his back was purple and blue, greatly swollen.

She didn't even dare to touch it, and she knew that it would definitely hurt.

"I'm sorry... It's all my fault. You shouldn't have saved me."

Krista sobbed, feeling that she had made a huge mistake.

"I shouldn't have let you see it. I just felt pain for a little while. I don't feel anything now."

"Don't lie. How can you not hurt? I... I'll apply medicine for you."

Krista took the medicine and carefully smeared it on his back.

The medicine took effect very quickly, and it made Kingston's back keep heating up. He felt even greater pain in his back.

Kingston frowned and tried his best to hold it back, making no complaint at all.

After that, Kingston's forehead was full of cold sweat.

The stabbing pain went deep into his bones. If not for his strong willpower, he would have fainted.

Krista looked at him and felt so distressed.

She couldn't help but shed tears.

Ever since she came, she seemed to have caused much trouble.

Krista had broken Kingston's arm earlier, and now she had injured his back.

"I am very useless. I feel that I am just an encumbrance by your side. It is better to..."

Krista said, choking with sobs.

There was no other meaning in saying this. She just didn't want him to get hurt anymore.

However, when Kingston heard this, he suddenly felt his heart in great pain.

He realized that she was trying to escape from him.

Anger instantly filled his chest. Kingston could not control his emotions. Ignoring the pain in his back, he pulled Krista into his embrace and kissed her hard.

"No..."

Krista panicked and continued to struggle.

Usually, she definitely couldn't break free, but this time, Kingston's right arm didn't have much strength.

She used all her strength to push him away. Kingston staggered backward and crashed into the wall, who then gasped in pain.

"I, ... I didn't do it on purpose. You... You kissed me. That was why I did it."

Kingston pressed down on where it hurt. He could no longer tell if it was his back or his chest that the pain spread from.

He narrowed his eyes and looked at Krista. His pitch-black eyes seemed so mysterious and unfathomable.

Krista felt her heart beat faster for no reason. She clenched her fists and looked at him anxiously.

"Are... are you okay? Does it hurt? Do you need my help?"

"Get out."

Kingston's tone was so cold.

"But your injury is not..."

Before Krista could finish her sentence, Kingston interrupted her coldly, "If you continue to stay here, I will press you down right away. I promise that you won't be able to push me away next time. Do you want to try?"

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 277

Chapter 277 Why Can't You Take Care of Yourself?

His voice was extremely hoarse and sounded sexy.

She bit her lips and had no choice but to leave.

The moment the door closed, Kingston couldn't stand it anymore. He went down on one knee and gasped, with sweat all over his forehead.

It did hurt a lot, but he wasn't lying just now.

If she remained here, he couldn't resist the temptation...

He would do something to her.

But he didn't want to force her.

Krista went back to her room and lay on the bed, lost in consideration.

The servant knocked on the door and brought her dinner.

"How do you know I didn't eat?"

"Ms. Compton, Mr. Irwin is worried you're hungry, so he asked me to do it."

Hearing that, Krista felt sweet and was even more worried about Kingston.

"Is Mr. Irwin alright?"

"He is out."

"He is out?"

She was stunned.

“Yes, he just left. It seems that he has something to deal with in the company.”

Krista was immediately nervous. He was injured and still had to go out to work, which was greatly bad for his health.

She was so worried that she even wanted the driver to drive her to the company and take Kingston back.

However, she hesitated. It was Kingston’s business. What could she do with him if he didn’t value his health?

What did she mean to him?

Ex-wife?

A grounded prisoner?

A so-called sister?

She had nothing to do with him now.

It upset her a lot and her head drooped.

The food prepared was all her favorite, but now her appetite was spoiled.

“Forget it. I have no appetite.”

“But...”

“If I am hungry, I will go downstairs to get some.”

Then the servant left.

Krista couldn’t fall asleep at all, since she was so worried.

Somehow, she went downstairs and sat on the sofa, staring at the window in a daze, wishing to see the car lights.

As time went by, she had been waiting from eight to eleven in the evening.

Finally, she heard the sound of a car outside. She immediately jumped off the sofa and hurriedly opened the door to welcome Kingston without wearing shoes.

Just as Kingston placed his hand on the door handle, the door opened.

He looked into Krista's sparkling eyes.

"How are you feeling? Why don't you take care of yourself? Why do you go to work when it's so late? Come in, it's very cold at night."

When she finished speaking, a gust of night wind rushed in. She shivered with cold in her pajamas.

Kingston immediately walked in and closed the door lest she would catch a cold.

He was wearing a suit and a tie, not his casual clothes during the day.

The metal cufflinks had a cold luster.

He stood there in a distant way.

Her heart ached slightly.

She quickly took the initiative to help him take off his coat and carefully avoided his back.

"Does it hurt?"

“No.”

His voice was low and steady.

“Have you eaten?”

Hearing this, he asked, “How about you?”

“No, I had no appetite.”

“I didn’t, either. Let’s eat something together.”

“Alright. What do you want to have? I’ll cook for you. But I am not good at it. I can only cook some noodles.”

“You remain the same.”

Kingston suddenly said.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 278

Chapter 278 Aren’t You Afraid Of Losing Your Virginity?

“What?”

“Nothing. I’ll eat whatever you cook.”

She cooked noodles a few years ago. It seemed that she remained the same as before. On the contrary, he was proficient in cooking.

But he couldn’t show it now.

She rushed into the kitchen and started cooking.

It was done quickly since it was very easy to cook noodles.

“You can ask the chef to prepare some dumplings and then I can cook something else for you.”

“Alright.”

He was glad to hear this as if she was going to live here forever.

It was difficult for Kingston to raise his hand to eat noodles, but he still ate it up.

Even though his back was injured, he was still calm and elegant.

Seeing that he ate up, she let out a sigh of relief and quickly finished hers.

The hot noodles warmed both of them.

Kingston went upstairs, followed by Krista.

He suddenly stopped. Krista was startled and came to a halt to avoid bumping into his back.

“I almost bumped into you. If I did, it would hurt a lot.”

“Why are you following me?”

“I learn from the Internet that hot towels can dissipate blood clots. Maybe you can have a try. I can help you since you can't reach your back.”

“Aren't you afraid of losing your virginity?”

“I was before,” she said honestly. “But ... I’m not that afraid. It’s just talk and you’ve never done anything to me these days. But I will not be grateful to you for this. I hate you since you imprisoned me and deprived me of freedom.”

“But, you are injured because of me, and I feel very guilty. I can’t leave you alone. Besides, I’m already here. What can I do if you force me? So I’ll get over it.”

“Well. If I do something to you, can you get over it?” “Then I’ll commit suicide!”

Krista suddenly became very serious and said it word by word.

“I’ve got engaged to Mr. Hamm, so I will not betray him. If I lose my virginity, I’ll be guilty about it. Then I have to kill myself and you can only get my body. If you do so, I will haunt you and kill you!”

She deliberately said those murderously, but she wasn’t joking.

His eyes darkened and flashed with sadness.

He did not say anything and directly pushed open the door.

She was also silent and followed him into it. Then she got a warm towel.

She asked Kingston to take off his clothes.

Then he slowly loosened his tie and unbuttoned his shirt.

His bronze skin was slowly revealed. He was of sturdy build with broad shoulders and a narrow waist.

As a fashion designer, Krista had seen a lot of male models, but she still had to say Kingston's figure was perfect, overshadowing the others.

She was purely appreciating it.

She also caught a glimpse of Kingston's abdominal muscles, which were so attractive. Thus, she couldn't help but praise.

"Your figure is very good, better... better than that mermaid. Do you often swim too?"

Kingston was in a good mood after being praised, but he tried not to show it.

Instead, he said very arrogantly, "Don't compare me to him. He doesn't deserve it."

"You're right. His muscles must be the result of protein powder. As for you... Wow."

She couldn't help but sigh. Kingston's muscles must be the result of years' exercise!

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 279

Chapter 279 Not Perfect But Unique

Krista looked at Kingston's perfect upper body as she put hot towels on his back.

"He is really a perfect male model" she thought.

"Well? Salivate at my body?" Kingston asked.

Hearing his words, Krista choked on her saliva.

Then she glared at Kingston in annoyance and replied, "Of course not."

"It's understandable. Lance looks strong, but I'm afraid that he'll fall to the ground with a punch of me. You don't feel safe with such a man, right?" Kingston questioned.

"Nonsense. Lance is powerful. He, he merely can't fight you back due to his injured right hand."

Krista argued for Lance and couldn't allow Kingston to ridicule her fiancé because she had to be dignified outside.

"Humph," Kingston snorted contemptuously and continued, "He's nothing. If you really encounter dangers, he won't be able to protect you."

"Kingston, shut up. Don't depreciate him. If you insist, let the maid serve you."

Krista was a little angry and was about to leave but stopped by Kingston. He grabbed her hand without expectation.

"Don't go."

Kingston said in a slightly husky voice.

Krista was a little moved by his alluring sound.

"I won't talk about him anymore. You, stay here. Please!"...

Kingston asked with a hint of pleading, which was like a stray dog she had once saved.

Krista couldn't bear it and returned to his side.

"You're totally different from Lance. Don't casually compare yourself with him. Lance is a tender and careful gentleman. He is very good to everyone around him." Krista said.

Then, she added, "And though you are a little cold and hard to get along with, I know that you are very responsible. It's quite hard for you to support the entire Irwin family. You are also very outstanding."

"In your eyes, am I really outstanding?" he asked faintly.

"Of course. You're outstanding. But if you can let me go, you'll be more awesome and perfect as a flawless jade." Krista replied.

"Then I would rather be a bit flawed. It's not perfect but unique." Kingston emphasized.

Krista smiled, "Tsk, not perfect but unique. How unique you are! Alright, I finished. I'll come back tomorrow morning to get it for you."

"Thank you."

Kingston sent Krista to the door and looked at her with reluctance.

Krista backed to her room, drank a cup of hot milk, and fell asleep deeply as soon as she lied on the bed.

The door was opened, and Kingston slowly approached.

He held Krista tightly, even if hugging her had caused pain in his back.

He flattened his lips against the ear of Krista.

“Krista, I really want to stay with you forever. I wanna hug you and never part with you.”

The whole night was quiet and fabulous.

In this way over several days, Kingston returned a little more time and brought back his work sometimes.

However, the good times didn't last long. A few days later, Quincy rushed over with a hurried expression and said, “Mr. Irwin, we've almost done in Phelan City. As expected, Lance had already launched vengeful exploitation of the branch company and compressed its living space. If Lance continues, the company couldn't stand it anymore.”

“It doesn't matter. Leave it alone. Guard all the customs and airports. Inform me once finds his whereabouts and strengthen the security of the villa. If Lance takes Krista away from me, Quincy, you know the consequences.”

“Yes, Mr. Irwin,” Quincy said firmly.

Krista found that she was pretty out of her control in the next few days.

Several guards monitored her suddenly in the villa, which made her feel uncomfortable all over the body.

She wanted to meet Aracely but also stopped by Kingston.

Then, she found Kingston was a little annoyed and guessed that whether Lance had come here or not.

Krista guessed that Lance had finished dealing with his own matters and came to save her.

At the thought of this, Krista was overjoyed but did not dare to show it.

She needed to come up with a way to cooperate with Lance and find a chance to leave this place.

At this moment, In the Irwin Group.

“Sir, Lance is here. He wants to see you.”

“Let him come in.”

Kingston knew that he could not stop Lance, so he decided to meet him.

Lance was very different from four years ago. He was no longer just a teacher who only knew how to draw and design. He wasn't like a pedant and had become shrewd and cold, looking like a business elite.

Tall and straight, Lance was dressed in a suit. Even his look was full of ruthlessness.

When the two met, the atmosphere became somewhat strange.

In comparison, Kingston was much calmer. He looked at Lance indifferently and waited for him to speak.

“Where's Krista?” Lance cut to the chase.

“I won't give her back to you. You should give it up. Besides, City D is not your territory. You can't do anything here to me.”

“Kingston, I’ve never seen such a shameless man like you in the world. Because of you, Krista almost died. Luckily, I saved her. Kingston, you do not deserve to interfere in the matter between me and her. Krista is my fiancée now and only belongs to me! Give her back to me right now!”

“Your fiancée is the orphan Stacey. What does she have to do with my Irwin family?”

“Your Irwin family?”

“Did you forget? Four years ago, she was my adopted sister. She was adopted by my Irwin family. Is there anything wrong with her coming back to my family?”

“Kingston, you are so shameless!”

Lance was so angry that his face even turned red.

“Whatever you say, I won’t release her.”

“Alright, since it’s your choice, don’t regret it.”

“I won’t regret it. Quincy, see him off.”

“OK! Kingston, just you wait!”

Lance was so angry that his entire body was trembling. He hadn’t seen Kingston for a few years and found that this man had been much cheekier. Kingston actually had spoken so confidently about imprisoning Krista.

Downstairs, Ryan was waiting for Lance in the car.

Seeing Lance’s expression, Ryan knew that he returned without accomplishing anything.

“This matter is not as troublesome as you thought. The business war is too slow. This is not something that can be done overnight. When you have finally surpassed the Irwin Group. I am afraid that Krista and Kingston’s children will be born...”

Before Ryan could finish, Lance grabbed him by the collar and looked at him with red eyes.

“Calm down, OK ? I’m just helping you and telling you the truth. This matter can’t be dragged on like this. He’s obviously not afraid.

It’s really not that easy to destroy the Irwin Group. I have a better idea. Lance, you have to understand that I’m doing this for you. Everything I do is for your future.”

“What idea do you have ?”

Lance’s heart softened, and now he only wanted to save Krista.

Ryan made a gesture around his neck.

“You mean you want to make a move against Kingston ? You want to kill him ?”

Lance was a little shocked. He had returned to the Lamb family for four years and now was a powerful person who could easily get rid of anyone he disliked.

However, he was kind in nature. After all, Lance used to be a college teacher who always educated people and imparted knowledge. How could he kill others easily ?

No matter how much he hated Kingston, he never thought of putting Kingston to death.

Ryan knew that Lance's biggest problem was being soft-hearted. Such a person could never become a perfect successor.

“Then just forget what I said. You can slowly have a commercial war with Kingston until the day Krista's child is born. When the time comes, you will realize whether my suggestion is good or not.”

“The relationship between them was already so ambiguous four years ago. Now that they're together day and night, we don't know what's going on at all. You can continue to dawdle here and do something useless.”
