

Chapter 44 Accusation

Alyssa Graham stood up and put one of the earbuds into Leon Hunter's ear.

Because the headphone cable was relatively short, the two of them could only go head to head.

The music was very beautiful.

Alyssa Graham listened and began to sing with it.

Leon Hunter heard two voices singing the same melody and found them harmonious.

He didn't know that Alyssa Graham's singing was this beautiful.

When Leon Hunter got back home and worked in the study, his mind was still filled with Alyssa's singing.

In the Hunter House,

Mrs. Hunter was very angry when she saw Emily Cole standing in front of her.

She was worried that her voice would be heard by Grandpa Graham.

She stared angrily at Emily Cole as if she were about to swallow her any time.

Emily Cole didn't dare to raise her head. She lowered her head, tears rolling in her eyes.

She knew that she looked very bad today, but she didn't expect the useless Miss Graham to be so powerful now.

Alyssa's academic performance had improved.

And her English speaking is better than hers now.

She was even able to make Grandpa Graham happy.

She had not seen Grandpa Hunter smile so happily for a long time.

"I made great efforts to raise you up. I just hope you can make me proud one day. Look at you, useless."

"I'm sorry, aunt. I'll try to be better."

Emily Cole's voice was very soft, but she still dare not raise her head.

Mrs. Hunter was angry, "Emily, look at how you are now. You've been good at both in school and at heart. I raised you because of how good you were. But now you are even worse than the useless Miss Graham."

"Aunt, I don't know how Alyssa Graham suddenly became so good. She was not like that before. Can you give me another chance? I will study hard and do better than Alyssa Graham."

"I'm so disappointed with you."

Emily Cole was more nervous when she heard her aunt's words. She held Mrs. Hunter tightly, "Back when Alyssa Graham did not do well in her study, was Brother Leon willing to marry her?"

"What do you mean?"

"Emily knew that Aunt Hunter wants Brother Leon and I to be together. But even when I did well in the study, Brother Leon still thought that I was not as good as Alyssa."

Mrs. Hunter started to understand her.

Seeing the change on Mrs. Hunter's face, Emily Cole continued, "In Brother Leon's mind, academic performance might not be the most important thing. Aunt, maybe I wasn't trying enough to make him like me. Alyssa even peeled the shrimps for him, which Brother Leon did not refuse. When I did that for him before, he didn't refuse either.

Mrs. Hunter nodded, "What you said sounds reasonable."

"Aunt Hunter, I don't think academic performance is the key. The key is whether my brother Leon has feelings for me."

When Mrs. Hunter heard this, she nodded, "Do you know how to make Leon like you? Yura is too young to be in charge of the Hunter group. Besides, the company relies on Leon Hunter. If you can control Leon Hunter, you can buy time for your cousin. Emily, you know how much time and effort I have spent on you. Don't let me down. "

Mrs. Hunter left when she finished.

When Mrs. Hunter left, Emily relaxed and thought of Alyssa's change. She felt upset.

She didn't expect Alyssa Graham to do better than her.

What she had been through during the day and at night made it hard for her to fall asleep.

She couldn't sleep in the middle of the night and felt that her lung tubes were filled with anger. Closing her eyes, Emily could see Alyssa Graham standing in front of her and showing off that she had won the prize in the oral contest.

Finally, she went to the window for some fresh air. She started to sneeze and had symptoms of catching a cold.

By contrast,

Alyssa Graham slept soundly..

She had a dream that there were many delicious things around her. Suddenly, her hand was gently pulled. Alyssa Graham opened her eyes and saw Leon Hunter.

"Still in bed."

Alyssa Graham immediately became energetic and smiled at Leon Hunter.

"Get up and get some food. It's time to go to class."

"Good."

Alyssa Graham got up to get ready and put on her sportswear.

There were warm toast and milk on the table.

There was strawberry jam on the side plate.

In addition to these delicate things, there was a small bag of nuts.

In the middle were two pieces of ham and two poached eggs.

Why was the food looking so good? Alyssa was hesitant to start eating.

Leon Hunter saw that Alyssa was simply sitting there and looking at the food. He had asked the cook to make a very good breakfast. It seemed that the food was not good enough. Otherwise, why did she not start trying the food?

He looked at her with doubt.

He found her looking at him!

Looking into each other's eyes, he cleared his throat, "Hurry up with your food. You need to go to school."

Alyssa Graham nodded. He kept staring at her just now. What was he looking at?

Did anything come to go wrong today?

She came out without makeup today.

She did not carefully brush her teeth.

She put down her tableware and suddenly stood up, knocking over the chair beside her.

Leon Hunter was stunned when Alyssa suddenly stood up.

"I'm going to the bathroom. You go ahead and eat first."

She hurried to the bathroom, checking herself in the mirror. Although she didn't wear makeup, she looked fine and her teeth were quite white.

What was he looking at then?

She couldn't figure it out. Holding her head, she heard a knock at the door.

"Are you all right? Is your stomach feeling sick? "

"What?" Alyssa Graham thought for a while. It might be true that she had been in the bathroom for a long time. She quickly responded, "My stomach is feeling a bit sick."

Leon Hunter frowned. She had been fine before. It must be breakfast.

She did not have much of the breakfast.

It should not be the time for her period either.

Leon Hunter knocked at the door, "Open the door. I'll take you to the hospital."

"No, no, I'm fine." Alyssa Graham opened the door and looked at Leon Hunter, "I'm ok. I just used the bathroom. I'm done and the bathroom is all yours."

Leon Hunter did not move.

He looked at her back, "You have promised to drive me to work. Do you not want to give me a ride anymore?"

"Who said I don't want to? I'm sure I'll drive you. How can I not give you a ride? " Alyssa Graham remembered what she had promised Leon Hunter. She looked at Leon Hunter and felt sorry: "I'll go get the car and we are leaving now."

She wanted to leave, but Leon Hunter held her, "You have not finished your breakfast yet."

Alyssa Graham nodded and saw that it was still early, so she went back to finish her breakfast.

Leon Hunter had finished eating long ago. Seeing Alyssa Graham quickly swallowing her food, he couldn't help reminding her, "Can you eat slower? You have the sauce is all over your mouth."
