Chapter 268

Bella's POV:

"You seem very sad. Is it because you've parted with Lucas?" Klein's tone was very gentle. "No." I looked at his gentle face as if I was looking at a delicate mask. What would he be like under the mask? I didn't dare to continue to think about it. After all, before tonight, Klein was someone I trusted the most.

Whether it was in terms of emotion or reason, I didn't want to doubt Klein.

"What is the reason?" Klein asked. He paused for a few seconds, then continued, "Is it a premarital phobia? After all, you will have a brand new identity. You're about to become Klein's wife."

"No!" I said seriously as I looked at Klein.

My mind was filled with thoughts regarding the meeting between those two bad guys and Klein. Why exactly were they in touch with Klein? Klein's face grew a bit more solemn. "What's going on?" I thought for a few minutes and decided to tell him my doubts.

Perhaps it was just a misunderstanding. Perhaps things were different from what I imagined. After all, Klein was my future husband. I really didn't want to suspect him. "I was taking a walk in the park just now." As I spoke, I carefully observed the expression on Klein's face.

Obviously, he was in a panic. I continued, "I saw two people talking to you."

I thought that Klein would tell me the truth.

But he seemed to only be perfunctory to me.

"I just ran into two people I know." Klein laughed. I didn't accept his perfunctory manner, so I continued, "Who are those two people?" "It's just two people whom I'm not very familiar with." I cut him off. "I remember they're the two men who hurt me!" The panic on Klein's face was completely revealed. I had no choice but to doubt him. "Did you order those two people two years ago?" I asked. Klein didn't even dare to look into my eyes. I could see regret and frustration on his face. "Klein, I'm truly disappointed."

After that, I turned around and was about to leave.

couldn't accept this fact at all. Jein actually bribed those two thugs to violate me, and when the time was right, he appeared to save me, acting as a hero. From beginning to end, I thought that Klein was a kind person. He helped me a lot, understood me very well and I loved me very much. But I didn't expect him to use such a despicable scheme! In my heart, he was a knight, a knight who would come to save me when I was in danger. I didn't expect that those dangers were planned by this knight himself! Bella, let me explain, okay?' Klein begged. What else can you explain?" I stared at him and asked. Klein said, "Bella, I admit that those two bastards were indeed arranged by me. But my goal is not to harm you, but to get close to you and understand you!" At that time, you were very resistant to me. I didn't have a chance to get close to you. I really meant no harm, and I didn't mean to hurt you. I didn't expect that the two people would really be so rude to you. I really love you."

couldn't accept Klein's explanation. I roared loudly, "Can it be that because of love, you can deny your mistakes?" That incident had done too much harm to me. That time, I was really scared. I had never been so scared. When I thought of that incident, I still felt scared until now. But it turned out that all this was deliberately arranged by someone, and the person who arranged this was my most trusted person now, the man who was about to become my husband. My shoulders were grabbed by Klein's hands. He tried to explain, "Bella, I'm sorry, I'm sorry! It's all my fault. You can punish me in any way, but don't look at me with such cold, hateful eyes, okay?"

pushed him away and said hatefully, "Before tonight, I trusted you a lot. Even if you wanted me to give my life to you, I didn't have to worry at all. But you destroyed my trust in you."

Chapter 269

Bella's POV:

After quarreling with Klein, I left home. I walked farther and farther until I was exhausted to the extreme. I sat by the road, tired and cold. At this moment, the sun had completely set, and the lights in the distant houses were like stars. Every star represented a home. Those people all had their own homes, and there was a lamp that lit up for them. I felt very lonely at the moment. All these years, I had never had a home. I thought that I would have a warm home with Klein. But now, after such a thing happened, I really didn't know what to do. The wind by the river was very cold, which made me gradually come back to my senses. It was indeed wrong for Klein to bribe others to harm me.

I was also badly hurt because of that incident. But thinking back on what had happened in the past. Most of the time, Klein treated me very well. He took me to his grandmother's house and took me in when I had nowhere to go. He protected me when I was at my I lowest. When I was bullied, he helped me. He was really good to Lucky. Moreover, he also accepted the existence of Lucas. Aside from that matter, I really couldn't think of any problems with Klein.

But I really couldn't forget the harm brought to me by that incident.

When I thought about the fact that Klein had arranged for those two people to harm me, I felt even more pained.

I sat there for a long time and thought about it for a long time.

Until the phone in my pocket suddenly rang.

I thought that it was from Klein, but upon seeing the number, I realized that it was a call from Joey. After calming down for a while, I answered the phone and pretended to be calm. "Dear Joey, what's the matter? "Where are you?" Joey sounded a little anxious.

I continued to say in a relaxed tone, "I'm taking a walk outside."

"Did you have a fight with Klein? Tell me where you are? I'll go pick you up." Joey's voice was filled with excitement.

"You don't have to pick me up. I'll be right back," I said.

At this moment. I really missed Lucky. If Lucky couldn't find me, she would be very sad. Then go back immediately. Just now, when Klein called me, he was so worried that he was on the verge of crying!" Joey complained. Hearing this, I was touched. Klein's concern for me wasn't faked. Although he schemed against me, I could see that he really loved me and treated me sincerely. The scale in my heart had shifted a bit towards Klein. "By the way, why did you two quarrel? How dare you run away from home?" Joey asked. I hesitated for a moment before I replied, "It's just some trivial matter. I was in a bad mood and a little anxious." Klein had helped me a lot before. I wouldn't tell anyone about what he did. I would protect his reputation. "Klein treats you very well and has a gentle personality. I knew it was definitely because of you. You should restrain your temper. You must cherish your current happiness, understand?" Joey tried to persuade me. Feeling a little impatient, I said directly, "Please, stop nagging." "Fine. I won't say anything else. Hurry up and go back. Don't let Klein worry too much." After putting down the phone, I stood up and turned to go home. Half an hour later, I reached the entrance of the community and someone grabbed my arm from behind.

"Bella, where have you been? I was worried about you!"

The next moment, I was pulled into Klein's arms.

I could clearly feel the urgency and fear in his tone, I frowned and did not speak. Klein's tone was frantic. 'Bella, you can punish me in any way possible, but please don't disappear, okay? Lucky started looking for you when it was getting dark and she had been crying at home as she didn't see you. I was also very worried about you.' Seeing how much Klein cared about me, the scale in my heart once more tilted towards him. Maybe his method was wrong, but his love for me and Lucky was sincere. I had to go back and see Lucky now. The next moment, I said, 'Let's go back and have a look at Lucky.' Klein was very happy. He took my hand and we headed home together, As soon as I entered the house, I heard Lucky's crying. I quickly walked up to her and picked her up from Jane's arms. 'Mom... Mom..' Lucky shouted when she saw me. I couldn't help blaming myself when I saw the tears on Lucky's face. I was a mother. No matter what reason I had, I couldn't leave the child behind and run out! 'Sorry Lucky, I'm late.'

Bride of Mr.Billion Chapter 270

Chapter 270

Bella's POV:

I gently placed the sleeping Lucky on the bed and then tucked her in. When I returned to the living room, I saw Klein staring at me. For the next half an hour, we didn't say anything. He had always been by my side and did not say a word. I looked at him again. 'What do you have to say?' 'Bella, I sincerely apologize to you. Even if you decide not to marry me, I won't complain about you. I will respect your decision.' Klein's attitude was very sincere. 'What do you mean? Don't you want to marry me?' I asked. 'I... how can I not want to marry you? What I'm most worried about right now is that you refuse to marry me.' Klein said frantically. I thought for a few minutes and said, 'What else are you hiding from me? Or is there anything else I don't know? If there is, I will give you a chance now to tell me everything. I will choose to forgive you this time.' 'We will get married in three days. But if I find out that you have something terrible to hide from me in the future, I won't forgive you!' I decided to give him a chance. He did sacrifice a lot for me. Without him, my life would not be as stable as it was now.

I owed him.

Hearing my words, Klein lowered his head and thought for a moment. 'Is there anything else you're hiding from me?' I asked. Immediately afterward, Klein raised his head and looked at me. In a solemn voice, he said, 'There's another one.' 'What's it?' I was extremely nervous at the moment. 'Does he have another secret?' Just as I was feeling very nervous, Klein spoke. 'I bought a human-shaped bolster with a picture of you printed on it. I usually hid it in a wardrobe and only took it out in the evening. After turning off the light, I held it in my arms and fantasized about you.' Hearing these words, my eyes fir st widened, and then I couldn't help but laugh when I saw the serious look on Klein's face. "So annoying! Who told you to say that? The next moment, I reached out and patted him on the shoulder. At this moment, Klein grabbed my shoulders and said, "You finally laughed. I was afraid that you would still be mad at me." I looked at him and said, "I'm really angry. I didn't expect you to do such a thing." My expression was very serious. I couldn't let this happen again in the future. "Bella, I swear to you that I will never hide anything from you in the future, and I will never use any means or tricks to cheat you. If I violate my oath, I will be hit by a car when I go out in the future..."

Chapter 270

At this time, I quickly reached out and pulled Klein's hand down. I said, "Don't say that Klein laughed. 'I know you don't want me to be hit by a car..."

Klein held me in his arms.

I looked at Klein's smiling face. Although I was still a little angry, I no longer wanted to blame him. Then, Klein laughed. "Would you like to go take a look at the human-shaped bolster in my wardrobe?" "Let the bolster stay with you for two more nights. Anyway, it will be useless in the future!" I said. Klein tugged at my hand, refusing to let go. "I want to sleep with you in my arms today. What should I do?"

I hesitated for a moment, then laughed. "Klein, I'm really tired today. Let me rest for two days. I'll wait until the night of our wedding, okay?" Just now, something like that happened. Although I had already forgiven Klein, I still needed some time to calm down. Klein said, "Fine. I'll listen to you. In any case, I've been waiting for so many days. It's not a big deal to wait for two more days. I pursed my lips into a smile. After sending off Klein, I felt exceptionally tired. Leaning against the bed, I lowered my head to stare at Lucky, who was sleeping in front of me. Looking at my lovely daughter, I felt much better. Little angel, it's lucky that I still have you. Two days passed very quickly. The wedding ceremony between me and Klein would be held this morning Klein arranged for the wedding to be held in the largest church in the city. Although we got married in a hurry, the wedding was arranged in a very grand way, and there were many guests present. Almost all the famous local people had come. Thad already changed into a wedding dress and sat in the dressing room. The make-up artist behind me was arranging my hair and jewelry for me.

Jane held Lucky in her arms. This little girl was very excited to see so many people today.

Mom and Betty were also in the dressing room. Mom had been sitting in front of me and watching the make-up artist make up for me. Sometimes she would give some opinions.

'My daughter is so beautiful.' Mother had said this more than five times, and there was always a smile on her face that was warmer than sunshine. I knew that mother was happy for me. She felt that I finally found happiness.

Betty, on the other hand, had been sitting far away from me. She had been playing with her phone and reading magazines, paying no attention to me at all. Her expression was also very cold, as if it was not her sister getting married, but a stranger...

Chapter 271

Bella's POV I was not very enthusiastic about Betty's attitude. I just said a few words out of courtesy. Betty and I had changed from being closest sisters to strangers. If it weren't for mother, Betty might not have come to attend the wedding today. "Betty, don't play with your phone. Come and see how your sister's makeup is today!" Mother shouted at Betty, who was sitting far away. Under mother's urging, Betty finally walked over with a very cold expression. Glancing at me in the mirror, Betty said perfunctorily, "Mom, the makeup artist hired by Klein is very famous in the city, and his makeup skills are very good. How can ordinary people like us pick a problem?"

Betty sat back down. Mother scolded in a low voice, "What's with your attitude? Today is your sister's wedding." Betty pretended not to hear mother at all. Mother turned around and said to me, "Your sister may be tired. Don't mind her. I'm going to the bathroom."

After that, mother turned and went into the bathroom.

At this time, the makeup artist went to the room next door to do makeup for the bridesmaids and the flower boys, and Jane was outside the door with Lucky in her arms.

Only Betty and I were left in the lounge, and the atmosphere instantly became tense. At this time, Betty still crossed her arms in front of her chest and said with a cold laugh, "Sister, I admire you the most for your ability to deal with men. Now that you have two children, you are actually able to find a man as good as Klein, who treats you so well! I really don't know what method you used to seduce him."

I could hear the mockery in Betty's words. I really didn't expect that one day, my sister would mock me like my enemy.

Although I was angry and sad, I looked in the direction of the bathroom. Mom was inside at the moment. If I quarreled with Betty now, she would definitely be sad. Besides, it was my wedding today.

I didn't want Betty to ruin it.

Therefore, the next moment, I stood up from my chair! I suddenly stood up. Betty took a step back warily and whispered, "What do you want to do?" I could see that Betty still guarded against me. Was she afraid that I would hit her? After all, when she was a child, I would teach her a lesson on behalf of my mother when she was disobedient. But at that time, there was love between us sisters.

But now, we didn't have any feelings left.

I stared at Betty in front of me. Two seconds later, I said, "I'm going to the bathroom!" With that, I lifted my dress and walked out.

Out of the lounge, I turned around and walked to a corridor that was sealed with glass.

I leaned against the glass and suddenly felt a little complicated. Was I about to get married to Klein? We were about to officially become husband and wife. I was a little nervous, but more of it was my yearning for a new life. I said to myself, "It's fine. Everything will be fine. Klein loves you very much." "The future will be very beautiful. Don't worry..." Finally, I calmed down and was about to go back. I suddenly saw a figure in front of me entering the bathroom next to me. It was a fat man. The cap on his head made me recognize him. He was one of the two bastards who had looked for Klein a few days ago. I was stunned. "Today is the day of my marriage with Klein. He specially hired a bodyguard team."

All guests needed an invitation to enter. Why did that fat man suddenly come here?" This was definitely not a coincidence. There must be some conspiracy. The next moment, I gathered my courage and walked to the bathroom. I gently pushed open the door of the men's bathroom.

There was no one inside. The person who entered just now should have entered the compartment inside. I walked in gently and hid in a compartment. At this time, there was the sound of flushing, which covered the sound of me walking in.

To be honest, I was very nervous.

My heart was beating very fast while I was sitting on the toilet. I was really afraid of being discovered by the fat man. What if he did something harmful to me? But how could I know his purpose without using this method? I didn't want to miss such a good opportunity. I quickly held my skirt in front of my chest and lifted my feet, hoping that no one outside would find me.

Soon, I heard someone walking out of the compartment, and then there seemed to be a phone call.

“Klein, I’ll be waiting for you in the washroom on the first floor. You’d better show up in a minute, or my brother will go to the lobby on the first floor to find you! If you don’t come to see me, don’t even think about holding your wedding.” After the fat man finished speaking, he hung up the phone. Hearing the fat man’s words, I immediately frowned. I thought to myself, “What is he doing here? Could it be that they have another deal?” No! No, this fat man sound like he was here to extort money from Klein. He definitely wanted to use this day to continue to ask for money from him. Some people in the underworld wouldn’t keep their promises. Once you asked him to do something, he would blackmail you for the rest of your life and keep asking for money.

Therefore, one could never do such an improper thing. Not only could they hurt others, but they could also hurt themselves. I sat on the toilet nervously, waiting for the arrival of Klein. I had made up my mind. If this fatty continued to extort money from him, I would immediately step forward and tell them that I already knew everything. There was no need for him, to extort any more money.

If he wanted to make trouble, it didn’t matter. I would call the police directly, and they would suffer losses.

Although Klein had done something wrong in the past, I was about to become his wife and it will be my responsibility to take care of my husband.

In addition, I wanted to make it so that in the future, Klein could completely distance himself from these bad people...

Bride of Mr.Billion Chapter 272

Chapter 272

Bella’s POV: Soon, I heard the sound of the door of the toilet being pushed open.

The sound of footsteps was very familiar. It should be Klein.

“What exactly do you want?” Klein’s voice was filled with rage.

The fat man said with a smile, “I just want some money.” “Didn’t I just give it to you last time?” There was a hint of suppressed anger in Klein’s voice. The fat man said shamelessly, “Klein, we’ve heard that you have the ability to make money. Taking care of a large case is equivalent to a commission of hundreds of thousands of dollars. If you can earn so much money, and we’ve done something illegal for you, you probably won’t refuse to pay, right?”

“But you can’t always come here to ask for money. I don’t own a bank.” Klein said. The fat man’s tone was very fierce. “I’m telling you that if you don’t give us 15,000 dollars today, we will make you lose face. Your reputation is much more important than 15,000 dollars, isn’t it?” “You...are bandits!” Klein said. Hearing these words from within the booth, I knew that in the future, Klein would definitely submit. After all, he was a lawyer, and his reputation was simply too important to him. Moreover, the guests outside were all people with high status in the city. Afterwards, I put down my feet and prepared to put down my skirt as well. I decided to go out right now and stand next to Klein. I couldn’t let that scumbag succeed! My hand was already on the door handle. I had already made up my mind as to how I would be able to cooperate with Klein to shake off these two detestable people. Before I had time to open the door, the fat man outside continued, “Even if we are bandits, we were hired by you. You are a famous lawyer in the city. You not only know the law, but you help people file lawsuits. What we did for you is suspected murder. You know what kind of consequences you will receive, don’t you?” Hearing this, I withdrew my hand, which was about to open the door. Murder? Didn’t Klein just let the two of them pretend to be bandits to scare me? How could he be suspected of murder?

Could it be that Klein wanted the two of them to do something else? At this moment, I was especially panicked. I didn’t continue to push open the door, but listened to the conversation, hoping to find out what I wanted to know.

“Don’t talk nonsense. Back then, I told you to create a traffic accident. I didn’t say that I wanted you to hit someone and injure him!” Klein said.

Hearing this, I was stunned.

What did he mean? Create a traffic accident? Who did Klein order them to hit?

At this moment, I was extremely scared, no, extremely frightened!

Klein actually had something hidden from me, and it was something as serious as creating a traffic accident.

Klein, what kind of person are you? “This time, you harmed our brother. You asked us to create a traffic accident, but you didn’t say that the other party was actually a big shot. Our brother smashed the car, and the other party’s arm was fractured. Now, our brother is hiding everywhere, and that person has been sending people to keep an eye on us. He is the president of the Wharton Group.” “That’s the president of the Wharton Group! We can’t afford to offend him. Can we brothers afford to offend such a person? No, no, you have to give us at least 75,000 dollars. We don’t dare to stay in the city anymore. We have to go out and hide!” When I heard this, my whole body was trembling.

The last time Herbert did the parent-child test, he was late. It was because, there was a traffic accident on the road. His arm was broken, and he was still in cast, while Lucas's head was seriously injured. It turned out that the traffic accident was not accidental. It was arranged by Klein. Thinking of this, my hands were shaking. Klein... Klein was actually capable of doing such a thing? There was not only Herbert in the car, but also Lucas.

Klein.

"God! Who was I going to marry?" I felt a little dizzy. Klein was simply too terrifying! He acted like he supported me and would treat my child like his own child.

But he almost killed Lucas.

I was extremely angry. I couldn't forgive him!

Hearing the fat man's words, Klein, who was outside, was extremely nervous as well. He stepped forward, grabbed his arm, and asked, "What did you say? Did you say that Herbert sent someone to keep an eye on your brothers? Did he find out that you were always looking for me?"

The fat man pushed Klein aside, saying, "It's best if you give us money and let us leave immediately. Otherwise, if we are caught by Herbert, or if he has any evidence, we will all be finished!" Klein immediately said, "75,000 dollars. Fine. I'll immediately have my secretary transfer it to your account. You and your brothers, leave immediately!" "Well, you'd better keep your word, or we won't let you go!" "Go pack your things right now. The money will be transferred to your account shortly." Klein said. "Fine, then we will leave first. I wish you a happy marriage!" After speaking, the fat man walked out of the bathroom.

Then, Klein took out his phone and quickly dialed a number. At this moment, I slowly got up from the toilet, put down the wide hem of my skirt, took a deep breath, opened the door of the compartment, and walked out!

At this moment, the call was connected. Klein hurriedly said to the other end, "Immediately transfer 75,000 dollars to the account I gave you a few days ago..."

"Bella?" Klein stared at me with wide eyes. I immediately walked over, raised my hand, and struck it viciously against Klein's face!

Bride of Mr. Billion Chapter 273

Chapter 273

Bella's POV:

When I hit Klein, he didn't dodge.

"Bella, you...why are you here?" Klein asked in surprise.

Troared angrily, "Klein, you've gone too far!" Klein stepped forward, grabbed my arm, and hurriedly explained, "Bella, it's not what you think. Let me explain..." "Okay, I'll listen to your explanation. Tell me!" I folded my arms in front of my chest and waited for him to speak. In fact, at this moment, I hoped that he could show the evidence to prove that he didn't do that. But Klein hesitated, unable to utter a complete sentence. "Is what the fat man just said true? It was on the day of the DNA test between Lucas and I. Herbert and Lucas had a car accident, and it was arranged by you, wasn't it?" I asked. "... " Klein still couldn't finish a single sentence! "You can't explain, can you? Klein, you really are terrifying!" I roared angrily at him. Fortunately, the car accident was not serious. Lucas was only slightly injured. If my child died in the car accident... Oh, no, I didn't dare to imagine what would happen if the car accident was more serious.

Klein didn't explain. He stretched out his hand, trying to touch me.

I took two steps back and yelled at him, "Don't touch me!" "Fine. I won't touch you. Can you listen to me for a bit?" Klein's hands remained in mid-air, extremely nervous as he spoke to me in a pleading voice. "There's nothing to say. Klein, we're finished!" When I said those final words, my eyes began to turn moist.

He used to be the most important person to me in the past, but now, he changed in an instant. This man was too despicable and cruel.

He did not hesitate to hurt a child for the love he wanted. This love was too heavy. I couldn't accept it. Klein had a pained look on his face. He said, "Bella, do you know how much I love you? I have never had such strong feelings for a woman. For you, I can give up the world!" "Before this thing happens, I really want to marry you. I even thought about our future life. I believe you love me, but your love is too selfish. You just want to have me. You are a lawyer. Don't you understand that what you have done is a crime?" I asked with tears.

"Of course I know! Before I met you, my character and professional ethics were absolutely flawless. But since I met you, my feelings for you were too strong..." "I don't even dare to imagine the scene of you leaving me. I don't want to lose you. Bella, I really don't mean any harm. I won't allow those two people to hurt you. As for the traffic accident I created, I have also warned them in advance. I just wanted them to hit Herbert's car and stop him from coming to the appraisal center. I never thought about killing them!" "In addition, Herbert is my cousin. Although he and I are in conflict right now, I don't want to see him die. What's more, Lucas is your son. I definitely won't hurt him." Klein had already calmed down when he recounted, and he wasn't as agitated as he was just now. "Shut up! You'r e such a hypocrite! You said that you wouldn't hurt Lucas, but in fact, what you've done has hurt my child!"

I covered my mouth and cried. I couldn't control my emotions anymore.

I knew that what Klein said was true, and I also believed in his love for me.

But I couldn't accept what he did.

The next moment, Klein let out a sigh. "Bella, no matter what sort of hard work I make, in the end, you still won't belong to me. Fine, then. Our wedding will be canceled."

After speaking, Klein turned and walked out of the bathroom. I couldn't hold on any longer, so I stepped forward and supported the wall. To me, Klein was like a family member.

When he left, I knew that we were completely over!

This feeling was too painful, in fact, as long as I wanted, our wedding could continue, and I didn't have to lose the most important knight in my life.

But I couldn't.

No matter how much he loved me, it was not the reason for suspected murder.

More than ten minutes later, I wiped away my tears, calmed down, and left the bathroom.

Walking in the corridor with French window, I was very depressed.

"Bella?"

Just as I was feeling conflicted, someone called me by my name from behind. I instinctively looked back and suddenly saw Hank standing behind me. I was stunned, I wiped the tears from the corners of my eyes and forced a smile. "You... Why are you here?"

"It's a little stuffy inside, so I came out to get some fresh air." Hank looked at me and smiled.

I didn't respond.

"Bella, why are you crying?" Hank asked. Hearing this, I quickly wiped my cheeks and answered perfunctorily, "No... nothing." Hank asked, "Bella, aren't you happy now?"

"..." I didn't know how to answer.

If he had asked such a question half an hour ago, I would have told him that I was very happy.

But now, everything had changed. I believed that soon, everyone would know that the wedding had been canceled.

Hank continued, "I thought you found happiness, so I wished you well in my heart. But it doesn't seem to be like this..."

Bride of Mr.Billion Chapter 274

Chapter 274

Bella's POV: I interrupted

Hank. "Hank, it's my business whether I'm happy or not. It has nothing to do with you. You should care about Betty and your child!" Although I didn't have a good relationship with Betty, she was my sister after all. I didn't want her to be unhappy, nor did I want her to hate me.

Hank's face showed an expression of pain. After a few seconds of silence, he said, "Bella, I really can't continue to live with Betty."

"What do you mean?" I frowned and asked. Before Hank could say anything, a harsh male voice came from behind me. "Don't you understand what he means? If you cancel the wedding, he will divorce me, and then you can organize a new family!" Hearing this, I turned my head and saw Betty walking over in high heels, looking arrogant. When she looked at Hank, she was very indifferent. When she looked at me, she was very disdainful.

It seemed that Hank and I were her enemies.

"Betty, what are you talking about?" Hank growled at Betty.

"Am I talking nonsense? You've been married to me for almost three years. Have you ever forgotten her? The way you look at her now is more gentle than you look at me. Do you think I'm a fool?" Betty burst into anger and shouted at Hank.

Hank had a painful look on his face. Then he stamped his feet and said, "Yes! You're right. I really like Bella. I've always liked her for so many years. I've never changed it!"

"Hank, you're not a human!" Betty took two steps back, bent down, and shouted. Tears welled up in her eyes in an instant. "Even if I'm not a human, it was you who climbed into my bed. I didn't force you. After that, you insisted to marry me. I didn't do anything to I et you down. From the beginning, I couldn't have given you my feelings. In fact, you know this better than anyone else. It's just that you don't want to admit it." Hank's voice was full of depression. Obviously, he had already erupted. Maybe he had endured it for too long. "Do you know how much I love you? How dare you say such a thing..." "It's been three years. I love you every day, and I look up to you every day. I'm happy if you're happy. I'm upset if you're upset!" "I took care of you, took care of this home, and took care of our child... What else do you want me to do? What do you want me to do to make you love me?" Betty squatted on the ground and cried painfully. "Betty, love is a double-sided thing. You can't add your love to a person who doesn't love you. I'll be under a lot of pressure in this way." "I have really had a hard time in the past three years. Yes, I also tried to fall in love with you, but I still couldn't do it. I'm sorry!" Hank took two steps back. Although there were apologies in his eyes, he was more determined.

"If you don't care about me, then what about our child?" Betty wept bitterly.

There were tears in Hank's eyes. "If you're willing to take Anne with you, I'll give you enough money every month. If you don't want to take her with you, Anne's right to raise her will be mine. You don't need to pay any money. And when you miss her, you can come to see her at any time." Betty sneered when she heard that. "Haha, it turns out that you've already thought about it. You want to divorce me for a long time, haven't you?" Betty's eyes suddenly turned grim. Seeing the two quarreling people, I knew that their contradiction was very serious. It seemed that Hank didn't want to compromise this time.

I was embarrassed to be here, not to mention that I couldn't care about them now. My own business was like a mess.

So, the next moment, I lifted my wedding dress, turned around, and went to the lounge.

But Betty blocked my way! "What do you want to do?" I asked her. "Have you reached an agreement with Hank?" Betty asked. "What do you mean? I don't understand." I thought Betty was like a mad dog. She transferred her anger to me because Hank didn't love her. Betty's tone was fierce. "Do you think I'm a fool? Hank is going to divorce me. You and Klein actually canceled today's wedding. Don't tell me the two have nothing to do with each other?"

"You said that Klein had already announced that the wedding ceremony had been canceled?" I confirmed with Betty. Betty laughed coldly. "Not only did he personally announce that the wedding had been canceled, he had even put all the blame on him. My dear sister, Klein treats you so well. You must be the reason why the wedding has been canceled, right?" I wanted to go back to the church to deal with some things now.

So I ignored Betty and went straight to the lounge. But I didn't expect Betty to suddenly push me. She shouted, "Bella, I'm telling you, I won't give you a place. I won't divorce Hank!"

I didn't look back and shouted, "Whether you divorce or not has nothing to do with me. You can do whatever you want!"

Hank's POV:

Betty actually pushed Bella! I couldn't help frowning. I grabbed Betty's arm and growled, "Have you had enough?" "No, no!" Betty yelled at me as if she had gone mad. I didn't love Betty, but as long as she didn't always act like a lunatic, I could endure my true feelings and spend the rest of my life with her.

But she always created various contradictions.

Thated her more and more now.

I turned and left.

Betty refused to let me go. She stretched out her arms and stopped me. "Where are you going?"

"Back to school!" I said. Betty's voice came from behind. "If you don't go home on time, I will go to the school to find you!! will never allow you to divorce me." "Unless I die, you will never leave me." The crazy Betty made me feel suffocated.

My hands were clenched into fists, and my brows were tightly knitted together as I sped up to leave.

Bella's POV: I reached out and pushed open the door to the lounge, only to see my mother talking to Klein.

"Klein, you and Bella have always been very close. In addition, you already have a child. Right now, hundreds of guests are present. Why did you suddenly cancel the wedding? Did Bella do something wrong?" Mother was very worried. "Mother, it's all my fault. It has nothing to do with Bella. I was the one who wanted to cancel the wedding. Please don't blame Bella." Klein was extremely apologetic towards mother's words.

"You... why did you cancel the wedding? Don't you love Bella?" Mother asked. "It's me..." At this moment, Klein couldn't say a word. At this time, I immediately stepped forward and grabbed m other, saying, "Mom, it was my decision to cancel today's wedding. As for the specific reason, I can't explain it to you. Don't ask anymore." Klein had done such a bad thing. I wouldn't forgive him. But I remembered that he used to be so good to me that I was willing to keep his secret and protect his reputation.

Mother was very angry. "What do you mean? Do you treat marriage as a game?" "Mother, in truth, it was all my fault..." Klein wanted to go forward and explain. I stopped him and said, "There is no right or wrong in love. I will explain it to my mother. You can go!"

Klein hesitated for a moment, then nodded. "Mom, I'm leaving now!"

After speaking, Klein walked out of the lounge. After Klein left, mother began to sob. "Bella, I know you've always had your own ideas. From now on, I won't ask about your affairs anymore. It's up to you to decide!" After that, mother covered her mouth and turned to leave in disappointment.

At this time, I began to cry. I walked up to Jane and reached out to hold Lucky into my arms.

The moment I held Lucky in my arms, my eyes became moist. The person who should have become my husband had left. Mother had left. Betty hated me... "Good thing I still have you." I pulled down my low-collar wedding dress and fed Lucky milk. While feeding her milk, I cried...

Half an hour later, Lucky fell asleep in my arms, but my arms were already numb. Seeing this, Jane quickly stepped forward to take Lucky from me and put her in the stroller.

I took a look at myself in the mirror. At this moment, I had not removed my makeup, and I was still wearing a wedding dress. So I ordered, "Jane, go back first. I'll go back after removing my makeup and changing my clothes." "Okay." Jane nodded, and then pushed the stroller with Lucky out of the lounge. After Jane left, I sat in front of the dressing mirror, took off the jewelry on my earlobe and neck, and wiped the exquisite makeup on my face with a tissue... Twenty minutes later, I had taken off my expensive wedding dress and exquisite makeup. In the mirror was a woman in ordinary clothes. Then, I put on a black fur coat, took my bag, and left the lounge. Walking into the church, I saw that the staff was removing the posters, flowers, and wedding items for the wedding. There were also some guests sitting in the church and chatting. That became another person again. No, I still had Lucas and Lucky. This time, I wouldn't be alone, so the feeling of being single several times was different. Although I was depressed at the moment, I was still full of fighting spirit. I wanted to live my life. I wanted to live a better life.

At this time, when I looked up, I suddenly saw a familiar figure standing at the exit of the church.

The man was looking at me with no expression on his face.

I know she's waiting for me.

Bride of Mr. Billion Chapter 276

Chapter 276

Bella's POV:

"Long time no see!" | greeted Ella with a smile.

There wasn't a hint of a smile on Ella's face. After hesitating for a moment, she said, "Bella, I'm here to attend your wedding with Klein. I wanted to give you my blessings, but I didn't expect things to turn out like this." "I'm sorry for wasting your time," I said.

Ella was secretly in love with Klein. If I didn't marry him, would she be happy? After all, no one was willing to let someone they liked get married with someone else. "Bella, I want to know why you gave up on your wedding with Klein?" Ella asked. I didn't want to tell her about what happened with Klein. Thus, I laughed. "How did you know that I gave up on Klein?" Ella, on the other hand, turned her face away and smiled. She then replied, "Bella, I know Klein too well. You are the woman he loves the most."

"Although he announced that the wedding was canceled today, I know that you don't want to marry him. Otherwise, he will never give up. And he loves you very much, so he took all the blame on him. He said that it was because of his personal reason that the wedding was canceled. It was he who let you down. I won't believe these bullshit words."

I chuckled and said, "You really know him very well." "What's the use of knowing? He loves you." There was a trace of sadness in her beautiful eyes when she said this. Ella was truly a very good person, with both beauty and wisdom. In addition, she liked Klein. In truth, if Klein could be with her, perhaps only then would they be happy.

"It won't happen again," I said. "What did you say?" Ella frowned and asked, not understanding what I meant. I explained, "I said that everything between me and Klein is over. I've already taken back my feelings for him. I think he will soon take back his feelings for me." I was very clear about what I meant. Ella had a chance again. But Ella didn't think so. "Bella, do you know how to love? If it's as easy as you said, and you can take it back as you want, then the world will suffer less."

I was struck dumb by Ella's words. Yes, she was right. How could I take back my true feelings for him? If I could take back my feelings for him, perhaps it was because I didn't love him? I lost control of myself in the face of love.

Herbert had done a lot of things to hurt me. My reason was suppressing my feelings, but when there was no one else, I would still miss him.

“Yes, love is really helpless.” I nodded. Seeing my expression, Ella said, “Alright, I understand. You don’t love Klein. At the very least, you don’t love him enough. It’s his luck that he didn’t marry you today.”

Ella was indeed a smart person. From my words, she could tell that the person I love isn’t Klein. “Although we can’t be husband and wife, I still hope that he will be happy in the future. I’m sorry, I have something to do. I’ll go first!” I soon ended the conversation with Ella. “Goodbye.” Ella nodded. I walked out of the hotel, down the steps, and strolled in the hotel parking lot, feeling complicated. I knew that Lucky and I must move out of Klein’s house. That too find a house that I could rent as soon as possible. At this time, a figure suddenly got out of a car, which startled me.

When I took a closer look, I saw that it was Hank.

Seeing him all of a sudden, I couldn’t help frowning. Then I looked around and didn’t see Betty. “It’s only me. Betty has gone home,” Hank said. Hearing this, I hesitated for a moment, then looked up at Hank and asked, “Did you deliberately wait for me here?”

The wedding had been canceled, and almost all the guests had left. He was still here, and it could be seen that he was waiting for someone. “I want to know why you canceled the wedding today.” Hank asked directly. Hearing this, I said, “Hank, although we are relatives now, marriage is my own private affair. It has nothing to do with you whether I cancel the wedding or decide to marry anyone!” I suddenly hated Hank. He always found an opportunity to get close to me, so Betty misunderstood

1. me.

DO

Betty was indeed too crazy, but Hank had done something wrong.

“I’m just concerned about you,” Hank said.

“I don’t need your concern. Don’t forget that you are my sister’s husband. We don’t need to meet and communicate in private!” I said to him angrily. “I’ll won’t be your sister’s husband soon. Betty and I will definitely divorce,” Hank said with certainty. Hearing this, I was even angrier. Although I didn’t want to meddle in their affairs, I couldn’t help reminding him. “I can’t interfere with the relationship between you adults, nor will I interfere. I only hope that you can give the child the best arrangement.”

At this time, Hank reached out and punched the door of a car! “I know you won’t like me in this life, so I don’t have any other

r extravagant hopes. I just want you to live a good life. I wanted to live a good life with Betty. Even if she's not my beloved woman, she's still my child's mother. I once wanted to develop a relationship with her, but she's too narrow-minded and suspicious. We don't have any common language." "Sol put all my energy into my work, but... I didn't expect that she would go to school and make trouble. She said that I neglected her and even thought that the female student who asked me for advice seduced me!" At this point, Hank was already very angry.

Chapter 277

Bella's POV:

I didn't expect Betty to be so narrow-minded, but I was also a very bad sister.

Not to mention others.

Hank continued, "She went to the school to insult the female student, but the girl couldn't bear the pressure and dropped out of school."

"How could this be?" I asked, surprised. I actually believed in Hank's character. It was absolutely impossible for him to have an improper relationship with a female student. Betty did go too far this time. "That female student's parents often came to school to find me, and they even came to my home to scold Betty. My current life is really terrible. I can't even live the most basic life," Hank said with distress.

Hearing this, I didn't know what to say.

I didn't expect Betty's character to be so scary.

The next moment, Hank continued, "Just now Betty threatened me. If I don't go home on time, she will go to school to make trouble."

At this point, Hank gave a wry smile. "I've already resigned. How can I still stand on the podium and teach the students? What will my students think of me? When the management approve my resignation, Betty can't affect my work anymore."

Hearing that he had already submitted the resignation letter, I frowned. I knew that Hank liked the job as a university teacher very much, and he had been working very hard at teaching students. Now he even gave up his career in order to get a divorce with Betty. It could be seen that Betty had forced him to such an extent. "I respect your decision, but I hope you won't hurt Betty and her child. After all, Betty used to be your wife and the mother of your child," I said. I knew that Hank must have thought about it for a long time.

So I couldn't persuade him with a few words.

In addition, it was not necessarily a good thing for Betty and him to maintain this unhappy marriage.

"I will." Hank nodded. Then, he suddenly let out a sigh of relief and said, "I'm in a much better mood after telling you all this today. Thank you, Bella for listening to me." At this moment, I realized that Hank just wanted to talk to me. It seemed that I had misunderstood him just now. In fact, Hank was also a poor person. There was no winner in the marriage with Betty.

Suddenly, I thought of the scene when I took Betty to find Hank to let him take responsibility. Maybe I was wrong at that time. I shouldn't have agreed to their marriage. Now it ended up like this.

But there was no medicine for regret in the world. Everyone had to be responsible for what they had done, including myself. "Nothing." I forced a smile and said, "I hope you can live a happy life in the future. I've played the role in your marriage with Betty. I'm also responsible." "Any sister in the world will do the same thing as you did in the past. I don't blame you, but Betty doesn't think so now. She has a knot in her heart now. I hope she can get rid of it as soon as possible in the future. Otherwise, she won't be happy for the rest of her life," Hank said. I nodded and made an excuse to leave first.

After I got back, I began to pack up my luggage, and I was still calling to find a house. In the past two days, I had packed up my luggage, but I had not found a suitable house yet. Looking out of the window, I couldn't help but feel a little worried. I didn't have enough money to rent a house now, and if I couldn't rent a proper house, I was afraid that Lucky couldn't stand it. After all, she was too young and needed a warm and tidy environment. But it had been two days and two nights since Klein had returned. I had secretly looked at the door opposite twice, but there was indeed no sign of his return.

I was a little worried.

Thus, I secretly called Amy and asked her if Klein had gone to the office in the past two days. Amy said that Klein had been here once in the past two days, and she didn't know the rest of the time. However, if there was something important in QW Law Firm department, she would call him, and the phone could be connected. Knowing that Klein was safe, I was relieved. He wasn't as weak as I had imagined. After putting down the phone, I thought that perhaps the reason why Klein didn't come back was to avoid me and Lucky. After all, it was a little awkward for us to get along with each other now. Thinking of this, I took the rental advertisement and dialed them one by one. I hoped to find a house as soon as possible. Even if it was a little expensive, I couldn't care so much now. Just when I was about to make a phone call to look for a house, a phone call sud denly came. I looked down and saw that it was Joey who called. I knew she must have called to teach me a lesson, so I answered the phone. "Hey, Joey, you..." Before she could finish her sentence, Joey's cry came from the other end of the line. "What are you doing? The line is never connected..." Hearing that, I became nervous, because Joey was a heartless person. She wouldn't cry like this if she hadn't encountered something big. "What happened, Joey?" I asked anxiously. "Bella, my mother is dying. I don't know what to do. I need your help now..." Joey's voice sounded helpless and miserable.

Hearing this, I suddenly stood up. "Where are you now?" "The hospital," Joey replied, sobbing. "I'll be right there!" I hung up and ran out.
