

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2268

Chapter 2268

Emilio replied politely: "Eldest sister, I haven't received the exact news of my father's death. If I get the news, I will definitely notify everyone in the family group."

The elder sister responded: "That's good. We are also very sad when the accident happened."

"How did you know that father had an accident?" Emilio asked.

The elder sister: "The people of the old house said that you can't contact our father. Emilio, I have been waiting for you to inform us, but I haven't waited..."

"Sister, it's not that I hide it on purpose, but that my father lost contact. It's just this one day. I don't know what he's doing now. How can I casually say something happened to him? What if he suddenly comes back?" Emilio said, "If he comes back, we'll think he's dead when we see him. I'm afraid he will be furious."

The elder sister: "Okay, I thought you had the exact news!"

Emilio: "I don't."

"Okay. Emilio, eldest sister, please ask, do you know the contents of Dad's will?" In the eyes of other brothers and sisters, Emilio is the heir identified by Travis. They all envy Emilio. At the same time, they also know that even if his father dies, most of his father's property must be left to Emilio.

They just wish they could have a sip of soup.

As the children of the Jones family, it was impossible for their father not to give them a house, right?

"Eldest sister, you have to ask our father's lawyer." Emilio said, "Father has been threatening me with his inheritance to listen to him. If something happened to him this time, it would be an emergency... So I-I don't know how his will was made."

Eldest sister: "Oh! Emilio, you don't have to worry about it. My father prefers sons to daughters, and your eldest brother is like that again... Father will definitely give you most of the inheritance. I really envy you!"

"It's too early to say envy. With my father's temper, maybe he would rather donate all his property than leave it to our children." Emilio said sarcastically.

Eldest sister: "How is that possible! Emilio, our father is not that kind of person. He usually praises you in front of me. You didn't make him angry like the big brother, how could he not give you property?"

"Has he praised me?" Emilio had never heard his father praise him.

"Yes! He said that although you are not as capable as your elder brother, you are more aware of your senses and listen to him more than your elder brother. Between you and your elder brother, he likes you more." When the elder sister said this, she paused, "By the way, he also said that you are the one who looks the most like him among all the children."

Emilio never knew that his father said these words in private.

"Emilio, if you inherit the Jones family, can you still let me continue to work in the Jones family?" The eldest sister asked suddenly.

Emilio: "Sister, as long as you are willing to continue doing your current job, of course there is no problem."

Eldest sister: "Mmmm! Then I won't disturb you. You have news from our father, remember to inform everyone."

Emilio: "Okay."

Aryadelle.

Early in the morning, Gwen came to Foster's house with two oversized shopping bags.

At this point, Layla hadn't gone to school yet.

She pulled open the bag that her aunt had brought, and glanced inside.

"Auntie, what kind of clothes is this? A skirt?"

Gwen smiled and took out the dressing gown from the bag and showed it to Layla: "This is a dressing gown. This is for your mother."

"Oh... ..morning gown!" Layla was stunned for a moment, then asked, "What is a dressing gown? Isn't this a nightgown?"

"Haha! It's not a nightgown, it's a dressing gown. But you can understand it as Pajamas." Gwen said, the bodyguard came to remind Layla to go out.

“Aunt, why are you giving this to my mom? My mom doesn’t like to wear this...my mom only likes to wear the ones she bought...” Layla walked to the door, not forgetting to go back and remind Gwen.

Chapter 2269

Gwen: “Haha! Aunt naturally has a way to make your mother accept it, so you can go to school at ease!”

After Layla left, Robert finished drinking the milk, came over, and pulled the bag.

“Baby Robert, are you going to school too? Auntie really wants to stay with you for a while.” Gwen hugged Robert up, reluctant to let go.

Robert showed a bright and innocent smile: “Then I won’t go to school today, I’ll play with my aunt! Just ask my father and teacher to ask for leave!”

Gwen let out a ‘puff’ and couldn’t help laughing.

“Auntie can come and play with you on weekends! If you don’t go to school, I’m afraid your mother will blame me! When your mother was in school, she was a genius!” Gwen hugged Robert and walked out, “Auntie sent you to school. Are you okay? Auntie hasn’t seen to your kindergarten yet!”

“Okay! Then I’ll take you to see my kindergarten!” Robert looked proud and was carried out by her aunt.

Not long after they left, Avery went downstairs after washing up. Looking at the two large white bags in the living room, she was a little curious.

Mrs. Cooper replied: “This is what Gwen brought up, saying it was a morning gown for you.”

“Oh, why did Gwen give me this?” Avery took out the morning gown from the bag.

She was holding a men’s dressing gown, which was very long.

“Is this for Elliot?” Avery compared the morning gown to herself, and the hem of the gown was dragging to the ground.

“Looking at the length, it should be a man’s.” Mrs. Cooper said, taking out the dressing gown from the other bag.

This length was more suitable for Avery.

“Why did Gwen suddenly think of giving this to us?” Avery took the lady’s morning gown in her hand, and touched the fabric of the gown, which felt very comfortable. But...she didn’t like to wear this kind of clothes.

There were also home clothes at home, but she preferred to wear her own casual clothes, so she didn’t have to go back to the room to change clothes if she had to go out.

“Maybe Gwen doesn’t know that you don’t like to wear this kind of clothes!” Mrs. Cooper explained with a smile, “But Mr. Foster prefers to wear this kind of clothes.”

“Well. Both of these can be worn by him.” Avery joked, “This one is also quite wide.”

“Mr. Foster has lost a lot of weight now, maybe I can really wear this one for you.”

The two chatted for a while, and after a while, Gwen came back from kindergarten.

“Avery!” Gwen went into the room and changed into slippers, seeing that the two dressing gowns had been taken out and placed on the sofa, so she strode over, “This is the dressing gown I bought for you and my second brother, what do you think? How is it? Does it look good?”

“Gwen, why did you suddenly buy us a morning gown?” Avery took breakfast and walked from the dining room to the living room, “The style is very beautiful, I like it very much.”

“You just like it! I bought this for myself, and I liked it, so I bought one for you too.” Gwen had already thought of a reason, “The morning gown was worn on the morning of the wedding day. I plan to wear it on the morning of the wedding day. “

“Oh...it’s pretty good! The fabric is still shiny! It’s much softer than the silk fabric. It must look good on the mirror.” Avery boasted.

“Mmmm! Avery, I have already dry cleaned these two morning gowns. You can hang them in your wardrobe. You don’t wear them now, and you will wear them on New Year’s Day.” Gwen explained.

Avery was stunned for a moment: “Why can’t you wear it now? Your brother likes to wear this kind of robe.”

Avery’s voice was settled, and Elliot walked downstairs.

Elliot walked to Avery, saw the robe on the sofa, and immediately took a look. Then... he put it on and tried it on.

"It's so beautiful to wear." Avery tidied up his robes and tied him a belt.

Gwen sighed in her heart, she couldn't do anything about them.

"Wear it! Wear it! Anyway, even if you start wearing it now, it won't be worn out on New Year's Day." Gwen smiled.

"Gwen, you look down on your brother too much. His clothes have never been worn." Avery didn't take Gwen's words just now to let them wear it on New Year's Day to heart.

After all, clothes were bought to wear.

"I know that the second brother has a lot of clothes." Gwen said, "Ben also has a lot of clothes. I asked him why he has so many clothes, and he said that he doesn't have as many clothes as the second brother."

"Well, your second brother is more handsome." Avery finished joking, and asked, "Gwen, you came here so early, surely you haven't had breakfast yet?"

"I wasn't hungry when I went out, but now I'm a little hungry." Gwen said, walking towards the dining room, "Avery, let me show you my wedding dress? You can help me with the staff."

"Okay! Let's have breakfast first! Let's have breakfast before looking at it." Avery said.

"Mmmm! There are also wedding shoes, and makeup... help me take a look." Gwen's task today was to determine these.

After all, it would be New Year's Day soon.

"You should be better at this than me, right? After all, you usually have to wear makeup and beautiful clothes at work..." Avery was afraid that her opinion was not professional enough, "And I think you're very beautiful no matter what clothes you wear, You are a ready-made clothes hanger, even wearing a piece of cloth can give people a sense of luxury."

Gwen couldn't help laughing.

When Avery saw Elliot approaching, she immediately asked, "Elliot, am I right?"

"Well." Elliot agreed and sat down beside Avery, "but it's good for you to help her take a look. Your vision is also good."

Gwen laughed: "Second brother, you mean that Avery chose to marry you, so you have a good vision?"

"Smart." Elliot was in a good mood, "Have you set a date for your wedding with Ben? New Year's Day or Aryadellian New Year?"

"It should be Aryadellian New Year!" Gwen felt a little guilty, "I'll send you invitations at that time."

"You came so early today just to give you a nightgown?" Elliot saw that her eyes were flickering. So he asked.

"I have a little insomnia, so I came to play with Avery!" Gwen looked into Elliot's eyes, not at all timid, "Don't worry, I won't take Avery out to play, I will play at your house."

"If you really want to take her out to play, I won't stop it." Elliot felt that Avery was a little bored with him at home every day.

If Avery went out to play, Elliot would happily send her out.

"It's too cold outside, what's there to do?" Gwen muttered, "I went out to play with Tammy two days ago, and my legs hurt. But Tammy is not tired at all. I think Tammy is more suitable to enter the modeling industry. Unfortunately, Tammy has a mine at home."

"Tammy really likes shopping. Even if she doesn't need anything, she can spend a few hours on the street." Avery recalled the past, "She gave me a lot of clothes and bags."

Gwen: "Tammy is so nice. Not only is her name sweet, but she is even sweeter."

"Why don't you call Tammy and you two will talk to her?" Elliot got goosebumps when he heard it.

"Tammy is not available. I made an appointment with her yesterday." Gwen replied, "She said that the company has been busy recently."
