

When His Eyes Opened

Chapter 2389

• • •

Chapter 2389

“Well. I know Layla is very sensible. She is no longer a child, so I am suddenly a little worried whether she will have that kind of feeling for Eric.”

Avery expressed her concerns.

These words made Mrs. Cooper also worried.

“To be honest, I didn’t think about it. But your worries are not unreasonable, Layla is really a big girl. Now children have access to the Internet earlier, and they will mature a little earlier than before. If you are worried, you can talk to Layla.” Mrs. Cooper said.

Avery: "I don't know how to talk about it. Eric is so good, so many girls like him, including me, and I admire him very much. I'm afraid that Layla's age can't tell the difference..."

"Would you like to talk to Eric? I think Eric is a more measured person. If Layla confesses to him, he will definitely refuse." Mrs. Cooper said that, she was relieved, "You are from Eric. Benefactor, Eric will definitely not mess with Layla."

"I'm not worried that Eric will mess with Layla. Otherwise I wouldn't let Eric take Layla out to play before. I was afraid that Layla would be so affecting my own life."

Avery shook her head, "I don't want to think about this for now. It was Elliot who was suddenly a little sentimental today that the child will leave us when he grows up, so I will follow my wild thoughts.”

Mrs. Cooper: “Why do you think about this?”

“Elliot has become more and more sentimental recently. Probably because he is getting older, he often needs me to coax him.” Avery said this, the corners of her mouth raised, “I think he is quite cute like this.”

“Seeing that your feelings are getting more and more better, I’m really happy for you.” Mrs. Cooper said and was sincerely happy for them.

Avery thought for a few seconds and said, “Even when I was with him in the past, there would always be some messy pessimistic thoughts, but this time they’re gone. This time I feel very at ease.”

Mrs. Cooper: "It's good to be steadfast. It means that your hearts are settled down!"

...

Avery took a look at Elliot and Robert after dinner.

The father and son were so fascinated by the game of checkers that they had no time to pay attention to her.

So she went to her daughter's study to see how her daughter's homework was going.

Layla saw her mother come in and stretched while holding the pen.

Layla: "Mom, I have a lot of homework! I feel like I can't finish writing."

"Let's write after dinner!" Avery walked to the desk and glanced at her daughter's homework tonight.

There were still two papers not written.

“Mom, I can’t eat it.” Layla pursed her small mouth, “Uncle Eric said that I must do well in the final exam this time, and he would take me to play during the winter vacation.”

Layla took the initiative to talk about Eric, which made Avery couldn’t help but follow the topic and chatted:

“Layla, mom knows you like Uncle Eric, but if Uncle Eric has a girlfriend, you can’t stick to him like that.”

Layla: “Uncle Eric said he’s not looking for a girlfriend.”

“He hasn’t met the right one yet. Maybe one day he will meet the right one.” Avery looked at her daughter’s expression and had a bad premonition in her heart.

• • •