Chapter 20 A Bet With a Beautiful Woman

Joel cursed in his mind. Who dares to behave atrociously in Hammel Group headquarters? Do they want to die?

“Someone, lock the main entrance, kill anyone who dares to trespass!” Joel commanded and broke down the door with a punch. However, he almost vomited when he saw the scene in the room.

Poor Justin, a high-standing young man from a prominent family, was violated on the floor by two bulky men. His bottom was completely exposed. It was an indecent sight.

“Joel, you must avenge me. My... My bottom hurts so bad...” Justin wailed pitifully and clung to Joel. Snot and tears flowed as he cried.

On the other hand, Joel’s face was sullen, “Don’t worry, Justin. I will make sure that the bastard pays!”

As Joel and Justin were about to go downstairs to stop Anthony from leaving, the bodyguards stationed below reported, “Master Justin, Master Joel, both Anthony and Miss Perkins just left five minutes ago. Please have a look...”

“Gargh!” Justin roared through gritted teeth and punched his fist on the wall. The punch triggered the wound on his bottom, causing him to jump in pain. It was rumored that from then on, Justin changed his sexual preference and started to prefer men. Of course, this was an afterword.

They have left? Joel pondered for a moment before saying, “Justin, you should get yourself checked at the hospital. Since I am here, Anthony will not be able to run! Send someone to keep a tab on him. Once the time is right, I will capture him for you and let you exert your anger on him!”

How dare you hurt someone from the Hammel family? Anthony Stewart, you have crossed the wrong people!

Back at Hotel Bourgeois, Poppy was sitting uneasily on the bed. Due to Justin’s abominable behavior, the negotiation for a supply contract with the Hammel family had failed. She was unable to explain the failure to her family.

Seeing that Poppy was gloomy, Anthony smiled and said, “Poppy, isn’t it just a supply issue? Come, let us go to the Central Market to have a look. Perhaps I can help you to solve your problems there.”

Poppy shook her head, "It's not that easy. The Hammel family controlled eighty percent of all raw Zumurrud stone trade in the Central Market. So, to get supplies, we can't avoid the Hammel family. Even if we managed to get our hands on some raw Zumurrud stone, it is not guaranteed that all of them will contain quality Zumurrud... Sigh..."

Anthony looped his arm around Poppy's small waist and said, "Let's go. You will know once we're there!"

Half an hour later, Anthony brought Poppy to the Central Market.

As it was the summer holidays and a prime season for the raw gem trade, there were many people there. As the shops were all busy, no one paid attention to Poppy and Anthony's arrival.

Anthony used his Carnelian vision to see inside a few raw Zumurrud stones displayed at one of the bigger shops. Most stones did not contain anything valuable. However, there were three stones among them which were completely green inside. He thought that they must be genuine Zumurrud and noticed that they have good clarity.

If these stones were cut, they would be worth more than ten million. However, as each raw stone was priced at two hundred thousand, no one was interested in them.

"Sir, I would like those three stones over there!" Anthony called to the owner and waited for the owner to carry the three stones over.

Seeing that Anthony had decided to buy them hastily, Poppy frowned and said, "This is way too impulsive. You haven't even checked them... See, judging by the color, it seems to be formed from being washed on the river bed for many years. It most likely wouldn't contain any Zumurrud!"

Poppy couldn't help feeling worried for Anthony. Although he had won five million from Hammel's Heaven last night, she felt that he shouldn't waste money like that.

However, Anthony was not concerned at all, "Poppy, don't worry. My luck has been good. If you don't believe me, do you want to make a bet?"

Seeing that Anthony was excited, Poppy was reluctant to spoil the mood. "Alright, what would you like to bet?"

Anthony blinked and said, "Hehe, if my stones contain Zumurrud, I would like to share a room with you tonight!"

"You pervert... There's no hope for you..." Poppy blushed and looked down shyly. This Anthony Stewart. He's always so perverted... Should I agree to it or not?
