

Love Will 491

Chapter 491

“That is too much. Don’t you know that Brandon is already married?”

Savanna was so angry that she almost fainted.

No wonder her first impression of Finn was not good. She thought that Finn was simply a madman.

Finn laughed, “So what if he gets married? He can divorce even if he is married. Besides, aren’t you in the middle of a divorce? Isn’t it good for me to help you?”

“I don’t need you to help me.” Savanna glared at Finn coldly. “If you think that Brandon is a member of the Orwell family, then please let him go and let us go. Both he and I only want to live a peaceful life.”

Finn was especially uncomfortable when he heard Savanna say these words.

Savanna wanted him to sacrifice to fulfill their wish, but no one ever sacrificed to fulfill his wishes. He was going to die soon. If he didn’t act selfishly, how would Lilia live a peaceful life?

Finn had to think about Lilia, whom he loved the most.

“Ms. Thompson, you are the most innocent woman I have ever seen.”

Finn put his palms together and then supported himself with his arms on the coffee table as he praised Savanna insincerely.

Savanna only felt that Finn spoke in a strange tone. She frowned and asked, “What do you mean? If you have something to say, say it. Don’t beat around the bush.”

“Since you said so, then I am not afraid of offending you.” Finn picked up the coffee cup on the table and took a sip. He then smiled contemptuously as he savored it.

The next second, Finn put down his coffee cup and said, “Ms. Thompson, do you know how much the estimated value of the Orwell Group is? Do you know how many companies use the Orwell Group as their benchmark and work hard to reach the level as us? Do you know that it is so easy for the Orwell Group to destroy the Thompson Group?”

“What are you trying to do?” At the mention of the Thompson Group, Savanna immediately became nervous.

“Don’t worry, I’m not interested in the Thompson Group right now. What I want to tell you is that no matter how many people try to squeeze into the Orwell Group, they won’t be able to do that. But your husband only needs to compromise a little, and he can easily own this company.”

The black Ferrari drove into the yard when the sun was setting.

Brandon, dressed in a silver suit, opened the car door and got out.

"Mr. Cassel, Ms. Thompson. You came back so early today."

Savanna came back from art class this time every day.

When Lizeth heard the car sound, she came out. But she did not expect to only see Brandon alone.

“Mr. Cassel, why are you alone? Didn’t Ms. Thompson come back with you?”

When Brandon heard this, he immediately frowned.

“Savanna hasn’t come back from class yet?”

Lizeth shook her head and took out her cell phone to check the time. “Logically speaking, she should have come back at this time. Usually, after class, the driver would pick her up.”

“Where’s the driver? Is he back yet?”

“The driver didn’t come back today either.” Lizeth rubbed her hands nervously on the apron. And she continued, “Will something be wrong with Ms. Thompson?”

Did something happen?

There was indeed a huge hidden danger. If Finn couldn’t persuade Brandon, he would attack those around Brandon. While thinking of this, Brandon frowned more, and he said anxiously, “Call the driver and ask what’s going on.” As he instructed the servant, Lizeth, he picked up his cell phone and dialed Savanna’s number.

In the beeping sound, the cell phone was ringing, but no one answered it.

Brandon prayed in his heart, Savanna, answer my call quickly and let me know whether you are safe or not.

His fingers holding the cell phone tightly clenched, and the veins on the back of his hand bulged.

“Mr. Cassel, I asked the driver. Ms. Thompson went to the central square to shop after class. After buying things, she called the driver. But when the driver arrived, Ms. Thompson did not wait for him at the appointed place.”

“Brandon, why did you come?” Savanna did not move and let Brandon hold her. Her cold body, which was blown by the cold wind, slowly warmed up. Brandon held Savanna’s frozen fingertips and rubbed them in his palm. “Why is your hand frozen like this? It’s like ice.” “Then be careful. It may hurt if you’re not gentle,” Savanna leaned her face against Brandon’s chest and said in a low voice.

Brandon was angered. "You didn't answer my call and disappeared without a trace. Do you know how worried I was about you? How can you have the leisure to joke around?"

After chatting with Finn, who was regarded as a madman by Savanna, Savanna was in a bad mood. She did not want to go home with a face full of emotions, so she had to digest herself.

"What's there to worry about? I'm already an adult. I won't lose my way." Savanna complained.

"You should take it seriously. The situation is different now. What if..."

"What?" Savanna looked up and stared at Brandon with her sharp eyes.

Brandon felt very uncomfortable being stared at by that kind of clean and eager eyes.

As a man, he wanted to be strong and bold, so that he could protect his family. And he didn't want to use all the tricky things to make his beloved woman anxious.

Brandon swallowed saliva and tried to tell

Savanna good things. And he said, "You are so beautiful and generous. What if you are kidnapped by bad people?"

Savanna was still hoping that Brandon could tell the truth. At least, as a couple, they could work together and face difficulties together.

"Savanna, tell me what happened to your friend?"

Brandon walked over and sat on the sofa next to Savanna. He turned sideways to face her and stared at Savanna's face with a pair of black eyes.

"Her husband got a huge inheritance right by chance, but the prerequisite was that he had to divorce her and marry another woman."

Savanna put the things that happened to her on this imaginary friend.

She wanted to use this method to find out the true thoughts in Brandon's heart.

Hearing this, Brandon frowned.

Then he quickly and objectively said, "It depends on what your friend's husband thinks, as well as the situation of their marriage. Everyone's situation is different and cannot be generalized."

Savanna nodded and said calmly, "I roughly know their situation."

"Then tell me."

"My friend fell in love with her husband at first sight, but her husband already had a lover before her. For various reasons, the two of them finally married."

When Savanna said these words, it was as if she were reminiscing about the first half of her life.

Savanna thought, it was a short, ridiculous, and cold life.

"Does he love your friend?"

In front of most men's careers, love only took up a small part. As a man, Brandon knew this truth.

"I think so. He might have loved her for a short time."

Savanna thought, in our long-married life, Brandon might have loved me for a short period.

But most time, he suspected and neglected me, and treated me as a prisoner.

Brandon said.

Brandon nodded and then pointed to his phone. "You go first. I'll be right there."

Savanna was close to Brandon, so she heard Jim's voice from the receiver. "If you go there, will you fall into his trap?"

Finn is sick but sly. Who knows what he has prepared at the airport? Jim thought.

Savanna heard this question, so her heart skipped a beat.

Savanna wondered, what trap?

Who is Brandon talking to over the phone? Is he in danger?

During the supper, Savanna thought a lot and concluded that she should have faith in Brandon.

I should trust my husband who shares the same bed with me. How could I suspect him because of the slanders from some villains?

Savanna thought.

Therefore, Savanna decided to spend more time with Brandon. We should be Can did with each other to solve the root problem, Savanna thought.

"Finn, if you continue like this, I will be angry!"

Lilia pouted with her hands on her hips, looking like an angry hamster.

"I am not Finn," Brandon emphasized again.

"Finn, this joke is not funny at all!" Lilia was mad. "I called you to pick me up at the airport. Why do you still play a prank on me? You are awful!"

Brandon thought, no wonder Finn dragged his sick body to the airport. He came for this girl.

This girl must be important to him.

It seems I found his soft spot by accident.

"Finn, answer me!" Lilia stomped her foot. "I dare you to deny it again. If you do, I will instantly buy a ticket and fly back to Paris as soon as possible. Never will I come back again!"

Brandon crossed his arms and sneered. "Do I look like that sickly Finn?"

"What sickness? Isn't it just hypoglycemia?" Lilia thought of something and then pointed at Brandon's face delightedly. "Finn, did you do workouts recently and then recover? This is a good surprise for me!"

Lilia looked at Brandon and was confident about her guess. Lilia thought, Finn looks much better than he did on his last visit to Paris. He seems stronger and has muscles.

"Finn, I know that you love me. You must have done exercises for my sake!"

Finn loved Lilia, who was his childhood sweetheart, a lot. He doted on her all the time about almost everything.

Even though the two of them lived in two different countries, Lilia found a sense of security in Finn since he never lied to her.

The only thing he lied about was his illness.

Hearing Brandon mention that there was something Lilia wasn't supposed to know, Finn knew Brandon was gonna say something serious.

Finn thought, there is no way Lilia could find out I am seriously ill.

At the thought of this, Finn hurried to change his tone, trying to persuade Lilia into leaving. “Lilia, Gerald will take you to the car now. I bought you coffee and cake there. Now I need to chat with Mr. Cassel a bit. See you in a bit.”

Lilia was unwilling to do so and said angrily, “What are you guys up to? What is it that I am not supposed to know? Finn, haven't you promised me that you won't keep a secret from me?”

“Lilia, do as I say. I'll explain myself later. This is something between Mr. Cassel and me, which I promised him to keep to myself. You don't want me to break my promise, right?”

Finn was patient and sweetly persuaded Lilia.

Fortunately, Lilia nodded in agreement at last while snorting angrily, “Alright. Then I'll wait for you in the car. But you have to explain everything to me later. Otherwise, I will break up with you!”

“I know, my dear. And don't break up with me. You know that I love you the most.” Finn reached out and stroked Lilia's head.

“Ms. Parsons, this way.” Gerald hurried to lead the way.

Lilia snorted again while throwing her suitcase to her bodyguard before walking in front, panting with rage.

Soon, Lilia began to ask Gerald, "Since you are with Finn every day, please tell me what is with that man. Are they biological brothers?"

replied, "The doctors did tell us that the man is that's a big deal." Lilia became upset. "Gerald, do you know what else Finn's confidant, there was no way Gerald would “Finn, you’re just being honey-lipped. With so many things you keep from me, I can’t tell if you really want to marry me or not!”

Lilia turned her head to the side angrily, brushing aside Finn, who was standing next to the window.

“Nonsense. Lilia, I love you the most.” Finn hurried to walk around the car, pulled open the door, and sat in.

“You can stop talking. I am not listening.” Noticing that Finn was in the car, Lilia turned her head to the other side, leaving Finn staring at the back of her head.

Finn had to resort to food, which always managed to tempt Lilia. “I know you’re angry, but you still need to eat, right? You know what? I’ve reserved a table in your favorite restaurant already.”

“Hmph, I won’t eat it. I’ll buy a plane ticket now!” Lilia turned him down right off. But her stomach, which was rumbling, betrayed herself.

Finn chuckled as he reached out and wrapped his arm around Lilia’s slender waist mischievously.

“Let me guess. What is your stomach rumbling for?”

“Don’t touch me!” Lilia slapped his hand angrily, feeling both shy and embarrassed.

But Finn acted as if he did not hear her and tightened his arms around her petite body.

“Lilia, I am begging you. Let’s go have a meal. Don’t starve yourself. Or I will feel bad.”

Finn leaned against Lilia and whispered into her ear with a deep exhalation.

“What mistress? I am his girlfriend. We are childhood sweethearts and have been together since we were young!”

Lilia knew that Finn had an affair with Savanna. Otherwise, she would not have had a child that was so similar to Finn.

Also, Lilia was furious that she was called a mistress after she was slandered.

“What childhood sweetheart? Savanna has liked Mr. Cassel since she was fourteen. At that time, I only knew the bitch Winnie. When did you become Mr. Cassel’s childhood sweetheart?”

Janet retorted, looking at Lilia with disdain as if she was looking at a mistress. “You’re still young, but you took advantage of your beauty to hook up with another woman’s boyfriend and be a homewrecker.”

“He’s my boyfriend! I’m not a homewrecker!” Lilia was so angry that she almost cried.

“Janet, you got the wrong person. That man is not Brandon.”

Savanna tried to explain but was refuted by Janet.

“Savanna, I know that you are soft-hearted, but whether it is for you or your children, you can’t let the two-timers have their way!”

“Who are you scolding? I’ll tell you again. I’m his girlfriend, and his parents knew me! I am not a homewrecker!” Lilia retorted.

Janet reached out to grab the young lady's slender arm and pointed at Finn. "Do you know who he is? He is my best friend's husband and Tye's father. Do you see that child? He looks the same as your so-called boyfriend!"

Words could create rumors and deceive people.

However, that child's appearance was evidence. Even Lilia herself could not guarantee that she would give birth to a child that resembled Finn so much.

Lilia returned in advance with the hope of giving her boyfriend a surprise, but she did not expect to receive such a big surprise.

In the face of such a ridiculous accusation, Lilia could no longer hold back her composure as a noble lady and shouted hysterically.

"Finn, what is going on? Why does that child look exactly like you? Is he your illegitimate child with that woman?"

Brandon happened to be near the restaurant and drove over in a few minutes.

When he walked into the restaurant with long legs, Finn and Lilia had yet to leave, so they happened to meet Brandon.

"Mr. Cassel, what a coincidence," Finn deliberately greeted him with a smile.

Brandon frowned. "Why are you here?"

"We came here for lunch. Otherwise, do you think I am here to catch up with Ms. Thompson?"

Hearing him mention Savanna, Brandon became nervous. "What did you do to Savanna?"

Seeing that Brandon had come in, Savanna said a few words to Janet and immediately greeted him.

"Brandon, what's the matter?"

As soon as Savanna leaned over, Brandon immediately hugged her by the waist to show his identity as Savanna's boyfriend.

"I'm fine. What can happen to me?" Savanna said. She did not want Brandon to worry, so she didn't tell him what had happened just now.

"It's good that you're fine." Brandon let out a sigh of relief and turned to hold

Savanna's shoulder, saying, "Let's go."

When Brandon and Savanna returned to the dining table, Janet had already changed her seat and sat with Tye, leaving two seats next to her for the couple.

Janet was sitting at the door, and she happened to see Brandon and Savanna. She reported in real-time, "The fake Mr. Cassel and Mrs. Cassel have already left."

Brandon heard Janet's strange words and raised his eyebrows. "The fake Mr. Cassel and Mrs. Cassel?"

"Mr. Cassel, don't you think it's strange that there is a person who looks exactly like you in the world? It's just like a fake version of you, but you look more pleasing to the eye," Janet judged.
