

My Mates 470

Chapter 470-The Crazy Foster Family

"You look so beautiful," Theo whispered when playing with my hair, which I curled from the bottom. I wore the golden dress and actually got ready after so long. While we were waiting for Kellice to accompany us, Theo was flirting nonstop with me.

His fingers were constantly brushing my hair, and he would sniff the strands once in a while after making a compliment. I was leaning back in his car while he was leaning on me. Maynard and Lazio were standing with their cars and looking deadly at us. It was awkward to do all that in front of them, but it was also something they deserved.

'Maybe you should not forget that she is still my wife,' Lazio finally spoke up after eyeing us for a while.

"Not for very long." Theo commented, sniffing from my hair and acting like they were a drug to him, "which reminds me, why didn't you invite Valerie for the dinner? If you had done that, you wouldn't have to stand here and suffer," he openly taunted Lazio for being jealous of us.

"The dinner is for Enya's mates." Lazio grunted.

"Then why is Maynard here?" Theo smirked, making Maynard turn to look at Lazio.

"Because whether you like it or not, I used to be her mate once, and I am still—hoping we could fix things somehow," Maynard responded with a scoff, eyeing both Lazio and Theo.

"It is okay to dream. Just don't take them too seriously. You two had a full opportunity to make her yours, but you two lost it. Now it's my chance, and I know better. I would rather lose everything than a perfect mate like her.¹" Theo wrapped his arm around my waist and pulled me over his chest so romantically that I felt my cheeks turning red.

"Kellice!" I watched her join us and let out a sigh of relief. The boys have been stressing me out a lot.

pretty blue dress. Honestly speaking, Kellice was incredibly gorgeous. And that's why I even liked Theo more. The way he had a chance to be a perfect person like her, yet he chose

me. When he did that, is a high chance that I going with Theo," I excused, getting into who was busy smirking at

I asked only smirking. Because Enya, the promise he broke deserves his head on the--," he nobody wants me then," Kellice mumbled, reaching for our car come into my room." He said it without their love story starts and he leaves you alone," Theo whispered under his breath, looking at the last time I came here; I felt terrible. The flashes of that night, when I had to literally beg Maynard to accept me the parking lot, and I got out before him. Vinona was already waiting for us at the door when I took the lead, but I realized she was not even going to hide a lovely lady she is," Vinona said to Lazio, purposely

What happened to Christina?" Vinona let out a dramatic gasp when long as you are happy, we are happy for you. She is so pretty--," Before Vinona could keep going on, Lazio had she heard that. She then stopped right at the entrance

here with my mate, Enya!"