

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1917

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1917-David did not have any plans when he was facing three powerful attacks.

Even though he still had many techniques that he had not used, time simply did not allow him to use them.

There was no other way but to fight head-on.

Thinking of this, David suddenly closed his eyes and released his mind power frantically.

He began forming a mind storm around his body.

Back when his mind power was still at Ruler Rank, he could resist 10% of Nek the Pre-Saint's attack when it was compressed to the extreme.

Now that his mind power had reached True Saint level 1, David had not fully used it yet.

He did not know how strong it had become.

Even if a part was allocated to control the clone, the remaining amount would still be quite terrifying.

The mind power could be said to be one of David's most important cards.

Along the way, his mind power had played a very important role, protecting him several times before.

At this moment he once again believed he would not be let down.

Boom boom boom!

The three attacks arrived almost simultaneously.

The powerful force made the void tremble.

Sahar looked at his masterpiece with satisfaction.

David would not be able to bear one of such a powerful attack, let alone three.

That was the scary thing about the Tri-Element Slash.

It would seal the enemy's movement from three directions, taking them by surprise.

It was also very fast.

Hence, the opponent would have no time to react at all.

It was a pity that such a move would make the user lose a part of their mind power every time it was used. Furthermore, it could not be used continuously, otherwise, it would cause great damage to the body.

Sahar was staring at David's position, waiting for the smoke to clear to see how bad David's injuries were.

The void behind him suddenly split open.

A figure quickly emerged from the crack, and at the same time as he came out, he cast his Eternal Golden Body and swung the God of Thunder Hammer which was covered by countless lightning bolts in his hand down on Sahar's head.

If the hammer landed on Sahar, its damage would not be any less than the shocking blow he had just given out.

When he felt the danger coming from behind, Sahar reacted quickly enough, turning his head to avoid the attack.

However, the God of Thunder Hammer hit him on the shoulder anyway.

Smash!

Sahar's Eternal Golden Body was hit by David's clone. His left shoulder and left arm were both smashed at the same time.

Sahar's body also fell to the bottom of the void under the huge force.

The lightning from the God of Thunder Hammer paralyzed Sahar's whole body.

He was seriously injured after this blow.

When Sahar stopped himself from plummeting and returned to the original height again, he was shocked.

'Who is the man who snuck up on him if he was not David?

'How can this be?

'Didn't David get hurt by my Tri-Element Slash?

'How did he appear behind me?

'How did David get the time to tear open the space and enter a highdimensional space faster than the Tri-Element Slash?' "How did you do that?" Sahar asked, staring fixedly at David.

"Do you think this is difficult to do?" David shrugged and answered in disdain.

"No! You're not David. Who are you?" Nek noticed something was not right, 1

Even though this person looked the same as David, he had a different weapon.

David used a red long sword while this man was using a hammer with lightning bolts.

He knew David could not escape from his Tri-Element Slash.

"I am David!" David's clone said with a smile.

Sahar then turned his gaze toward where David had been attacked. The smoke dissipated slowly.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-