The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2491-Eric raised his eyebrows lightly and pointed at himself. He looked smug for seeing through her thoughts.

The first thing he did when he came back from a business trip was to go to the bar to see Selena.

As a result, Selena went into another man's car and compared him with her scumbag ex-husband, Derek Norton.

This humiliation was still vivid in Eric's mind, i

How could he not see through Selena's thoughts?

Although Eric was excited, he was too proud to allow others to trample on his dignity.

Selena blinked and took a deep breath.

Look, Eric was always so vengeful and calculating!

She paused and gritted her teeth.

"How many times do I have to say that I was the one who dumped him? Don't spout nonsense!"

Eric chuckled and did not believe her.

Selena turned away to hide her embarrassment.

"Forget it. Just pretend I didn't say anything just now."

She did have the intention of accepting Zachary and only gave up on him because of this accident.

However, it was unfair to Eric.

Eric calmly stood in front of her again and said with a deep and mellow voice, "I already heard it. What you said can't be taken back. Got it?"

Selena frowned. A blush crept across her delicate face.

"Then what can I do? I didn't treat you as a rebound! You were never an option anyway! Mm..."

Before Selena finished speaking, she felt a strong hand holding the back of her neck, which forced her to raise her head. Then, a domineering and intense kiss came at her.

Her astonishment and bewilderment were reflected in the man's dark eyes.

In the next second, Eric loosened his grip, but his lips and tongue were still entangled with hers. Eric deepened the kiss and immersed himself in it.

After the shock, Selena slowly closed her eyes, and her soft lips responded to Eric's intense kiss.

Selena felt that she was drinking high-grade liquor. She was a little drunk and groggy.

They finally tore off their stubborn act and gradually approached each other with their softest and kindest sides.

The kiss lasted for a long time.

They desperately asked and gave each other what they wanted.

Eric finally let Selena go. His Adam's apple slid up and down. Although he still wanted more, he wanted to give her a chance to breathe.

Selena leaned against him breathlessly. Her cheeks were flushed, and her vision was a little blurred.

Just one kiss changed the dynamic between them.

The man calmed down. His voice was low and hoarse. He was reluctant to let go of Selena, but he clenched his fists and restrained himself.

"You should rest. I'll go to the study."

Eric also thought about her leg injury, so he did not want to touch her now.

Selena paused and frowned slightly. The blush on her face faded, and she looked up at him.

How could Eric be so calm at this time?

Eric stood up and wanted to leave, but Selena held his arm tightly. She looked at him with pitiful and reluctant eyes.

Her eyes were bright and a little dazed.

"Do you really want to go?"

She seemed aggrieved. She knelt to look into his eyes, her arms around his shoulders, kissed his ear softly, and whispered, "Are you still leaving?"

Eric could not resist her coquettish behavior.

She kissed him as she spoke, which was so alluring. Eric's body stiffened, and his dark eyes seemed to be on fire.

Finally, the moment she lightly bit his earlobe, the last thread in Eric's mind became tense and suddenly snapped.

The man's arm suddenly tightened around Selena's slender waist. His grip was so tight that he could easily break her. They were so close and intimate.

Eric continued the unfinished kiss just now. However, because of Selena's initiative, Eric's hands were more reckless as they roamed around her body. He also allowed her to do the same.

Neither of them was shy as they greedily pined for each other's bodies.

Selena still had the upper hand at the beginning, but gradually, Eric took the dominant position.

Eric kept her up all night as if he would not get tired. Selena was already so exhausted that she could not lift her fingers, but Eric was still savoring his gift slowly.

Bright fireworks lit up in the pitch-black sky countless times before Selena's eyes and in her mind as they made love to their heart's content.

It was dreamy, tiring, but satisfying.

The bright moonlight fell on Selena's fair and tender skin which was now covered with red marks.

Selena was very satisfied with her first genuine sexual experience in her life.

However, Eric went a little overboard, i

Gradually, the stars gradually dimmed.

It was almost dawn when they finally fell asleep.

Soon, the sky was bright. However, none of the servants downstairs dared to disturb the couple.

The second floor was well insulated, so the servants could not hear a thing.

However, Selena had stayed for a few days last time, and she had already revealed her identity as the future lady of the house.

Thus, no one dared to take the initiative to knock on their door.

As usual, Chance went to school with breakfast. He asked the servant, "Has Aunt Selena left yet?"

The servant hesitated to explain, so Chance had no choice but to leave first.

The sun outside was blinding.

Since Eric was used to getting up early, he was already awake.

The tenderness in his arms reminded him of his madness and loss of control last night.

Some missing corner deep inside him seemed to be filled, and he felt satisfied.

Eric did not realize that he was smiling.

He lay on the bed for a while, but the woman in his arms showed no signs of waking up.

Selena's schedule was upside down, and she was too tired from last night, so she did not want to get up early.

Eric carefully moved her head to the pillow, pulled back his numb arm, and waited for a while to feel better.

Selena just rolled over and continued to sleep.

Eric smiled helplessly before he got out of bed. 1

He took his phone and looked at the email Mitchell sent him. He was supposed to attend an important meeting in the morning about an important project.

Since Eric did not make it to the office, he did not participate in the meeting.

However, since everyone else was present, Mitchell participated in the meeting in Eric's absence and sent Eric the finalized terms of the contract.

Eric went to the study in the bedroom, turned on the computer, and started to work.

As soon as he started working, he lost track of time.

When he was done with his work, he heard a noise outside. Selena must be awake.

Eric glanced at the clock and saw that two hours had passed. It was already 10:00 am.

He was about to stand up and go out when he suddenly saw the photo on the desk and froze slightly. 2
