

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1987

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1987-“Haha! What a good sword! Amazing! Although it is not as good as mine, it is not bad. It is really a good sword,” David said with a loud laugh.

His hearty laughter resounded through the sky.

There was a hint of his Sacred Saint strength in the laughter, making everyone who heard it tremble.

David did not expect this sword to be so superb. Especially the extremely cold air contained in it.

The sword was able to freeze him the moment he held the hilt before he could even realize it.

The moment he was frozen, David even felt that even his mind power had become sluggish.

This was the sword's autonomous attack without its owner around.

If its full power was exerted, it might even be able to freeze the colorless and invisible mind power.

This was definitely a rare item.

‘The four old women have such a good treasure, but why did they bury it in the ground? Are they stupid?*

For a True Saint, their strength would definitely go up to another level with this sword.

Fighting higher level opponents would not be impossible by then.

Now, David was the one benefiting from this.

Would he return this treasure now that it had fallen into his hands?

‘Of course not!’

David thought silently while holding the sword.

This sword would be his from now on and no one could take it away from him.

The four sisters barely resisted David's energy explosion and they all looked battered.

A Sacred Saint was indeed terrifying.

Just a small energy explosion could make the two peak True Saints and the two late True Saints powerless to resist.

They could only use their trump cards to save themselves.

They had unpleasant expressions on their faces right now.

They figured the masked man was a Sacred Saint, but they could not lose the Ice Soul Excalibur.

They had to take it back, if not, they would not be able to explain themselves.

“Who are you? I believe that since the establishment of the Iridescent Sect, we have never offended any forces. Not only that, we also frequently send out disciples to marry and maintain good relations with all major forces in the Star Kingdom. Which force do you belong to? We might even have a good relationship.” Marin, the eldest of the four reputable elders, stood up and said.

The opponent had the strength of a Sacred Saint, so today’s matter could not be resolved by force.

Hence, they could only approach it from another angle to see if they could persuade the other party to return the Ice Soul Excalibur.

David did not answer.

He was carefully observing the sword in his hand.

David’s clone in front of Celeste stepped forward and said, “You offended me by banishing Celeste into the ice cavern. Even if she made a mistake, you hags can’t punish her, let alone when it was really just a mistake.”

While Celeste behind him was shocked, she was also happy and moved.

David’s strength had reached Sacred Saint Rank, which was beyond her expectations.

However, it also made her let go of her last trace of worry.

No wonder he dared to venture into the Iridescent Sect alone to save her.

It turned out that he had already made all the preparations.

‘Sigh, I wonder how this kid cultivated and what he went through.

'In just a few months, he had achieved the dreams of countless people.'

The scene when the two meet for the first time back then was still vivid in Celeste's mind.

Recommended Novels