Divorced but Delighted By Millie Huffman Chapter 361

Chapter 361 I Was So Scared!

The driver had probably read the news and was chatting with her at the moment.

“Alas. Never drive tired. Look, it’s a big disaster now, I don’t know which innocent driver lost his life, and the truck driver himself was sued. It’s really pitiful!”

Cierra’s heart was a mess.

She stared at the picture and felt empty in her heart. For a moment, her mind was blank and she didn’t know what to think. All kinds of complicated emotions came to her mind.

Her first reaction was that someone had deliberately caused the car accident.

But if that were the case, wouldn’t the employee who drove her car away lose his life for her for nothing?

Then, she calmed down a little and accepted some of the driver’s words passively. She also felt that it was just a traffic accident.

But even so, it seemed that the disaster that should have been borne by her was borne by someone else.

If she hadn’t called someone to drive her car away, would he have avoided this disaster because she had left earlier?

Cierra’s thoughts were a mess.

She didn’t even react when the car arrived.

It was only when Will called her from the side that she came back to her senses.

She forced herself to sober up. After thanking the driver, she took Will and went home,

“Aunt, what’s wrong?”

Will noticed Cierra’s emotion. On the stone path into the small courtyard, he couldn’t help but ask her.

When Cierra was free, she couldn’t help thinking about the car accident.

Hearing Will’s voice, she went back to her senses and said nothing.

After all, there was no need to tell a child about such a thing.

She touched the little boy’s head and forced a smile. “Nothing. It’s just a little hot. I don’t want to talk. Let’s go home quickly.”

Will knew that his aunt was lying to him, but he didn’t pursue the matter. He obediently let her hold his hand and didn’t say anything else.

They had only taken a few steps when they saw the grape trellis, and the phone in Cierra’s hand rang.

She looked down and saw that it was Bruno.

She didn’t know if it was because she had been relying on Bruno’s help recently, but when she saw the name, she calmed down a little.

Without thinking, she picked up the phone.

“Cici, are you all right?”

Before Cierra could say anything, Bruno said anxiously.

He was completely different from his usual calm self.

He was panicked and uneasy.

Through the electronic device, it was not difficult to hear that he was anxious.

Cierra was unable to express her current feelings.

However, for some unknown reason, she calmed down a little, and she was grieving.

Just like when she was recuperating abroad, when she saw William all the time, she had complicated emotions when she couldn't see him. In the end, when she knew that William was her biological brother, she felt aggrieved.

However, her current mood was naturally not like before.

Cierra controlled her emotions and patiently replied, “I'm fine, I just got home. What about you?”

“Are you alright?”

There was a moment of silence on the other end of the line, and then he spoke again. He seemed to be relieved.

“It's good that you're home, it's good...”

Cierra pursed her lips.

She had already guessed why Bruno was calling.

Probably because he had seen the news about the car accident on the Internet, he was afraid that something would happen to her, so he hurriedly called to inquire about it.

It wasn't that Cierra hadn't thought about this situation.

Her car was bought after she came to Los Angeles. Although the photo was blurred and some bloody pictures were covered, anyone around her should be able to recognize that it was her car.

However, she didn't expect that the first person to call would be Bruno.

She thought it would be her brothers.

As a result, she had mixed feelings.

An hour ago, she was happy and joyful in the MRC Group. But now, she was probably... touched.

She couldn't explain it clearly.

Her brain also became a little slow because of this.

At this moment, she seemed to have stopped thinking. When she heard Bruno's words, she

"I didn't expect such a thing to happen. It's just that the car couldn't start. I was worried that there would be something wrong. In addition, Will was in the car, so I didn't drive. I don't know..."

After making things clear, Cierra sobered up a little. When she thought of the innocent staff member who had died in a car accident, she suddenly felt a little guilty.

"Cici, this is an accident. It has nothing to do with you. Don't think too much about it."

Bruno's voice finally became steady.

As usual, he was no longer anxious.

It also made Cierra calm down.

He comforted her and said, "It's right for you to let someone drive the car to check, and this car accident was not caused by your car. It was the truck driver's wrong.

Cici, this is an accident. It has nothing to do with you."

Cierra knew very well in her heart.

But after all, it had something to do with her. How could she be completely at ease?

She didn't take Bruno's advice and said gloomily, "When the traffic police close the the staff's family some money."

No matter whether it had anything to do with her or not, she felt uneasy.

case,

I'll give

No money could compare to a person's life, but it seemed that she could do nothing but give them some money.

Bruno knew that she was in a bad mood, so he didn't say anything more. He just said, "Don't think too much about it. I'll be at your house in about ten minutes. Sit down and rest for a while, or talk to your mom, okay?"

Get Borus

The man's voice was gentle and comforting.

Cierra felt a bit more at ease and agreed

After hanging up the phone, she let out a long sigh.

At the same time, she began to think about the reason.

Frowning, she watched the news and the photo again.

The more she read, the more furrowed her brows became.

Even if it was because he was fatigued driving, this truck... should not have appeared at this place.

Not to mention that there was no highway exit nearby, even if there was, there should not be a car accident here.

While Cierra was thinking, someone rushed out of the house.

When she saw Cierra standing in front of her safe and sound, Sarah quickened her pace.

“Oh, fortunately, you’re fine! I’m so scared!”

Chapter 362 It’s Good That You’re All Right

Cierra knew Sarah’s health very well. Seeing she was so excited, she hurried forward to support her.

“Mom, I’m fine. It’s okay.”

Sarah was not at ease. When she saw her daughter standing in front of her, she sized her saying a word, not even letting go of her back.

In the summer, Cierra did not wear much. Even though she wore a long sleeve all year round to conceal the scars on her body, she was still able to easily check if there were any new scars on her body.

After making sure that she was fine, Sarah breathed a sigh of relief.

Even so, she did not dare to let go of Cierra's hand. Her tone was filled with worry.

"William just called and said that there was a car accident in Los Angeles. The car that was smashed seemed to be yours. I couldn't get through to you, so I called you. I was so scared!"

Tears welled up in Cierra's eyes. "I'm fine, Mom. Will is fine. Everything's fine."

Will, who was listening from the side, understood what was going on and held Sarah's hand.

"Grandma, my aunt, and I came back by bus. She didn't drive the car. Don't be afraid."

Feeling the warmth from her daughter's and grandson's hands, Sarah slowly came to her senses.

"It's good that you're fine."

Tears welled up in her eyes as she sighed, but she did not let go of her hand.

"Tell me, what's going on? Why did your brother say that the car was yours? We are scared."

Although Sarah saw her daughter standing in front of her, when she thought about it, she was still in shock.

The photo in the news looked scary. The truck was so big that it crushed the white car.

Even if it had nothing to do with their family, they would be touched when they saw it, not to mention that when they received the phone call, they concluded that it was Cici's car, which scared them.

Fortunately, when they came out, they saw Cici standing in front of them safe and sound.

God blesses me.

Cierra did not try to hide the truth from everyone. As she accompanied Sarah into the house, she told her what had happened today.

Get Bo

She worried about Sarah's health, so she deliberately talked about what she had said to Lydia, trying to ease the topic.

However, at the end of the conversation, everyone was still in low spirits.

Including Cierra herself.

She was safe, but what about the staff member who drove her car away?

An unexpected disaster!

After consoling Sarah, Cierra decided to contact Harold to find out the truth of the car accident.

More importantly, the employee's safety.

If he died on the spot, the follow-up work of taking care of his family must be done well.

If he was lucky enough to survive, she would do her best to arrange his life.

The disaster was not what she wanted. But it was something to do with her.

Cierra would try her best to help the staff.

Probably because she would get what she wanted, her phone rang before she could make the call.

Harold had already seen the news, but he didn't know it was Cierra's car until William told him.

Even if he saw Cierra reporting that she was safe in the group chat, he still felt uneasy.

"Cierra, are you alright?"

As soon as the phone was connected, Harold's worried voice came from the phone.

All of a sudden, Cierra felt much more at ease.

In addition to William, the one who had a good relationship with her was Harold, who was about the same age as her.

Cierra calmed down. "I'm fine, I'm sorry to have made you worry again."

"What nonsense are you talking about?"

Harold couldn't help but interrupt her. "You're the youngest. I am worried about you. Don't think too much about it. I'll investigate this car accident with Jaquan. Don't drive during this period of time, understand?"

Cierra wanted to say that she didn't even have a car... But on such an occasion and with his serious tone, it was obviously inappropriate to say such a thing.

She replied obediently, "Got it, brother. If I'm going out, I'll get someone to pick me up, okay?"

Get Bog

She didn't say any more polite words to Harold.

From his tone, Cierra felt that her previous guess might be correct.

This car accident might not be an accident.

It might be intentional murder, but it was certain that the other party's plan was not very detailed.

Otherwise, he would follow her.

Before the results of the investigation came out, Cierra wouldn't slander others, but she wouldn't believe that it was just an accident.

Therefore, she would not hide at home because of fear, nor would she continue to live her life without vigilance as usual.

"By the way, Harold, could you do me a favor?"

At the end of her words, Cierra did not forget the poor man who had been involved in the car accident.

She let Harold investigate the other party's family and whether he was safe and sound.

As for the follow-up compensation, she could invite people over.

Harold seemed to have known that she would say that, so he had already checked the information.

“That employee is a native of Los Angeles. He has already gotten married and had children. His child just went to college last year. His current situation is not very good. You should have seen the photos of the scene. Some news reports have even confirmed that he was dead. However, the hospital is still rescuing him, although he... I have already asked Nick to inform the hospital. They will try their best. Cierra, you don't have to worry too much. Besides, this is not your fault, don't blame yourself.”

But self-blame and guilt were inevitable.

Cierra was not in a good mood. She replied in a low voice, “Thank you.”

Harold accepted her kindness this time, but he changed the subject. “I'm finishing the latest project. I guess I'll be able to finish it tomorrow. At that time, I may come home for a few days.”

Cierra's heart skipped a beat, and tears welled up in her eyes. At the same time, she couldn't help but laugh.

It was obvious that he was afraid that she would be sad, so he came to accompany her.

“Okay. It's lively here in the old house. But don't lie about work. If you haven't finished it, do it here. Don't try to make me happy and work overtime tonight. Your health is more important.”

“I know what to do.”

Harold's voice softened. “By the way...”

Just as he was about to speak, there was no sound.

Chapter 363 Don't You Have Me?

“What?”

Cierra didn't know what was going on over there. When she heard Harold's voice suddenly disappear, she became nervous.

After a while, Harold returned to normal.

“Nothing, I suddenly forgot. I'll tell you when I remember. See you tomorrow.”

It seemed that he really forgot something.

This sort of thing happens frequently. However, if it were in the past, Cierra would've believed it. At this moment, she couldn't believe him.

"Okay, see you tomorrow."

She hung up the phone.

Cierra looked at her phone for a while and frowned slightly.

But she didn't have much time to think about his abnormality. As soon as she hung up the phone, she received a lot of messages.

They should have known about her safety. In addition, they couldn't connect with her, so they all sent her a greeting at this time.

William sent many messages.

He was anxious.

"Still alive?"

"If there's nothing else, hurry up and reply to me. Don't chat with that man!"

"Cici Barton, answer me quickly."

After a period of time, he probably asked someone to inquire about her situation.

Then, he sent a message.

"Cici, how dare you. You were talking to someone on the phone for such a long time."

'Well, I just left, and you've made such a big mess. Just wait and see. I'll teach you a lesson when I come back."

"Irvin will deal with the car accident. Stay at home for a few days and come out after we find out the truth."

Get Boytos

After reading the message, Cierra had mixed feelings.

There were too many messages, so she could only reply to them one by one.

At the same time, in another villa in Los Angeles.

Looking at what had just been found on the computer screen, Harold frowned.

At the end of the phone call, he just wanted to ask about what had happened between Cierra and Draven recently.

He heard from William that Draven had been hospitalized because he had saved Wilson.

Recently, he had been busy with his projects. He would go to bed after work and had no time to read the news on the Internet at all. He got all the information from his brothers.

He had no interest in what had happened in New York, not to mention that it had something to do with Draven, a heartless man who bullied his sister.

But...

When he saw the news about Aleah and Draven's interview in New York, he felt that something was wrong.

If what William said was true, then Draven was currently in the hospital for treatment.

Then who was the man in the video?

In addition, almost every case he had investigated related to Draven. Could it be...

Without hesitation, Harold put aside his recent projects and began to check on what had happened to Draven.

Of course, the most important thing was this car accident.

He had to figure it out.

This sudden accident caused many people in Los Angeles to panic. Although the accident did not cause too many casualties, judging from the photos, it was frightening.

Soon, it became a trending topic.

Not only was Cierra's family worried about her, but the person who hated Cierra was irritated.

In the cafe, Belle was making a call with a worried look on her face, her hands trembling.

Get Bet

The person on the other end of the line did not answer for a long time.

The beeping of the phone also made people's hearts tremble.

Just as she was about to lose patience, the other party finally answered the phone.

He asked in a lazy and hoarse voice, "What's wrong, baby? Why are you calling again? Did I fail to handle the matter you asked me to do?"

When Belle heard this, she was furious. "Mr. Green, why are you so vicious? Do you know that someone has been killed?"

She just wanted to teach Cierra a lesson, but she didn't expect him to kill her directly.

She had seen the photos of the accident. The front of the car was smashed into pieces. How could anyone survive?

The man on the other end of the line was still smiling, and there was even a hint of sarcasm in his voice.

"Huh? Didn't you ask me to help you teach that disobedient girl? Now that I've helped you, how could you blame me?"

"I don't want her to die!"

-She was so anxious that she was about to cry.

She didn't even dare to think about it. If that little bitch, Cierra, really died, it would be fine if they couldn't find out that she was behind it. But if they did find out that she was involved, she wouldn't be able to live in the Chester family anymore!

And the Barton family would not let her go easily!

"Oh, what are you afraid of?"

The voice on the other end of the line was casual. It seemed that he had smoked and suddenly became hoarse.

“Don’t worry. It’s just a traffic accident. It has nothing to do with you, understand?”

“But...”

“Or do you feel sorry for your niece?”

Before she could finish her words, the man suddenly interrupted her.

‘Don’t forget that it was you who took the initiative to ask me for help. Don’t pretend to have a deep family affection now. You are hypocritical!’

Belle couldn’t say anything.

Get Borto

It was she who took the initiative to ask for it. She didn’t ask him to kill her!

But these words made her unable to speak.

“Well, I’ve settled the matter for you. Don’t come to me if there’s nothing else in the future,

understand?”

While Belle was silent, the man said coldly.

As soon as he finished speaking, he hung up the phone without waiting for a reply.

The phone tone was annoying.

When the call ended, the photo of the bloody scene of the car accident appeared.

Belle’s heart skipped a beat. She turned off her phone with a pale face and threw it aside.

The man on the other end of the line was in a good mood.

After hanging up the phone, he leaned back on the sofa. Then he touched his belly and looked at the photo.

“Who’s talking to you?”

There were other people in the room. They heard something and couldn’t help but come over to ask.

The woman was wearing a light blue cheongsam, which outlined her beautiful figure. She slowly approached the man with cat steps, and her voice was extremely charming.

The light cast on the woman's face and her exquisite makeup couldn't cover her wrinkles.

Obviously, she was no longer young.

But she took good care of herself and had a good figure, which made her very charming.

It was Vanessa, Aleah's mother.

When the man saw her walking over, he stretched out his long arm and pulled her into his embrace.

"Nothing. It's just nobody I used to mess with outside. After sleeping with her several times, I have to help her deal with something."

Vanessa complained. She held the man's fat belly with her long arm and said in a delicate voice, "Don't you like me?"

Chapter 364 You

"You?"

The man pinched Vanessa's chin with his fat fingers, forcing her to look up at him.

"Didn't you marry that good-for-nothing from the Boyle family with my child? How are you going to serve me? Huh?"

"What can I do?"

Vanessa's expression changed quickly. She suddenly lowered her eyes and looked pitiful.

"You don't want to marry me. And I carried a baby. I have to find someone to marry. What's more, it's not a bad thing to give birth to this child without telling you, is it?"

As soon as she finished speaking, the man's fingers tightened around Vanessa's chin.

The man narrowed his eyes, and his fat face looked ferocious and distorted.

"What? Are you laughing at me for being disabled now?"

“No... no...”

Vanessa was choked, and she was in pain.

She didn't realize it until now.

When she was pregnant, she really wanted to use this child to marry into a rich and powerful family in Washington D.C.

However, the Green family looked down on her.

Vanessa was reluctant to have an abortion. She always felt that she could use this child to beg a man to do something.

When the baby was born, the Green family couldn't be so heartless. They would care about their offspring.

So she quickly married Brian and gave birth to the child.

As he had expected, she could contact this man whenever she had any problems.

1-

As long as it was not a big problem, she could rely on the Green family to solve it.

During this period, the only thing that frightened her was her child.

When Vanessa found out that Cierra was not her biological child, she was scared.

Fortunately, she got her child back.

She was so lucky!

She heard that Abel, the new family leader of the Green family met a robber when trading goods abroad and hurt his penis.

At that time, Abel was not married. What else could he do?

Wouldn't Aleah become the only heir of the Green family?

She was complacent in front of him. She used Aleah as a tool to show off and annoyed him.

Vanessa opened her mouth and begged for mercy, staring at him with red eyes.

Her saliva dripped down from her mouth, and she was also despised by the man, so he let go of her in an instant.

Vanessa hurriedly apologized, "I'm sorry, Abel. I was wrong.

Please don't take it to heart."

"Get out!"

Abel pushed Vanessa away mercilessly.

The woman's slender waist hit a corner of the coffee table, followed by a sharp pain.

She didn't dare to make a sound and nodded in accordance with the man's words. "Yes, I'll get lost now."

Abel didn't even spare her a glance.

The phone on the coffee table rang and he glanced at it angrily. When he saw the name on it clearly, his face immediately changed.

He picked up the phone almost devoutly. There was no trace of the ferocious look on his face at all. He smiled flatteringly.

"Mr. Trevino, what can I do for you?"

They didn't know what the person on the other end of the line said, but his face suddenly changed.

"L.. Mr. Trevino, I just wanted to avenge my daughter. I didn't expect the car accident to be so serious. I really... What? She's not dead!"

He suddenly widened his eyes in disbelief.

Then he immediately became timid.

"Yes, yes, I understand. I won't do it again!"

He hung up the phone and broke out in a cold sweat.

Vanessa, who was slowly leaving, witnessed everything and put on some disdain on her face.

“Humph, he only dared to be tough in front of women.

In front of others, he was nothing!

Such an idiot!”

She just didn’t know who the man on the phone was. When she divorced Brian and went to Washington D.C. with Aleah, she would ask Aleah to investigate.

When Aleah married into a more powerful family, she would be able to enjoy life as well.

At that time, even Abel would have to beg her!

Even Draven and Cierra had come to beg them!

As Vanessa thought of this, a smile appeared on her delicate face with a hint of viciousness.

When she returned to the room, she saw Aleah whose face was wrapped in gauze. Her heart ached and she said pitifully, “Good girl, you’ve suffered a lot.”

Aleah was still lying on the bed with a folding table in front of her, with a computer and some other things on it.

On the computer screen was a list of all kinds of identity information.

This was also her future identity.

Zora Green.

What a good name.

When she recovered, she would be Zora Green.

Hearing her mother’s voice, Aleah raised her head and winked at her.

“It doesn’t matter, mother. When I recover, I will take revenge!”

She would take revenge!

It was all Cierra’s fault.

Sooner or later, she would take revenge on Cierra.

In the past, she might have been afraid of the Barton family.

Now, she was not afraid of them at all.

Get Bogies ~0

There was always someone who was better than them.

The Barton family was not the most powerful family.

Any family in Washington D.C. was more powerful than the Barton family. Just wait and see!

Los Angeles.

Cierra sneezed.

Sarah raised her head to look at her. “What’s wrong, Cici? Do you catch a cold?”

Ever since Cierra had returned, Sarah had been keeping an eye on her.

Because of the accident, she was not allowed to cook dinner again.

They called Ryan and asked him to eat by themselves.

As for his family, Dr. Charles was not an unreasonable person. After hearing what had happened in the afternoon, he told Cierra to have a good rest.

Only Cierra didn’t know what to do.

She was fine, her family was...

But she couldn’t say anything about her family’s concern.

Anyway, she had been very busy recently, so she could take this opportunity to have a good rest.

Even so, Cierra still felt very helpless upon hearing her mother’s concern.

She smiled and said, "Mom, it's summer now, and I'm wearing a long-sleeved shirt. How could I catch a cold?"

Sarah also knew that she was over-worried. "I'm just worried about you."

"I know, but it doesn't matter even if I catch a cold."

Cierra held her hand. "I'm not sick. You don't have to worry about me."

As soon as she finished speaking, she sneezed again.

There was a moment of silence in the yard and then burst into laughter.

"You!"

Sarah couldn't help but smile.

Chapter 365 No One Knows

Just as the mother and daughter were making fun of each other, a car horn sounded.

"Jaquan should be back. I'll go and have a look."

Cierra stood up, planning to go out and welcome him.

After talking to William and the others on the phone in the afternoon, Jaquan also asked about her situation and said that he would come back early.

He would have to work overtime.

It was just because he worried about Cierra, he needed to see her and Will safe and sound in person.

No matter how much money he earned, it was not as important as his family.

Cierra also hoped that his brother could be at ease, so when she heard the sound, she held Will and planned to welcome him.

In the afterglow of the sunset, two men strode over.

They were wearing brown suits that wrapped around their long legs. Their shiny leather shoes stepped on the stone road, which was neither fast nor slow.

Cierra watched from afar, unable to hear what they were saying.

However, in that instant, she suddenly calmed down.

All the trivial things in her mind were emptied, leaving only the figures walking toward her.

Their steps were firm and they were tall. Coupled with the afterglow of the setting sun behind them, wasn't it a good scenery?

Such beautiful scenery.

By the time Jaquan and Bruno got closer, Cierra had already put on a smile. She held Will and walked forward.

"Jaquan." She smiled sweetly at him and did not forget Bruno. However, in comparison, her tone was less intimate with Bruno, and she had more politeness. "Bruno."

Jaquan nodded and looked at Cierra for a moment to see if she was injured.

His other hand was stroking Will's head gently.

"Did you get scared this afternoon?"

He was asking about Will.

Get Boptus

Of course, he was also caring for Cierra.

If the child was fine, the adults would be fine.

Will shook his head. "No, Dad. My aunt took me to a bus and viewed a lot of beautiful scenery by the river. Can I take a bus home by myself after school next time?"

Jaquan was a little surprised. "Didn't you take a taxi back?"

He had found out about the fact that Cierra didn't drive. However, he was surprised that the little guys

did not call a taxi back but took the bus instead.

Will explained this to Jaquan. He first took the bus and then took a taxi back.

Hearing this, Jaquan also understood.

He nodded and gave his answer.

“You’re still young. If you can take a bus, you can tell the driver. When you go to primary school, you can go to school by yourself. The premise is that once you accept this plan, you can’t go back on your word. You can’t change your mind and ask adults to pick you up because you’re too tired,

understand?”

Jaquan did not spoil the child, and he also hoped to respect his thoughts.

He didn’t agree for the sake of his safety. If he was taken away or lost, he didn’t know if he could find him.

He didn’t want another tragedy to happen to the Barton family.

But if Will insisted, it was not a bad thing to be independent in advance.

In the past, when the Barton family was not so rich, his parents didn’t have time to care about him.

He also went to school on his own.

At that time, the conditions were even worse.

There would be no bus, let alone a chauffeur and he could only work.

At that time, the Barton family was so poor that they couldn’t even afford a bicycle. Later, when he was in middle school, his grandfather sent him a bicycle.

Now that he thought about it, Will was lucky.

That’s good.

Jaquan looked at the child gently, and his warm hand fell on the child’s head. “You don’t have to answer me in a hurry. You can think about it yourself.”

Cierra, who was listening from the side, felt great pressure.

Get Blurtis

She complained in her heart “How can you ask a child like this?

How old was he? How could he think about it?

It was obvious that he regarded the child as his colleague.”

She was hesitating about whether to ease the atmosphere and save the child from the pressure when she heard Will’s calm tone.

“Dad, I can’t just think about it. If you allow me to go to school on my own, can I take out a week to compare and come up with a conclusion after thinking about it?”

As soon as he finished speaking, Cierra shut her mouth silently.

She had almost forgotten that Will was different from an ordinary child.

But after thinking for a while, she couldn’t help saying, “Forget it. It’s a good thing for children to practice, but I always feel that there is something wrong with today’s car accidents. It’s better to take him. Will is still so young, so we’re not in a hurry to let him be independent. What’s more, I think he is more sensible than most of his peers.”

He was even more self-disciplined and independent than many adults.

She couldn’t even compare to him

Cierra silently thought. She was also ashamed of her laziness.

Speaking of a car accident,

Jaquan’s expression changed.

His handsome face became a little more serious. He nodded and said, “You’re right. Let’s wait for Harold to investigate it first. You should be more careful. Although it’s safer now, you should keep on guard.”

Cierra smiled. “Got it. I’m planning to stay at home for the next few days.”

Although that was the case, it was impossible not to go out.

She thought that she had not offended anyone, so there was no need for someone to keep trying to kill her.

For the time being, she firmly believed that this was an accident.

“Miss Barton... did you experience any accidents when you were abroad?”

Bruno, who had been listening silently, suddenly looked at Cierra with a more serious gaze and asked.

He knew that there were scars on Cierra's body.

After all, the dinner party of the Boyle family was spread widely in the circle of the rich and powerful, and there were a lot of videos about it.

When she lifted the hem of her skirt with her tough face, he didn't know how much courage she had spent.

But he knew that she must be brave.

That was why she dared to show her scars in front of so many people.

He also knew very well that Cierra was very confident and happy now.

With the protection of the Barton family, those bad experiences could be forgotten.

Since she dared to face her scars, she had already taken off her armor in front of her relatives and acted like a spoiled child.

If it was in the past, Cierra would not have done so.

She would hide everything and don't allow anyone to help her.

He was glad that Cierra would become so happy.

He was also sad and shocked. She had suffered many things.
