They directly formed a circle, surrounding Astrid and the gang within the light shield in the middle.

"We can let the two go, but you must follow me alive, or I will kill these people." The man in the black robe said again.

Princess Astrid could not die.

Otherwise, they would be greeted with severe punishment.

To ensure this mission was successful, the king went and personally stopped the emperor of the Milky Way Empire at the expense of exposing the secret of Sangruil's cooperation with the galaxy beasts.

This showed how much importance the king attached to the task of capturing Princess Astrid this time.

If they still failed in this situation, then they really would be the sinners of Sangruil, and they would receive the most severe punishment from Sangruil.

"Alright," Astrid replied.

"Your Royal Highness!"

"Your Royal Highness!"

Both Ms. Madrigal and Emerald cried simultaneously.

"Emerald, leave with Ms. Madrigal! Go back and tell Father and Mother I've let them down."

"Your Royal Highness, we're not leaving!"

"Yes, we won't leave you behind."

"You won't be any help even if you stay. You will only make me feel more guilty and upset. Now, as the princess of the Milky Way Empire, I order you to leave at once," Astrid said solemnly.

“But...”

“No buts. Leave at once if you still think of me as the princess!”

“F–Fine. Your Royal H–Highness, you must take care. His Majesty will definitely find a way to save you.”

“I will.”

After Astrid said that, she waved her hand, and one–third of the light shield opened for Ms. Madrigal and Emerald to leave.

However, at this moment, the black–robed man who stopped Astrid and the gang initially appeared outside the shield suddenly.

He reached his scaly claws into the shield from the exit to grab Astrid.

He was as fast as lightning, and Astrid could not return to her senses in time due to her current level. Therefore, she could only watch as the scaly claw reached toward her.

The black–robed man was waiting for Astrid to open the shield.

He could tell that this shield had a very strong defense .

He could break it, but he would need some time.

During this time, the black–robed man could not guarantee that Astrid would not kill herself inside the shield.

He did not dare to take this gamble.

Hence, he immediately acted when Astrid opened the shield.

Of course, he did not believe that Astrid would go with him obediently if he let those two leave.

When the black–robed man’s claw was about to grab Astrid’s neck to stop her from killing herself, a hand suddenly appeared inside the shield and grabbed the black – robed man’s claw. He was stopped a centimeter away from Astrid’s neck, unable to move anymore.

The owner of this hand was naturally David.

He was initially resting his eyes in the courtyard. However, his mind power unintentionally sensed some strong energy approaching Planet Boundless. Therefore, he hesitated for a while before deciding to come and have a look.

That was when he saw this shocking scene.

He decided to stop the man before he could think.

Besides, the black-robed men did not look like good people to David.

They made David feel uncomfortable. Hence, David stopped the black-robed man from achieving his goal at the last second.

Outside Planet Boundless, the void seemed to be frozen.

David caught the black-robed man's hand, and the man could not budge.

He looked at the young man who suddenly appeared before him, and it was obvious that his brain had not registered what was going on yet.

He did not seem to understand why his hand had been grabbed by a man who looked so young.

Astrid and the gang widened their eyes. Astrid had already accepted her fate just now. Astrid was helpless facing a Sangruil Sinner who had reached Celestial Rank. Even if she exhausted all her available means, nothing would happen and she could only accept her fate. She even could not kill herself like she had planned.

However, someone had suddenly rescued her.

Astrid thought that since someone had come to her rescue, then this person would naturally be her father Emperor Nimbus of the Milky Way Empire.

Even when she saw a hand grabbing that disgusting paw, she thought for a second that her father had arrived.

However, what she actually saw was a completely unfamiliar face.

Astrid was sure that she had never seen this man before.

'Who is he? Did Father send him to save me?

'He's so young and he's so strong.

'He can even stop a Celestial Rank Sangruil Sinner.'

At this moment, David shifted his gaze and looked at her.

Immediately, Astrid's heart started racing and her face under the veil turned slightly red.

Even the dozens of black – robed men surrounding them never realized when David showed up despite keeping their eyes on Astrid and the gang the entire time.

It was as if this person suddenly appeared in their vision in that split second.

Despite this, their reaction was even slower.

As David was holding that black – robed man's hand, he shifted his eyes on Astrid, the black-robed man's target.

If he was right, this young lady with a face veil should be the main character today: Princess Astrid of the Milky Way Empire.

Even though he had guessed this, David still asked, "Are you Princess Astrid of the Milky Way Empire?"

"Yes," Astrid answered.

After confirming Astrid's identity, David looked back at the hand he was holding and frowned.

He sensed that something was wrong the moment he held the person's hand. It did not feel like a human hand at all.

After looking at it, he realized that it was not a f*cking hand at all!

It was a claw covered with scales.

'How could a human have claws like that?'

Even if David was terrifyingly strong and was a partial Infinity Ranker, someone who was almost at the level of the big shot in the Milky Way, he was not that old. He was only 25 or 26 years old and this was the first time he had encountered this.

Thus, he panicked and let go of his hand subconsciously. The black-robed man was free.

After this, he moved hundreds of meters back. His eyes looked like they belonged to a beast and they were staring fixedly at David.

Just now, he did not notice when David appeared.

This was a little scary.

One had to know that the black-robed man was modified by Sangruil. After he was injected with the genes of a galaxy beast, his combat power had reached beginner Celestial Rank.

Right now, he did not even sense it when a young man approached him.

There were two possibilities. First, this young man in front of him was much more powerful than him, and he was at least a late Celestial Ranker.

Second, this young man in front of him possessed advanced technology that specialized in high speed movement, and he was an expert in using it.

That was why the young man could grab his hand. Even though the black-robed man was caught off guard, the young man was definitely not weak.

No matter what the reason was, they had run into a possible hurdle in capturing Princess Astrid alive today.

If it were the first case, they would surely die today.

They were nothing in the face of a strong man with a combat power reaching late Celestial Rank.

Even if it were the second case, it would be hard for them to capture Princess Astrid with an opponent who possessed such speed.

“Did Nimbus send you?” The black-robed man asked unwillingly.

“Who is Nimbus?” David asked suspiciously.

He had just come here and had no idea who Nimbus was.

When Astrid heard David ask that, her heart was filled with more doubts.

‘He doesn’t know Father?’

‘Was he not sent by Father?’

‘However, if it wasn’t Father, who sent this person to save me?’

‘Just now, he asked me if I am Princess Astrid, so he must have been entrusted by others.’

It was not just Astrid whose mind was filled with these doubts, everyone else was thinking of the same question.

“You don’t know Nimbus?” The black-robed man asked again.

“No. Nobody sent me because no one can send me,” David said.

“Then why did you come here to save the princess?”

“I can’t stand this. Say, how can you grown men bully a woman? If you have the balls, go straight to her father!” David replied. Although he was not forced into doing this, it would be troublesome for him if the emperor of the Milky Way Empire looked into this in the future and found that he had just stood idly by. Of course, the most important factor to consider right now was that he could not defeat the emperor.

However, he was just embarrassed to say it out loud. He was a partial Infinity Ranker, so he still needed to protect his reputation.

“You...”

The black-robed man glared at David.

If David said Emperor Nimbus sent him, he would accept

However, David came to destroy the big plan Sangruil had thought out and planned for so long just because he could not stand it.

The black-robed man struggled to accept this.

“Do you know what you’re doing? This is a grudge between the Milky Way Empire and Sangruil. Are you sure you want to interfere and get yourself involved in this mess? Think about the consequences. Can you and your family bear it? I can pretend nothing happened if you wise up and leave now. If not, Sangruil will not forgive you,” the black-robed man threatened.

Of course, the black – robed man would not want to take action if he did not need to.

He knew his opponent’s strength, and he was not weak.

Besides, the black – robed man knew he was not David’s opponent judging from his lightning speed just now. Even if the black-robed man turned into a beast, he might not win.

Astrid and the gang felt their hearts tighten at the black robed man’s words.

What would they do if David was scared of the Sangruil Sinners and decided to leave them?

The trio finally saw a glimmer of hope, but now they were still going to fall into the Sangruil Sinners’ hands. If the emperor sent David , the trio would not have this thought at all.

However, David said he did not know the emperor. Thus, they were uncertain.

(He doesn’t know the emperor but knows Princess Astrid is in trouble and came to her rescue.

‘What’s going on?’ The trio had a lot of questions in their hearts , but they could not ask them right now.

“Sir, please help us. My father is Emperor Nimbus of the Milky Way Empire, and I am her daughter, Princess Astrid of the Milky Way Empire. If you are willing to help us, my father and I will never forget your life-saving grace,” Astrid looked at David and said with a bow.

David was shocked.

‘So Nimbus is the emperor of the Milky Way Empire.’

Even though he knew some information about the emperor , he had no idea what the emperor’s name was.

David looked at Astrid and nodded slightly.

Then, he turned his head to look at the black-robed man in the distance and asked, "I have no choice. I'm already stuck in this mess now. Besides, I'm curious now, are you human or beasts? Why are you all in black robes? Can't you let others see you?"

"Are you sure you want to stick your nose in this? Are you not afraid of Sangruil's endless pursuit?" The black robed man did not answer David's question but instead asked.

"You better answer my question first, and then I'll decide what to do," David replied.

He desperately wanted to know what was hidden under the black robes of these people as it was making him very uncomfortable.

The black-robed man said nothing.

David and the others could not see his expression.

"Our enemy is very tricky. Get ready to engage in beast mode," the black-robed man said suddenly.

He knew that since David had come to save Astrid, it was impossible for him to leave.

Therefore, he decided just to use his trump card directly and fight. There might still be a chance at victory in this way. "Yes, Sir!" More than a dozen other black-robed men replied at the same time.

Immediately after, all black-robed men stretched out their scaled claws and tore off their black robes, revealing their true colors.

David, Astrid, and the others narrowed their eyes.

They saw that the hands of these black-robed men were not human at all. Instead, they were beasts covered with scales.

Although they still had human heads, they also had scales on their faces.

They no longer had human eyes, but instead, they had snake-like eyes.

Are they still f*cking human?

'They are half-human, half-beast monsters!' "Ah!"

When Emerald saw this scary scene, she screamed.

David and the others also inhaled sharply.

They had seen humans and all kinds of beasts before but had never seen half-human, half-beasts.

'How did they do this?'

After the black-robed man removed their robes, their bodies started transforming.

More and more scales appeared on their bodies, and a few snakeheads appeared on their shoulders.

After that, a long tail appeared on their bottom.

One would shiver with fright just from this scene.

Emerald had already closed her eyes to stop looking.

Astrid was in deep thought when she saw the snakeheads appearing on the black-robed men's shoulders.

There were four heads on each side, so in addition to their original head, there were nine heads in total.

Astrid had seen this kind of galaxy beast in a book before. This was the Nine-Headed Serpent.

This was a very aggressive galaxy beast.

It was very powerful, so it was ranked at least top ten among the galaxy beasts. Most importantly, the book stated that humans were the Nine-Headed Serpent's main diet.

It turned out that these Sangruil Sinners were collaborating with Nine-Headed Serpents. They even transplanted their genes to increase their strength.

Did they not know that the Nine-Headed Serpents wanted to rear humans so that they would have a constant supply of food? "You... You're working with Nine-Headed Serpents? You're betraying the human race! If they find the human race's weakness, then you'll be sinners, and everyone will punish you!" Astrid pointed at the half man, half beast hybrids and snarled.

'Nine-Headed Serpent?'

David had never heard or seen this before.

There were no serpents on Earth, only snakes. Serpents and dragons only appeared in mythology.
