

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2197

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2197-“Very good! Then it’s time for everyone to bid freely. It’s still the same old rules, whoever bids the highest price will get the five Elf women.”

The masked man on the platform waved his hand, announcing the start of bidding.

The moment he finished speaking, someone responded immediately.

“I’ll pay five billion!”

It was such a high price right from the start.

“Six billion!”

“Seven billion!”

“Eight billion!”

Even though there was no base price, the price of the Elf women soared all the way, with each price increase in units of a billion.

In less than ten seconds, it broke through 10 billion.

Judging from this speed, the final price might reach tens of billions easily.

David looked stunned.

Even if he had endless money and did not care about money at all, he still figured it was not worth spending tens of billions on a few women.

Although there were also super rich people on Earth who spent a lot of money on their goddesses, they were not as mad as this.

They could spend tens of millions, hundreds of millions, or even more than hundreds of millions.

However, there had never been anyone spending tens of billions before.

Even the heads of those billionaire financial groups would not spend tens of billions to buy a few women.

What David did not know was that these people were not buying the Elf women entirely for enjoyment.

Those who attended this fair were not stupid.

They saw a huge business opportunity in this.

They would buy the five Elf women, keep two for themselves to enjoy, and secretly transport the remaining three to first-tier cities for sale. They could definitely make a lot of money from doing that.

The big-spending and spoiled kids of those powerful families would spend a lot of money to buy them.

Even if they did not sell the women, the women would also be useful as bargaining chips to curry favor with the major forces.

Maybe through that, they could find a strong backer for themselves.

Not only they could enjoy the women, but they could even gain benefits.

So why not?

Yet at the same time, they were also wondering why Black Fox was selling the five Elf women in the second-tier city Sole instead of a first-tier city or the main city.

If they were given a little time, perhaps they could figure out some of the deeper questions.

However, the current situation at the scene did not allow them to think too much.

If they did not make a move, someone else would.

These people would not allow others to take their benefits away from in front of them.

So whenever someone bid on the women, the others would take action immediately, causing prices to soar.

In another room separated only by a wall, a masked figure was sitting there, drinking tea.

If one looked carefully, one would notice that the person's hand holding the teacup was trembling slightly.

He was none other than Black Fox, the organizer of Sole's underground trade fair.

As to why this was happening, of course, it was because of the fear in his heart.

In the past, underground trade fairs were all decided long in advance, but this one was held urgently on short notice.

It was because Black Fox wanted to get rid of the five Elf women as quickly as possible.

Not long ago, when he was heading to Wier, a first-tier city, he ran into these Elf women.

Back then, they were being chased and hunted down, so they looked battered and exhausted.

Facing such a golden opportunity bestowed by heaven, how could Black Fox give up?

So, he pretended to help them out of kindness and hid them from the team of powerhouses hunting them.