

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 916

Chapter 916

Chapter 916

However, she did not care.

She did not like any other man aside from David in this life anyway.

She would just let him look!

Even if David pushed her onto the bed right now, she would not fight back. She might even cooperate with him.

When she noticed David staring at her chest, Selena purposely puffed it out

This jolted David back to his senses.

David looked away in embarrassment and said, "I made you a bowl of noodles. Since you were not awake yet, I brought it upstairs for you. Eat it while it's hot."

"Thank you," Selena thanked after she took the bowl.

"You're welcome. I'll leave now, bye!"

"Bye!"

As she watched David leave, Selena felt a little surprised.

Back then, even though David would cook noodles for her, she would always need to go downstairs to eat them.

This was the first time he had brought the food to her.

This was Celia's special treatment, but she got to experience it today.

Plus, Selena could feel David's change of attitude toward her and the difference in the way he looked at her.

How should she describe it?

He was treating her much better than before.

There was even adoration in his eyes.

'Has he accepted me?'

Selena's eyes lit up.

She did not know it was because David discovered their ending in another timeline, leading to his change in attitude.

In the afternoon, David, Celia, and Selena sat in the living room.

This was not Celia's house anymore.

Instead, this was a hilltop villa in Capital City.

Celia's parents were back, so it would be inappropriate to continue staying with them.

Thus, David changed to another accommodation, and Celia and Selena also followed him.

"Celia, Lena, I need to tell you some things," David looked at the two and said.

"Go on, we're listening," Celia answered.

Selena did not say anything, but she was happy hearing how David addressed her.

It had been so long, and she finally got acknowledged by David.

*Now that Earth's Internet has connected to the Internet of the Stella Civilization Galaxy, you can read the news about the Milky Way when you're bored."

"The Milky Way? Is that where the aliens who want to dominate Earth live?" Celia asked curiously.

Selena also looked at David curiously.

"Yes, that's the place. Earth is also a part of the Milky Way, but we're on the edge of it, so we're very far away from the center of the Milky Way," David answered.

"No. Aliens are evil. They want to enslave all earthlings. I won't go and read about them!" Celia retorted.

Clearly, she was still resentful, of Pavan trying to enslave all the earthlings.

"Celia, the Milky Way is like Earth that's been enlarged countless times. Not all aliens are bad. Just like on Earth, there are good people, bad people, and also law enforcement. The Milky Way Empire has not recognized Earth, so we're basically unregistered. That's why they dared to take action against us. However, if we register Earth, no one will dare to come to dominate Earth."

"Really?" Celia asked in disbelief.

"Of course! Earth is just a grain of sand in the universe. You should look at the even wider world outside the Earth. You can't miss out on this chance."

“Let’s go! Let’s see what the alien world looks like, Miss Selena.”

Celia grabbed Celia and ran upstairs. 1

She could not wait to go online to see the alien world.

I’m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 917

Chapter 917

Chapter 917 After Celia and Selena left, David immediately contacted Mason.

David told him about the synchronization of the Earth’s Internet with the Milky Way’s Internet.

At the same time, he hosted a global live broadcast through the system with his mobile phone.

David knew that his words currently carried the most weight on Earth.

Human curiosity could kill the cat,

He needed to explain the synchronization of the Internet to ‘people worldwide to avoid panic.

After all, what happened to Pavan still traumatized the human beings on Earth.

They might think aliens were invading Earth again after seeing so many things concerning matters outside of Earth on the Internet...” Soon, people worldwide who were on the Internet saw David’s handsome face on their phones or computer.

David pointed the camera at himself.

First of all, he greeted everyone.

“Hello, everyone! I’m David.”

Then, he went straight to the topic, skipping the nonsense.

“I believe everyone has discovered that since last night, there have been various strange news on the Internet.

“Everyone must be wondering what is going on. Now, I am solemnly telling everyone that the news is accurate. The Earth’s Internet has connected to the Milky Way’s Internet since last night, and they’re in sync now.

“That is to say, from now on, even if you are sitting at home, you can learn some basic information about the Milky Way via the Internet.

“The earth is only a drop in the ocean that is the entire universe. The world outside is vast. Our planet is at the very edge of the Milky Way, so you can also think of the Milky Way as Earth that has been enlarged countless times.

“In reality, aliens are also divided into good and bad beings. They also have laws and regulations, so not all aliens are hostile toward Earth. The last incident was just an accident. In the future, everyone can chat with aliens and learn more about them.

“In the future, when you see the news from the Milky Way, there is no need to make a fuss. The Earth is about to enter the interstellar era, and all of us will be witnesses to this. We must work hard; martial artists are the masters of the entire universe. Some powerful martial artists can even traverse the void physically and voyage among the stars. If we want to show Earth without being bullied, we must be strong ourselves.

“Okay, I’ll stop here. If you have any questions, you can find them directly on the Internet. The Internet is all-encompassing,

30 I believe it will give you a satisfactory answer. Goodbye!”

After David finished the brief explanation about Internet synchronization, he directly turned off the live broadcast.

‘Earth is about to enter the interstellar era?’

“Powerful martial artists can traverse the void and voyage among the stars?’ .

In an instant, people all over the world went crazy.

Now, David’s prestige in the world had reached an unprecedented height.

It was no exaggeration to say that he was like a God to everyone now.

Hence, no one would doubt the authenticity of what David said just now.

Countless people began to dive headfirst into the online world.

They wanted to understand what the world beyond Earth was like.

David also started looking online for sites where he could buy things.

The most important thing right now was to spend money to improve his strength. The Earth would only be safer after he upgraded to Cosmos Rank.

It did not take long for David to find a shopping site.

After he opened to take a look, David was almost blinded by what he saw.

It was really amazing what was sold on this site.

They had everything from small laser guns and laser cannons to large flying vessels and spaceships.

The website was even selling Pavan's Octagon.

However, it required customization.

A 50% deposit was required first, and the buyer had to wait a year or a half to receive it.

Maybe many people were ordering them, so the manufacturer could not make them in time.

'They're selling heavy weapons and equipment so publicly, and the Milky Way Empire doesn't care, huh?'

David was a little puzzled.

Since the Milky Way Empire was so powerful and governed the entire scope of the Milky Way, they should forbid this, right?

In truth, David had no idea.

Since the humans in the heart of the Milky Way had become incredibly powerful, weapons and equipment were only supplementary. Some of the powerful ones, like David, could easily destroy a planet with their bare hands.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 918

Chapter 918

Chapter 918

Weapons and equipment were useless to them.

Personal strength was the most important thing here.

Humans were nurtured by science as soon as they were born to stimulate their potential.

Even if the weakest people came to Earth, they would still be number one if you did not consider special cases like David.

So, in this case, the Milky Way did not prohibit the sale of weapons.

Of course, if the weapon's power exceeded a certain limit, ordinary people would not be able to purchase it.

Such as strategic military weapons like the Octagon.

One could only buy it if their combat power or their family's combat power reached a certain level.

David looked at the price and saw that the Octagon was only 200 million Galaxy Dollars.

'Is it so cheap?'

Based on the system, he could only get one lavish point after he spent 100 million.

So, he could only get two f*cking lavish points from buying the Octagon.

As for other basic vehicles like spaceships, they would need more than 10 million Galaxy Dollars.

With this price, David felt like he was back on Earth decades ago.

'How many things do I need to buy to break through to Cosmos rank?'

Ten billion Galaxy Dollars!

'How can I spend all of that in a short time?'

David tried to open a link to a spaceship.

The spaceship was priced at 18 million Galaxy Dollars.

There was also a series of introductions describing the spaceship.

David did not even look at it before he clicked buy.

Suddenly, a window popped up, asking David to register with his real name. Otherwise, he would not be able to buy the item.

"F*ck!"

David could not hold himself back from cursing.

Now, the Earth was still unregistered, so how could he register with his real name?

If that was the case, did it mean he would not be able to buy anything?

David felt that this was getting serious.

He tried other shopping websites, and the result was still the same.

He could not buy anything.

He even tried to randomly register, but it still did not work.

He could not get past the authentication stage at all.

“Oh no! If I can’t buy anything, then I can’t earn lavish points.

‘If I don’t get lavish points, how will I upgrade to another realm?’

‘I am back at the same spot again.

What should I do now?’

David collapsed on the chair.

He thought he could buy the items from the Milky Way online to squander money.

The Earth’s address was hidden by the system anyway, and the system was a remnant of a God Tier Civilization.

Hence, David was not worried about exposing the Earth’s location.

He would not be worried no matter how much money he spent.

He even thought that he could quickly upgrade a few ranks.

That way, he would not need to be afraid of anyone anymore.

Just great! He could not buy anything without registering with his real name. He had money, but he could not spend it.

I’m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 919

Chapter 919

Chapter 919

David was depressed for a while.

Then, he started searching online again.

This time, he was looking for information on the Milky Way Empire.

David browsed for a while after he went to the official website for the Milky Way Empire.

Suddenly, he found an online customer service.

He hurriedly clicked on it, and a window popped up.

David tried typing something and sent it over.

[Hello!]

Then, he waited anxiously.

Soon, the other party replied.

[Hello, do you need any help?]

David typed another sentence.

(Are you a government staff member of the Milky Way Empire ?]

[Yes, this is the online customer service of the Stella Civilization Galaxy of the Milky Way Empire.]

David was excited.

Finally, he managed to get in touch with an official staff member of the Milky Way Empire.

[I have a question to ask.]

(Go ahead.)

(How can a living planet on the edge of the Milky Way that has not been registered by the Milky Way Empire be recognized by the Milky Way Empire?)

[You mean an indigenous living planet?]

David hated the name, but he still replied. [Yes, an indigenous living planet. How can the Milky Way Empire recognize it?]

[Have you discovered an indigenous living planet, or are you someone from that planet?]

[I am from this planet.]

[In this case, you need to tell us the planet’s location and wait for our empire’s official personnel to acknowledge it. If everything checks out, there are two options.

[The first choice is we will add the planet into the empire. You don’t need to do anything, and you’ll become the low–class citizen planet of the empire. You get to enjoy the lowest rights and benefits of the empire, and the empire will also protect you. However, the empire will send someone to live on this planet to govern it.

[On the other hand, for the second choice, since you’re from this planet, you can propose buying this planet from the empire. That way, you’ll become a high–class citizen planet. Moreover, you’ll be the head of that planet, and the empire will not interfere with any operations concerning the planet. Plus, you only need to pay the empire some money every year to enjoy the highest rights and benefits of the empire.]

David's eyes lit up after the explanation.

'I can even buy Earth?

'Even God is helping me!

'I was just wondering how I should spend money.

I will need about tens or hundreds of billions to buy Earth right?

'Those are all lavish points!

David quickly replied. [Can I buy it without waiting for your people to come to check it? We're at the edge of the Milky Way, and it's a bit far. I can't wait that long.]

[If we don't send our people over, we won't be able to confirm if you're telling the truth, and we can't determine the price. We need to appraise the planet according to its value.]

David felt that it might take too long for the Milky Way Empire's staff to come over to confirm their status. An accident might occur while he was waiting for this to take place.

After he thought about it, he replied. (Whether or not it is legitimate doesn't matter, right? Can you just value it with the highest appraisal value? I've worked outside for so many years. While I worked hard to raise my strength and ability, I also saved some money to protect my homeland. I know it's dangerous for a planet that has not been recognized if people with bad intentions were to ever discover us.]

[If that's the case, I need to report this to my higher-ups because

I can't make decisions on this. Can I ask what rank you're at now?]

David replied. (Peak Stellar Rank]

At this moment, he felt that he should not hide it anymore.

After all, the stronger he was, the more respected he would be in this world that valued strength.

Besides, if he could buy Earth, not only would Earth become a high-class citizen planet in the Milky Way Empire, he could break through again and reach Cosmos Rank.

He was already holding back when he said he was at peak Stellar Rank.

On a huge planet in the middle of the Milky Way on the other side of the distant sky.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 920

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 920

Chapter 920 A young girl was staring in a daze at the screen in front of her.

Her name was Hyacinth Astor, and she was an ordinary staff member of the Milky Way Empire's online service station.

Just now, when she answered a question from a person who claimed to be on the indigenous living planet, she asked what combat power the person was out of curiosity.

Unexpectedly, the other party's answer stunned her.

'Peak Stellar Rank?

'My eyes are not deceiving me, right?

This person from an indigenous living planet is actually a peak Stellar Ranker?

'This must be a fantasy!'

She had been working in the Milky Way Empire for all these years and had never heard of such a thing.

The Milky Way was so vast, and quite a few indigenous living planets had been discovered.

However, the people on those planets were not even at Satellite Rank.

It was very rare for them to be able to reach Satellite Rank.

- Hence, a peak Stellar Ranker was even more unheard of.

Moreover, a peak Stellar Ranker could be regarded as one of the strong beings in the entire Milky Way Galaxy. Who would dare to attack this planet when someone like this was on it?

When Hyacinth returned to her senses, she quickly replied to David before contacting her superior.

David did not get a reply from the other party for a long time, so he started to worry again.

However, his worries were obviously superfluous.

A person from an indigenous living planet revealed he had the power of a peak Stellar Ranker.

Therefore, he would deserve the attention of the Milky Way Empire, whether it was true or not.

Hyacinth reported the news to her superiors, and her superiors immediately reported the information to higher-ups of the Milky Way Empire.

David received a reply soon after.

(Please wait, I'll report your situation to the higher-ups.)

David did not notice that Hyacinth's reply had become more polite.

To her, a peak Stellar Ranker was already considered a big shot.

Even though many powerful people existed in the Milky Way Empire, Hyacinth was just an average staff member.

Her higher-ups had just entered Planet Rank, so she changed the way she replied to David.

The strong would be respected no matter where they went.

David waited for a while before he got a reply.

[Hello, do you want to buy your own planet?]

David replied with great joy. (Yes! Are you the one who can call the shots in the Milky Way Empire?)

[Yes, I am. If you want to buy your planet according to the information you just gave, you will need 30 billion Galaxy Dollars, and you need to tell us the exact location of the planet. We need to mark the newly registered planet on the galaxy map. Only then can it be recognized by the empire.)

David did not want to reveal the location of the Earth as he felt that the Earth would be endangered if he did.

However, it seemed that he had to reveal it no matter what now.

He had no choice but to reply. (Alright, we've already connected to the Milky Way's Internet, so you should be able to directly confirm my location, right?)

[You've already connected to the Milky Way's internet? How is this possible? Usually, after the registration is completed, we will send people to build the base before you can connect to the Milky Way's Internet.]

[It's a secret! Can I not answer?]

[Of course. It'll be easier this way. We just need to determine your location, extract your basic information via your Internet, and then you can transfer the money to the empire's account.]

[Alright.]

After David replied, he turned on the system and stopped hiding Earth's location.

[Lastly, may I be so presumptuous as to ask if you have really reached the peak Stellar Rank?]

[Yes, it's true.]

(Very well, I'll finish the formalities for you soon.)