The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 861

Chapter 861

“What did you just call me?” Rosalynn crossed her arms, “Bastard?”

“Your mom was fooling around with other men, so what else would you be if not a bastard?” Latham gritted his teeth. “If I knew that bitch was already carrying you when she left, I’d have made sure she had a miscarriage”

Before he finished,

Mike had broken his arm.

Latham let out a piercing scream

Those eavesdropping outside the conference room felt a chill run from their feet to their heads at that scream. “Latham, do you really not know the truth about my mother?” Rosalynn looked at Latham, not particularly angry.

It wasn’t worth getting upset over such a dope.

Latham glared back at her.

Seeing this, Yvonne stepped forward, “Gabriella, your father is just angry, he’s not thinking straight.”

“Shut your mouth Rosalynn turned to Yvonne, “Who the hell are you, and what gives you the right to speak?”

Yvonne paled.

"My mom was drugged by you; this whole takeover of the Jared Group was also your doing, you think I don't know?" Rosalynn asked, word by word, "Your payback is coming. You don't need to be seeking your own destruction now."

"Gabriella, there's a lot you don't understand about your elders, how could you..." Yvonne was on the verge of tears.

But Rosalynn didn't care.

She twirled her pen and started to laugh sarcastically, "A shameless mistress wants to play the elder card?"

"Mistress" was Yvonne's trigger, but now it was mentioned over and over again.

Her mouth twitched a few times, and she looked at Rosalynn with growing animosity, "Gabriella, don't twist the truth to shame others, Latham and I were engaged before we were born. I was switched at birth with your mother, and she stole my life, my wealth, my father, and my husband!"

The switched at birth part is indeed unfortunate for you, but by the time you were found, Latham had been dating my mom for seven years and they were married for two. That's a fact that can't be changed. Your biological father and Hilaria were busy finding you a good match, sons of tycoons, high-ranking officials and so on, but you insisted on being a homewrecker." Rosalynn said.

Yvonne's face stiffened even more.

"Bastard!!"

Seeing his wife being bullied and humiliated, Latham couldn't contain his anger and roared.

"Latham, don't provoke her like this, I don't want you to get hurt because of me!" Yvonne cried out quickly,

"Regardless of how she was born, she is still your daughter, I don't want to see you two at odds like this."

Rosalynn just watched coldly, signaling Mike to let go of Latham.

Mike gave a contemptuous snort, let go, and returned to Rosalynn's side.

Once free, Latham immediately stood in front of Yvonne, "She's an illegitimate child! Not my daughter!"

Hearing this, Rosalynn couldn't help but laugh.

Seeing Rosalynn being called an illegitimate child and not angry, instead starting to laugh, gave Latham the heebie-jeebles.

"Latham, the paternity test is right in front of you, are you still going to deceive yourself and others?" Rosalynn looked at him, "Or is it because you've known for a while that you were deceived by Yvonne and wronged my mom, but you're too afraid to face your own stupidity and mistakes to admit the truth. You really are as I thought, arrogant, cowardly, and incompetent."

"Nonsense!"

Latham paled, yelling in anger.

"Do you think Yvonne truly loves you?" Rosalynn continued.

Chapter 862

"She's not like your mom, a flirtatious woman. She's loyal to me!" Latham tightened his grip on Yvonne's hand, trying his best to show off their love in front of Rosalynn.

"Oh."

Rosalynn chuckled, her gaze landing on a guilty-looking Yvonne

"Is that so?" Rosalynn asked.

"Latham, we don't need to waste time with her, let's go." Yvonne tugged at Latham's arm, ready to leave.

But before they could even take a step,
the previously dimmed screen lit up again

It was a very cramped dressing room, where Yvonne, disheveled, was entwined passionately with a tall, muscular young man.

Due to the angle of the camera,
Yvonne's sweaty face was captured in crystal clear detail
Her diamond earrings sparkled under the dressing room's chandelier.

Latham turned in shock to Yvonne
"Honey, it's not me, she must have manipulated the video!"

Tearful and anxious, Yvonne pleaded
Latham said "The earrings were the anniversary gift I got you from the auction last month if it was manipulated, how could they have included such a small detail"

And what about the passionate expressions on their faces, the mole under her shoulder blade

"Yvonne, are you really accusing me of framing you?" Rosalynn tapped her desk lightly without turning around, I'm sorry, but I've received numerous Mr Latham to enjoy!" videos of you with different men at different locations in the past few days if you're saying I'm framing you, I can release them one by one for you and

Yvonne stared at Rosalynn, rooted to the spot
Seeing her like this, Latham finally understood lost my inheritance, and this is how you repay me?" There's more than one?" He looked at Yvonne, pointing incredulously at the muscular man on the screen, Yvonne, I was disowned by my family for you,

"Honey" Yvonne said.

*SLAPP

Latham's hand landed hard on Yvonne's face.

With a ringing in her ears, Yvonne staggered back a few steps before regaining her balance

After a moment's pause, me? No! It's because you're useless!" "Heh." Yvonne covered her cheek, managing a smile, "Latham, you only have yourself to blame for being so useless! You lost your inheritance because of Yvonne knew Latham.

Unless the evidence was right in front of him, he was better at self-deception than anyone.

Now, he knew about her affairs, and his power grab had failed,

She didn't want to live this miserable life anymore;

might as well break up with Latham for good.

"You're incompetent, so all the years we've been married, I've been dealing with all sorts of problems for you. And you? Like a child, spending all day with your bad friends, eating, drinking and having fun.

What's wrong with me looking for men? God knows how many women you slept with!!" Yvonne said.

You..." Yvonne had always been gentle in front of Latham. Now her fiery attitude made him feel both alien and afraid

Chapter 863

"I'm what?" Yvonne glared at him, filled with hate and disgust.

"You're good for nothing! I've planned everything for you, spent tons of dough. You can't even take on an illegitimate child! You were a down-and-out loser, and now you're about to hit rock bottom! I'm divorcing you! I can't stand being with you any longer"

As soon as Yvonne finished, the conference room door swung open and Lydia, wearing sunglasses and a mask, burst in.

Mike was on alert, but Lydia went straight for Yvonne, grabbing at her handmade designer top.

What did you plan? Did you kill Jason?" Lydia yelled.

Yvonne watched in surprise as the woman in front of her went into a fit,
"Lydia?"

Lydia yanked off her mask and sunglasses, her eyes red and swollen, "Did you kill him?"

"Why aren't you dead?" Yvonne turned to the shocked Latham, "Didn't you say she was dead?"

Latham sneered, 1 lied to you, you wicked bitch, dreaming of wiping out the Jared family's descendants. What a beautiful dream!"

"Don't act like you spared my aunt and her child Rosalynn snickered, "They were saved by Mike and his brothers."

"Gave me a concussion, screw you" Mike kicked Latham in the waist, Latham groaned in pain and collapsed onto the conference table.

At this time, Yvonne finally snapped back to reality. You idiot! Why didn't you tell me she wasn't dead!" She pushed the frail Lydia aside and pounced on Latham, slapping him repeatedly, "I knew it! With tight security and signal jamming, how could Hilaria possibly send out that video! So it was with Lydia" Rosalynn twirled her pen, recalling the early morning a day ago. After comforting Lydia and preparing to rest, Lydia called in a panic. She had found a jade ring of Hilaria's in her child's backpack, and Rosalynn immediately rushed over with Jaime.

Jaime looked at the jade ring. "This ring was made by Cory, it's actually a mini camera"

Jaime carefully removed the jade from the ring, pointing to a spot on the ring that looked like a small diamond, "This is the camera."

Hilaria was very supportive of Cory's explorations in various fields. This ring was something Hilaria hardly ever wore. Once, while watching a sci-fi cartoon with Cory and Ivy, the main character's grandmother's sunglasses and ring were made into cameras.

Cory said he could do it too. Hilaria immediately took Cory to the jewelry vault, letting him pick whatever he wanted for his

"If you complete the task, Granny will have more rewards for you!" Hilaria said.

Cory wasn't interested in the rewards, but he was interested in the challenge.

He picked a jade ring, a pair of gold diamond bracelets, and some other jewelry from the vault.

After more than a month of research, Cory successfully transformed the expensive jade ring into a camera with storage capabilities. It was undetectable to the average person and didn't affect the ring's beauty.

The gold diamond bracelet was also successfully transformed, b compared to gold, Hilaria preferred the jade ring.

From then on, she wore this ring everywhere, feeling extremely proud, but she didn't realize it.

Chapter 864

At the crucial moment, this jade ring, which was originally intended to show off, surprisingly became a game changer.

Yvonne was still sobbing and shouting at Latham.

just go to hell!" Yvonne said. "I spent so much money and even got your brother killed. Now it's all screwed because of your foolishness! Latham, you are such a loser. Why don't you

They would definitely continue to use grandmother as a bargaining chip.

He was not capable of acting independently.

Once he and Yvonne broke up, he would immediately backstab her; this was something Rosalynn was absolutely sure of.

Rosalynn was about to get up,

but then she heard Yvonne suddenly burst into laughter,

"Find her? Where are you gonna look? In the underworld?"

Rosalynn froze, and Latham turned back in surprise, "What do you mean?"

foresee that I would kill that old hag out of spite and overconfidence?" "She died last night!" Yvonne sat on the ground, laughing like a madwoman, 'Gabriella, no matter how well you thought through, how could you not

"You're lying!"

Rosalynn shouted angrily.

"Latham, take me there now!"

"Oh... okay... okay, let's go right away!" Latham's legs went weak.

His wife, who he had always relied on, had betrayed him.

And the thought of his mother possibly being dead filled Latham with an inexplicable fear.

What would he do if his mother really died?

His daughter... right... he still had a daughter!

He wouldn't be left all alone!!

"Shut up!" "Ha—ha, you fool, old Hilaria has already been burned to ashes by me! If you want to find her, you'll have to go to the underworld!" Yvonne said.

Lydia pounced on Yvonne and slapped her four times.

This was probably her fiercest moment ever.

"Ahr

Lydia felt pain all over,
she struggled and wrestled with Yvonne.

By this time, Rosalynn couldn't care about anything else.

She felt extremely scared, as if she had been brought back to the moment when her mother, grandfather, and grandmother left.

She was frightened, lost, and clung to Latham, staggering towards the door of the conference room.

Hilaria.....

Please wait for me.

Chapter 865

The conference room door swung open, and Rosalynn walked into a familiar and comforting embrace
"Careful there."

Wayne caught Rosalynn, his voice laced with anxiety.

Rosalynn looked up at him,
tears streaming down her face.

She didn't even realize she was crying, "I need to find Hilaria, don't stop me!
I've already brought Grandma home." Wayne, seeing her cry so heartbrokenly, gently wiped away her tears while comforting her. Rosalynn froze,
What did you just say?"
"Grandma's at home, she's at our hospital being checked and treated." Wayne smiled at her, 'Grandma's still alive.'

Unable to hold back any longer,

Rosalynn threw herself into Wayne's arms, crying into his chest.

Wayne was taken aback,

and overjoyed.

He gently patted Rosalynn's head, "Come on, don't cry. There are people watching."

"Let them watch!" Rosalynn mumbled, I'll cry if I want to!"

Wayne chuckled,

speaking even more tenderly. "Alright, what our Chairman says, goes!

Lola and some other shareholders standing nearby were speechless. They didn't sign up for this lovey dovey show

Meanwhile, Mike was pulling Yvonne and Lydia apart.

her down for you!" trying to persuade Lydia, "Lydia, you're getting beaten up black and blue; you'll scare your son. Ms. Lydia, if you really want to hit her, I'll have my guys hold

Just as he finished saying this,

a figure suddenly rushed from the door.

"Bitch, my mom didn't die! Wayne saved her!" Latham pointed at Yvonne and jeered, "Your evil deeds will catch up with you. When my mom wakes up. you'll meet a bad end!"

"She didn't die?" Yvonne froze, "Impossible, Noah sent me a picture of her corse!!"

Yvonne paused then suddenly snapped back to reality

"Could it be Noah.. Impossible!!! Yvonne immediately went into hysterics.

Seeing this, Latham was reminded of the young man in the video, "What's so impossible? Is that crippled doctor also one of your lovers? Yvonne, how could you be such a slut, sleeping with everyone!"

The words "crippled doctor"

reached Wayne's ears, and he instinctively frowned.

The person crying in his arms also let go.

"Mike, take care of things here," Rosalynn said.

"Understood" Mike responded immediately

"Let's go, I need to see Grandma Rosalynn wiped her tears and said to Wayne

Wayne looked a bit defeated, shot Latham a harsh glare, then followed Rosalynn out.

Once they were in the car,

Rosalynn stared out the window,

It really was a beautiful day.

"Was it Noah?" she asked without looking at Wayne, her voice choked with emotion.

Wayne nodded, "Right after you left, Noah called me and asked me to bring Grandma home."

Rosalynn bowed her head, tears dropping one by one.

Chapter 865

knew it, he wouldn't hurt his own family" Rosalynn said. Wayne remained quiet, lightly patting her on the shoulder

They quickly arrived at the hospital where Hilaria was staying.

Rosalynn ran straight to the room as soon as she got off the elevator.

Outside the room, a man was hunched over on a bench, covering his face

Hearing footsteps, he looked up

Seeing it was Rosalynn, he stood up instinctively

Chapter 866

Before he could say anything. Rosalynn had already thrown herself into his arms and hugged him tightly

Noah stood there, frozen

She didn't make a sound in his arms, but her shoulders were shaking gently, obviously crying.

Noah stayed silent for a moment

Come to think of it, even after that painful goodbye, the two hadn't hugged each other so tightly when they met again.

This was the first time. And the last time.

Noah looked up at Wayne, who was walking towards them

You're already grown up, and you're still crying in your brother's arms, huh?" Noah looked away and gently patted Rosalynn's back "Granny Hilaria is just unconscious because of the medication, her body functions are still fine, and the tests are done. It'll take a few days for her to wake up, though. You should go see her."

"Don't leave, wait for me!

Rosalynn let go of Noah, looking at him with teary eyes.

In a daze,

It seemed like Noah was back in the distant past.

Little Rosalynn,

crying with a red nose, holding his hand, sobbed and said, "Noah, don't go! Lynn doesn't want you to leave!"

Noah looked at her

if... if he hadn't left back then, would things have been different?

I know, I wont leave Noah gently wiped the tears off Rosalynn's face.

He didn't know if he was talking to the Rosalynn in front of him.

or the red-nosed Lynn from the past.

Rosalynn pushed open the door to the hospital room.

Seeing Hilaria lying in bed, breathing steadily, she finally felt relieved.

Outside the door,

Wayne walked over to Noah.

"President Silverman won't chop off my hand just because of that hug, right?" Noah lifted his hand.

Because he wasn't wearing a watch, the scar on his wrist was clearly visible.

Wayne glanced at it and looked away. Thank you for helping Granny If you have any requests, you can tell me. As long as it doesn't cross my bottom line, I can agree to it

"No need" Noah sneered. We both know that I'm not doing this for you?

Wayne stayed silent.

Then Noah spoke again, I just hope that in the future... you won't force her to do things she doesn't like."

Wayne looked at Noah,

"That's all in the past. I wont."

"Hopefully."

Noah silently looked away and sat back down.

Then, as if thinking of something, he took the watch out of his lab coat pocket, put it on, and covered the scar.

There were also some scratches on his wrist.

They were actually quite faint, but he still pulled his sleeve down to cover them.

Wayne watched,

feeling an indescribable feeling that made him incredibly frustrated.

After a while.

Rosalynn came out of the hospital room.

Wayne and Noah, one standing and one sitting,

both looked at her at the same time.

She glanced at Wayne and then at Noah, I'm hungry. Let's find somewhere to eat."

Noah shook his head, "No I can't. There are people waiting for me to go back."

Rosalynn hesitated and asked, "Girlfriend?"

Noah smiled and shook his head, "Not a girlfriend, but two kids I'm planning to adopt. Because of passport issues, they're still in H City. I already promised them I'd go home as soon as I'm done with everything."

When talking about those two kids, Noah's smile was very warm.

"Noah, about this time." Rosalynn hesitated for a moment but still asked.

She wanted to know why Noah was with the Latham couple and what had happened.
