

The secret 3

Chapter 3

Roxanne's heart jumped into her throat and she stayed there as she ran out of the airport. She kept turning her shoulder to confirm that he wasn't chasing them.

Fortunately, her figure was nowhere to be seen even after they left the airport.

Roxanne was finally able to breathe a sigh of relief.

The children found it strange that she kept turning her head to look behind them.

Since Roxanne seemed anxious, they knew this was not the time to ask questions. Without a word, she obediently allowed him to take them out.

"Roxana! Archie! Benny! A woman called from afar.

The three of them raised their heads to see a lady dressed in a suit, cheerfully waving at them as she made her way towards them.

Roxanne gradually relaxed at the sight of the woman. With a smile, she said, "Madilyn, it's been so long!"

Madilyn Xander was her best friend in college and currently worked as a doctor at her own family's hospital.

Soon after, Madilyn stopped in front of them and hugged Roxanne. "You are finally back home. I've missed you so much!" she said in a friendly way.

Roxanne chuckled and replied, "I missed you too."

They have been in touch for years online, but rarely had the chance to meet in real life.

After giving her a hug, Madilyn reached down and hugged the children. "My babies, do you miss me?"

Archie and Benny laughed adorably before responding in unison: "Of course I do! Aunt Madilyn, we even dream about you. You're still as pretty as ever!"

"How sweet of you!" Madilyn smiled happily after hearing her praise.

Roxanne's guard was still up. She looked towards the airport gate and calmly said, "Come on. We can talk at home.

Madilyn gave the boys a kiss on the cheek before standing up. After placing her luggage in her truck, she ushered them into her car and sped away from her.

At the same time, Lucian appeared at the airport gate.

"Cancel my schedule abroad," he told his assistant, Cayden Lawson.

Cayden nodded briefly in acknowledgment. "Mister. Goodbye, we have extended the search for Mrs. Estella. She is young and she can't go far. Don't worry."

Mrs. Estella is the beloved daughter of Mr. Farwell. It is more crucial to find it. Her work abroad is not that important in this situation.

Lucian's gaze darkened as he walked over to the Maybach parked at the side of the road.

Soon the car drove away.

An hour later, Madilyn's car arrived at Durwest Garden. It was a residential area full of mansions.

Roxanne had enlisted Madilyn's help in renting a place, and this was the house Madilyn had found for her.

The four of them jumped out of the car and entered the new house under Madilyn's direction.

"The environment seems nice. I like this place."

Satisfied, Roxanne turned to look at Madilyn. "You're quite efficient, huh?"

Madilyn arched an eyebrow. "I'm your neighbor. The owner of this house moved to the capital and wanted to rent this place. I stumbled upon it. As long as we're free, we can visit each other's places."

Roxanne's lips curved as she nodded.

After briefly unpacking her things, it was time for dinner.

Therefore, Madilyn invited them to dinner.

She had just pulled into the restaurant parking lot and was about to park her car when a girl ran out of a dark corner.