

"Hmph! Petty tricks." Yona drew a circle in the air, creating a giant black hole before him. Matthew's attack was instantly swallowed by the black hole.

It didn't manage to leave even a scratch on him. Yona then unleashed a palm strike. A giant, black handprint appeared on Matthew's chest and severely wounded him. Blood spilled from his mouth as he collapsed on the ground.

"Master!" Skyler and Archer rushed toward their master before helping him up. Matthew paled. His aura was significantly weaker. I used all my might earlier to unleash Flaming Spear, but that didn't harm Yona at all! I'm afraid this place will be our grave.

"Archer, Skyler, find a chance to escape. Don't ask the other sects for help. I think they truly want us dead. Remember, leave this place and the hidden realm. Find an unremarkable spot and live an ordinary life. I believe you two can do well with your abilities."

"We won't leave you even if we die!" Skyler sobbed as she stared at her master's pitiful state. "Leave with Skyler, Master. I'll stop them," stated Archer firmly.

"You're not strong enough! Don't throw away your life! Leave!" Matthew would absolutely sacrifice his life to buy his disciples time to escape. "I'll self-destruct in a moment, Master. You should take that opportunity and escape with Skyler."

Skyler and Matthew were shocked upon hearing that. "Stop dreaming! No one's escaping today. Even if you self-destruct, you stand no chance of leaving here alive," said Yona indifferently.

He had heard everything they said. Without warning, a thunderous explosion occurred at the side. The shockwave it generated was akin to a tsunami. The disciples of Luminous Sect had started to self-destruct.

"Master, leave! We'll stop them!" a disciple, who was covered in blood, of Luminous Sect shouted at Matthew's group. A second later, his body swelled like a balloon before detonating.

Matthew was heartbroken to see his disciples sacrificing themselves to secure his escape. Seeing that, Yona began chanting. A giant black hole appeared in the sky. The shockwave generated by the explosion was rapidly sucked into that black hole.

"As I said, none of you are escaping today." While speaking, Yona strode toward Matthew's group. Right then, Kai was woken up by the explosion, and he vanished from his sleeping spot in a flash. Members of other sects gradually left their tents to look at the bright sky. "The members of Luminous Sect are insane. I can't believe they're self-destructing."

"Is that how Luminous Sect ends?" "Don't you think we're going overboard by doing this? We've gotten along well with them for so many years." "I wonder what our fate will be in the future."

Some people started to pity Luminous Sect. "Stop pretending to feel sad for them. None of you will hesitate to seize their resources when it's time to divide them. I think the battle's about to be over.

Let's go and take a look for ourselves." Wrey led the crowd to the Luminous Sect camp. If members of Luminous Sect are self-destructing, it must mean the battle is approaching its end. Based on the explosions we witnessed, I doubt many of the Scorching Heaven Sect members are left.
