Married at First Sight Chapter 2297-Elisa added: "You can't say that You're useless in the future, I don't like to hear it."

Remy: "Okay, okay, I won't belittle myself, I am a very good man, a very good man."

Elisa said sarcastically: "That's for sure, the men that I can fall in love with are all very good."

The two of them chatted for a while in the office, but Elisa still left.

She made an appointment with a client to discuss business.

Remy reluctantly sent her out of the office.

Seeing him looking like he was going to send her off, Elisa stopped, turned around and quickly kissed him on the cheek, and said: "I really have an appointment with a client, so I don't want to miss the appointment. When I finish the business negotiation, I'll come pick you up from get off work.

"Smile, I like to see you smile, your smile is the one that heals the emotional wounds I suffered at the beginning."

Remy smiled and said: "You don't need to come pick me up, I'll pick you up."

Elisa: "Okay, I'm leaving, you can go back and do your work."

Remy stood at the elevator entrance and watched Elisa enter the elevator. He waited until the elevator door was closed and he couldn't see his sweetheart, so he turned and walked back.

At the same time, Jensburg.

Queen Enterprise.

Kevin's car stopped at the gate of Queen Enterprise, and he honked the horn in the car to remind the security guard to open the door for him.

Seeing that it was Kevin's car, the security guard came out of the security room and was about to open the door for Kevin, but he saw that the person in the car was a woman with long hair and a skirt.

The security guard froze for a moment.

He was very familiar with this car.

It was the car used by the third young master of the York family who was brazen and stalking Mr. Queen. He would go in and out of their company several times a day.

He and his colleagues were very familiar with this car.

It was absolutely impossible to misidentify the vehicle.

However, the person in the car was a woman.

It's not Kevin.

The security guard was tangled for a while, not knowing who the woman in the car was Kevin, and why he came here in Kevin's car.

Should he open the door and let the other party enter the company?

Seeing that the security guard didn't open the door, Kevin looked at himself stupidly. He didn't get out of the car, let alone press the window, and still honked the car horn.

The security guard came back to his senses and walked out to knock on the car window.

Only then did Kevin press the car window, but he didn't look at the security guard, he still looked ahead and said, "Open the door, I want to go in."

The voice was low and familiar.

It was clearly the third young master of the York family.

The security guard was suspicious. "May I ask who you are?"

"I am Kevin's twin sister."

security guard: "..."

"I'm here to see Mr. Queen, open the door quickly."

Security: "...Oh, good."

As the security guard walked back, preparing to open the door for Kevin, he muttered in a low voice: "Does Third Young Master York have a twin sister? I've never heard of it. Third Young Master's twin sister speaks very much like Third Young Master York."

Shouldn't a woman's voice be crisp and sweet?

It was the first time he heard a woman speak like a man's voice.

Finally, the security guard opened the door.

Kevin quickly drove into the company.

After a few minutes.

Everyone in Queen Enterprise saw a tall woman with exactly the same facial features as Kevin, walking in a serpentine pace with high heels, and broke into the office building.

The two receptionists were stunned and even forgot to intercept.
