

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1207

Stone of Life?

What was that?

Curiosity made David continue to read the introduction stated below the system!

[Stone of Life is a special substance nurtured in the universe. It's precious and it's categorized as a rare stone and one of the treasures of Heaven and Earth.

[Formation: It is extremely hard to form the Stone of Life. It is formed with the crystallization of the Water of Life...]

[Function: Stone of Life gives out a strong breath of life. It can extend the life of all living things in the Universe after absorbing it...]

[Value: 5 trillion Galaxy dollars.]

The system gave a detailed introduction of the Stone of Life.

However, David briefly went through it and he eventually stopped shifting his gaze to focus on how much the stone was worth.

5 trillion Galaxy dollars?

Although it was incomparable to the Nine Turning Star Iron, it was still extraordinary!

David did not expect to run into such a rare treasure on this ultra-small planet.

Even though the Stone of Life could do little help to David now, something that could extend one's life would prove to be useful in the future.

Moreover, the main point was, David could gain fifty thousand lavish points from it.

This was what David needed the most at the moment.

"Old master, are you sure you want to give this to me? Do you have any idea what this is?" David asked.

“Mr. David, since I’ve brought it out, there’s no reason for me to take it back. Besides, no matter what it is, it’s incomparable to everything you’ve done for us,” answered Utopia.

“This is the Stone of Life. It’s one of the rarest stones amongst the treasures of Heaven and Earth in the Universe. Your health might deteriorate and your days will be numbered after giving this to me.”

“Mr. David, I have no regrets to be able to live until the day our people regained our freedom. You don’t have to worry about me.”

David shot Utopia a glance, pondered for a moment, and said, This is a precious stone. I like it too.”

“I

“I’m glad that Mr. David likes it. I’m really glad that Mr. David likes it,” said Utopia with a smile on his face.

The smile did not look good on his face which was full of wrinkles.

However, David felt a feeling of being close to him.

“But I can’t take what’s yours for nothing,” said David as he shook his head.

“How can you say that it’s for nothing? You’re Planet Buck’s savior. It’s an honor that Mr. David likes our gift,” Utopia immediately replied.

“Old master, this is my way of doing things. It’s nothing to offer some help to you all. I can’t take something so precious. from you. I’ve got an idea, and let’s see what you think of it! If it’s a deal, I’ll take the Stone of Life. If it doesn’t work, then I can’t take it.”

“Please go ahead, Mr. David!”

Then, David told him what he had in mind.

He would pay a certain amount of Galaxy dollars to buy the Stone of Life.

However, the money would not be given directly to Utopia.

It was useless to them.

They were too far from the Royal Region.

Furthermore, if he gave him 5 trillion Galaxy dollars at once and asked them to spend it in the Royal Region, they might not be able to make it back alive.

Those who had the slave marks on their forehead were meant to be lower in status.

If someone inferior had so much money on them, would he not be painting a bright red target on their backs.

Hence, David came up with a plan.

He would give the money to East League International Investment Limited Company as Planet Buck's special fund. Then, he would ask the company to purchase everything Planet Buck needed and deliver them here.

It would be best to inform Princess Astrid beforehand so that he could purchase some advanced military weapons from the Royal Region and get Planet Buck armed to the teeth.

He could buy some genetic drugs for the Buckeranians to awaken their potential abilities.

Previously, when the Grim family took over the planet, they used it once but diluted the genetic drugs, which led to side effects.

The Buckeranians that took the drugs were no longer alive.

The current Buckeranians were the generations after them, and they had never used it before. Therefore, they could take genetic drugs that had no side effects and awaken their powers.

That way, not only could it increase the combat ability of Planet Buck, but David could also gain another fifty thousand lavish points.

Killing two birds with one stone. Perfect!

5 trillion Galaxy Dollars could get an ultra-small planet with a population of a few million armed to the teeth. Everyone would be armed with weapons.

It could even ensure that every Buckeranian would own a heavy mecha.

That way, Planet Buck's combat ability would increase exponentially.

Utopia fell silent after he heard what David said.

He initially thought of giving the Stone of Life to David to repay his kindness in saving Planet Buck.

However, it was difficult for him to reject David's suggestion.

There was a chance to make Planet Buck stronger and more competitive. They would be able to protect themselves when enemies came.

As the ruler of Planet Buck, there was no way Utopia could turn him down.

Utopia knew how it felt to not be able to defend yourself when someone was attacking your planet. He watched his people die one by one, and their population which had numbered nearly a hundred million had decreased over time, leaving only a few million left. Yet, there was nothing he could do.

However, if Utopia agreed to it, it would contradict his original intention.

Therefore, he was struggling internally now. He did not know how to answer David's question at that moment.

David could see that Utopia was struggling too.

Hence, he said, "Old Master, if you refuse this, I'm not taking the stone. Money doesn't matter to me, but it's essential for Planet Buck, which is in such a situation now. Think about it. If you disagree with me, I have no choice but to return you the stone no matter how much I like it."

After that, David handed the box back to him.

Utopia had been living for hundreds of years. How could he not understand what David meant?

He was forcing him to agree to it!

At this moment, the old man bowed deeply to David with tears in his eyes and replied, "Mr. David, I'd like to thank you on behalf of all Buckeranians. Planet Buck will go through hell and high water to come to you in the future."

David immediately helped Utopia up.

“Old Master, you don’t have to do so. Your stone will be of great help to me. I should be the one thanking you.

They finally managed to hammer out a deal.

David contacted Princess Astrid first and told him that his chamber of commerce would like to purchase some military supplies that could not be bought on the market.

Astrid promised to help without a second thought.

David’s matters were a big deal to her.

As the emperor’s favorite princess in the Milky Way Empire, even though she usually did not interfere in these matters, she only had to give her instructions and every department in the empire would have to listen to her and get it done.

After David received Astrid’s reply.

He contacted the Concord family and deposited 5 trillion Galaxy dollars. He asked them to follow his instructions and purchase everything they could get in the empire and deliver them to Planet Buck. Also, he told them that he had already used his connections, and sent Planet Buck’s location to them too.

The deal with the Stone of Life had been closed.

David could not wait to open the system.

[Host: David Lidell

[Balance: 9986235865122334 Galaxy Dollars

[Body: Infinity level 10 (+)

[Mind: Infinity level 10 (+)

[Combat: Partial Ruler Rank

[Combat Skills: Void Punch (Perfection), Air Crushing Slap (Perfection), Evil–Splitting Sword Technique (Perfection)

[Skills: Ancient Traditional Medicine (Perfection)

[Lavish Points: 90052]

Sure enough, fifty thousand lavish points had been added.

Besides, the East League Chamber of Commerce had been making a move, and he spent some money on it.

His lavish points that he accumulated had reached more than ninety thousand.

David only needed ten thousand lavish points to up his rank and reach the legendary Eternal Realm.

David looked at the numbers in the system. He could not help but curl his lips and smile!

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1209

His work at Planet Buck had already finished.

David initially showed sympathy for Balu, and that was why he accompanied Balu here.

He did not expect to gain a lot from this trip.

Not only did he gain a treasure, the Stone of Life, he even gained fifty thousand lavish points.

He made a big step in leveling up to the next rank.

He believed it would not take long for him before he truly became invincible in the Milky Way.

The next morning, David, Mia, and Balu left Planet Buck with a few million Buckeranians watching them and paying their respects.

The state banquet would be held in three months.

It would be too early for them to go back there now.

David went through the information the time traveler, the old David, had left in his mind.

He found an indigenous planet that was not far away from them. Based on how fast the Galaxy Warship could move, it would only take them half a month to arrive. He wondered if the people there had planted the slave marks. In any case, he should head there first.

The Galaxy Warship faced a direction and headed there at full speed.

The Royal Region slowly began to get back on track after the empire's announcement.

It was believed that no Sangruil Sinners would dare to show up with troops of the empire's army and the four great halls of the empire patrolling there.

At this moment, in an arena on one of the trading planets in the Royal Region.

Two giant beasts were fighting and biting each other crazily.

The audience surrounding them was shouting.

"Kill him!"

"Come on, bite him to death!"

"B*stard! F*cking bite him!"

"Dumb*ss, don't bite his thigh. Can't you f*cking hear me?"

"Haven't you eaten yet? Your bite force is too weak!"

Soon... one of the beasts let out a painful cry and the battle of the beasts came to an end.

"Hahaha... I won! I won! I'm rich!"

"I'm down on my luck for betting on this beast."

Some of the audience lost, and some of them won.

Everyone placed their bets.

Some of them won happily, and there would certainly be some who lost and were down in the dumps.

Ma

A scruffy young man looked at the bet ticket in his hands. He collapsed in a heap on the ground, as though he had lost all his strength.

He mumbled, "It's over! Everything's over!"

After a while, two middle-aged men walked toward him.

One of them kicked him and said, "Boy! How is it? Did you win? Pay us back now. Otherwise, we're going to break your leg."

"Look at his face. He must have lost again. Does he have money to pay us back?" Another man smiled and answered him.

"He's got no money to pay us back? Alright then! Go and fight. We're square regardless of if you win or lose."

When the young man heard them asking him to fight, he stood up and shuddered with a terrified expression, "No! I'm not going!"

Were they serious when they asked him to join the gladiator battle?

Was that not courting death?

Even if he got lucky and won the battle, he would be severely injured or disabled.

He could never agree to this.

"You're not going? Then pay us!"

"I'm broke! I lost all my money," replied the young man.

"You're broke? Then why aren't you joining the battle?"

Charte

Perhaps we should break your limbs and feed them to the beasts. It's up to you!"
The middle-aged man sneered.

The young man immediately 'thumped,' kneeled on the ground, and begged for mercy, "Please let me go! Please! I promise I'll pay you as soon as I get the money."

"Let you go? What did you say when you borrowed the money from us? And now you're begging us to let you go? Listen, it's too late! Take him away!"

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1210

The two men were about to take the young man away.

The young man knew what would happen to him after being taken away. He immediately struggled, trying to escape.

However, how could the two middle-aged men let him get what he wanted?

Each of them grabbed one of his arms, lifted him, and took him away by force.

Not only did the audience around them not stop them, but they also looked like they were gloating at the other's misfortune. It was none of their business.

"Let me go! Let me go! Let me meet your boss! I have an important piece of information to sell to him. It's super big news. You'll regret not taking me to see him. He'll kill you when he finds out about it," shouted the young man as he struggled.

The two of them ignored him and continued lifting him and took them away.

"It's true! It's true! I swear it's true this time! Please trust me this time! I'm willing to get hung by the neck if I lied."

The two men stopped and exchanged glances with each other. Then, they asked, "Really?"

"Yes! Yes! It's definitely true!" The young man immediately replied.

"Kid, you'd better think about it. If Boss finds out you lied to him, not only will your life turn into a living hell, we'll get into trouble too. Don't blame us for getting your family involved in this when the time comes," One of the men warned him.

"Don't worry, sir. I won't disappoint you! Your boss will reward you when he finds out what kind of information I'm giving him," The young man guaranteed.

Family?

Did he have any family members left now?

They were all gone.

He did not even dare to tell others his name. He was afraid that he would get himself killed.

It was just that even though he lost his home, he could not change his bad habits.

Everything he took from his home back then could have been enough for him to live out the rest of his life.

It was a pity that he spent it all on the battle show, and he even got himself into debt that went up to his eyeballs.

If it was not because there was nothing else he could do this time.

He would have lived in seclusion and not come out forever.

He lived a lavish lifestyle back then.

Now, he was down and out.

He only thought of selling the piece of information he found out about his family. Then, he would find a quiet place to live and not come out forever after he paid the debt.

The young man was brought to the VIP room on top of the Colosseum.

The three of them had just arrived at the door. They heard an indistinct woman's moan coming out of the room.

"Dong-dong-dong!"

One of the men knocked on the door.

"Who is it?!" An impatient voice came from inside the room.

"Boss! Someone wants to see you. He said he's got big news to tell you."

After a while, noises were coming from the VIP room again.

"Come in!"

The three of them pushed the door open and entered the room.

What came into sight was a man holding two beautiful women in his arms, fondling them.

The women's cheeks were red.

However, the young man looked drained. His face was a little pale. It must have been the consequences of overindulging in lust.

"Boss!"

The two middle-aged men greeted him respectfully.

“Are you the one looking for me?” The man ignored the two of them. He turned to look at the young man and asked.

“Yes!”

“If it’s not as exciting as you said, you’re dead! Say it!”

“My name’s Floyd Tuffin!” said the young man.

“Then? Is this what you called big news?”

“F*ck! Don’t tell me you’re from one of the eight prominent families, the Tuffin family.”

“You’re right! I’m one of them,” The young man said in a serious tone.
