

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1221

Inside the secret room in the Royal Palace in Planet Royal of the Royal Region, Wilfred had just treated Nimbus' wounds for him.

Nimbus sighed and asked, "Uncle Wildred, I am almost healed. I should be able to fully recover after a few times, right?"

"You still need at least a month if you want to heal fully without further complications. Also, you still can't fight during this period. If not, the time might be longer," Wilfred said.

"I can't stop fighting! I've been holding back for so long, and I can't hold on any longer. The Sangruil Sinners are getting more and more arrogant lately. They seem to be suppressed by the empire, but the dead ones are all bandits. In reality, their masters secretly plan to overthrow the Royal Region and other forces. If I didn't give them a painful lesson, they would think the empire is weak," Nimbus said with a frown.

"Nimbus! The Sangruil Sinners are so unrestrained because they want to get you to do something about it so that you'll never recover! You can't call for it. You need to recuperate. If not, the empire will be in huge trouble," Wilfred urged patiently. "But, Uncle Wilfred."

Nimbus still wanted to say something, but Wilfred interrupted him, "No buts. Let them do whatever they want. If they don't hurt the empire's foundation, just leave them. We will fight back when you recover, and we'll destroy them so that they will never make a comeback. It's been so many years since I fought. I didn't think my old bones could still throw some punches."

Even though Nimbus wanted to beat those Sangruil Sinner punks badly, he figured Wilfred was right after he thought about it.

No matter what they did now, they could not hurt the empire's foundation,

However, if Nimbus never recovered or his condition worsened, the empire would be in danger. "Alright, Uncle Wilfred, I'll listen to you. I'll only destroy the Sangruil Sinners after I recover." Nimbus agreed.

"Altaboy. As the emperor of the Milky Way Empire, you should focus on the bigger picture. A temporary gain or loss doesn't mean anything, only the final victory is important. We'll let those Sangruil Sinners run amok for the time being. The empire will fight back after the state banquet. This time, we must destroy all chances of them making a comeback.” Wilfred frowned. A cold glint appeared in his eyes, lowering the temperature of the secret room.

He was a monster who used to travel freely across the Milky Way. He was not much inferior to Nimbus’ father, who was also the previous emperor.

However, this was not what Wilfred wanted.

He did not want to be restricted by his identity, so he voluntarily gave up on the chance to compete for the emperor’s position.

If not, the previous fight for the emperor’s position would have been a fierce battle between giants.

It would be unknown who would win!

“Uncle Wilfred, I am so useless. I still need you to take action even in your old age,” Nimbus said apologetically.

Wilfred slapped Nimbus on the head and scolded with a grin, “You punk, are you saying I’m useless just because I’m old? Should I just sit around and enjoy my final years?” If the others from the Milky Way saw that, their jaws would drop to the floor.

Someone dared to slap the Nimbus, the number one in the Milky Way, on the head? Were they asking to die?

However, Nimbus was not mad.

Instead, he laughed and said, “Uncle Wilfred, can you stop slapping me on the head? You keep doing this ever since I was a kid. I wonder if the reason why I can never break through to Eternal Realm is because you always slap my head.”

“You punk, do you know how long I’ve been stuck at partial Eternal Realm? How long have you been stuck? I never found an excuse, and now you’re blaming me?”

After Wilfred said that, he slapped Nimbus again.

“Uncle Wilfred! I’m sorry! I was wrong. I am not blaming you. You’re hale and hearty despite the years, and you’re in your prime!” Nimbus begged for mercy.

“Alright, get lost now. I’ll research and allocate some special medicine to you to see if it’ll heal you faster.”

Wilfred asked Nimbus to leave.

“Well, Uncle Wildred, I’ll get going now. Coincidentally, I need to handle some things.”

After Nimbus said that, he got up to leave.

The uncle and nephew duo were used to joking around.

Nimbus' father was the previous emperor. Since he was always managing the empire's affairs, he was very busy, thus he had no time to educate Nimbus.

Meanwhile, Nimbus was extraordinarily talented, Ultimately, Wilfred took over the job of educating Nimbus.

Therefore, Nimbus had been cultivating Wilfred ever since he was small.

He had gained over half of his ability from Wilfred.

The two were uncle and nephew, but at the same time, they were also master and student. Hence, they were very close.

It would be no exaggeration to say that Nimbus was closer to Wilfred than his own father.

After Nimbus left the secret room and reached his study, he heard someone knocking on the door.

Knock knock knock!

"Who's there?" Nimbus asked.

"Father, it's me," the eldest prince, Wagner, replied.

"Come in."

The study's door opened.

A young man walked in, and it was none other than Prince Wagner.

"What is it?" Nimbus asked without raising his head.

"Father, the Sangruil Sinners have been running rampant lately. They're causing so much chaos in the Royal Region. Even if they're being subdued on the surface, their masters are plotting with other forces in the dark. It'll be harmful to the empire if this continues. What should we do?" Wagner asked.

"It's good that you can see this. However, this is not something you should worry about. You only need to do what you should do and not think about this," Nimbus said as he looked at the materials in his head with his head lowered.

"But, Father..."

Wagner still wanted to continue.

However, Nimbus lifted his head to look at him, stopping what he was trying to say.

"I got it, Father. I'll leave now."

Nimbus did not say anything. Then, he lowered his head and waved his hand.

Wagner left the room respectfully.

After he got out, he took a deep breath before exhaling.

The

pressure of facing his father was too heavy.

He was indeed the number one person at partial Eternal Realm of the Milky Way.

He was so powerful.

Nimbus' gaze made Wagner feel like it was hard to breathe.

Wagner wondered when he could reach this stage.

My

He sighed. He thought he could get some brownie points from his father after finding out the Sangruil Sinner's true motive.. However, it turned out his father had known long before

'It makes sense if you think about it

'Is there anything I can hide from someone like Father?

'He controls the Milky Way and has many master's around him

'Everyone would be forot sinicken at the sound of the palace guards

'Furthermore, there are also the four great halls that are hiding in the dark

"Those people are so terrifying 'In have the chance to become the next emperor, all of this will be mine

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1223

Aside from the people who were grandmasters in the Milky Way, most people did not know that Azure Dragon, White Tiger, Red Finch, and Black Tortoise Hall were separated into the internal hall and the external hall.

The external halls were the four halls everyone saw on the surface; on the other hand, the internal halls would be hiding in the dark.

The external and internal halls had a massive difference in strength.

The heads of the external halls were only peak Celestial Rankers.

Meanwhile, the heads of the internal halls were four compelling peak Infinity Rankers.

The two sides had a clear difference in realms. It was evident from this how much different the internal and external halls were.

The power of the four halls was much greater than that of the palace guards. Even if there were not many people in the internal hall, they had a terrifyingly high threshold. Countless people would flinch at the thought of them,

They had to go through multiple levels of selection to join the internal hall. Moreover, they also needed to be at least at Celestial Rank.

The four great halls were Emperor Nimbus' true left and right hands. They were also his super weapon to control the entire Milky Way.

However, the four great halls were different from the palace guards. Emperor Nimbus trained the palace guards to be his death warriors, and they would only listen to his orders.

It would be the same even if Nimbus were not the emperor.

On the contrary, this was not the case with the four great halls

They were established when the Milky Way Empire was founded.

They would only listen to the emperor of the empire.

Anyone who was the emperor could control them.

In other words, if Emperor Nimbus gave his position to any of the eighteen princes, the four great halls, including the internal and external halls, would listen to the new emperor. They would not listen to Nimbus anymore.

This was the tradition of the Milky Way Empire.

This was the rule the previous grandmasters of the Barlowe family set to guarantee the emperor's authority. No one was allowed to break it.

The Milky Way Empire had controlled the Milky Way for so many years. If they ever showed all their hidden power in one go, they would surely shock everyone.

After Prince Wagner left, Nimbus stopped reading his materials and lifted his head.

Even if he could not take action due to his injury, he could not let the Sangruil Sinners continue wreaking havoc. He had to teach them a painful lesson.

Once there were a lot of rebel forces in the Royal Region, the empire would be in trouble.

The more the empire stayed silent, the more the forces would be tempted.

"Convey my order for me. Order the internal halls of Azure Dragon and White Tiger to dampen the Sangruil Sinners' spirits and restore the empire's glory," Nimbus said in a deep voice.

"Yes, Your Majesty!"

A voice resonated in the study.

However, one could only hear the voice but not see the person.

After Nimbus said that, he continued to lower his head to look through his materials.

Not long after he gave out the edict, Azure Dragon and White Tiger, the two internal halls hiding in the dark, were quickly dispatched.

They started to restrict the Sangruil Sinner masters in the Royal Region.

In the void of the Royal Region, two Infinity Ranked Sangruil Sinner higher-ups just finished contacting a force.

Even though they failed, the other party stated they would decide depending on the circumstances.

They had completed their king's orders and were about to head to their next target when a cold light appeared out of the blue.

The two were shocked. Then, they felt their scalps tingling, so they quickly dodged it.

Woosh!

A cold light zoomed past them.

If they did not react quickly enough, they would have been severely injured.

"Who's there?" One of the Sangruil Sinners yelled.

"Azure Dragon Internal Hall!" A voice said in the distance. 'Azure Dragon Internal Hall?'

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1224

The two looked at each other and saw fear in each other's eyes.

Run!

They did not hesitate before splitting up to flee in opposite directions. After that, they turned into colorful lights and fled frantically. As the Milky Way Empire's opponents for thousands of years, Sangruil knew about the existence of the four internal halls.

They were the most potent weapon of the Milky Way Empire.

Both sides had fought for so many years, and Sangruil had suffered so much defeat by the hands of the four internal halls."

When the two Sangruil Sinners heard the other party was from Azure Dragon Internal Hall, they fled at once, even though they were Sangruil higher-ups at Infinity Rank.

Nothing was more important than their lives. They finally endured the pain of fusing with the Nine-Headed Serpent's genes to reach Infinity Rank. Moreover, Sangruil was about to overthrow the Milky Way Empire to take over the Milky Way. When the time came, the Sangruil higher-ups would sit at the top and enjoy admiration from countless people.

They did not want to die now.

It would be such a pity to die like this.

“Hmph. You want to escape? Can you really do so? How dare you rebels and traitors bring chaos to the empire. You should die!”

The voice said again from a distance.

“Ah!”

“Ah!”

Soon, two pained wails could be heard.

The two Sangruil Sinners were killed quickly. After that, their corpses were also taken away.

The bodies of a Celestial Ranker were worth researching.

Azure Dragon Internal Hall and White Tiger Internal Hall were taking action.

They showed their strength and got a great result immediately.

Now, the Sangruilian higher-ups at Infinity Rank did not dare to show themselves.

Many did not even dare to stay in the Royal Region.

The four internal halls were too intimidating, and they were terrified.

Moe also found out at once that Nimbus had dispatched Azure Dragon and White Tiger Internal Halls.

He was not worried about the people who were Celestial Rank and below. He could sacrifice them.

However, he could not sacrifice the Infinity Rankers. There were not a lot of Infinity Rankers in Sangruil. If the four internal halls of the empire killed some more, it would not be easy to control the countless forces without the Milky Way since Moe would not have so many powerhouses to act as deterrence.

As the king of Sangruil, he could not keep worrying about this trivial matter. Thus, Moe decided to ask the Infinity Rankers of Sangruil to hide for the time being. They should not go head-on with Azure Dragon and White Tiger Internal Hall.

They should only continue once the hype died down.

Moe wanted to take action himself and eliminate those two forces in the Milky Way Empire with Severus.

However, he gave up that thought in the end.

Although they would make the empire suffer a huge loss and hurt their foundation if they did this, their gains would not make up for their losses if they inadvertently alerted their enemy.

The destruction of the Milky Way Empire was unchangeable. Right now, Moe was most scared of Nimbus knowing Sangruil's true power and escaping without care.

That way, it would be troublesome.

If one of the people at partial Eternal Realm in the Milky Way Empire escaped, it would be a huge hidden danger to Sangruil

If Nimbus got to Eternal Realm by chance, Sangruil's difficult victory that they gained after sacrificing so much would be gone like a puff of smoke.

Thus, Moe had to catch the Barlowe family off guard and end them in one fell swoop.

He could let the others go, but he could not let Nimbus and Wilfred go. These two had to die, and they did not have another choice.

A month later, the Milky Way Empire would hold its state banquet on Planet Royal,

That day, they would pay their respects to the Barlowe family's ancestors, so Nimbus and Wilfred would surely be there. Sangruil would take action on that day.

Five people at partial Eternal Realm versus two people at partial Eternal Realm.

Nimbus and Wilfred would not be able to escape.
