

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1279

Chapter 1279

David, Nimbus, and Nimbus' family quickly returned to the Royal Palace.

Then, Nimbus quickly brought David into the secret room in the depths of the palace.

That was where Wilfred normally researched medication and refined pellets.

One could find almost all of the precious herbs in the Milky Way here.

Although David was not seriously hurt, Nimbus could not delay treating his wounds.

After they entered the room, Gamora and Astrid brought Nimbus to a room. Meanwhile, Wilfred brought David and Mia to a separate room.

Wilfred was about to give David some basic treatment before looking at Nimbus.

However, David refused.

He had learned Ancient Traditional Medicine to perfection, so would he need others to treat him?

No one knew his body better than he did

"David, did you say you know medicine too?" Wilfred asked in disbelief.

"Yes. Mr. Wilfred, I learned some before, so you should go help Mr. Nimbus. He's pretty badly hurt. If we don't treat him in time and keep delaying it, it will be detrimental to him," David said.

"Really?" Wilfred was still in disbelief.

"Of course! Besides, I am not that seriously injured. I can handle this myself"

"Alright. You can take the herbs you need. Basically, you can find all of the precious herbs in the Milky Way here. I'll go look at Nimbus

Wilfred left hurriedly to another secret room after he said that

Nimbus was pretty badly injured, so he needed urgent care.

It was no joke to be caught off guard by four powerhouses of the same level.

"Do you need my help, David?" Mia asked.

“No need. You don’t know anything about herbs, so you should just watch.”

David found some precious herbs in the secret room. After some basic preparation, he started brewing them.

There were all kinds of tools in this secret room.

Soon after, the medicine was done.

After David drank it, he made some ointment for his skin and asked Mia to help him apply it.

When everything was done, the two went to the secret room where Nimbus was receiving treatment.

Nimbus was very pale as Wilfred was treating him. Gamora and Astrid were watching nervously from one side.

The four noticed David’s arrival, but they did not say anything.

This was a critical moment for Wilfred’s treatment, so no one should disturb him.

David watched quietly as well.

However, after a while, he figured Wilfred’s treatment was too complicated.

Although it was beneficial to Nimbus’ wounds, it was not the best way to do it.

After pondering, David suggested, “Mr. Wilfred, if you do it this way, you won’t achieve the best result in a short time.

David was the first one to break the silence, and he immediately attracted the others’ attention

“What do you mean? David, are you saying my treatment has flaws?” Wilfred was unhappy. He had researched medicine for centuries, but now a young man was doubting him.

‘I won’t deny that you’re stronger than me, but I, Wilfred Barlowe, am not inferior to anyone when it comes to medicine.

‘This is my expertise.’

"I didn't say that. It's just too complicated and it's not the best treatment. You can simplify it to get a better result. Plus, I smelled your herbs and some of them are not a suitable match," David explained.

"How old are you, kid? You're already so strong that it's horrifying, and you still have time to learn medicine?" Wilfred widened his eyes and asked.

"Mr. Wilfred, why are you the same as Mr. Nimbus? Age doesn't matter when it comes to some things. Talent is more important. Coincidentally, I have talent in cultivation and medicine, so that's how I got to this stage."

"Tell me, what should I do to get the best result in the shortest time?" Wilfred was arguing with David right now.

David was powerful indeed, but when it came to medicine, Wilfred would not listen to anyone else.

"Why don't you let me try?" David asked.

Wilfred looked at Nimbus after he heard that.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1280

Chapter 1280

"Uncle Wilfred, let David try. I trust him," Nimbus said.

If David wanted to hurt Nimbus, he would not risk getting hurt to save him.

Thus, Nimbus was not worried about David.

Since Nimbus agreed, Wilfred had no reason to reject the offer.

Coincidentally, he also wanted to see what skills David had to doubt the medical skills that he had practiced for centuries.

David took over.

First, he asked Nimbus to strip and show him the parts of his body that were injured. Shortly after, David started to use needles on Nimbus.

Everyone in the room stared straight at David.

Soon, Nimbus' body was covered in silver needles.

After the needle treatment, David started to concoct medicine for Nimbus.

Nimbus was hurt internally, so he only needed specific oral medicine.

David found the herbs, matched them, and brewed them.

When the process ended, Nimbus took a deep breath and vomited all the clotted blood inside him. Afterward, he felt much better.

“How do you feel, Father?” Astrid could not hold herself back from asking-

“I’m fine. I feel much better.”

After Nimbus said that, he looked at David and lamented, “David, you’re a monster. Not only are you strong, you even have such impressive medical skills. I am so confused. How did you do all these at such a young age?”

Everyone let out sighs of relief after hearing what Nimbus said.

Wilfred widened his eyes, his face was filled with disbelief.

Even though he could not understand what David was doing, Nimbus’ condition seemed much better compared to just now after David’s treatment.

If they went along with his treatment, it would at least take a few days to reach this result

However, David only took two hours to achieve this. How incredible!

“David, what is this called?” Wilfred asked, feeling stunned.

“Ancient Traditional Medicine,” David answered.

“Ancient Traditional Medicine... Ancient Traditional Medicine...” Wilfred muttered.

Suddenly, Wilfred remembered something and asked loudly, “Do you mean the long-lost ancient practice?”

“I am not sure. However, I found this in an ancient relic,” David lied.

Wilfred knelt on the ground suddenly and bowed to David.

“David, please take me as your disciple and teach me this ancient medical practice!” Wilfred said emotionally.

Everyone in the room was shocked by what he did.

Wilfred was Emperor Nimbus’ uncle, and he was the one with the highest status here.

Now, he was kneeling to a young man.

David was at a loss after Wilfred did that, so he quickly went over to help Wilfred “Mr. Wilfred, what are you doing? I can’t have you bowing to me like that.”

up

However, Wilfred refused to get up.

“If you don’t take me as your disciple and teach me the ancient medical practice, I won’t get up.”

Wilfred had a natural obsession with medicine.

This was why he gave up being the emperor back then.

Now, he had a chance to learn ancient medical practice, so how could he give it up?

“Mr. Wilfred, we have such a huge age gap between us, how can I take you as my disciple?” David said helplessly.

“Dave, when it comes to learning, there’s no first or last. You are better at medicine so you can be my teacher.”

“Mr. Wilfred, I can’t do that. However, we can exchange medical knowledge. You can ask me anything you don’t understand. I promise to tell you if I know about it What do you think?” David thought about it and said.

“Really?”

“Really.”

“That’s great! It’s a deal then. Come, I have a lot of questions for you now.

Wilfred got up and grabbed David. After that, he pulled him to another room.

“Mr. Wilfred, are you in such a hurry?” David smiled wryly.

“I can’t wait now.”

David left the room after Wilfred dragged him away, leaving Nimbus and the others in shock.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1281

Chapter 1281

Even though the war between Sangruil and the empire had ended for the time being, everyone knew it was not truly over. Sangruil would come back again very soon.

At that time, it would be the true battle.

It was unknown if Sangruil would take back everything that belonged to them or if the empire would defend its position and destroy Sangruil.

No one knew what would happen because both sides were equally strong.

Sangruil had five partial Eternal Realms, while the empire had three.

Most importantly, David was a powerhouse who could fight five people by himself.

However, most of them still hoped the empire could win.

After all, the Milky Way Empire was developing pretty well under the empire's rule.

At the very least, there was no despotic rule in the empire.

The civilians could live in peace and work happily, while most of the major forces did not dare to start fights and avoided mass casualties because they were intimidated by how powerful the empire was.

That was enough.

If Sangruil won, the Milky Way would undergo a lot of changes.

When that happened, the situation would definitely be turbulent.

Who would want to live in chaos when they could otherwise live in peace?

This was unless they were ambitious or had changed sides to support Sangruil.

They wanted to get more benefits from the chaos, and that was why they hoped Sangruil could.

win

After the battle, David, the young man who came from nowhere, replaced Emperor Nimbus as the strongest man in the Milky Way. He was now admired and respected by countless people. Even the emperor was severely injured by the five partial Eternal Realms from Sangruil.

On the other hand, David severely hurt three people in a one versus five fight that was very disadvantageous to him. He intimidated Sangruil with one move and scared them into backing away for the time being.

No one had ever done such a thing before.

Among powerhouses of the same level, anyone who could fight two people by themselves would be considered number one.

On the other hand, David went against five on his own, so he was basically the strongest at partial Eternal Realm.

After the battle, everyone was looking up who David was.

They wanted to see which force he was from.

However, David was not from the Royal Region, and he never hung out in the Milky Way, so no one found anything.

On the contrary, Mia, who was following him, was recognized.

Everyone came to a realization.

No wonder Mia insisted on announcing her departure from the four fairies to stay with David while risking offending so many big shots.

Anyone would not hesitate to make the same choice as Mia if they were in the same situation.

David was the strongest man in the Milky Way and he was stronger than Emperor Nimbus.

Who would not want to seize the chance to stay by his side?

Even idiots would know how to answer this question.

Not only would Mia have a promising future if she stayed with David, but after David's strength was exposed, her family's position would also skyrocket.

Just this one move made her family surpass all the forces in the Milky Way except the empire.

Even if the Concord family was weak and could be wiped out by any small force, now, not even the Milky Way Empire, a behemoth in the Milky Way, would dare to say they wanted to wipe out the Concord family, let alone a small force.

David was supporting the Concord family, and no one in the Milky Way would dare to offend them.

Furthermore, the Concord family could also utilize their strength without any restraints.

As long as David was still alive, the Concord family would eventually rise.

When all the forces on Blue Star learned the person Mia followed was the strongest person in the Milky Way, they were shocked speechless.

When they came back to their senses, they all brought expensive gifts to the Concord residence.

They decided to build a close relationship with the Concord family no matter what it took.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1282

Chapter 1282

At this moment, the owner behind East League Chamber of Commerce, ran by the Concord family, was also exposed to be David, the strongest person in the Milky Way.

East League Chamber of Commerce was just a newly founded chamber of commerce.

David also showed up recently and he also had an L in his name, just like East League.

How could there be something so coincidental?

After that, the head of the Concord family, Truman, came out to prove this point.

David had permitted him to make a public statement saying David was the owner of East League Chamber of Commerce.

From that moment on, all forces were fighting to do business with East League Chamber of Commerce.

Their main goal was not to make money. Instead, it was to build a close relationship with East League Chamber of Commerce and attract David's attention.

This was the change brought on by strength.

The reason David did this was that he wanted to use this opportunity to develop and expand East League Chamber of Commerce quickly.

His strength was already exposed, so he should use East League Chamber of Commerce to accumulate a hundred thousand lavish points to break through to Eternal Realm.

If not, who knew when the Sangruil Sinners would come back for revenge?

As long as he was at Eternal Realm, David could easily defeat someone at Moe's level even if there were eight or ten of them.

Even if there was only half a step between partial Eternal Realm and Eternal Realm, there was an inherent difference.

Their combat power was immensely different. It was like heaven and earth.

After some inciting, East League Chamber of Commerce started to work with the forces who came to build relationships.

However, David stated they should not take advantage of the forces.

By doing this, the other forces began supporting David even more.

He was already the strongest person in the Milky Way and he was still down to Earth. How many people could do that?

Despite this, how would they know David's true goal was not to make money but to quickly spend money to get lavish points?

That was what he most badly wanted right now.

Five days later, inside a luxurious courtyard in the Royal Palace.

At this moment, David was staying in his room by himself.

He just finished exchanging knowledge about medicine with Wilfred.

Even though they said they were exchanging knowledge, it was more like Wilfred asking and David answering.

Wilfred would drop by almost daily in the past few days.

After he got the answer he wanted, he would leave quickly to his secret room to test out David's answer.

David asked Mia to wait outside the courtyard and prevent anyone from coming in. He sat on the bed to take a few deep breaths, trying hard to recompose himself.

Today, David was going to complete the most important step: breaking through to Eternal Realm.

A few days ago, Truman revealed that David was the owner of East League Chamber of Commerce with David's permission.

Countless forces with chambers of commerce swarmed over to try to work with East League Chamber of Commerce.

Truman did not reject anyone. He accepted everyone, and after a few days, East League Chamber of Commerce expanded continuously.

David's lavish points had surpassed a hundred thousand and reached 100052.

David could upgrade himself when his lavish points reached a hundred thousand, breaking through partial Eternal Realm to be at Eternal Realm.

Soon, he would be the only one at Eternal Realm in the Milky Way.

When that happened, a partial Eternal Realm like Moe would just be a buffoon to David. He could easily destroy Moe if he wanted.

Eternal Realm was the ultimate dream for countless powerhouses.

Once they were at this realm, they would be immortal.

Their body would rise to another level and supply strong vitality to every organ in their body.

As long as their body did not turn into dust, they could regenerate their head or heart after it was chopped off or removed.

That was how strong Eternal Realm was.