

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1369

Chapter 1369

Everyone had arrived, and they had all dealt with their respective affairs at home.

Now only Celeste, the main character, was left.

As soon as she arrived, they could leave.

“David, where’s Ms. Celeste? Isn’t she here?” Amadi could not find Celeste so he asked David immediately.

In the past few days, he had almost travelled all over Earth.

“Not sure, I didn’t see her early this morning.” David shook his head and said that he had no idea either.

David and Amadi were talking when the space in the courtyard suddenly fluctuated.

A crack appeared and Celeste led a woman out of the crack.

It was Lorraine.

After confirming that what Celeste said was true, she chose to go with Celeste without hesitation.

Lorraine would be a fool if she did not seize this chance.

The appearance of the two immediately attracted the attention of everyone in the courtyard.

Since Celeste and Lorraine both had alluring bodies, their temperament and image were similar when they stood together.

If one said they were mother and daughter, no one would doubt it.

The moment David saw Lorraine, he was taken aback.

‘Why is she here?’

David had a deep impression of that woman.

She was the one who started the ten–year appointment between Clinton and Stan.

After this, it evolved into a stage for the younger generation in Somerland to compete for supremacy. During that time, David also represented Clinton in battle.

In the end, he seemed to have rejected Lorraine's marriage request.

He thought that he would never have any interaction with this magnificent woman again.

Unexpectedly, they had met again here.

From the looks of it, Celeste was going to take Lorraine with her.

Selena was mentally prepared for Lorraine's arrival because Lorraine had asked her about Celeste a few days ago.

"Ms. Celeste, who is this?" Amadi asked aloud when he saw Celeste with a woman.

"Her name is Lorraine, and she will be my disciple from now on," Celeste replied.

Amadi was startled.

'Ms. Celeste actually accepted another disciple?'

He hastily cast the Star Observation Skill and looked at Lorraine.

He found that the aura emanating from this woman and Ms. Celeste was surprisingly similar.

'Gosh!

'Could it be that this woman has the same physique as Ms. Celeste?'

'What kind of planet is this?'

'First David, then Selena, and now Lorraine.'

'Even if these three people were in my hometown, their talents would definitely be on a terrifying level.'

A planet the size of a pellet has produced three incredibly talented people at the same time.

'How incredible!'

"Ms. Celeste, could it be... She... She is just like you..." Amadi asked in disbelief.

“That’s right! Lori is indeed the same kind of person as I am! The universe is so big, so it must be fate that we could meet each other here. I’m just a half–finished product. I hope to train her into a finished product that surpasses myself.”

As soon as Celeste said that, everyone, including David, was in shock.

They looked at Lorraine at the same time.

Who was Celeste?

She was a Universe Enforcer whom even David was no match for.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1370

Chapter 1370

She actually said that she would train Lorraine to surpass her.

This was a bit of a stretch.

Celia and the others cast envious looks.

They were only able to join the Iridescent Sect because of David and Selena.

It was still unknown whether they could get into Eternal Realm in the future.

However, after what Celeste said just now, Lorraine was almost guaranteed to reach this limit.

Compared to a few of them, she was much more talented.

“Congratulations, Ms. Celeste, for accepting another beloved disciple. Together with Selena, the Iridescent Sect is bound to reach a higher level in the future. It seems that we really came to the right place this time,” Amadi congratulated Celeste.

His mother was from the Iridescent Sect, and Celeste was her good friend who grew up with her.

The Iridescent Sect and Star Mansion were also long–time family friends.

Therefore, Amadi was also very happy now.

They did come to the right place this time.

In the beginning, Amadi was a little bit skeptical.

What talent could emerge from this low-level civilization?

In the end, he did not expect to be slapped in the face by reality.

Not only did the Iridescent Sect obtain two talents with special physiques, but Star Mansion also recruited David, a man who even the Star Observation Skill could not see through.

This was killing two birds with one stone.

It was very beneficial for both forces.

“Okay! Don’t envy the Iridescent Sect. If Star Mansion allows David to join, your sect will be no worse off than the Iridescent Sect,” Celeste said.

‘It seems that Ms. Celeste also noticed David’s unusualness,’ Amadi thought to himself.

Then, he turned to look at David and said, “Dave, what is your decision on joining Star Mansion? I am sincerely inviting you.”

“We’ll talk about this once we arrive and settle them down. Amadi, don’t worry, if I plan to join a force, Star Mansion will definitely be my first choice,” David replied.

He did not immediately agree nor allow any leeway for further discussion.

He had no idea what the situation was now.

It would be too hasty if he were to join Star Mansion immediately.

David actually did not want to join any forces because he was different from others.

Celia and the others joined the Iridescent Sect to learn and receive an education.

However, he did not need this.

He would be fine as long as there was a place for him to spend a lot of money.

Joining a certain force would limit his development.

After all, he could not let anyone know his secret.

“Dave, then let’s talk about it. If you want to join a force, it must be Star Mansion. If you seek out other forces, you will appear insincere to us. After all, we were the first people you got to know. This is fate.”

Amadi did not force David either.

David had to do this voluntarily.

If David did not want to, it might not be a good thing to force him to join.

Even if Amadi could not recruit someone who was immune to the Star Observation Skill, he had to build a good relationship with them and not become their enemy.

This was an ancient rule passed down from generation to generation in Star Mansion.

Nobody in Star Mansion could violate this rule.

Of course, this referred to a situation where the difference between the two parties was not significant. If someone at Universe Realm cast the Star Observation Skill on an Eternal, obviously it would not work. It would be impossible to see through anything since the difference in strength would be too great. "Don't worry, Amadi. I, David Lidell, will be a man of my word, and I will never break my promise." "That's good! Dave, there is one more thing I want to tell you. Star Mansion and the Iridescent Sect are friends. If you join the Star Mansion, you can visit your little lovers at any time, but if you join other forces, this might not be the case. The Iridescent Sect only accepts female disciples, and men are normally not allowed to enter."

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1371

Chapter 1371

Amadi's words made Selena and others feel a little embarrassed.

However, none of them refuted it. Obviously, deep inside, they did not mind that title.

Meanwhile, David simply chose to ignore it.

The more you tried to explain this kind of thing, the more messy it would become. Hence, he chose to just ignore it.

However, there was one person who had a different idea.

It was Lorraine.

In the beginning, David became recognized as number one among the younger generation in Somerland and achieved the final victory in the ten-year appointment.

However, he refused to marry her.

This made Lorraine feel a little dissatisfied.

Now seeing that David had found so many women but had previously rejected her, she was even angrier.

It was not that Lorraine liked David that much, but rather that David's actions embarrassed her and The Krums.

Since she was a child, no matter where Lorraine went, she was always the center of attention.

Such an environment also built her high self-esteem.

Lorraine naturally had her own uniqueness in being able to cause competition for the first heirs of the two top families, the Warner family and the Zimmerman family, in Somerland, and make the two disciples of The Krums obsessed with her.

Despite this, David was the first man to reject her in front of all the forces in Somerland.

Lorraine still carried a trace of hatred for David in her heart.

Unfortunately, later on as David's strength became stronger and more outrageous, he became an existence that both she and her sect needed to look up to.

She silently hid this trace of hatred in the deepest part of her heart and decided not to ever show it.

She did not expect to have anything to do with David again.

In addition, she also saw so many women around David.

Lorraine turned her gaze at the group of women beside David.

Although these women were not bad in all aspects and could definitely be regarded as top-notch beauties on Earth, they were still lacking.

Among them, only Selena could compare with her, and the two could be regarded as evenly matched. As for the others, they were still miles behind.

Lorraine was not an arrogant person, but she was confident in her own abilities.

Lorraine did not understand.

'Why would David choose these women rather than me?

'What is the problem?

'Is it because I am not as good as them?

'Or am I really that bad?'

She could not stop herself from going through self-denial.

'No, I have to ask, David when I have the chance.

'I have to know why he rejected the marriage proposal proposed by Master in the first place and embarrassed me in front of so many forces in Somerland.

'Since he's so reluctant, why bother to participate in the ten-year appointment?'

As the person who started the ten-year appointment, her final goal was to find the number one among the younger generation in Somerland. Then, she would marry him and help her sect get through the catastrophe.

In the end, all her efforts went to someone else.

This made Lorraine feel miserable.

Hence, the hatred in her heart flared when she looked at David.

David's mind power was so strong right now.

If they only competed with their mind powers, Celeste, an Eternal Realm Sovereign Ranker, would not even be his opponent.

Even if the hatred in Lorraine was dismissed in the blink of an eye, David still caught it.

He turned to look at Lorraine and was curious.

'Something's wrong with the way she looked at me.

'Was that... hostility?'

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1372

Chapter 1372

'Why is Lorraine showing hostility towards me?'

'I don't seem to have a hostile relationship with her!'

So far, the two had not spoken more than ten sentences with each other.

Moreover, Lorraine came from the hidden sect, The Krums.

The relationship between Somerland and The Krums was still very good.

When allocating resources, David took special care of The Krums.

Even if the two were not friends, they should not be hostile toward each other.

However, his mind power would not make mistakes.

David was puzzled.

He could not figure out what would cause Lorraine to be hostile to him.

'Could it be... love begets hate?

'Impossible!'

The two had only met a few times, and they only spoke less than ten sentences to each other, so why would she fall in love with him?

'Is my attraction to women so strong that even a woman like Lorraine, who is as gorgeous as humanly possible, is overwhelmed by my charm and is deeply infatuated with me?

'Did she start to despise me because she couldn't get me?'

David thought arrogantly in his heart.

It had to be said that with the continuous development of the system and its growing strength, David began to become increasingly narcissistic.

Just a hint of hostility that Lorraine accidentally showed could conjure up so much imaginative thoughts in his head.

However, David ignored Lorraine.

Instead, he said to Amadi, "Amadi, you mean that as long as I join Star Mansion, I can freely enter and exit the Iridescent Sect?"

"Um... Not exactly. The Iridescent Sect consists of all women, so even if Star Mansion and the Iridescent Sect are friendly, we still can't enter and exit it freely. However, as long as you have the Star Order from Star Mansion, you can still enter and exit frequently," Amadi answered.

"What's the difference between entering and exiting freely and frequently?" David asked curiously.

He felt that those two situations were identical.

“There’s a difference! Entering and exiting freely means you’re not restricted by the Iridescent Sect. Entering and exiting frequently means there will still be some restrictions.”

“What restrictions are there?”

“Let’s talk about the specific situation later! It’s too early to tell you. Anyway, you just need to know that Star Mansion and the Iridescent Sect are closely tied. Only by joining us can you frequently visit your lovers. Otherwise, it’ll be very difficult for forces to enter the Iridescent Sect.”

“Celeste, is that so?” David looked at Celeste.

“That’s true! Only by joining Star Mansion can you maintain a close relationship with the Iridescent Sect. You can enter the Iridescent Sect from time to time, and you can also marry a female disciple of the Iridescent Sect,” Celeste nodded and replied.

The Iridescent Sect and Star Mansion were indeed family friends, and their relationship could be traced back ten thousand years.

The two forces basically had marital connections from generation to generation.

The relationship shared by this generation had also reached its peak.

Now, could be said to be when the two forces were the closest.

This was because the wife of the current head of Star Mansion, Amadi’s mother, was once a proud disciple of the Iridescent Sect.

Meanwhile, Celeste and her were also good friends who had faced the risk of death together.

That was why Celeste came out with Amadi.

After all, Amadi was also regarded as her nephew.

If not, she would not waste her time doing this.

If Celeste could not recruit David, the lunatic, into the Iridescent Sect, she could at least make him join Star Mansion.

That way, she would be sending a peerless monster to her best friend.

If Star Mansion could improve, Celeste would also be happy for her best friend.

Moreover, she also would gain some benefits.

“Amadi, I understand. Let’s talk about it once we’re there. Since the Iridescent Sect only takes women and I can’t join, then I’ll consider Star Mansion my priority.”

“Of course! I believe you’ll make the best choice. Star Mansion will also give you the best treatment,” Amadi said confidently.

He believed when David arrived at his hometown and understood the situation, he would surely choose Star Mansion.

Star Mansion was not the most powerful force, but because of its close relationship with the Iridescent Sect, it would be David’s best choice.