Chapter 1373

After the conversation between the two was over, Celeste said, "Since everyone is here, I believe you've already taken care of your personal affairs. So, let's get ready to leave now."

"Celeste, please also stop by Planet Royal in the center of the Milky Way first. I don't know when I will come back after I leave the Milky Way this time. I still have some things to take care of. After all, I am the Master of the Milky Way."

"Okay! Let's go to Planet Royal first!"

Celeste naturally wouldn't refuse such a trivial request from David.

After they finished, she threw a little tortoise in her hand into the sky.

After the little tortoise reached the sky, it quickly grew in size. Then, it instantly became the size of an island, covering the sky and blocking out the sun.

"Let's go!" Celeste glanced at the crowd and said.

Then, she flew up.

Amadi also followed Celeste with his four maids.

People like David, Celia, and others had seen this enormous tortoise before, so they were not surprised. Shortly after, they followed behind.

Only Lorraine, Goldie, and Ava had never seen this kind of technique, and their faces were filled with shock.

However, after only a moment, they came back to their senses and hurriedly followed.

When everyone climbed onto the back of the tortoise, they saw a luxurious palace.

They entered the palace.

"There are a lot of rooms here, so you can stay wherever you want. There are not so many rules, but you can only move inside. Don't leave this house. Otherwise, none of you except for David will survive."

Celeste left after saying that.

Before she left, she peered at David and showed him a warning look.

Clearly, she was telling David not to do anything stupid if not she would throw him overboard.

David knew what Celeste meant so he could only turn his head to look at other places awkwardly.

After Celeste left, Amadi also got ready to leave.

“Dave, I’m going to rest.”

“Please go ahead, Amadi.”

The palace was luxurious and enormous.

There was more than enough room for dozens of people.

Everyone started to look for rooms to settle down.

After David and the others entered the luxurious palace, the enormous tortoise tore open crawled in to head to Planet Royal.

space

and

This enormous tortoise was moving faster than David in the space crack.

After all, it was the primary form of transportation for Celeste the Universe Enforcer.

It needed to cross the entire universe, so its speed was also of utmost importance.

Meanwhile, David also found a room to rest.

Shortly after, he heard Celeste’s voice.

“David, we’ve arrived at Planet Royal. Go take care of your business as soon as possible. We won’t come out in case we cause chaos and get treated like monsters.”

Chapter 1374

If a tortoise of this size appeared in the sky above Planet Royal, it would surely shock countless people.

David stood up quickly.

'Are we at Planet Royal so soon?

'It's much shorter than the time I took to rush back.

'What kind of creature is this enormous tortoise?

'Not only can it change size freely, but its speed is also terrifying.'

If there was a chance in the future, he would also like to get one for transportation to save himself the trouble.

David walked out of the palace alone, passed through a light curtain, and came to the back of the enormous tortoise. After that, he tore open a crack and walked out.

That layer of light curtain he passed through was a barrier protecting the palace.

The space crack was perilous.

Aside from Eternals, only a partial Eternal could survive here for a short time. As for the others, once they left the protection, their bodies would instantly disintegrate because they would not be able to bear the pressure.

Even peak Infinity Rankers were no exception.

Therefore, before entering the palace, Celeste warned everyone not to leave and only to move around inside.

David tore open a passage and walked out.

Sure enough, he was already in the sky above Planet Royal.

He was a little curious, how did the enormous tortoise find this place so accurately?

It was such a useful thing.

In the future, he would get one to use as transportation.

David stepped forward, and his body appeared on Planet Royal.

At this moment, Nimbus and Wilfred were playing chess inside Nimbus' home in the Royal Palace on Planet Royal.

The two were evenly matched in the game.

"Nimbus, did you gain any inspiration after seeing David break through Eternal Realm and cast the Eternal Golden Body?" Wilfred asked aloud after he placed his piece.

"Uncle Wilfred, what about you?" Nimbus did not answer directly but instead asked rhetorically.

"I'm old, and to be honest, I don't have ambitions of achieving this, so I don't feel anything. If the Barlowe family wants to continue to control the Milky Way, we will need an Eternal. You stand the best chance so you will be the one who will have to do this."

"It's easier said than done! Uncle Wilfred, why don't you want to continue cultivating? In reality, your talent may not be any worse than mine. If you had been more serious at the beginning, you would have already stepped into Eternal Realm. If that had happened, there wouldn't be as much pressure on me right now."

"Everyone has their own path. What's the point of saying this? The most important thing now is to maintain the status of the empire. Although David said that he will hand everything in the Milky Way to you, his East League Chamber of Commerce will gradually become a force beyond the control of the empire. After all, he is the Master of the Milky Way."

"I know! East League Chamber of Commerce is backed by David, the Master of the Milky Way, and its speed of development is indeed terrifying. Countless forces are flocking to it in hopes of cultivating a little relationship with it," Nimbus said helplessly.

"Therefore, you must break through to Eternal Realm as soon as possible! Since David has become the Master of the Milky Way, the prestige that our family has accumulated in the Milky Way for countless years is about to be slowly replaced by him, and it won't be long before it completely disappears."

"But Uncle Wilfred, it's really too difficult to break through to Eternal Realm. Although I have a little bit of inspiration, it's vague and I feel like I can't grasp it. I think it will take some time to break through." Nimbus shook his head.

"It's good to be inspired. I'm afraid that if you feel nothing like me, our family will be doomed." Wilfred finally showed a smile.

“Uncle Wilfred, Astrid has been depressed for a while, and she hasn’t been eating or drinking. She probably understands the gap between David and herself. What do you think about this?” Nimbus asked.

“Let’s go with the flow. We can’t interfere in this matter. If Astrid can be with David, then everyone will be happy. If not, there is no solution. After all, David’s status is completely different now,” Wilfred sighed.

“I understand, but I feel bad hearing Gammy tell me about Astrid’s situation. As her father, I can only blame myself for not getting to Eternal Realm before David. If not, I could force him to be Astrid’s husband.”

The uncle and nephew thought they hid their conversation well. After all, they were in the Royal Palace and were partial Eternals.

However, unbeknownst to them, David had heard everything they said.

Chapter 1375

David felt a little speechless after he just heard the conversation between Nimbus and Wilfred.

He really had no interest in competing with the Barlowe family for control of the Milky Way.

However, he also knew that the Barlowe family was still the royal family of the Milky Way, and they had controlled the Milky Way for many years.

A person popped up out of nowhere and was even stronger than the Barlowe family, so they would naturally not appreciate this.

David’s Eternal Realm strength had always been like a thorn in the heart of the Barlowe family.

Therefore, the Barlowe family needed someone to stand up, break through Eternal Realm, and at least be able to compete with David so that they would feel more at ease.

David did not know what to do in this situation either.

No matter what he said, the Barlowe family would not fully believe him.

However, if the Barlowe family knew that he was leaving the Milky Way, they should be a little more relieved.

After listening to the conversation between the two, David did not show up right away. If he appeared now, it would only make the scene more embarrassing.

Nimbus and Wilfred would probably be terrified.

After all, they were gossiping about an Eternal behind his back and had already offended their superior.

David left quietly and planned to come back later.

Inside Princess Astrid's room in the Royal Palace on Planet Royal.

Inside the pink room were all kinds of delicious food, which could increase people's appetite just by looking at it.

However, they had not been touched.

Two women were sitting by the window.

The younger one, Astrid, was looking out the window, while the other one, Empress Gamora, was looking at Astrid sadly.

"Astrid, eat something! If this goes on, your body won't be able to take it anymore." Gamora looked at Astrid who was in a trance and tried to persuade sadly.

Only when one reached Eternal Realm could their body continuously generate vitality and survive without food.

Otherwise, even a partial Eternal like Nimbus needed to get energy from food.

If he did not eat for a long time to replenish his energy, his body's functions would slowly decline, and it would eventually lead to death.

However, this was a very slow process.

Ordinary people could only live for ten days or half a month at most if they did not eat.

The higher the realm, the greater the strength, which could greatly delay this process.

"Mother, I'm not hungry. Ask them to leave," Astrid replied calmly.

"No! You must eat something today. Since David stepped into Eternal Realm and left as the Master of the Milky Way, you have hardly eaten anything. If this continues, your body will soon collapse. From now on, if you still don't eat, then I will accompany you. Worse comes to worst, both of us will die together."

Gamora gave Astrid a look that said, 'If you don't eat, I won't eat either.'

Astrid then turned to look at Gamora.

Chapter 1376

She saw the pain in her mother's eyes, but she really was not in the mood to eat right now.

After David stepped into Eternal Realm and became the Master of the Milky Way, he surpassed her family in terms of strength, identity, and status.

Astrid did not want this to happen.

Because if this were the case, the gap between her and David would grow.

"Mother, I really have no appetite," Astrid shook his head and said.

"Astrid, what's the matter with you? David just left to take care of some business, and he didn't say he wouldn't come back. If you don't eat now, your body will collapse before he comes back."

"Mother, in truth, I know this is just a one-sided love. Although David saved me at the beginning, he only treated me as a friend. I originally thought that with my status as the princess of the Milky Way, I could change David's mind slowly, but now that David has stepped into Eternal Realm, become Master of the Milky Way, and is much better than Father and Grandpa Wilfred, I don't know what to do," Astrid said, feeling depressed.

"Astrid, don't have such thoughts. You have to be confident. You are one of the four fairies in the Milky Way, the princess of the Milky Way. You are the top in the Milky Way in all aspects. David just hasn't been in contact with you for a long time. As time goes by, I am sure he will like you back."

"Do you think so?" Astrid's interest was piqued slightly.

"Well, of course! And considering how outstanding David is now, doesn't it prove that your taste is exceptional? Who doesn't want their man to be at the center of attention? That's what your father was like back then and that's what attracted me. Your taste is even better than mine. David is so excellent now, so you should be happy." Seeing Astrid's interest, Gamora immediately added.

The situation with Astrid during this time was really worrying.

She did not eat or drink. She was always depressed and had no interest in anything.

No one could get her to listen.

“Mother, honestly, I don’t want David to become so excellent. I hope that he will be more ordinary so that my chances of being together with him will be greater. I like him not because I have good taste and can predict his achievements today. Even if he becomes a cripple right now, I will still like him and won’t give up on him.”

Gamora looked at Astrid helplessly.

‘Sigh, this girl is too far gone and there’s no cure anymore.

‘The key is with David’s current strength and status. Who can control him?

“Who will dare to object to what he says?

‘My husband aside, the Barlowe family will not be his opponent even if they combined all of their strength. ‘If David really doesn’t like Astrid.

‘Then this relationship will be a dead end and there will be no solution.’

“Sigh, Astrid, no matter what you think, you should eat something! I believe David won’t want to see you like this. If he finds out when he comes back, he will be unhappy. You have to take care of yourself and wait for him to come back. After that, you should work hard to pursue your own happiness. I believe my Astrid is no worse than anyone else.”

“I got it, Mother. Thank you. You should go out first! I want to be alone for a while. Don’t worry, I will eat later,” Astrid said.

“No, I’ll eat with you,” Gamora refused.

“Mother, can you just leave me alone for a while, please?” Astrid begged.

Gamora wanted to refuse, but when she saw Astrid’s pleading eyes, she sighed in her heart and said, “Oh That’s fine! I will go out first, but you must eat something later.”

“Yes, I got it, Mother,” Astrid replied.

Gamora stood up and left Astrid’s room slowly.

After she left, Astrid did not eat anything. Instead, she turned to continue to look out of the window dazedly.

She murmured, "David, where are you now? When are you coming back? Or are you never coming back? Do you know there's someone here who misses you so much that she can't eat or sleep? I know you only treat me as a friend, but what choice do I have? Whenever I close my eyes, I see you in my head. You're the first man I ever liked in this life and you will be the last. I promise."
