

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1501

Chapter 1501

Celeste was silent for a long time.

At this moment, she had a lot of thoughts racing through her head.

No one else could know that David became an Eternal at the age of thirty.

Otherwise, it would be more serious than exposing his mind power.

This man was full of secrets.

If any of his secrets was revealed casually, he would shock countless people.

Even Celeste wanted to know more about David.

However, she knew what to ask and what not to ask after living for nearly two thousand years.

"From now on, you must not tell anyone about David's age, understand? Not even your master, Nova," Celeste said suddenly and seriously.

"Why Celeste?" Sandy asked.

She was young, had little experience, and was innocent.

Furthermore, she had been growing up under the shelter of the Luther family.

Due to this, she had never seen how sinister people outside could be.

She did not quite understand the meaning of Celeste's words.

Although other people also did not fully understand it, they could at least understand the general reason.

"You will know why in the future. Now you just need to know that if others learn of David's age, it will bring him a lot of trouble. He cannot solve these troubles with his current strength, and he will be at a disadvantage."

Upon hearing it would cause trouble for David, all the women present immediately became nervous. "Celeste, don't worry! We won't tell anyone."

"Yes! Rest assured, Celeste! We won't say anything about David."

Everyone said.

“Okay! It’s not just his age. It’s best not to say anything about David at all, not even the relationship between you and him, and that you are from the same place as him. You should wait until David becomes stronger and is not afraid of anyone before you announce the relationship between you guys, understand?” “Understood, Celeste!”

“Okay! You guys should continue your chat, I need to talk to David.”

After speaking, Celeste got up and left the courtyard.

She also had to remind David.

She needed to tell him to keep a low profile until he improved his strength.

He should not reveal both his age or mind power as each of those could cause a major earthquake in Star Kingdom.

Even if he joined Star Mansion, he still had to keep a low profile.

Otherwise, even Star Mansion might not be able to protect him by then.

Selena and the others looked at Celeste’s back and watched her leave.

They naturally took Celeste’s words to heart as this was about David’s safety in Star Kingdom.

Hence, they had to be more mindful of it.

“Everyone, you heard Celeste. From now on, everything about David must be kept secret and must not be revealed. Otherwise, it will put him in danger. By then, we will be the ones who would have killed him,” Selena said solemnly.

Everyone nodded after hearing that, expressing that they understood.

The other side.

Nova went to the VIP area of the Iridescent Sect.

This was the place dedicated to receiving distinguished guests.

The ones who could stay here were all honored guests of the Iridescent Sect.

As a Saint, Nek would receive the highest level of treatment no matter which forces he went to in Star Kingdom.

David was able to stay here because of Celeste's order as she was an elder of the Iridescent Sect.

When Nova passed by the room, she heard the sound of the seven fairies dancing inside.

Therefore, she thought Nek was in there.

After all, Nek asked the seven fairies to perform for him now and then during this period

He might want to take two of them back to be his concubines.

However, even if Nek the Saint wanted to take away one of the seven fairies, he still had to abide by the rules of the Iridescent Sect.

Nova stepped into the room.

The first thing she saw was not Nek, but a young man.

She was puzzled.

'Who is this young man? I don't have the slightest impression of him.

'And when did he get into the VIP area?'

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1502

Chapter 1502

'How could I not know about this?

'Isn't Nek the only one living in the VIP area? When did this young man show up?'

When Nova entered the room, David also spotted her immediately.

At the first sight of Nova, David felt a shock in his heart.

This was a powerhouse comparable to Celeste.

David even felt that she might be stronger than Celeste.

As expected of a high-level civilization, there were so many hidden talents here.

Any woman who appeared at random could instantly kill him.

It seemed that he indeed had to keep a low profile.

This also made David more eager to increase his strength as soon as possible.

There was another woman beside David.

She was the middle-aged attendant who had been serving him this whole time.

The reason she was here was so that she could answer David's request as soon as possible and meet them in a timely fashion.

The moment she saw Nova coming in, the middle-aged attendant hurriedly stepped forward and saluted respectfully, "Greetings, Lady Dream!"

The seven fairies also immediately stopped performing to kneel in front of Nova.

"Greetings, Lady Dream!"

Nova said blankly, "You may rise!"

"Thank you, Lady Dream!"

After the middle-aged attendant and the seven fairies finished speaking respectfully, they got up and stepped aside.

At this time, David also stood up and looked at Nova.

It turned out that she was the head of the Iridescent Sect.

No wonder he felt that her strength was much greater than Celeste, the elder.

It was normal for the head to be stronger than the elders.

"Greetings, Lady Dream," David said politely.

"What's your name? Where do you come from? Why are you in the Iridescent Sect?" Nova asked directly.

David was obviously taken aback when he heard that.

'Didn't Celeste go to meet her?

'I thought she came here just to find me.

'However, she asked such a question as soon as we met.

'It seems that Celeste didn't tell her about me.

‘Then why is she here?’

Although David was puzzled, he still replied in a very polite tone, “Lady Dream, my name is David, and I came with Celeste.”

He had no choice. He was in someone else’s territory.

David could not use force even if he wanted to.

“Elder Red?” Nova continued to ask.

“Exactly!”

“So, you’re Elder Red’s guest. Carry on with what you’re doing. I still have something to take care of, so I won’t bother you.”

After Nova finished speaking, she turned and left without giving David a chance to react.

Since he was Elder Red’s guest, Nova did not need to ask any more questions.

She still had to go find Nek.

She thought Nek was here, but unexpectedly, he was not.

She could just ask Elder Red for David’s identity later.

Nova did not want to waste time here either.

She guessed in her heart that David should be a direct descendant of a certain powerful force, and that he was also very important.

Otherwise, he would not be able to enter the VIP area and enjoy the highest level of service in the Iridescent Sect as a beginner Ruler Ranker.

Nova came and left very quickly.

Her actions confused David, the middle-aged attendant, and the seven fairies.

‘What is this?’

‘She came in, asked two questions, and left.’

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1503

After Nova left, the middle-aged attendant gestured to the seven fairies to get them to continue the unfinished program.

However, when they were about to continue, David waved his hand to stop them. He said, "Alright, you must be exhausted, so there is no need to continue. Go and rest now!"

After Nova's sudden intrusion, David lost his appetite, let alone his mood to watch the show.

The seven fairies were reluctant, and some of them did not want to leave. They still wanted to catch David's eye

As they stood in the middle of the room, they did not know whether to stay or leave. In the end, they looked at the middle-aged attendant.

The middle-aged attendant naturally understood what the seven fairies were thinking.

A young man like David was more impulsive than a middle-aged man like Nek.

They would find any means to obtain something they fancied.

If David took away one of the seven fairies, the attendant would also benefit from it.

"Master David, their show hasn't ended yet, so please let them continue! Otherwise, they will be scolded when they go back," the middle-aged attendant said.

"Continue then," David sat down and said indifferently.

Making things easy for others would also be making things easy for oneself.

He was not that unkind either.

However, David was not in the mood to watch them anymore, but was instead wondering why the head of the Iridescent Sect came in and left so suddenly.

Nova left the room and went directly to where Nek stayed.

This palatial courtyard was much better than the place Selena and the others lived in.

Nova did not directly push the door open to go in after arriving at the door.

Instead, she shouted outside, "Lord Simmons, are you in there? I am here to discuss something with you."

After all, this was a Saint's residence even if he was in the Iridescent Sect's territory.

As the head, Nova did not dare to barge in.

It was not long before she heard Nek's voice from the courtyard after she finished speaking.

"Please come in, Lady Dream!"

Nova pushed the door open and entered the courtyard.

At this time, Nek was already waiting for her.

"Greetings, Lord Simmons," Nova stepped forward and greeted politely.

"What's the matter, Lady Dream? Is Celeste back?" Nek asked.

"Lord Simmons, you are so clever. Indeed, Elder Red has returned."

"Then why didn't she come to see me? Is she afraid of something?"

"Lord Simmons, you misunderstood. Elder Red just came back and feels unwell, so i'm here to explain on her behalf."

"What is it then? Tell me, I'm listening."

Nek was clearly displeased.

Celeste was back but she refused to come to see him.

Did that mean she was looking down on him?

"Lord Simmons, you see..."

Nova repeated to Nek what Celeste told her.

Finally, she added, "Lord Simmons, this matter has been confirmed by the reputable elder, that is, Elder Red's master Eira, so there is no risk of any falsehood."

Nek fell silent after listening to Nova's explanation.

He was thinking about the possibility of such a situation.

The final conclusion was that it was indeed possible.

After all, he did not see Celeste lose her virginity with his own eyes.

The mind seed could only sense, but were not substitutes for real eyes.

Celeste might have lost her virginity in a fantasy, causing the mind seed he planted to mistakenly think that she had lost her virginity in real life.

Furthermore, according to Nova, this matter was confirmed by Celeste's master Eira.

In that case, it should be real.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1504

Chapter 1504

'But why is Celeste refusing to come to see me?

'Is it because she can't accept that I planted a mind seed on her?

'I, Nek Simmons, am a Saint. I planted a mind seed on you because I value you.

'Didn't you see that your teacher found out but didn't say anything?

'How dare you have any opinions about it when you're just an Eternal?'

Nek was pissed that Celeste did not come to see him.

"Oh? Lady Dream, are you saying that Elder Red didn't lose her virginity and she was only raped by someone in a fantasy?" Nek asked.

"That's the truth of the matter," Nova replied.

"Then why won't Celeste come to see me?"

"Lord Simmons, as I have said, Elder Red has just returned and feels unwell."

"Really? Why do I feel like that's not the case? If Celeste didn't lose her virginity, then let me examine her, otherwise, how do you expect me to believe you?" Nek said sullenly.

Even if what Nova said was true, he would not admit that he had made a mistake.

This was unless they let him examine Celeste himself.

If she genuinely did not lose it, then Nek would admit his mistake and apologize accordingly.

In Nek's opinion, it was absolutely impossible for Celeste to agree to let him examine her body judging from her staunch temperament.

In this case, they would not be able to determine the outcome of this matter.

He also had his own reasons for shirking responsibility.

“Lord Simmons, aren’t you forcing us to do something we don’t want to?” Nova frowned and asked with some displeasure.

Celeste had refused to come to see Nek, so how would she agree to his examination?

Even Nova would not allow it, let alone Celeste.

It would be such an insult to let a man check whether a woman had lost her virginity.

If Nova did what Nek said, the Iridescent Sect would be utterly humiliated.

Even if Nek was a Saint, he was not qualified to trample on the Iridescent Sect.

“How can you say that? I just need to make sure that she, Celeste, is still a virgin as you said. After that, I will take responsibility for what I’ve done and apologize accordingly. I will not shun the accountability.”

“Nek, you are a man, so if you examine Elder Red’s body, it will be a great insult to her. Even I as the head will not agree, let alone her.”

Nova was already a little angry.

She had even started addressing Nek by his name rather than Lord Simmons.

If the other party was going to be so unreasonable, she could only ask the reputable elders for help.

Although the reputable elders told her not to bother them if there were no emergencies, Nek the Saint was messing around in the Iridescent Sect.

Besides the reputable elders, who else could suppress him?

“Then there is no solution to this matter. What you said, Lady Dream, is justified, but what I, Nek Simmons, said is not groundless either.”

Nek had a shameless look on his face.

The reason why he dared to be so unreasonable was because of the Iridescent Sect’s long-standing way of handling conflict.

The Iridescent Sect was powerful. Although it had four reputable elders at Saint Realm that made them invincible in Star Kingdom, they rarely offend anyone.

Most of the outstanding women who were trained here were married off, and they had a very good relationship with most forces in Star Kingdom.

The Iridescent Sect were a powerful but gentle existence in Star Kingdom.

Nek would not dare to be such a rascal if it were another powerful force with four reputable elders at Saint Realm.