I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2361-Three carriages depart from the city of Wier in The Spirit Cage.

It was David and his party in the carriages.

As the carriages left town, many people emerged from the city, staring at the carriages leaving.

These were all big and small bosses in the Wier business circle.

They longed for David and Thor to leave.

Since the two came to Wier, it had been a complete nightmare in the Wier business circle.

The price of treasures of heaven and earth had soared again and again.

It was fine at first.

However, over time, the price of goods in Wier increased a lot.

They never got a chance to buy the higher-grade treasures anymore as they were all sold to Thor.

After all, the price he offered was higher.

So, the buyers would want to match that price.

As a result, as soon as the price went up, Thor continued to increase again, and his price was always much higher than the price in the Wier business circle.

This situation had never happened in Wier.

The duo, Thor and David, had means, money, and strength.

Even Wier's major forces were helpless and could only come back disheartened. Since then, they had turned a blind eye. Who would still dare to make trouble?

After watching David and the others leave, everyone started talking.

“Hurray, they’re finally gone. Weir is finally peaceful again. If this continues, we really won’t be able to live.”

“Right? I really have no idea where those two came from. Not only were they rich, they were so strong that it’s ridiculous. Even the big forces in Wier couldn’t do anything about them.”

“I’ve also heard that several major forces have sent people to find trouble with these two people, but in the end, they got no response. What’s going on?”

“I’m not sure! It’s said that after Thor invited us to a banquet last time, some people were dissatisfied and got the forces behind them to do something. However, it seems they were all easily dismissed by that Master David, and there has been no news since then.”

“That Master David doesn’t seem that simple.”

“What nonsense! He’s so young and he has such strong soul power. How can he be simple? I think he’s an heir cultivated by some superpower. If not, he won’t be so excellent!”

“I think so too. The first time I met him, I felt that he was not simple. This further proves my assumption.”

“Give me a break! You were the one who’s the loudest in demanding Master David get out of Wier, okay?”

“I... I never said that. Stop slandering me!”

Teh!”

David did not hear the discussion in Wier.

Even if he did, he would not mind and would continue his journey.

If he was by himself, he would be faster and could save a lot of time.

However, David had no choice.

He could not abandon these people and leave by himself!

What if something happened halfway? If what happened at Demon Ridge happened again, wouldn't his entire team be wiped out?

Both Beanie and Thor were David's right-hand persons. One managed the chores of life, while the other spent money outside to earn lavish points.

So, he had to bring those two.

It did not mean that David could not live without them, it was just that it would be very troublesome.

Trouble was what David feared most.

At the same time, David was a very sentimental person.

Thor had helped him a lot, so David would definitely not just leave him like this.

Not to mention that Thor was still useful. Even if he did not need Thor in the future anymore, David would give him enough benefits.

One must know that Thor went crazy with his spending before they left Wier.

He secretly spread the news saying that he would leave in three days, so the price of various treasures of heaven and earth in Wier would return to the original level.

Once the news came out, it caused a huge sensation.

Many people who had treasures in their hands and wanted to wait for the price to rise again were in a hurry to sell them.

Otherwise, they would be making a huge loss if the price went back to normal when Thor left.
