

The Mans Decree Chapter 2551 -

Chapter 2551 A Peeper

After that, Kai followed Ivasha through the streets and arrived in the center of Imperial Beast City.

Right when the pair was about to enter the palace in Imperial Beast City, a young man in golden armor approached them and said, "Princess Ivasha, I was worried sick when King Yuven said you had gone out alone. It's very dangerous out there. If something bad had happened to you, it would be troublesome! Please inform me when you want to head out next time. I can protect you."

The young man looked very concerned when he said those words to Ivasha.

However, Ivasha merely glanced at him faintly and uttered in disgust, "Who do you think you are, Tigerus? What made you think I needed to ask for your permission to head out? Do you really think I need to report to you?"

"Oh, no. That's not what I meant! I was just worried about your well-being!"

Tigerus hurriedly explained with a shake of his head. When he saw Kai, he furrowed his brows and asked, "Princess Ivasha, why did you bring a human back with you?"

Right after Tigerus finished speaking, he continued in bafflement, "That's not right... This fellow possesses both the aura of the beast race and a human. How could that be? In fact, he possesses the aura of a celestial beast... This is odd! Very odd! Could it be that he's a product of a marriage between the human race and the beast race?"

Tigerus was bamboozled by Kai's aura, and he couldn't help sizing the latter up.

"Contain your curiosity. Whoever I bring back with me shouldn't concern you. Your duty is to guard the imperial city. You should just focus on your job!"

Once Ivasha reprimanded Tigerus, she said to Kai, "Let's go, Kai."

As Ivasha led Kai into the palace, he picked up his pace and walked alongside her.

Tigerus was pissed off when he saw that. I've never been allowed to walk beside Princess Ivasha!

“Hey... It seems like that subordinate of yours is into you,” Kai said to Ivasha.

Kai spoke in a casual tone because he didn't sense any animosity from Ivasha.

“He's reaching for the stars with his feet on the ground! I would never fall for a peeper!” Ivasha fumed.

“A peeper?” Kai froze momentarily. What is Princess Ivasha talking about?

“That Tigerus is a pervert, and he's always secretly watching girls shower. For some reason, he thought he was so good at casting illusion spells that no one would ever catch him. Yet, he was caught! What a shameless and disgusting pervert!” The more Ivasha talked about Tigerus, the angrier she got.

Kai, on the other hand, was completely taken aback. That guy looked so honorable! Who would've thought that he could be a pervert? No wonder Princess Ivasha was so disgusted when she talked to him!

When the pair arrived at the palace, Ivasha called out, “Father! Father!”

A beat later, an elderly dressed in green appeared and bowed respectfully.

“Princess Ivasha, King Yuven has left the city. He's most probably only coming back tomorrow!”

“Seriously? Why didn't Father wait for my return?” Ivasha pursed her lips unhappily. She then said to the elderly in green, “Mr. Poulsen, settle this man in a room and let him rest. I brought him here to see my father.”

The elderly in green, Julius Poulsen, nodded and turned toward Kai, uttering politely, “Sir, this way, please.”

Upon hearing that, Kai cast Ivasha a baffled glance. She brought me into the palace and arranged a room for me without asking me anything. What's going on?

“Have a good rest. I know you're injured, so you have limited strength. I'll get someone to deliver you some herbs to help you recuperate. We'll talk more when my father returns tomorrow. Relax, all right? I won't hurt you!” Ivasha assured Kai.

Noticing the sincerity and friendliness in Ivasha's tone, Kai followed Julius' lead and left to get some rest.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2552 -

Chapter 2552 The Revitalize Essence Pill

Julius guided Kai to a rather ordinary room and respectfully said, “You may rest here. If you need anything, don't hesitate to call me.”

“Thank you, Mr. Poulsen!” Kai responded gratefully, acknowledging the courteous treatment.

Just when Julius was about to step out of the room, Kai suddenly halted him.

He asked, “Mr. Poulsen, can I ask you something?”

“Feel free to ask me anything!” Julius responded.

“Mr. Poulsen, are all the inhabitants here beast cultivators? Are there humans living in the city?” Kai inquired with curiosity.

Julius shook his head. “There are no humans here. We’re all beast cultivators, and we’re a part of the beast race. The humans have their own territories, so they won’t live among us.”

“You mean no humans have ever set foot here before?” Kai could not help but express surprise. It’s such a vast city, yet no humans have discovered it or come here before?

“Humans do come to our city. We often invite some alchemists over to aid in refining pills or seek medical assistance,” Julius explained. “You see, it’s nearly impossible for us beast cultivators to become alchemists, so we can only rely on them!”

Kai nodded in understanding upon learning that the beast cultivators could transform into human forms but were unable to become alchemists.

“Are there any other questions?” Julius asked softly.

Kai shook his head. “That’s all I want to know for now. Thank you, Mr. Poulsen!”

After Julius left, Kai remained in the room, quietly adjusting his breathing and slowly recovering his strength.

A few moments later, someone knocked on the door, startling Kai. He opened his eyes and saw Ivasha walking in with a porcelain tray.

On the tray lay a brownish-green pill that emitted a faint glow.

At first glance, Kai could tell that this pill was no ordinary pill.

He stood up and greeted her with respect, “Princess Ivasha.”

“I’ve brought you a Revitalize Essence Pill. It seems like your injuries still haven’t fully healed. Taking this pill might be beneficial for treating your wounds,” Ivasha said as she placed the porcelain tray on the table.

Kai looked at the Revitalize Essence Pill, his face showing a hint of puzzlement. To a beast cultivator who could never become an alchemist, this pill was undoubtedly an invaluable item!

However, he could not fathom why Ivasha would present him with such a precious gift. He could not grasp her intentions.

“Your Highness, pardon me for asking this, but why are you presenting me with such a significant gift even though we’ve only just met?” Kai inquired, genuinely perplexed.

“Because I need some answers from you,” Ivasha replied.

“What answers?” Kai asked, his expression freezing for a moment as he was unsure what she was referring to.

“You possess the aura of both a human and a celestial beast, which indicates that your parents must be from different races,” Ivasha explained. “One of your parents is from the beast race, whereas the other is from the human race. I wish to know who your parents are and how they managed to conceive you.”

Kai knitted his brow, puzzled by Ivasha’s inquiry about his parents. Nevertheless, he answered, “My mother is a human, but as for my father, I’ve never met him, and I know nothing about him. Why do you ask about this? Do you think there’s something amiss about my birth?”

Kai looked at Ivasha with a perplexed expression, unable to comprehend the purpose behind her question or what she hoped to discover.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2553 -

Chapter 2553 The Library Of The Imperial Beast City

“You’re probably unaware of this, but the beast race is forbidden from marrying humans. Even if such a union were to occur, they would be unable to bear children. In Imperial Beast City, many have formed emotional bonds with humans, but in the end, not a single couple succeeded in conceiving. That’s why we’ve always believed that forming a bond with humans was a violation of the laws of nature. The fact that they can’t conceive is the punishment. But after learning about you, I want to know how you were born and how your parents managed to avoid such punishment,” Ivasha explained further.

Upon hearing this, Kai was taken aback. He had never known about such a rule that forbade the beast race from marrying humans, and the fact that such unions could not bear children puzzled him greatly. Does that mean my union with Feenix is against the laws of nature too?

“I’m afraid I don’t have an answer to your question, Your Highness. I have no idea about my own situation at all,” Kai responded with a wry grin.

He had not even met his father, so he was clueless about his birth.

“It’s all right. When my father returns, he might be able to shed some light on the matter. Do stay here for the night,” Ivasha said before leaving. Kai decided not to consume the Revitalize Essence Pill for the time being. While Ivasha seemed trustworthy, he did not have enough power to discern the ingredients of such a high-level pill with his current capabilities. He did not want to risk eating it without understanding its effects. Hence, he placed the pill in his Storage Ring for safekeeping.

He opened the window of the room, revealing a view of Imperial Beast City. The entire city was brightly illuminated with lights. After observing from the window for a while, he decided to leave the room to explore the city further.

The presence of guards was not too imposing, indicating a perceived sense of safety within the city.

As Kai wandered without a specific destination, he absorbed the unique atmosphere of that exotic imperial city. As he passed by one room, a faint scent of sandalwood enticed him to push open the door and enter.

Inside, he discovered a small library adorned with two wooden bookshelves that showcased an array of books.

Kai picked up one book and began flipping through its pages, only to find that the text was written in the language of the beast race, entirely different from the ones he knew as a human.

He attempted to read several other books, but they all presented the same enigmatic script, leaving Kai perplexed. “What kind of characters are these? I can’t even read a single thing.”

Kai had no choice but to put the books back in their places, preparing to leave the library.

However, Kai soon came to a halt as if he had recalled something important.

He picked up a book, but this time, he decided not to read it with his eyes. Instead, he gently caressed the book and wrapped his spiritual sense around it.

In an instant, the pages of the Wordless Tome emitted a soft glow as its contents flowed into his memory like a gentle stream.

Within moments, the once unintelligible text became imprinted in his mind, every word memorized with precision.

A smile of satisfaction crept onto Kai's face. He effortlessly returned the book to its original position and reached for another, ready to employ the same technique once more.

There were countless volumes of books in the library, and if Kai could absorb the knowledge from each one, his understanding of the beast race would undoubtedly deepen significantly.

However, just as he was about to delve into another book, the library's door was suddenly flung open, and a group of golden-armored warriors rushed in.

"How dare you trespass into the library of the imperial palace! Are you tired of living?" roared a golden-armored Tigerus, his anger palpable upon seeing Kai perusing the tomes.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2554 -

Chapter 2554 Ulterior Motive

This was Imperial Beast City, the territory of the beast race. It was bad enough that Kai, a human, was brought there, yet he even dared to sneak into the imperial library in the middle of the night!

"Don't misunderstand. I was just—"

When Kai saw Tigerus, he wanted to explain, but before he could finish his sentence, the latter swung his sword at him.

Kai had no choice but to throw the book at Tigerus and attempt to escape.

"Think you can run? If I let you go, then I, as the general of the royal guards, would be unworthy of my title!" Seeing Kai trying to flee, Tigerus roared angrily and charged at Kai with his sword again.

Tigerus harbored prejudice against Kai. He didn't like humans and thought they were too cunning.

Unfortunately, Ivasha had a soft spot for humans. She was always hoping she could marry one and have a human husband.

However, because the beast and human races couldn't intermarry, Ivasha had to restrain herself.

When Tigerus saw Ivasha walking side by side with Kai, laughing and chatting, he was beside himself with rage.

Therefore, upon discovering Kai had sneaked into the imperial library and browsed the books inside, he immediately found an excuse to teach Kai a lesson.

Tigerus was ruthless in his attacks, seemingly intent on killing Kai. With his strength not fully recovered, Kai was no match for Tigerus. Seeing the latter's ferocious strikes and lethal moves, Kai could only rely on his agility to dodge constantly.
Whoosh!

Tigerus swung his sword toward Kai's face, the spine-chilling and razor-sharp blade rapidly approaching Kai.

Kai wanted to dodge, but Tigerus was too fast that time, rendering Kai unable to evade the attack.

At that point, Kai could only grit his teeth. His body shone with golden light as he activated Golem Body. Instantaneously, dazzling golden scales covered his entire figure.
Clang!

Crossing his arms, Kai blocked Tigerus' attack.

However, the enormous force threw him back, and he fell heavily to the ground. Golem Body shattered in an instant and dissipated in a flash of golden light.

Blood trickled down the corner of Kai's mouth. The difference in strength between him and Tigerus was insurmountable. Even with Golem Body's protection, he was still injured.

“I didn’t expect you, a mere human, to have this golden protective armor. It seems you’re not a simple person. You must’ve come to Imperial Beast City with an ulterior motive! I’ll kill you today! Let’s see how you can still plot against our city if you’re dead!”

After saying that, Tigerus brought his blade down on Kai again.

In the face of Tigerus’ formidable move, Kai could only close his eyes in resignation. He knew he could not withstand that blow.

However, just as Tigerus’ sword was about to hit Kai, a flash of light suddenly flickered and struck the blade.

Tigerus jerked at the impact and staggered a few steps back.

“Tigerus, how dare you attack my guest?” Ivasha stormed over angrily with Julius by her side.

The person who saved Kai a moment ago was Julius.

“Are you all right, Kai?” Ivasha stepped forward to help Kai up from the floor. He chuckled wryly and shook his head.

At that moment, he felt utterly helpless. If it weren’t because he hadn’t fully recovered his abilities, he wouldn’t have fallen into such a pathetic state while fighting against Tigerus.

“Princess Ivasha, this punk sneaked into King Yuven’s imperial library and was caught red-handed by me while he was secretly reading King Yuven’s book collection. I’ve said this early on—humans are cunning and untrustworthy. He must harbor ulterior motives for reading King Yuven’s books!” Tigerus loudly declared to Ivasha.

Hearing that, Ivasha turned to gaze at Kai in slight astonishment with a questioning look in her eyes.

“Princess Ivasha, I was just feeling too bored in my room and wanted to take a stroll. I ended up wandering here and browsed through the books inside. You were the one who brought me here forcefully, so what ulterior motives could I possibly have?” That was the only explanation Kai could come up with to defend himself.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2555 -

Chapter 2555 Kindness

Still, Kai’s explanation seemed a bit far-fetched. As a result, Ivasha remained slightly unconvinced.

“Princess Ivasha, the books in this imperial library are written in the beast race's language, so a human wouldn't be able to understand the text," Julius, standing at one side, reminded in an undertone at that moment. Clarity washed over Ivasha after she heard that. Then, she smiled and said, "I believe you entered here by accident. Hurry up and go back to rest now. Stop wandering around."

"Thank you, Princess Ivasha." Kai nodded, then left.

Tigerus glared at Kai's retreating figure from behind.

"Princess Ivasha, that guy is obviously a bad person! Humans are deceitful and always commit heinous acts. You can't continue to mingle so closely with them!" Tigerus said to Ivasha.

Ivasha knitted her brows and narrowed her eyes. "Tigerus, are you lecturing me?"

"I dare not." Sensing Ivasha's wrath, Tigerus lowered his head.

"Mind your place!" Ivasha's expression was chilly as she ordered, "Take your men and leave."

Subsequently, Tigerus kept quiet and left with his subordinates.

Following Tigerus' departure, Julius uttered to Ivasha, "Princess Ivasha, although Kai doesn't seem powerful and poses no threat to Imperial Beast City, I still think it's better not to let him stay here for too long."

"Okay. After Father is back and meets with Kai, I'll send him away at once. But I'm not sure if Father will be back tomorrow. He left in such a hurry. I wonder if he had something urgent to deal with," Ivasha responded while bobbing her head.

"Princess Ivasha, King Yuven left the city to help me hire a famous alchemist for my daughter. He'll be back tomorrow," Julius replied.

Ivasha was momentarily dazed after hearing that. Then, she chirped to Julius, "Okay. Rest early and stop worrying, Mr. Poulsen. Since Father is attending to this matter in person, I believe he'll be able to find a highly-skilled alchemist to treat your daughter's condition."

"I'll never forget the kindness King Yuven and you have shown me, Princess Ivasha." Tears brimmed in Julius' eyes.

His daughter had fallen ill with a strange disease and became bedridden. He had sought help from many alchemists, but none was able to cure his daughter.

Julius felt utterly grateful now that Yuven had personally gone to find an alchemist.

After Julius left, Ivasha remained rooted to her spot. She turned to look in a certain direction and said somewhat angrily, "Come out! I trusted you and let you go, but I can't believe you came back here."

The moment she finished her sentence, Kai slowly emerged from a dark corner. An embarrassed look spread across his countenance.

He did leave the place earlier, but he was too curious to learn about the beast race, so he secretly retraced his steps back to the imperial library.

Kai had read one of the beast race's books, which revealed some information previously unknown to him. However, that book disclosed to him only the tip of the iceberg of details related to the beast race.

He was eager to know more, so he planned to return to the imperial library and read a few more books. Unexpectedly, Ivasha discovered him.

"Princess Ivasha, I'm simply very curious about the beast race, so I wanted to learn more about you. I assure you I mean no harm," Kai uttered with utmost sincerity.

Back in the mundane world, all he ever encountered were untransformed demon beasts, so beast race culture was non-existent.

On the contrary, here in the Ethereal Realm, the beast race was developed. Like humans, they possessed their own culture and philosophies and even built their own city. That further aroused Kai's inquisitiveness to gain a better understanding of the beast race.

"I don't care if you're genuinely curious or harboring ulterior motives. If I see you stepping out of your room again, don't blame me for not showing you mercy!" Ivasha's eyes gleamed with a hint of murderous intent.