

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2363

Married at First Sight Chapter 2363-People used to say that a blessed person wouldn't marry into a family that wasn't blessed. Since the Brown family wasn't blessed, they lost Liberty, who was a good daughter-in-law.

"The doctor said that I could go home and recuperate, so I was discharged. Living in the hospital will cost a lot of money." Hank replied, "This time, I almost spent all my money."

After he was discharged from the hospital, he planned to follow his parents back to his hometown to recuperate.

Hank planned to sell the house in the city, otherwise the life of his family would be very difficult.

Since he added Jessica's name to the real estate certificate, he had to talk to Jessica about selling the house.

Jessica was convicted of both crimes and sentenced to more than ten years in prison.

She was the most regretful person.

Liberty nodded and said, "Then take good care of it at home and don't think about going to work for the time being. You can pay Sonny's child support next year after returning to work."

Chelsea wanted to say that her younger brother was already like this, and it was too cruel for Liberty to ask her younger brother to pay Sonny's support.

But the younger brother said before her: "Don't worry, Sonny is my son. When we divorced, we signed an agreement to raise the child together. I will do my duty, and I will not shirk it."

What else could Chelsea say?

Now she couldn't get any benefits from her natal family, and maybe she would take advantage of her in turn.

Chelsea decided in her heart that she would return to her mother's house less often in the future.

If Hank knew what his sister was thinking, how would he feel?

Pausing for a moment, Hank took out a red envelope and a small brocade box from his trouser pocket. Inside the brocade box was a gold bracelet, which was a gift for Serenity after Hank discussed with his parents.

Hank handed the red envelope and small brocade box to Liberty, looked at Liberty and said, "Liberty, Serenity's wedding is coming soon, we won't be attending her wedding, my parents and I have prepared a little gift for her, for her She adds makeup, please help me pass it to her."

In fact, they wanted to attend Serenity's wedding, but they had no chance to attend.

It was impossible for Serenity to invite the Brown family to her wedding.

Liberty didn't answer, she said calmly: "I accept your kindness on behalf of Serenity. You spent a lot of money in the hospital this time, and now you can't go to work. Your parents are old and the pension is not high. You still have to live, Serenity will not accept your makeup."

They endured the Brown family for Sonny's sake.

Serenity didn't want to add makeup, if she could, she didn't want to meet Brown family.

Liberty didn't need to ask her sister because she already knew her sister would say no.

Hank said: "Did you dislike our courtesy?"

Liberty: "Does Serenity want anything now? You really don't like adding makeup, but Serenity is not a person who dislikes the poor and loves the rich. She just hates you. She won't accept your makeup. You insist on giving it to me. If not, she will return it or throw it away. Hank, you can't forget how many things happened in the past, and it's impossible for us to forget. Except for Sonny, we have nothing to do with each other. I hope you don't appear in front of us again in the future."

Hank's face turned pale, and after a while, he withdrew his hand and held the red seal with a very embarrassed expression.

“Liberty, I’m sorry to bother you.” Hank apologized softly, and then said to his sister: “Sister, I feel dizzy, please take me home.”

Chelsea was unwilling but dared not say anything, so she had to help her younger brother and walked towards her car.

Before Hank got into the car, he turned his head to look at Duncan again, and said to Duncan: “Mr. Lewis, you take good care of Liberty, who is a good woman. I’m not so lucky.”

“Don’t worry, I will love Liberty for the rest of my life. Mr. Brown, you’re indeed an unlucky person. I’m destined to be blessed with great fortune, which is Liberty’s best destination.”

Hank’s face turned pale again, and Liberty didn’t even refute Duncan’s words, which showed that the relationship between the two had reached a new level during his hospitalization.

Liberty would definitely marry Duncan in the future.