Chapter 112 You Want To Kill Me

Willie was stunned

Was Debora that tough?

How did she have the courage to jump into the cold sea?

Did she really want to die? He had difficulties believing that "Go and look for her and bring her here. Dead or alive," Isaac said

Even if she was dead, he wanted to see the corpse with his own eyes. He didn't want any tricks

Willie immediately asked his men to bring the necessary equipments to look for her in the sea

Ryder was devastated. He liked Debora very much. If not, he would have never taken the risk of going against Isaac to get her out of prison

"Isaac, you killed her!" Ryder roared

Isaac's face was stone cold. He didn't even spare Ryder a glance

But Willie answered for him. "She jumped into the sea herself. No one killed her. Besides, don't you see that we are mobilizing all our men to save her?" Ryder's face was red with anger. "You're lying!"

"No, I'm not!" Willie said and turned away as if the conversation was over, pissing Ryder off even more

About an hour later, the men that went in to look for Debora got on the ship and said, "We haven't found her. It's going to be really complicated, especially with the bad vision at night. The sea is also very big. This isn't easy."

Ryder looked ahead of him at the boundless sea. The moonlit lit up the sparkling sea

If someone fell into the sea at this time of the night, the person wouldn't make it. So, Debora would either drown, or be frozen to death, or even be eaten by a shark

"Debora..." Ryder cried out

Willie shook his head at Ryder, thinking that the man was overreacting

Why did he like Debora so much?

Was he crazy? She was just a woman

However, she wasn't just a woman to Ryder. She might mean nothing to others, but to him, she meant everything

He just liked her

He didn't have any specific reason

It was probably the same reason why Isaac liked Camila so much too

You didn't need a reason to love someone

Willie looked at Isaac and asked in a low voice, "What do we do now?"

They couldn't keep searching in the sea. It was too large, and at this time of the night, it would be dangerous for those going in search of her

Isaac took a moment to think and said, "Take people on the ship and keep guard for the night."

Debora might be alive and just bidding her time. Once she saw that they were gone, she could board the ship

"Okay. I'll do that," Willie said respectfully

In the villa

Camila was waiting for Isaac to come back

She wanted to finish telling him everything

She wanted to tell him that although she lost one of the twins during her pregnancy, the other one was safe and sound

To kill time, she decided to video call Rowena. When

Rowena picked up the call, she turned the camera to show Joe

Camila smiled as she looked at her son

"Mila, you look so happy," Laura commented when she saw the look on

Camila's face

"A little bit."

Since Camila had confessed to Isaac, she had felt relieved Laura said, "I might be in Heinz soon."

Camila was about to ask if it had anything to do with Forrester, but Laura read through her mind and said, "It's about work."

Camila hoped that Laura would tell Forrester the truth. But it was Laura's life, and she had no say in it

"Okay. I'll pick you up," Camila said with a smile

Laura shook her head. "I won't have the time to meet you.

I'll be on the site all day."

"If you don't have the time to come and see me, I can go visit you, Laura,"

Camila said

"Okay." Laura smiled

"Waah... Waah..." Joe suddenly burst into tears

"What's wrong with Joe?" Camila asked nervously

"He's either hungry, or he just pooped," Rowena answered

Then she looked at her daughter seriously and asked,

"When will you be done with your business and come back?" Camila thought of the current situation and said, "Very soon."

After a moment of hesitation, she asked, "Mom, would you like to come over?"

"What for?" Rowena asked, a little surprised by Camila's question

Camila wanted her to meet Marvin since he didn't have much time left, but she couldn't say that. So she said,

"Maybe we can still live in Heinz, don't you think?"

"I like it here," Rowena said simply

She had actually gotten used to living there

She had nothing to worry about. Her only priority was taking care of Joe

Camila preferred that she met with her mother face-to-face before telling her about Marvin's situation

After that, they chatted for some time about Joe

Done with the video call, Camila went downstairs to get some food. She was a little hungry

She found a piece of cake in the fridge and scooped a spoonful of it. It was soft in the mouth, mixed with the aroma of cream and fruits

Suddenly, the doorbell rang, interrupting her pleasure. Glenda wasn't around, so she had to see who it was herself.

She put the cake on the table and went to see who was at the door.

She was surprised by the person she saw at the other side of the door.

It was Trudy.

Cold-faced, Camila asked, "What are you doing here?"

Trudy looked a little agitated as she cried, "Mila, your father is dying and asked to see you for the last time. I couldn't reach you so I had to come here."

Her words instantly sent a chill through Camila's heart.

She shook her head in disbelief. "So soon?" But the doctor said it wasn't that close.

"Yes. It... it happened so suddenly..."

Trudy burst into tears and left her sentence hanging.

Camila was in a state of panic and confusion.

She called the driver, but he wasn't around.

Trudy suggested quickly, "Let's take my car. Your father is in a critical condition. He doesn't have much time."

Camila didn't think about it for a minute. She put on her shoes in a haste and ran out with Trudy following behind her. ©

Trudy sneered at the younger woman's back

As soon as they got into the car, Trudy automatically changed her expression

As she drove, Trudy cried, "The doctor said that your father still has some time left. But then, he..."

Camila didn't want to hear her talk. She looked out the window and snapped, "Just focus on driving!"

"Okay," Trudy said and did as told

She drove at a high speed

Since it was late at night, there were not many cars on the road

Camila was looking out the window when she realized something

This was not the way to the hospital. "You took the wrong turn." She looked at Trudy

"It's a shortcut," Trudy said naturally

"No, it's not. The straight road from the villa to the hospital is the shortest. You're taking a detour. Why? Where are you taking me to? What do you want to do?"

"We're going to see your father."

"You're lying!" Camila realized that something was wrong.

This wasn't right

"Tell me the truth. What secret do you and your father have?" Trudy asked, her expression now vicious

Camila took a deep breath and glared at the woman. "You lied to me? My father is fine?"

"Of course he's fine. He can't die now. You have to go ahead of him

That way, he will leave all his property to Aldrin," Trudy said. There was no need hiding her intentions anymore She discovered that Marvin hired a lawyer behind her back. If she was not wrong, then he wanted to write a will She tried getting some information out of the lawyer, but he wouldn't tell her anything

Also, Camila had never been kind to Marvin before he fell ill. So her now good attitude was suspicious

The fact that she saw Camila thanking Marvin too made everything clear to her. They must be hiding something Trudy had to stay in control

Camila looked at her in disbelief and gasped. "You want to kill me?"
