The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1266

Chapter 1266

“We’re all pals hem, no need to be formall”:

These words got Rosalynn thinking.

She wondered where Ivy, who went to school every day, had learned such adult social etiquette.

A sudden sense of unease crept into her heart.

Was it because hy was too young, or because she hadn’t grown up in a dangerous environment?

Had she considered Molly, whom she had just met, as a trusted friend?

What if she encountered a bad guy?

Was this the type of person her father had once warned her about, someone who could be deceived without malizing it and unable to fight back?

“Yes, we’re pais!” Molly said, holding her candy a bit more firmly.

Since Ivy trusted her like this, she would never let her be deceived!

Rosalynn, looking at Molly’s determined face in the rearview mirror, was both amused and touched.

What was this kid thinking about all because of a piece of candy?

Upon leaving the school, Ivy immediately spotted the car parked on the opposite side of the street

“Wayne!” she said quickly to Rosalynn.

Rosalynn sighed, "It's your dad, do you want to go to his car?"

"Mhm!" Ivy nodded.

Rosalynn drove the car over

Before the car had even stopped, Wayne was out of his car

Rosalynn rolled down the window

Wayne came over first gently stroking her cheek, "Everything sorted out?"

"Pretty much, just have to take the test in a few days" Rosalynn answered

Originally, Wayne was strongly against letting Molly get too close to him.

But he saw Molly sparing with Ableson and Mike

The kid was incredibly skilled.

if there was someone Ivy's age to accompany her to and from school every day, acting as a covert bodyguard, it wouldn't be a bad idea

Training Molly from a young age could also make her a reliable ally.

"The kid wants to go to your car, take her over, we'll see you at home.

"Mhm.

Wayne leaned down, kissing Rosalynn's forehead

The sweet scene had the kids averting their eyes.

Molly hadn't formally met Wayne

She was on high alert.

"Don't be scared, he's a good guy" Ivy's small hand patted Molly's lightly, then she gave her a reassuring look.

He's a good guy?

Molly thought about it, the things she had heard about Wayne only confirmed her belief that Ivy was an innocent soul

At that moment, Wayne opened the car door on the kids side, unbuckled Ivy's seatbelt, and carried her out.

His gaze met Molly's for a moment.

He was expressionless, just giving a slight nod

Molly nodded back at him.

"Honey, be careful driving." he said to Rosalynn as he was hoisting Ivy into the car

Rosalynn acknowledged his words.

Ivy, leaning on his shoulder, waved to her mom

The driver on the other side opened the back door

Molly saw another kid in the car

He was looking at Ivy, a soft smile on his face, his eyes full of affection.

Chapter 1267

Molly's gaze shifted back

She thought to herself, Rosalynn's two kids looked fragile and in need of protection.

"Molly, how do you feel? Rosalynn asked from ahead.

Molly looked at her. I might let Ableson and Mike down. I can't be a regular little girl?

Rosalynn was momentarily taken aback.

What she meant to ask was about Molly's feelings towards school.

"A regular little girl?" Rosalynn was puzzled.

"Like your daughter Molly said, hanging her head low

She had learned many words and read many books recently

But when she needed to express herself, she couldn't remember any of them.

"Gentle sweet like a little sun, she slowly described, then looked up at Rosalynn and shook her head, "I am the complete opposite."

Rosalynn was a little shocked

After thinking for a while, Rosalynn didn't drive off immediately, but found a parking spot.

"Aren't we going?" Molly was a bit confused. "Did I say something wrong?"

"No," Rosalynn stretched out lazily, patting her shoulder lightly, "Just felt like having some ice cream. Wanna come with?"

Molly obediently replied, "Sure"

Soon, Rosalynn and Molly walked into a nearby convenience store and bought two cones

The weather was already chilly.

Holding the ice cream, their hands were numbed by the cold

Rosalynn and Molly sat under a big tree.

After a few bites, she suddenly asked, "You said you're the complete opposite of Ivy. In what way?"

Molly didn't expect the conversation to circle back while they were eating ice cream

But she was willing to discuss it

Probably in a bad way, Your husband is wary of me, Paige looks scared of me, Ableson and Mike don't think I'm a regular kid." She paused, "After meeting many people, I realized that besides my dad, no one thinks I'm a regular kid"

"Really?" Rosalynn paused for a moment. "But who set the standard for what a regular kid should be

Molly looked at her, somewhat surprised.

"Molly, if you're happy the way you are now, then just be yourself. People in this world are all unique, there's no template. If everyone lived the same way, how boring would that be?"

All Felix had taught Molly was survival skills and not to trust anyone

No one had ever spoken to Molly like this before.

She stared at Rosalynn for a while, then sincerely said, 'T protect your children.'

Rosalynn suddenly felt a pang in her heart

She reached out to pat Molly's head, but Molly instinctively dodged.

Seeing Rosalynn's hand hanging in the air, Molly looked a bit lost, then lowered her eyes and slowly moved her head back under Rosalynn's hand.

Rosalynn smiled, gently patting her head, "Right now, the most important thing is to finish your ice cream and pass the entrance exam!"

"Okay!

Molly nodded vigorously, then took a big bite of her ice cream.

It was too cold.

She made a face of discomfort

Seeing her like this, Rosalynn felt the discomfort for her

They finished their ice cream.

Then the two got back in the car and headed to Moonlit Lake

Because they were delayed eating ice cream, they were about ten minutes late

Wayne was getting impatient

Just as he was about to call them, Rosalynn's car pulled up.

He walked up immediately.

"Are you okay?"

Rosalynn got out of the car and he asked in a deep voice.

Chapter 1268

Rosalynn subconsciously looked back at Molly as she got out of the car's backseat.

Molly didn't look at her, she politely bowed and said: "Madam, I'm going back."

“Very well. Study hard”

“Okay”

After speaking, Molly walked towards the bodyguard residence.

“What are you doing?” Rosalynn turned around, pinching Wayne’s cheek, speechless.
“Can’t you have a less intimidating expression?”

Wayne held her hand. “We were delayed by more than ten minutes it’s normal to be concerned.”

“Didn’t you already evaluate her? Rosalynn sighed in frustration. She appears different from other children due to her upbringing and high intelligence, but she doesn’t have antisocial personality”

Tunderstand,” Wayne nodded.

“You’re truly peculiar,” Rosalynn embraced his waist. “You have several bodyguards around you, who have failed to assassinate you, and yet you’re not afraid of them. Instead, you worry about a little child.”

Wayne looked at his wife.

With a hint of helplessness, he said, “Maybe becoming a father has made me more fragile?”

Rosalynn laughed. Don’t give me that?”

Wayne also started to laugh along with her.

After the final exams, Ivy and Cory had their first winter vacation in life.

For Cory, the holiday didn’t make much difference.

He was just studying in a different place.

But for ivy, it was different.

She was like a wild horse that had broken free, the harsh outside weather couldn’t stop her from playing outdoors

Max was now a healthy, good dog

Rosalynn woke up, wrapped in a blanket, walked to the French window and saw Max running on the grass with Ivy, his mouth wide open and tongue out

Laura couldn’t catch up, she was patting her thighs in frustration

Calvin stood blankly on the spot, Max excitedly rushed towards him, and without saying a word, knocked the tall man over

Then he started running back to Ivy, circling around her

Wayne went over, hugged Rosalynn from behind

He had slept late last night and was still groggy

When he woke up and couldn't find his wife, he instinctively followed her

He held her tightly, burying his head in her neck.

Rosalynn reached back and playfully ruffled his messy hair. "Only Max can keep up with Ivy's energy," she remarked

Wayne chuckled and opened his eyes, gazing outside. At the same time, Calvin was sitting up. Seeing this, Max wagged his tail excitedly and plopped himself down on Calvin

Wayne remained silent, clearly puzzled. Sensing his confusion, Rosalynn explained, "I heard that Calvin took Max's chicken leg to use as fertilizer for the roses, and Max caught him in the act."

"Well he deserved it for stealing a dog's chicken leg, Wayne commented, before adding in a whiny tone, "Let's sleep a little longer, shall we?"

During previous winters, Wayne had developed a fondness for sleeping next to Rosalynn. Initially, he had adamantly refused to stay over at her apartment, but on a winter night whose exact date eluded his memory, he ended up staying because he was too lazy to leave.

The next morning, when he woke up, she was like a kitten in his arms, fragrant, soft, and warm.

He started staying over more and more often.

In the winter before they separated, he almost always lived at her place

Rosalynn checked the time.

"Today I'm representing Bane Corporation in a meeting with the Rosso family, are you sure this is okay?" Rosalynn asked somewhat hesitantly.

She wasn't afraid of the Rosso family.

It was just that the incident that year was a big deal.

The Rosso family might have some grudges.

“Our upcoming partnership is about an energy project, it’s impossible to bypass Bane Energy Corporation. If they feel uncomfortable, they can choose to cooperate with other companies.” Wayne said, then suddenly picked up Rosalynn, “Sleeping for another half an hour is more important.”

Chapter 1269

When Rosalynn and Wayne woke up, Ivy was already up in the greenhouse, had done her rounds, and picked some ripe fruits and veggies

She had even taken a bath and changed into clean clothes.

“Ivy, it’s freezing out there, with dew and frost on the ground in the morning. If you catch a cold from rolling around out there, what then? You can’t keep doing this

Laura poured her some hot milk Rosalynn heard her nagging as soon as she came downstairs.

Over the past half a year, Ivy had grown significantly taller and her physical strength was also surprisingly good.

“Mommy!”

Seeing Rosalynn coming down. Ivy immediately ran towards her, opened her arms and embraced her, “Did you sleep well?”

“Very well Rosalynn smiled, “Did you have fun with Max?”

“Yep!” Ivy nodded joyfully, “School is such a drag, I can’t take care of the greenhouse or Max. He really misses me!”

After that, hy joined her mommy and Wayne for breakfast.

At the same time, the reported on the plan she had made for the winter vacation last night.

After listening. Rosalynn felt that her daughter had a lot on her plate.

Of course, the most important thing was the plan for the New Year

When she reported, she would also seriously ask for mommy’s opinion and discuss it with her

If there was anything unreasonable, she would immediately change it

Watching this, Wayne found the originally dull breakfast very exciting.

He didn't know what good deeds he had done in his past life to have such luck in this life.

As Ivy was speaking, she suddenly looked at him.

Wayne immediately put down his utensils and straightened up, "What's up?"

"When can I go to Bane Corp Center? I want to give New Year gifts to the people there"

Ivy might not remember many people who treated her badly, but she remembered very clearly those who were good to her.

"Arrange it and tell daddy, any time is fine," Wayne answered

Ivy then made a mark on her plan.

Rosalynn looked at her then at Wayne

Wayne really didn't dare to lose his temper in front of Ivy

After breakfast.

Rosalynn and Wayne had to prepare for a meeting with representatives from the Rosso family.

Since they needed to bring two different teams, after leaving home, one went to Bane Corp Center and the other to Bane Energy Corporation

It's no secret now that Rosalynn is the boss of Bane Energy Corporation

Many employees of Bane Energy Corporation were very excited when they learned that Rosalynn would represent Bane Energy Corporation at today's meeting with the Rosso family.

As soon as Lola arrived at Bane Energy Corporation, she heard a group of men discussing enthusiastically in the elevator

"The scale of this cooperation with the Rosso family is quite large. I don't know what President Silverman is thinking. He seems very determined to support his wife. If this decision makes the other party uncomfortable, the cooperation may fail, which would be a real pity"

Chapter 1270

"Mrs. Silverman indeed possesses certain abilities. During her discreet existence, her beauty captivated President Silverman, and their relationship lasted for five years. Later, President Silverman became so infatuated with her that he disregarded even the woman from the Rosso family."

“Have you met her?”

“In fact, we haven’t met her in person, only seen her on television. She is stunningly beautiful with a great figure”

“So, think about why she could enchant President Silverman like that

As the men discussed this, they exchanged glances and displayed understanding smiles.

Lola glanced at them and furrowed her brow

At that moment, the men’s gaze fell upon Lola

“Miss, are you new here?” the most audacious man approached Lola with a smirk.
“Which floor do you work on?”

Lola, with her upright figure and well-toned physique from years of exercise, was quite striking even in her professional attire.

“The top floor” Lola replied as she looked at him.

The man paused for a moment. The top floor? You mean the President’s office?”

Lola presented her ID badge and coldly said to the man, “The President’s assistant”.

Upon seeing Lola’s ID badge, the expressions of the men immediately changed

Their audacity vanished, replaced by astonishment and fear.

“Sorry about earlier...”

“Do you know what makes you different from President Silverman?” Lola put away her badge, asking coldly

Before the guys could answer, Lola said, “He uses his brain to think while you guys

Her gaze contemptuously swept over the lower half of their bodies. The elevator arrived just in time and she walked in, head held high.

The men stood there, looking like they’d just been slapped in the face

Seeing they weren’t getting in, Lola ignored them and pressed the button for the top floor

The once excited men now looked like defeated soldiers

“Man, this is embarrassing. Who would’ve thought we’d run into President Silverman’s assistant!”

“But she’s got a killer body... Wonder if she’s got a boyfriend...”

*Probably not, she was checking me out earlier, wasn’t she?”

The somber mood was quickly replaced by excited whispers.

They continued to chatter in hushed tones

Lola arrived at her floor soon after.

Rosalynn arrived too.

The previously despondent atmosphere became lively once again

They continued their hushed whispers.

Lola arrived shortly after.

Rosalynn also arrived.

The individuals responsible for liaising with the Rosso family gradually gathered in the conference room.

Rosalynn could sense everyone’s concerns, but she didn’t say anything and joined them in reviewing the agenda for the meeting

As the time approached, she led the group from Bane Energy Corporation and headed to the headquarters:

Meanwhile, the representatives from the Rosso family, who were originally scheduled to arrive at the headquarters in an hour arrived early,

A woman wearing a gracious smile, entered Wayne’s office.

“President Silverman, it’s been a while,” the woman said.

“Annie, long time no see. Wayne responded politely.

Annie tilted her head slightly and said, “Do men from H Country never age? You look even younger than you did six years ago?”

“Really?” Wayne chuckled lightly, “Maybe being around kids makes me see younger?”

Annie laughed, “I haven’t had the chance to congratulate President Silverman yet.”

The other members of the Rosso family delegation had complicated expressions on their faces

Everyone knew that Annie was the key figure in the marriage alliance between Heatherway and Wayne.

Later on
