

Chapter 142

Sonia Timberland?

Andrius was surprised.

The girl that Noir saved last night?

When Fatty Frank and the whole department heard of the news, they became restless.

“A—are you sure?”

“Am I hearing it right?”

Fatty Frank swallowed and looked inconceivable. “Angel, are you saying that one of the big three families in Sumeria, the Timberlands, the granddaughter of Bruce Timberland, Sonia Timberland is here to invest in our company?”

“Yeah!” Angel said with utmost certainty, “Sonia Timberland! You heard me right! And I’m sure I got the right person. I saw her heading to Luna’s office!”

Her words assured the rest of the team, but it also confused them.

“The Timberlands... Any one of their subsidiaries is stronger than our company, yet they come to us with an investment...”

“The influential Timberlands come here just to invest in our company? How strange.”

“Yeah, it’s bizarre.”

The group was more confused than before as they pondered.

Fatty Frank then asked Andrius, “Boss, what is your opinion on this?”

“I...”

Before Andrius could say a word, Danni, Luna’s secretary, came to Team Five’s office with her heels clacking.

“Mr. Moonshade, Mr. Crestfall wants to see you. She said Ms. Timberland wants to meet you.”

She then strutted away coquettishly.

Andrius followed her out of the office.

The whole of Team Five was in awe.

“Holy sh*t!”

“The boss knows Ms. Timberland?”

“Goddamnit!” The boss is the G.O.A.T.!”

Andrius arrived at Luna’s office.

“Mr. Moonshade, hi!” Sonia smiled brightly at Andrius, seemingly delighted to see him again.

She whispered softly, “I can’t thank you enough for last night. I came uninvited today. I hope you don’t mind .”

Andrius realized that Sonia came to the company to repay his favor. As expected of the lucky Wolf King, he was favored by Lady Luck wherever he went.

“Andrius, there you are.”

After a glance at Andrius, Luna sat down and wanted to discuss the investment with Sonia.

To her surprise, Sonia spoke of Andrius highly, “Ms. Crestfall, based on my experience with people, I’d say Mr. Moonshade is a person of many potentials. Once he unleashes his potential, he will reach great heights and be unstoppable. Never look down on him.”

Luna felt awkward after hearing Sonia’s praises.

Based on her knowledge, Andrius was just someone from the mountains. Why would someone as influential as Sonia Timberland laud him?

It felt more like a sarcastic insult!

If Andrius was a person with potential, then she would be the next rising star.

However, Luna was not in a position to refute it since Sonia was here to invest in them. She chuckled awkwardly and said, “Of course, I’ll pay more attention.”

Then she shifted the topic and said, “Ms. Timberland, now that you’ve met Mr. Moonshade, let’s talk about the investment, the amount, the shares, and the equity.”

Sonia nodded. “Alright. Let’s begin.”

Luna glanced at Andrius and said, “You can go back to work now.”

Andrius nodded and left the office.

Sonia was surprised and jealous at the same time when she saw Andrius' reaction.

Only two of them were left in the office.

Sonia skipped to the chase and said, "Ms. Crestfall, we are going to invest a billion into your company."

Luna

spat the water that she was drinking when she heard the amount. New Moon Corporation's net worth was only around a few billion, yet Sonia said she wanted to invest a billion?

What was she trying to do? Annex New Moon Corporation from within and replace Luna?

However, what Sonia said next assured Luna that she was not here with any agenda.
