

Read Married at First Sight Chapter 2517

Married at First Sight Chapter 2517-Callum was not polite to Bowen. He went to pour everyone a glass of warm water, washed the fruits, and brought out some snacks.

He glanced at the chess pieces on the chessboard and said with a smile, "Uncle, you don't want to eat and sleep well on purpose. This chess game is all about how good you are at chess. I think that by tomorrow, you won't be able to move the chess piece you're holding."

Haha, Bowen's chess skills were terrible enough.

Bowen's face looked ugly, and he stared at Callum.

Bowen would not enjoy Callum making fun of him, no matter how bad his chess skills were. He was an elder, so he still needed shame.

Callum chuckled, touched his nose, and turned to look at Madisyn once more in the hopes that she would assist him in teaching Bowen a lesson so that Bowen wouldn't stare him into a hornet's nest.

Obviously, Bowen's chess skills were terrible, but he still couldn't let people tell the truth.

After Madisyn received Callum's look of help, she said to Bowen, "Husband, put the chess away. I'll play chess with you another day when I'm free."

Bowen said, "Wife, I don't want to play chess with you anymore. Callum should play with me instead. I'll spend a day playing chess with him. Callum, don't go anywhere this weekend. Come back here and spend a day playing chess with me. If you don't want to play chess with me, every time I see you, I will miss you. I will always miss you. I'm feeling sick."

Callum quickly begged for mercy: "Uncle, Your chess skills are excellent; you are a chess master, and you are the best chess player in the world. I'm a mean talker; I talk too much, and I know I'm wrong.

You will lose to me in less than three minutes if I play chess with you.

In that case, playing chess with me would be pointless, so let Auntie play with you. Auntie is a master chess player. You and Auntie find playing chess difficult. You will purposefully lose to us if we, the nephews, ask to play chess with you. There will be no challenge, and the game of chess will be over in a flash. Uncle, after that, you will decide it is not enjoyable, and you will let us go.”

Madisyn said to Bowen, “Camryn’s eyes are still being treated. Callum has to make medicine for her and take care of her every day. How can he have time to play chess with you? If you don’t want to play chess with me, wait until the holidays and let Rowan play chess with you.”

Mentioning his youngest son, Rowan, Bowen shook his head repeatedly and said, “I don’t want to play chess with him. That kid plays chess in such a reckless manner that he kills me without leaving a single piece of armor behind. Callum and the others also know how to let go, but that boy won’t let me have a bite.”

Everyone laughed.

Rowan was young and energetic, but he didn’t know how to be polite. If Bowen caught Rowan playing chess with him, Rowan would naturally attack without mercy and kill Bowen to pieces. He really didn’t care.

Over time, Bowen no longer wants to play chess with his younger son, Rowan.

Madisyn said, “You also know that Callum and the others usually let you go. With your chess skills, I am willing to accompany you to have fun, but others don’t bother to play chess with you. You can’t taste the taste of losing, and there is no sense of accomplishment if you win. Okay, put it away quickly; don’t let your nephew and wife see your joke.”

Bowen reluctantly put away the chessboard and said, “You promised to play chess with me when you have time in the future; you can’t go back on it. Callum, Camryn, you all heard what your aunt said, so you have to testify for me.”

Camryn smiled and said, “Uncle, if Auntie regrets it, we will help you testify to prove that Auntie agreed.”

The pet cat that Madisyn had raised jumped onto the sofa, jumped to Camryn’s side, and then lay down and watched Camryn meow.

Camryn saw how cute the cat was and tried to reach out to touch its head. It narrowed its eyes slightly and seemed to enjoy it.

She picked up the little thing.

She liked this kind of little pet very much. Both her mother and Carrie used to keep it. However, the pets they kept were not close to her and were very fierce. After the mother and daughter came in, she took all the pets they kept and sold them to someone else.

Nowadays, apart from the four wolf dogs that are kept to guard the house and the courtyard, there are no other pets in the Newman family villa.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2518—“It actually wants you to hold it. It is so contemptuous of others. I’m not even happy to hold it. It even scratches me.” Seeing Camryn hugging the pet cat, Callum was surprised.

Madisyn smiled and said, “You have kicked it before. It holds a grudge, but it is indeed picky. It likes gentle people.”

“Am I fierce?” Callum felt that he was not fierce.

Madisyn: “Which one of you brothers is truly gentle? It is very smart. It can feel your false gentleness.”

Callum: “...”

Camryn: “Auntie, is it called Kitty? It’s so cute.”

“It’s all white, so I named it Kitty. This type of cat is very adorable. If you like it, ask Callum to buy two for you. They’re very clingy; when you sit down, they like to sleep next to you or jump into your arms.”

Camryn said with a smile, “I’d better forget it; I don’t have time to raise them now.”

Callum: “My sister-in-law raises the pets, cats and dogs, but she doesn’t have the time to keep them, so she gives them to Mrs. Lane to take care of them. They are not very close to my sister-in-law, so these pets are kissed by whoever takes care of them.”

“That’s true.” Madisyn remembered Serenity’s two pet cats and a pet dog and said, “Mrs. Lane fed them into pigs. They are too fat, and we need to help them lose weight.”

Callum and Camryn sat down in the third room. After a while, they stood up and left, returning to the main room of the center. Callum entered the kitchen and began to prepare for the family dinner in the evening.

Camryn wanted to help, but how could Callum be willing to let her help? Callum asked Serenity to take Camryn out to watch the sunset.

In the garden, Camryn and Serenity were relaxing under the pavilion amid rockery fountains, tiny bridges, moving water, and winding paths and corridors.

This was garden-style.

“Carrie came out early,” Camryn told Serenity.

Serenity was quite surprised. “Isn’t she going to be able to come out next year? She behaved well inside, got her sentence reduced, and came out early?”

Camryn said, “I guess so; otherwise, she wouldn’t have come out early. After she came out, she came back. I didn’t let her enter the villa. I might not be able to stop her all the time. I just couldn’t help but embarrass her. Seren, I found that I am also quite bad.”

Serenity said, “You are not bad; this is because there are clear grudges. She has done more difficult things to you before, but you just responded with one or two. What’s so bad? Don’t blame yourself. If it were me, I would do the same thing.”

Camryn said, “That villa was left to me by my father, not their home. They have occupied it for more than 20 years and abused me. My father knows it well and will probably be angry to death. I will not let them take my things again.

My father originally inherited Newman’s business, so I want to take it back.

Carrie won't give up when she comes out. I feel very relaxed about dealing with her. I couldn't see her before. I have never been afraid of her, and now that I can see her, I am even less afraid of her."

Married at First Sight Chapter 2519-Camryn was not afraid of Carrie, but she was wary of the person behind Carrie.

The identity of the person's surname, Jenkins, was still unknown.

"In Chapter 2512, the butler of the Newman family found out that the person with the new number has the surname Jenkins, not Janzen. I'm extremely sorry for the wrong placement."

Serenity: "If you need help, just ask."

"Deal with her; don't bother everyone; I can handle it myself. But as soon as she came out, she contacted a person's surname, Jenkins. I don't know the identity of that person's surname, Jenkins. I haven't found out yet."

Callum asked his eldest brother to speak to Mr. Bucham and ask him to help me find out the identity of that person. I don't know the other party's details, so I'm worried that they will take action unexpectedly. I will be caught off guard."

Serenity said, "I just need to tell Jasmine, and Jasmine will tell Josh that you don't have to worry about this."

Camryn: "Thank you."

Serenity: "What is our relationship? You don't have to be so polite. I hope that we can all be well and have smooth sailing in the days to come."

Camryn smiled and said, "They say everything is smooth sailing, but in fact, few people can have smooth sailing in their lives. There will always be some ups and downs."

"Yes."

Serenity looked at the sky outside the pavilion, her eyes wandering, and she said softly, "It always feels like the sky is going to change."

It's late autumn; autumn and winter are alternating, and the weather is indeed going to change.

By the way, why are you having difficulty giving birth? My second aunt was here just now, so I can't ask too many questions for fear that she might be upset. Although they are very enlightened elders, they still hope that we young people will have babies soon."

After all, the brothers of Callum's were not young anymore. People of the same age had already become fathers, and some of them were the fathers of two children.

Camryn's eyes turned cold. "She said my mother is not a human being."

Serenity understood that Mrs. Newman's handiwork was responsible for Camryn's physical loss.

Serenity: "She is really not a human being! I don't know what she thinks. How can she be so cruel? No matter how she and your father got married, you were born to her after ten months of pregnancy. You are innocent. But she turned her anger on you. If you have the ability, go and settle the accounts with her parents."

Camryn said in a calm voice, "My grandpa and grandma were mad to death by her. After my grandpa and grandma died, every year during the Pure Brightness Festival, she instead, I went to the cemetery to sweep the graves. Who should I do it for?"

The melons won't be sweet if they are forced. My parents' orders in the past have harmed many people."

Serenity sighed as Camryn spoke. "But no matter what, she shouldn't treat you like this."

Camryn said sarcastically, "My mother was afraid that I would find out the truth about my father's death. I touched her cheese. She didn't like me in the first place, so she tried her best. Fortunately, it can be cured. Dr. Carden said she could guarantee to cure me.

Last time, my mother asked the lawyer to bring me a message and wanted to see me, but I refused because I didn't want to see her. After meeting her, my mood was depressed for a long time."

Camryn was full of hatred for her mother.

She hated her uncle too, but she hated her mother even more.

The person who hurt her the most was the person closest to her.

“Don’t affect your mood. What if you see a mother like that? Even if you go to see her, she probably doesn’t care about you. She might scold you or accuse you.”

Camryn: “You and I think the same.”

Married at First Sight Chapter 2520-Serenity: “Let’s not talk about her anymore; just live your own life first. That is, live your own life well. Those people have been punished by the law and have the results they deserve. By the way, when your sister comes out, she will probably go to find Trenton. You call Trenton and tell him.”

Camryn was silent and then said, “She and Trenton are brothers and sisters from the same father and mother. It is normal for her to go to Trenton. Trenton is now an adult, and he will make his own decisions. As I have always said, I respect all his choices and decisions.”

Serenity thought for a while and said, “Then let them do it.”

Not all brothers and sisters could be like York’s family, nor could they have as deep a relationship as her sisters.

Although Carrie and Camryn had different fathers, they had the same mother. Moreover, their fathers were brothers, and the blood of the Newman family flows through them. However, the two sisters got along like enemies.

The old lady and Dr. Carden returned to Wildridge Manor before dark, and Remy also brought Elisa over.

Zachary’s cousins, except for Rowan, who was in school and could not come back, and all the others who were in Wiltspoon also returned to the Wildridge Manor.

When thousands of houses were lit up, Wildridge Manor became lively.

At the same time, Wiltspoon Hotel,

A man in ordinary clothes walked into the hotel. The hotel has a large flow of people every day, and guests come in and out. This ordinary man did not attract everyone's attention.

After he entered the hotel, he walked to the elevator and waited for it. Soon, he took the elevator to the eighth floor. After getting out of the elevator, he looked around before walking to the door of a room and knocking on the door.

The door opened, and it was a young man who opened the door.

He entered the room. After the door was closed, he said to the young man, "Tell the matriarch Farrell not to use the new mobile phone number again. I will cancel that number soon. This number is under investigation."

The young man was surprised and said softly, "You are under investigation so soon?"

The man surnamed Jenkins replied, "This is Wiltspoon, where several major families are criss-crossed. If there is any movement, everyone knows about it. Camryn is the second young lady in the York family. Anything involving her will alarm the York family."

After sorting out the relationships between several big families in Wiltspoon, the young man knew that Mr. Jenkins's words made sense, so he responded, "Mr. Jenkins, I will tell matriarch Farrell not to use that number again."

Mr. Jenkins: "Let's find another way to contact Miss Carrie. The best thing is to arrange for someone to stay with Miss Carrie to stay at the Newman family."

If Miss Carrie wanted to return to the Newman family, she would definitely hire a few workers for herself so that she could compete with Camryn in the ring. She can operate it and let their people be killed by her.

"Let's wait for the arrangement of Matriarch Farrell."

Mr. Jenkins nodded. "Tell Matriarch Farrell that I won't stay too long. I will return to Jensburg early tomorrow morning and ask her not to stay in Wiltspoon for too long."

His name was Cody Jenkins, and he was the general assistant of Matriarch Farrell.

After matriarch Farrell came to power, Cody was assigned to matriarch Farrell to help her with plans. He was a special assistant who was only loyal to Matriarch Farrell. He would do whatever matriarch Farrell asked him to do, even if it was illegal or criminal; he would not refuse.

Mr. Fraser was Kathryn's assistant. Matriarch Farrell gave him to Kathryn, which aroused Shiloh's jealousy.

Before Kathryn came back, Shiloh had always been the young mistress of the Farrell family and the future successor. However, Matriarch Farrell did not arrange for Mr. Fraser to be with Shiloh, leaving Shiloh, the successor, without a powerful helper.