I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2505-Soon, one of Perry's guards came in, knell in the middle of the hall, and said respectfully, "Greetings, Lord Egan!"

"Were you there from the start to the end?" Egan asked.

"Lord Egan, I've always been with Master Perry," replied the guard.

'Then, do you know the whole story?"

'Yes!!!"

'Tell me from start to finish and don't miss a single detail. If you dare to lie or exaggerate, you know the consequences," Egan said solemnly.

'Yes, Lord Egan. Don't worry, I won't dare to talk nonsense."

Then, he began to go into details.

When Perry first arrived at The Spirit Cage, he received a report from a businessman he trained that someone had disrupted the market in Amber City and made everyone unable to buy anything good, let alone make money.

So, Perry brought his people to Jumbo Court to make trouble.

Then, Arian, the captain of the Amber City law enforcement team, came to stop him.

After that, Fabiola, the young mistress of the Marche family, arrived and grossed out the onlookers. They were throwing up non-stop so Fabiola immediately ordered the killing.

In the end, David arrived at the scene, killed Fabiola and Perry, but spared the guards around them.

The guard could only make himself clear after re telling the story for a full ten minutes.

Egan fell into silence after he heard that.

If what the other party said is true. Perry and Fabiola were clearly the ones at fault.

However, this was not a world of reasoning, but a world of strength.

As long as someone had the ability, right or wrong did not seem to be important.

It just so happened that the Marche family and the Campbell family were strong enough not to need to reason with others.

Egan called out for someone.

The confidant who had just reported the news to him quickly trotted in.

“Lord Egan!”

“Get some people to first send Perry’s guards back to the family, and then gather some people to follow me to Jumbo Court to meet David. I want to find out who he is. How dare he kill the direct descendant of the Campbell and Marche families.”

‘Yes, Lord Egan! I’ll do it right away.’

An hour later, Egan took hundreds of the Campbell family’s powerhouses in The Spirit Cage to Jumbo Court.

No matter who was right or wrong in this matter, it was an indisputable fact that a direct descendant of the Campbell family had died.

It would not be long before both families send people into The Spirit Cage to investigate the death of Fabiola and Perry.

Egan, as the person in charge of the Campbell family in The Spirit Cage, had to lead the way for his family and the Marche family to see who this daring David person was.

So, he could get ready for the arrival of the Campbell family and the Marche family.

At this time, David was drinking and eating with Arian.

When he first came to Amber City, he had a small conflict with Arian when they met. So, David was not too fond of this person.

Then a series of events happened.

By now, David had completely changed his mind about Arian.

He even considered him a friend.

One must know that it was not easy to become David's friend, so Arian had yet to know how lucky he was to have David's approval.

"Captain Longer, I've been living in seclusion this period and didn't come out a lot. Thank you for looking after Rivers and the others," David lifted his glass and said to Arian.

Arian quickly lifted his glass to tap it against David's glass. He answered as if he was overwhelmed by favor, "Master David, you're too kind. It's just a small matter and a very slight effort. You don't have to attach too much value to it."

Judging by how David killed Fabiola and Perry without hesitation, Arian knew that he had made the right bet.

Moreover, the mysterious powerhouse must be someone dispatched by the force behind David to protect him.
