I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2515-Arian left as well.

Only David and Thor were left in Jumbo Court.

The other subordinates that Jumbo Court hired had already left voluntarily.

They did not want to risk their lives just to make some money.

“Master David, I’m so sorry for causing you trouble,” Thor whispered.

“Rivers, you attracted the attention of that hedonist Perry because you’re working for me. I even put you in a dangerous situation so I should be the one apologizing,” David replied.

“No, no, no! Master David, it’s all my fault. “I didn’t foresee the danger in advance, which is why this happened,” Thor quickly explained.

“Okay, Rivers, you don’t have to blame yourself. In fact, you have done a good job. I don’t want to hear similar things in the future again. As I said, you can just do what you want and don’t worry about other things. I can take care of all the troubles that arise. Besides, this is trivial so don’t take it to heart.”

“Yes, Master David!” Thor could finally breathe normally.

The bigger the incident, the more he felt sorry.

He was afraid of attracting forces that even Master David could not deal with.

If that happened, it would be troublesome.

He was much relieved after hearing what Master David told him.

‘You should get back to work now. Recruit more people to help. Don’t tire yourself out. Keep buying treasures at high prices and don’t be afraid to spend money. The more you spend, the happier I will be. If I’m not wrong, Arian will do his best to help you collect more treasures if I’m still around. So, you have to be prepared.”

“Don’t worry, Master David! I know what to do.”

David did not continue talking.

He got up and walked to another room. Then, he picked up the sleeping Pebbles and left Jumbo Court.

He was not bothered by his killing of the direct descendants of the Campbell family and the Marche family at all.

This was the self-confidence brought about by having sufficient strength.

His soul power had broken through to Ancient Overlord Rank.

So, even if he ran into that powerful mysterious person again, David felt that he would have no problem fighting them.

The mayors and deputy mayors of the eight main cities were nothing to David.

Their soul power was not even in Overlord Realm, so they did not deserve his attention at all.

Amber City in The Spirit Cage was oddly quiet.

However, under the calm exterior was a raging wave.

Anyone who was slightly well-informed would know that this was the calm before the storm.

Soon, Amber City would welcome a huge never-before-seen storm.

No one knew if Amber City, the main city with a lot of history, would be able to stand tall in the storm.

Even Mayor Salem was not confident.

Even though David promised him that he would leave Amber City if he were to fight the Campbell and Marche families, Salem did not dare to completely believe him.

If there was a fight, who would care about the life and death of ordinary people?

Most of the forces in Amber City had begun to send their people out of The Spirit Cage.

Only a few remained to guard their estates.

On the night David killed Perry and Fabiola, the descending point in Amber City could be described as overcrowded and there was a long queue at it.

Especially the direct descendants of the major forces. They were scrambling to leave The Spirit Cage as soon as possible and return to Leila to avoid danger.

They would only come back after the battle.

This fight would involve the Campbell family, one of the three major families in Amber City, the Marche family, another more powerful family, and David who was so mysterious that even Egan was apprehensive.

Once the three parties failed to negotiate, there would be a war.

Amber City, one of the eight main cities, could be wiped out in minutes.

At that time, it would be too late to leave and the people who stayed behind would be killed or injured.

No one wanted to chance this, so leaving The Spirit Cage temporarily would be the best choice.

The next day, the whole city was panicking.

Countless businessmen and small forces began to sell their properties to prepare to escape from this place where they were apt to get into trouble.

Thor reported the news to David immediately.

When David heard that, he thought to himself, 'Gosh, aren't those free lavish points?'
