

Chapter 79 Aline Proposes A Toast To Waylen

Seeing everyone put out their cigarettes, Rena felt both shy and angry.

She had never forbidden Waylen to smoke. In fact, he often smoked at home. Sometimes he'd even smoke in bed and kiss her after finishing off his cigarette.

The lying bastard!

But when she saw how so many distinguished people behaved carefully in front of Waylen, she couldn't help but feel a little proud.

With a charming smile on his face, Waylen asked her, "Are you satisfied?"

Rena knew that all the rumors would be scotched now that Waylen showed up and announced that he was her boyfriend. Perhaps people would even try to curry favor with her so that they could get closer to Waylen.

But none of those things mattered anymore. All she cared about now was Waylen.

With his arm wrapped around her waist, Waylen and Rena

Seeing everyone put out their cigarettes, Rena felt both shy and angry.

She had never forbidden Waylen to smoke. In fact, he often smoked at home. Sometimes he'd even smoke in bed and kiss her after finishing off his cigarette.

The lying bastard!

But when she saw how so many distinguished people behaved carefully in front of Waylen, she couldn't help but feel a little proud.

With a charming smile on his face, Waylen asked her, "Are you satisfied?"

Rena knew that all the rumors would be scotched now that Waylen showed up and announced that he was her boyfriend. Perhaps people would even try to curry favor with her so that they could get closer to Waylen.

But none of those things mattered anymore. All she cared about now was Waylen.

With his arm wrapped around her waist, Waylen and Rena strode inside the banquet hall.

The smarter people were already standing up and offering their seats to Waylen and Rena. Some school leaders looked at Rena dotingly and said, "Rena, you should take good care of Mr. Fowler, okay?"

Rena couldn't help but smile faintly.

The smarter people were already standing up and offering their seats to Waylen and Rena. Some school leaders looked at Rena dotingly and said, "Rena, you should take good care of Mr. Fowler, okay?"

Rena couldn't help but smile faintly.

Once they were seated, many people came over to propose a toast to Waylen.

Waylen was good at holding his drink, but he wouldn't accept toasts so casually. After all, he was still a reserved and decent man.

No one in the hall could get him accept their proposed toasts, so they could only watch as he drank water, but Waylen still chatted with them good-naturedly.

Rena had grown used to taking care of her man, so she naturally put the food that he liked on his plate.

Vera was sitting opposite her, watching their every move. She had no intention to tease her friend at the moment. On the contrary, her eyes welled up with tears of joy.

Finally! Rena had completely moved on from her previous relationship!

Vera smiled, hoping that Rena could live a happy life.

And even if Waylen didn't marry Rena in the future, she knew that he'd treat her well.

The banquet hall was lively, but one person was still standing by the entrance, too dumbfounded to move.

When Aline finally came to her senses, she felt extremely embarrassed. She had wanted to humiliate Rena at this reunion, but she didn't expect that the tables would turn and that she'd make a fool of herself in the end. She looked down at her outfit, feeling that the expensive dress she had bought was nothing but a joke now.

Rena was Waylen's girlfriend!

Why her?

Aline thought that she was much better than Rena!

The burning jealousy in Aline's heart made her face contort in anger. Holding a glass of red wine, she strutted over to Waylen and Rena.

At Waylen, she smiled sweetly and proposed a toast.

"Mr. Fowler, I'm Aline Hanson, Rena's classmate back in college. Nice to meet you."

Waylen had been enjoying Rena's care and tenderness when Aline came over and interrupted them. He looked up and guessed who Aline was at a glance. She was one of Harold's girlfriends, wasn't she?

Waylen slowly wiped his mouth with a napkin.

After he put the napkin down, Waylen suddenly looked at Rena, who was sitting beside him, and asked seriously,

"Would you be upset if I accepted her toast?"

Aline's smile froze. She felt a little embarrassed.

The people around them looked at Aline meaningfully. A lot of people actually knew about the secret relationship between Aline and Harold, because Harold didn't really bother to hide it. Obviously, he didn't take her seriously at all.

How dare Aline now try to flirt with Waylen in public?

And right in front of Rena, too!

Rena knew that Waylen liked to tease her, so she wasn't fooled by his little ruse. "It's your life and your choice," she replied calmly.

Chuckling, Waylen pinched her cheek.

Then he stood up and said to Aline politely, "Miss Hanson, I'll accept your toast."

Hearing Waylen's confirmation, everyone looked surprised. Did Waylen like women like Aline?

With a charming smile, Waylen suddenly changed his tune. "But I drove here, and I have to drive Rena back later! Harold, you have a driver, right? Please drink on my behalf then."

 SPIN 8800 BONUS! 100%
chance of winning!

GO NOW