Married at First Sight Chapter 2548-Josh said, "I mean, in Wiltspoon, as long as I want to know, nothing can be hidden from me. Carrie has nothing to do with me. I don't even remember what she looks like. I don't want to know anything about her."

"Okay, okay, I blamed you wrongly; drink your tea."

Jasmine picked up her husband's cup of tea, handed it to him, and asked him to drink the tea and stop talking.

Josh took the tea cup, took a sip of tea, and asked Callum, "Callum, what's going on with your sister-in-law?"

Callum said, "She behaved well inside and came out early. She came out yesterday and returned to Newman's house. She couldn't get in without the key, that's all."

Callum was not happy to hear that Carrie was his sister-in-law, but he could not refute it because Carrie was really his sister-in-law.

Regardless of whether Carrie and Camryn had sisterhood or not, the fact that they were biological sisters couldn't be erased.

Camryn said calmly, "They lived in the house my father left me for more than 20 years. Not only did they treat me badly, they almost killed me. Carrie is my biological sister, but she doesn't care about me as her sister; you also know how she treats me.

Ten years ago, I just lost my sight, and she didn't let me in or let the servants open the door for me. She asked me to fumble and open the door by myself. But she took my key away, and I couldn't use the key to open the door. I could only fumble. After opening the door to get in, she also had people scatter a lot of glass shards on the ground.

I am actually a very small-minded person. I will remember those who treat me well, and I will also remember those who treat me badly. If I have the opportunity to retaliate against others, I will definitely not miss the opportunity.

Carrie took her two cousins back last night, trying to poison the wolf dog I kept to look after the home. They gave up when they didn't see the dog. Then they climbed in through the door, but the hidden dogs inside immediately chased them.

A dog bit Carrie. The butler also gave her money to go to the hospital for vaccinations last night. Now that she is here, I know without asking that she came to me to quarrel. It is rare to rest at home during the weekend. I don't want her to ruin my good mood."

Serenity said, "That's the house your father left for you. It's your home. You have the final say. Don't worry about her. If it were me, I would have thrown all her things out a long time ago and wouldn't let her even step into my door."

Camryn smiled and said, "Don't worry; seeing how she tried to bite me but couldn't, it was quite healing for me."

Jasmine gave her a thumbs up and said with a smile, "Beat her to death with a stick. It's too easy for her. It's just fun to tease her slowly and kill her arrogance."

Jasmine has heard of how arrogant Carrie was.

Serenity and Elisa had seen it before.

The first time Serenity met Camryn was at a banquet.

She sent flowers to Carrie, but Carrie made things difficult for her and forced her to drink. However, the drink contained drugs, which were aphrodisiacs.

Camryn couldn't see it at the time. If she really drank that glass of wine, the consequences would be disastrous.

Not to mention that Serenity was aware at the time that Grandma May had chosen her as Callum's wife. Even if she didn't know, with the characters of Serenity and Elisa, she couldn't let it go.

Carrie was arrogant, but she bullied the weak and feared the strong. She didn't dare to target Elisa, the little hot pepper, so she targeted Serenity.

Although Serenity was the eldest mistress of the York family, those top relatives from her natal family would only hold her back. Her closest sister, Liberty, was a divorced woman. Carrie felt that Serenity's natal family was not strong enough and was not worthy of Zachary, and she would be kicked out sooner or later. Those who abandoned her didn't take Serenity, the eldest young lady of the York family, seriously at all.

Her revenge was all directed at Serenity.

The results could be imagined.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2549-They knew this but still didn't know Camryn, how Camryn lived in the Newman family, and how Carrie treated her sister. After they found out, they all wished that Carrie would be locked up in prison for the rest of her life and not come out.

So, no one would think Camryn was being too harsh on Carrie when she was dealing with her. Instead, they think she was just hitting Carrie and yelling at her, not hurting her skin.

Callum held Camryn's hand and supported her silently. No matter what decision she made, he would support her.

It was not easy for Camryn to get to where she was today. It's her destiny; otherwise, she wouldn't be alive today. She wanted to make things difficult for Carrie.

Compared with what Mrs. Newman and her daughter, Carrie, had done to Camryn, it was already very light revenge.

Camryn turned her head and looked at Callum. She smiled but said nothing; she just shook his hand with her backhand.

She would not be defeated easily, nor would she forgive someone easily.

Carrie and her two cousins were at the entrance of Wildridge Manor, waiting for a reply.

There was no air conditioning outside. Sitting in front of the security room, the sun was shining on her, and she felt very hot.

When she felt hot, her heart became irritated, and she said irritably, "Why haven't we received a reply for so long? What the h-e-l-l is the weather like? It's already November, and when the sun shines, I still feel so hot."

Pablo comforted her: "Just wait; there should be a reply soon. The weather in Wiltspoon is like this: If it is November in the lunar calendar, it will not be hot."

The New Year would not be celebrated until February next year. However, Wiltspoon was not cold, even during the New Year.

Carrie said, "I dare say that Camryn did it on purpose. She deliberately didn't reply so quickly, and she let us sit here and bask in the sun. It would kill us."

If Carrie had known that she would be so exposed, she would have brought an umbrella over.

Just when Carrie was about to lose her temper, the security guard walked out of the security room and said apologetically to Carrie, "Miss, our second young lady said she doesn't have time to see you, so please go back."

"What?"

Carrie stood up in a hurry, with anger on her pretty face. "She doesn't see me? She's not free? What's she busy with? It's a big weekend; what's she busy with? I think she did it on purpose and didn't want to see me.

That blind woman is a b*tch!"

Carrie was so angry that she went crazy.

The security guard frowned and said, "Miss, please pay attention to your wording."

Don't say that their second young lady can see the light now. Even if she still can't see, Carrie can't call their second young lady blind.

If their second young master heard it and was able to pull out Carrie's tongue.

No wonder the relationship between the second young lady and Carrie was not good.

The younger sister, Carrie, had no respect for her elder sister!

"Who do you think you are? It's your turn to teach me a lesson? She's just a blind woman, a blind woman, a b!tch, a b!tch... Ugh!" Carrie said.

With Pablo covering Carrie's mouth, Pablo and Owen worked together to drag Carrie out, who was struggling and wanted to yell, and dragged her far away before letting go.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2550-When Carrie got angry, she turned around and slapped Pablo in the face.

There was a “pop” sound.

Pablo felt a burning pain on his face.

Without thinking, Pablo slapped Carrie in the face.

Carrie didn't expect that the eldest cousin of the Joyner family, Pablo, would dare to hit her.

Growing up, these cousins tried their best to please her, and they did whatever she wanted.

Not to mention her cousins trying to please her; even her two eldest aunts were trying to please her.

She knew that she was the most beloved child of her parents. Unexpectedly, the eldest cousin of the Joyner family actually beat her.

She covered her beaten face, stared at Pablo in disbelief, and said angrily, “You hit me; how dare you hit me?”

Pablo scolded her: “Who do you think you are? You are still from the Newman family's second miss? Bah, you're just a girl in jail. I really thought you were still the superior Second Miss Newman before!

Carrie, let me tell you, your mother will never come out alive. She behaved so well inside. That's terrible. Once the two-year reprieve is up, she will be found guilty and executed. Even if your father comes out alive, things will have changed drastically after more than ten years. Do you think your father will be as prosperous as before when he comes out?

Your parents killed my uncle. Now that Camryn has gained power, she will never make it easy for you. Even if your father comes out, she will still have many ways to make your father's life worse than death. You can still count on your parents to help. Back up and dream!

Don't even look at where this place is. You don't want to live long. On the York family's territory, you are calling the second young lady a blind woman and a b!tch. If you want to die, don't take me with you. With my eldest cousin, Owen, we don't want to die yet.

Do you believe that Camryn is still the same Camryn who you previously bullied? You didn't necessarily take advantage of her in the past. I really thought you were very powerful. We are just following you to please your parents and want to get more benefits from them.

You still can't see the situation clearly. If you insist on being strong, arrogant, and willful, you will only die faster, and even if you don't die, you will go back in. What does it feel like to be in jail? You have only been out for two days, and you are thinking about going in again?"

Pablo couldn't bear this cousin, Carrie, anymore.

He used to work at Newman's and tried his best to please Carrie, but he was just trying to please his uncle so that he could climb higher in Newman's and earn more.

If not for profit, who would be willing to pamper Carrie, who was willful, unruly, and ignorant of the world?

If Carrie could listen, she wouldn't be called Carrie.

She was even more angry when Pablo scolded her like this.

She's pretending to hit Pablo again.

"Carrie."

Owen, relying on himself as the eldest, immediately stood between the two of them, preventing them from starting a fight again.

"Carrie, your cousin Pablo is right. Now is not the time for you to lose your temper. We should work together to help you get everything back from the Newman family. Otherwise, you won't even have a place to live."

After hearing this, Carrie put down her hand and said to Pablo, "I am doing this to my eldest cousin. You hit me. When I get home, I will tell my second aunt, Amy, that you hit me. You were the one who made the first move; do you think I owe you? You just hit me, but I can't fight back?"

“Carrie, just recognize the facts. You are not much better than us now. Look at you. You can’t even enter the Newman family villa. What’s the use of standing in front of us? If you have the ability, go to Camryn or stand in front of Master York.”

Her cousin made fun of Carrie. One face was red with anger.

She turned around and walked back to the door of the villa, shouting, “Camryn, get out of here, get out of here. You think you can just hide in there? I tell you, if you won’t come out to see me today, I will call the police later and accuse you of letting your wolf dogs bite people. I will beat all four of your wolf dogs to death and stew them with dog meat.”
