I am a quadrillionarire chapter 2714-Although he did not understand what was going on, that kid named David must have done something to the two.

Otherwise, the people around him would never do such a thing as they had been strictly screened.

However, Ambrose could not care about that anymore.

He had to vent the anger rst.

He stomped hard on the two unconscious bodies.

While he stomped on them, he yelled, "A*shole! Trash!"

He only stopped when he got tired.

The sudden change also left the Berlin family at a loss.

Anyone who was not stupid could see that everything that just happened came from David's two words.

"Get lost!"

He could make Ambrose's people listen to him. Such a method had never been seen before, let alone heard of.

Only anyone with a mind power that was Overlord Realm and above could use mind power to invade other people's bodies without warning, seize control silently, and ensure that the person did not die.

Yet, how many Overlords did Leila have in total?

So, it was normal that they had never seen this before.

Lyle desperately wanted to leave now.

If David had such means, he was not simple.

When gods fought, mortals were the ones who suffered.

He did not want to be the one who suffered.

Lyle wanted to slap himself after recalling how he stood up for Ambrose just now.

Why did he stick his nose in this when it was none of his business?

Evie stood behind David. She was also confused as to why the Loughty family's people would listen to David.

David only said 'get lost' and the two of them left obediently.

They looked so obedient.

After Ambrose nished venting, he was no longer looking at David with contempt, but instead, his gaze had a hint of solemnity.

As the eldest son of the Loughty family, he was one of the strong contenders for the head of the Loughty family.

He thought he had enough experience, but he had never seen such a weird method.

'Your name is David, right?" Ambrose asked.

He heard Evie call him David.

'That's right," David replied simply.

"What tricks did you just use on my men to get them to obey you?"

"I only asked them to get lost and they did. They were very obedient. Your family taught them very well. You're a big family indeed." David shrugged.

"Pfft!!!" Evie could not hold back her laughter.

"You want to make enemies of the Loughty family, huh?" Ambrose stared at David.

"Why? Is your family very powerful?"

"Of course! My family is one of the top forces in Leila. So what do you think?" Ambrose said proudly.

"Oh? One of the top forces in Leila? Then which one of the ve Leila rulers is supporting you? Lu an? Sylvio? Or Elora?

Or is it the other two?" David asked curiously.

He only knew the names of three of the ve Leila rulers.

David thought that since the Loughty family was the top force in Leila, they surely had one of the strongest in Leila as their backer.

At the same time, the ve Leila rulers were the strongest in Leila, so the Loughty family might have one of them as their support.

He had no idea that the ve Leila rulers had not paid attention to the affairs of life for a very long time. They had always lived in seclusion to protect Leila in secret.

The ve rulers would only come forward if a large-scale war broke out and caused Leila a lot of internal strife, or if something threatened Leila's safety.

Normally, it would be almost impossible to see them. It was even very dif cult for the partial Overlords to see them.

In Leila, any force with a partial Overlord could be regarded as the top force.
