

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1859 -

"Isn't this guy Dustin Kate lying?"

Everyone looked at each other in confusion.

Even Rufus Rhys couldn't help showing a surprised expression.

Song Zun is also a legendary figure in the Black Dragon Army.

Once upon a time, the two of them were like brothers, killing enemies together, defending their home and country, and making achievements together.

Until ten years ago, after the Forbidden City incident, Song Zun disappeared.

Someone found Song Zun's burnt body and the token on his body in the fire scene.

Later, he also built a tomb for Song Zun in the cemetery.

Unexpectedly, after many years, I heard this familiar name again. The most important thing is that the other person is still alive.

what happened?

"What? Are you surprised?"

Dustin Kate grinned: "When I first met Song Zun, I was just as surprised as you. I didn't expect that a person who had been dead for ten years would actually stand in front of me alive, so , with a curious attitude, I had a good chat with him, and guess what happened?"

At this point, Dustin Kate glanced around, and then said after losing his appetite: "Song Zun in ten years will no longer be called Song Zun, he changed his name to Ji Yuanzun, and suddenly became the new Pavilion Master of the Dragon Protection Pavilion.”

"What? Song Zun is actually the Pavilion Master of the Dragon Protection Pavilion?!"

Hearing this, everyone was shocked again.

Although there was no obvious evidence for the changes in the Forbidden City that year, many clues pointed to the mysterious organization hidden behind the imperial power, the Dragon Protection Pavilion.

Because the Dragon Protection Pavilion was too large and its power spread all over the world, even the West Lucozia King Rufus Rhys, who was at the height of his power at that time, did not dare to openly fight and could only choose to endure.

No one expected that the former general of the Black Dragon Army would actually become the master of the Dragon Protection Pavilion.

This change of identity is really amazing.

"Continue." Dustin said expressionlessly.

He already knew all the news about Song Zun.

He needs to know more now.

"Song Zun...oh no, after Ji Yuanzun found me, he wanted to negotiate a deal with me."

"He said that as long as I form an alliance with him, we can share the world and become the co-owner of the world." "

I Naturally, I didn't believe it at first, and even thought there was something wrong with his brain. But in order to convince me, he vowed to support me in ascending to the throne of West Lucozia King."

"Having been a general for so many years, to be honest, I am really I want to go one step further and have a taste of being a prince."

"So I asked Ji Yuanzun how to support me in ascending to the throne?" "

The plan given by Ji Yuanzun was to assassinate the King of West Lucozia, so that I could rise up and take the opportunity to seize the throne.

"I was very hesitant at first. Firstly, I didn't believe what he said, and secondly, I couldn't make the move. So I didn't agree directly."

"In the end, this lunatic said that he had already planned it, so he just asked me to prepare it."

"I Of course I don't believe he has this ability. After all, there are countless people who want to assassinate the King of West Lucozia every year, but no one has ever succeeded." "However, I never expected in my dreams that within three days, Ji Yuanzun actually did it. We did it!"

"When I heard the news that the King of West Lucozia was assassinated, I had mixed feelings in my heart. On the one hand, it was the sadness of brotherly love, and on the other hand, it was the desire for power and status."

"I know that as long as I cooperate with Ji Yuanzun, let alone the King of West Lucozia, even the co-owner of the world will have a great chance."

"So, I finally couldn't resist the temptation and chose to form an alliance and make Such a stupid thing happened."

At this point, Dustin Kate sighed, looking regretful.

Of course, what he regretted was not that he rebelled, but that Rufus Rhys had not died.

Otherwise, he would be on top now.

Chapter 1860 -

After Dustin Kate finished speaking, Dustin finally said: "Uncle Third, we already know your experience. You were bewitched by others to do such stupid things, but I want to know more now. , where is Ji Yuanzun? Where are the remnants of the Dragon Guard Pavilion hiding?"

After saying so much, it was all nonsense without a single key point.

"To be honest, although I have cooperated with Ji Yuanzun, I don't know his whereabouts." Dustin Kate shook his head.

"Don't know?" Dustin frowned slightly.

After struggling for a long time, doesn't it mean that I didn't say anything?

"Don't worry, although I don't know Ji Yuanzun's whereabouts, I can contact him."

Dustin Kate suddenly changed the subject: "I made an agreement with Ji Yuanzun that after the matter is completed, we will meet somewhere to discuss the matter together. "Yes."

"Oh? Really? Where is the meeting place for you?" Dustin's eyes narrowed.

"Are you sure you want me to say it now?" Dustin Kate glanced around and meant something.

"Come here, help Third Uncle into the palace!"

Dustin shouted, and immediately summoned several guards to carry the seriously injured Dustin Kate into the palace.

"Albert, you are responsible for dealing with these people outside. Remember, don't hurt their life." After Rufus Rhys warned, he also walked into the palace.

"According to the instructions of the prince, the officers and men of the Black Dragon Army must immediately return to the fortress to guard it!" Albert said loudly.

"Yes!" All the officers and soldiers of the Black Dragon Army responded in unison.

At this moment, without any hesitation, they immediately organized their team and dispersed.

The reason why they followed Dustin Kate this time was because of the Marshal's Talisman.

Now that the prince is not dead, naturally the prince's orders will take priority.

"Stop!"

At this moment, Albert's eyes suddenly focused on Nangong Po, who was about to run away: "Nangong Po, who told you to leave?"

"Didn't the prince say that bygones are bygones?" Nangong Po swallowed.

"Although the prince spares your lives, it does not mean that you can escape safely."

Albert said coldly: "The crime of rebellion is enough to punish the nine tribes. The prince is compassionate and does not want to commit murder again, but you will be exempted from the crime of death and the crime of living. Can't escape!"

"You...what do you mean by that? I was just following orders and didn't do anything. If you want to blame, blame Dustin Kate. He ordered me to do this!" Nangong Po tried to excuse himself.

"It is up to the prince to decide the guilt of the general. As for you people, you will spend a few days in jail first."

Albert waved his hand: "Come here! Arrest all these traitors and interrogate them carefully to see if there are any others who are the same." Party!"

"Yes!"

A group of Dragon Guards immediately rushed forward and surrounded Nangong Po and his party.

These are all Dustin Kate's trusted generals, and they are very loyal to Dustin Kate. If they are not handled properly, they may cause more trouble.

"Albert! You don't want to avenge yourself! Your Majesty just said that you are not allowed to hurt us!" Nangong Pose shouted with anguish.

"That's right! We are willing to surrender, and the prince also promised not to pursue any further charges. Don't mess around!" The expressions of Harmon Liang Gaodollar and his party changed drastically, as if they were seeing snakes and scorpions.

Who knows the name of Albert in West Lucozia?

Although he no longer fights on the battlefield, Albert is in charge of West Lucozia's punishment and specializes in interrogating some serious criminals.

The cruelty of its methods and the bloody process were simply terrifying.

Those who fall into Albert's hands basically have no good end, and even death becomes a luxury. They are truly unable to live without dying.

So when they heard that Albert was going to be taken to jail, everyone panicked.
